NEWS VIEWS

In Cairo, Egypt, an archeologist has just dug up the tomb of Psou Sennes that was sealed 3600 years ago. he mummy was so wrapped up in himself that they are not sure what he looks like, but he probably had a pretty disgusted expression at being brought out into a world that is as upset as this one. The archeologists claim he was a father-in-law of Old King Solomon, who was not arrayed as the lilies of the field. However, if Solomon had as many wives as we are told, there was less distinction in being one of his fother-in-laws htan being a private in Coxey's army.

A Boston couple broke up when Hubby didn't like his wife's accent. he popular song goes: "It's not what you say—it's the way you say it!"

Some folks are particular about the quality of their food and clothing but fall down on the job when it comes to choosing their liquor. If you are in doubt about what brands to buy come to Harry Morgan. I have the largest stock of liquor, wines and beers on Central Ave., and I know what Im recommending to my customers. Fighters to Aid Homeless Girls!

A coming world's middleweight champion against a former world's middleweight champion! "Turkey" Thompson versus Teddy Yarosz!

That's the attractive fistic dish to be served by the Citizens' and Advisory Committee of Sojourner Truth Home Tuesday night, Mar. 26. It's a regular Olympic auditorium boxing show, proceeds from which will go to aid Sojourner Truth Home in its drive for more and better facilities for homeless girls.

According to Dr. E. I. Robinson, who heads the committee, and Frederick M. Roberts, director of publicity, matchmaker Jimmy Murray of the Olympic is cooperating to the fullest extent, having set the Thompson-Yarosz bout back a week to insure success of the committee's efforts.

The committee will receive 50 per cent of the sales on the $1 and $2 ducats and so, in order to help the cause, boxing fans are urged to get this class of ticket.

The work of the home and its ambitions to build larger quarters are familiar to the public at large and it is felt that the fight fan will not only take advantage of the opportunity to see what stacks up as a great fight but aid a worthy cause to boot.

Long Beach Relays Attractive

Some records are due to go by the boards during the Long Beach Relays Saturday if the calibre and class of competition may be taken as an indication of what might happen.

Outstanding performers in both the track and field events are slated to be on hand. The cream of the junior college entries are so good that they will be forced to compete in the open competition with the college and university title aspirants. Altogether around 1000 representatives of the coast's best in high school, jaysee, college and university ranks will be on the field trying to outdo one another in one fashion or another.

Much attention will be centered around the efforts of Bill Lacefield, the UCLA broadjumping sensation; Tommy Nelson, Fresno sprinter; Wilbur Miller, dash man and quartermiler; Tom Direaux, Compton weightman; and Sam Lankford, 1938 and 1939 city sprint champion from Jefferson High who is now enrolled at Los Angeles City College.

A 100-yard dash final with Clyde Jeffrey of Stanford, Miller, Nelson and Lankford in it would be a humdinger!

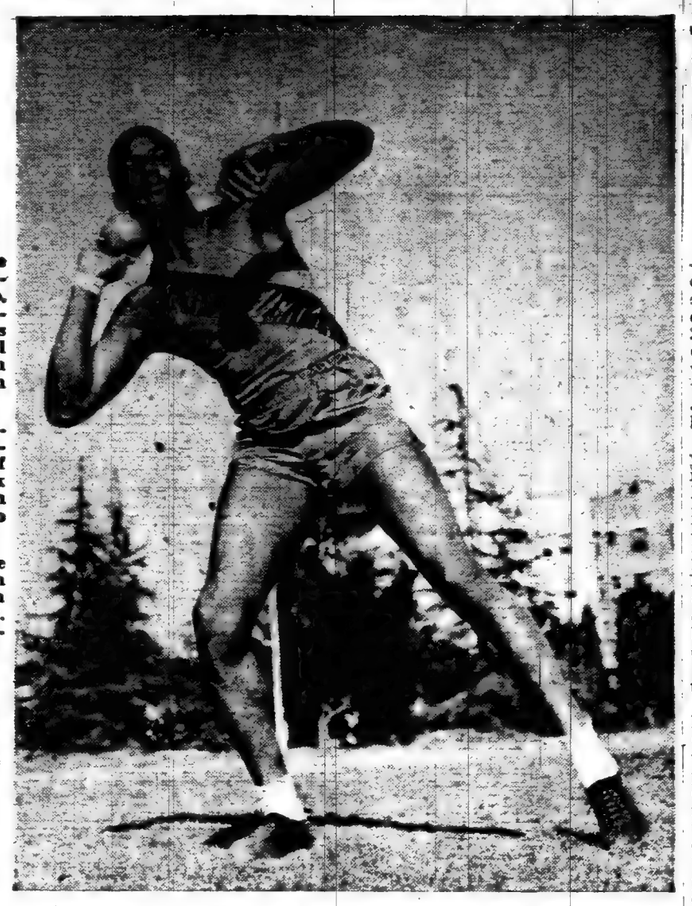
Well, Sir! He's At It Again!

From the caption of this item you must have guessed that we referred to Jackie Robinson, the UCLA wonder athlete.



The football and basketball ace made his baseball debut last week in a practice game and brought smiles to the faces of onlookers as he: Got four hits in four trips to the plate, stole three bases, including home(!), figured in three doubleplays and handled five chances at shortstop without a bobble.

In the first of a series of two games with the California Bears Monday he took the mound as a relief pitcher!

Ray Bartlett, his football and basketball playing running mate, is the starting catcher for the Bruin varsity.

Probably the greatest athlete in the nation, Robinson does everything well in the sports line. We doubt if there is anything to which he set his hand and mind he couldn't do. We haven't seen him fish, bowl, ski, ice skate, swim or handle a golf club but, we have seen him play badminton and ping pong and tennis —to our own dismay in the former for we were beaten handily, New York Yankee lineup but for the ban against Negroes in the major circuits.

SPORTS

HENRY DUVAL is the young Atlas caught in action in the above photo. Duval is one of the mainstays of the Los Angeles City college track squad which will participate in the Long Beach Relays on Saturday.

Brother of famed Loyola football star, Al Duval, Henry played a lot of football as well as track for Los Angeles High school before going to City College.

He's expected to give Tom Direaux, Compton ace, plenty of competition in the shotput Saturday. (Cut courtesy Los Angeles City Collegian.)

Jim Braddock Sues Jacobs for 'Cut'

Has Contract With Jacobs for Share of Promoter's Profits

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (ANP) —That Jimmy Braddock, former champion, does not own a "piece" of Joe Louis, but instead has a contract with Mike Jacobs for a 20 per cent share of the promoter's profits from the titleholder was evidenced here last week when suit was filed against Jacobs for $104,201.64, alleging breach of contract.

More than two years ago, a white syndicated sports columnist first printed the story that Braddock held a contract calling for a share of Joe's earnings for 10 years as payment for the title fight held in Chicago in June, 1937. At that time the Associated Negro Press, after interviewing co-manager Julian Black, declared that no such document existed but that Braddock did have a contract with Jacobs calling for a cut in the latter's profit from the Brown Bomber's battles.

The suit filed last week by Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould, sets forth that the two were to share 20 per cent of any profits made by the promoter out of Louis' ring appearances and radio, movie and television contracts for a 10-year period. The contracts were drawn up July 1, 1937, they charge. This was in payment for Braddock running out on Max Schmeling to make way for a bigger fight with Louis.

Braddock and Gould contend they have been paid only $20,798.36 under this contract and estimate Jacobs has pocketed over $600,000 from the Louis fights and of this sum is due to pay them $104,201.64 more.

BILL LACEFIELD TOPS SEPIA ENTRIES IN LONG BEACH RELAYS

More Than 1000 Coast Stars Compete Saturday in 1st Major Outdoor Trackfest

LONG BEACH, Mar. 14 (Special to Eagle)— The spotlight will focus on many of the nation's outstanding Negro athletes in the 12th annual Long Beach Relays at Stephens Field here Saturday, when more than 1000 of the Pacific Coast's leading track and field stars compete in the first major outdoor trackfest of the season.

Leading the array will be Bill Lacefield, lanky UCLA broad jumper, who returns to active competition. He won the National title two years ago, after taking the Relays crown with 24ft. 1in. in early March, and will use this year's event as a trial on his latest comeback campaign.

Jackie Robinson, great Bruin all-around star, won the broadjump as an unattached athlete last year with 23ft. 10½in., but may not compete because of baseball. He was expected to furnish the principal competition for Clyde Jeffrey of Stanford in the Open 100-yard dash.

NELSON, MILLER IN SPRINTS

Jeffrey's rivalry may come from a Negro, even without Robinson. Tommy Nelson of Fresno State is returning for another shot at the sprint title. It's his fourth bid, each previous trial having been unsuccessful. Wilbur Miller of Compton J. C., one of the nation's leading sprinters and quarter-milers, is also entered in the 100-yd. dash.

Three of the leading junior colleges of Southern California--Compton, Pasadena and Los Angeles City College--will rely largely on Negro sprinters on their relay teams. No names were available at a late hour today, although coaches admitted that several would prove prominent in the day's developments.

Entries have been received from every major track center on the Coast from San Francisco to San Diego. Teams to be represented in the Open division are Stanford, U. of California, San Francisco Olympic Club, San Jose State, Santa Barbara State, College of Pacific, Fresno State, USC, U.C.L.A., San Diego State, all the leading junior colleges from Sacramento and Bakersfield to Riverside all the Southern confreence schools, and about 200 high school athletes from Bakersfield to San Diego who will compete in the morning carnival.

Prep activity will begin at 10 a. m., the colleges at 1 p. m. in the afternoon. Reserved seats will be 75c, general admission 50c, students at the gate, 35c and students in pre-meet sale at the schools, 25c.

Louis Begins Training for Paychek

NEW YORK, Mar. 14. (ANP) —Joe Louis, world's heavyweight champion, arrived here this week, preparatory to going into training for his coming title defense against Johnny Paychek at Madison Square Garden, Mar. 27.

According to John Roxborough, co-manager of the champ, Joe spent last week at his newly acquired Michigan farm. He now weighs 206 pounds. The Brown Bomber is moving away from his usual quarters at Pompton Lakes and will train at Greenwood Lake, N. Y.

Bob Nestell 'Explodes' Blimp

Jackie Wilson to Top Next Week's Card at Olympic

Falling heavily to the canvas three times as the fists of Bob Nestell exploded on his massive frame, "Blimp" Williams of Fresno was knocked out in 1:30 of the sixth round at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night.

It was the main event and Reggie Gilmore was the referee.

There was little action until the fifth round. In that session Nestell, who is also possessed with a fragile chin, caught the mammoth Fresno gladiator with a right which felled him like a tree. Another right bounced him off the canvas just before the bell, serving two purposes—signifying the end of the round and saving the "Blimp".

The "Blimp" was sent to the hangar at 319. Nestell weighed in at 191.

In the six-round crowd chaser, Ulysses S. Grant Harris chased Richard "Young" Polite all over the ring to get Gilmore's nod although the crowd felt Polite deserved the decision.

The six-round semi-windup saw a typical Pier 6 brawl, Al Smith, a body puncher de luxe, outroughing Jimmy McDaniels to catch referee Billy Van's eye. Four-round results: Dub Bowen TKO'd Johnny Verdusco in four; Hut Thompson and Kid Lester drew; Hindu Fleet stopped O. C. Loftus in three.

Next Tuesday night, Jackie Wilson toes the mark against Joe Ybarra.

Tomorrow at 2:45 p. m., Long Beach Poly goes to Woodrow Wilson for one of the hotly contested games these two schools play.

Oakland 'Y' Crushes Kappa Five

Robinson to Lead Alpha 5 Against Omegas Saturday

A fast-breaking and tricky Oakland YMCA quintet invaded Patriotic Hall Saturday night and crushed a fighting Kappa Alpha Psi five 35 to 18 before a capacity crowd.

Close guarding rendered the vaunted Kappa offense impotent. Francis Garland and Johnny Brewer, the big guns, were held to a minimum of points. The former's best efforts were of the free throw variety.

The Oakland starting five, with Blik, Rose, Harvin, Anderson and Phillips handling the casaba, kept the crowd on edge, presenting a well-rounded offensive and defensive combination.

Holding a lead of 7 points before Garland sank two free throws for the Kappas' intial scoring ecort, the Oakland quintet went into half time with a 22 to 6 advantage.

The two teams play again Saturday night in Oakland.

In a preliminary game last Saturday, the 28th Street YMCA varsity defeated the Post Office employes 38 to 23.

ALPHAS PLAY OMEGAS

While the Kappas are in the North, Alpha Phi Alpha makes her bow in inter-fraternity competition against a vastly improved Omega Psi Phi five. The Omega-Alpha tilt will follow a preliminary game Saturday, 7:30 p. m., between two girls' teams—Le Marquisettes and Manual Tri-Y.

Alpha hoopsters being counted on to make the debut a successful one are Jackie Robinson and Bill Lacefield, UCLA stars; Leonard McClain and Jimmie Robinson.

The Omega attack will feature Lloyd Courtney, scoring ace; John Shackelford, Albert Chism, and Howard Williams.

Bakersfield AC to Play 2Y8 Varsity Tomorrow Night

The first intersectional game for the 2Y8 Varsity will be held Friday night at the 28th Street YMCA gym, when the 145 lbs. and Varsity teams of Bakersfield invade Southern California.

Warren Allen will captain the visiting varsity. Other members are: Oliver Pinkney, Ben Fleming, George Handis, Chink-Rice, Gene Gardner, R. C. Robinson, Verney Austin, Henry Young, and manager, "Chop" Lawrence.

The first game will be with the 145 lb. team and the ball will be tossed up at 7:45 p. m.

Camp Minnewawa Five Wins District CCC Cage Title

Two other Negro finalists, Jimmy Joyce of Gary, Ind, bantamweight, and Leon Haire of St. Louis, elongated featherweight, lost decisions.

In addition to the four mentioned, six others have been invited to join the squad now preparing to fight New York's champions in Madison Square Garden March 18. CLARENCE TUCKER
. . .organizer and founder Anti-Prejudice Society

Founder's Day Observed By Anti-Prejudice Society

BY H. DOUGLAS GREER

The fiery column of hope that has swept the near and distant horizon for nearly half a century finally subsided into an inaudible whisper as the giant of Negro Journalism, Robert S. Abbott, "wrapped the drapery of his couch about him and laid down to pleasant dreams." Post mortem eceniums, requims, epitapths and hums of praise have ascended to the vaulted roof of heaven while a civilized world crowns a real hero with wreaths of unsullied immortality.

It was indeed fitting that the American Anti-Prejudice Society should designate a time and place for a monster mass meeting to honor one so highly distinguished in his career as a National Publicist, a man among men, finely intelligent, among teachers absolutely unselfish, among thinkers purely impersonal and among friends inflexibly faithful. In consequence of those capacities and virtues the remaining descendants of the erstwhile editor, Robert S. Abbott, chose Sunday, Mar. 10, for their memorial. The auditorium of Faithful Central Baptist church, 40th and Paloma streets, crackled and sagged beneath the heavy load of its hundreds of mourners, men, women and children, eager to sip the scintillating expressions which fell from prolific tongues. A veritable host bent upon an earthly crusade gathered to bemoan a race's fallen idol.

INSPIRED BY SERVICE

It would be difficult to describe within so small a space what has transpired in the lifetime of a man who dedicated his talent, genius and intelligence to the cause of a benighted people. And because of Robert S. Abbott's untiring, unhesitating, unselfish devotion to the cause of the American Negro, his sympathy with and understanding of his many problems, the entire race feels the loss that comes by death, but shall labor to keep alive and carry to full fruition the principles he so clearly enunciated and the victories he so gallantly won.

TUCKER ARDENT ADMIRER

The impetus and satisfaction derived from last Sunday's meeting is due principally to the conception and efforts of a single individual, Mr. Clarence T. Tucker.

Mrs. Tucker enjoyed a life-long association with the affable editor and relates many exciting incidents when and where the two terment of the race. Reflections worked in harmony for the beton that association gave rise to the desire for a memorial to the belated editor. Tucker is president and general organizer of the American Anti-Prejudice Society. All persons taking part in the Sunday program expressed sympathy and congratulations for Tucker's work. Special references by Mr. John O. Lewis, editor of the News-Guardian of Los Angeles, brought to the attention of the vast assemblage the value and virtue of Tucker's organization and intimated that he personally would like to see it become a force in this city, state and nation for good.

Various speakers on the program alluded to Tucker, some comparing him with men like Moses and Booker T. Washington; his name was favorably mentioned along with that of a Savior seeking to save his people; Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., said: "Mr. Tucker caught the spirit of our Master, that he was going about doing good." Mr. James J. Hogan spoke for the Veterans of Foreign Wars, adding that Tucker's work would succeed because he sought to wipe out race prejudice through an organization that has existed for upwards of a year. Mr. Ernest R. Whitman, an old classmate of Tucker, spoke in favor of the movement and wished the organizer much success. Mr. John Morgan Tucker, Sr., father of Clarence Tucker, at this writing an octogenarian, claims that his son has found the secret of brotherhood and inter-racial amity as a solution to a part of our race problems.

The spicy program moved at length as the various speakers rose to compliment the founder of the American Anti-Prejudice Society. Here our own Professor W. A. Easter graced the ceremonies with one of his characteristic speeches, bringing hope and consolation to the downtrodden and under-privileged. Prof. Easter called into memory, the day and infancy of the immortal Lincoln, making a comparison, stripped of odium, between the sacrificial spirits of "Ole Abe," and the modern emancipator, Clarence T. Tucker. The speaker intimated that perhaps the mantle of the Great Lincoln had fallen on the rising leader.

MUSICAL CONTRIBUTIONS

The committee working with Tucker, displayed excellent taste by selecting Miss Reba Williams, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Ernest Whitman and the Le Blanc's Boys Silvertone Band. Every number was rendered with the feeling and interpretation which never fails to thrill an audience.

The principal address was delivered by Professor Easter on the subject, "The Negro in American Democracy." Dr. A. C. Capers delivered the eulogy on Mr. Abbott, and a resume of the organization's constitution.

Rev. Felton K. Leath, pastor of Faithful Central Baptist church, welcomed the memorial to his parish and in his spirited invocation besought the continued work of faithful men and women to the cause of Negro freedom together with the blessings of the Invisible Protectorate of all mankind.

Representing the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mr. James J. Hogan adequately dealt with the topic of the organization and wars in which race men have taken part, with such men to champion the cause of freedom and complete emancipation, a new day is held out to thoughtful Negroes if they but follow in the trail of able leaders was the declaration of the several speakers. Resolutions endorsing the movement of the American Anti-Prejudice Society will be welcomed from all parts of America and every assistance need will be furnished.

Remembrance of My Loved Ones Who Parted This Life a Year Ago

Remembrance of my loved ones that parted this life a year ago.

A loving sister—Viola Miles. Passed June 16, 1937.

A darling son—Lorenza Buckner. Passed Mar. 11, 1939.

And a devoted brother-in-law —Clifford King. Passed Aug. 14, 1939.

I cannot say, and I will not say
That they are dead; they are just away!
With a cheery smile, and a wave of the hand
They have wandered into an unknown land.

And left me dreaming how very fair
It need must be since they linger there.
And they—oh they, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return,

Think of them faring on, as dear
In the love of there, as the love of here;
Think of them still as the same, I say,
They are not dead—They are just away!

The Evolution of Civilization
FOUNDERS 'CONTENTIONS'

By C. T. TUCKER

"Where there is no vision the people perish"—Bible.

Thought is another name for fate;
Choose thy destiny and wait,
For love brings love,
And hate brings hate.
—Shakespeare

The Gospel of "The American Anti-Prejudice Society."

I. An American Patriotic League to create 100% Americanism.

II. To create a sentiment of friendliness and brotherhood of all good people in our Beloved nation; between those that were found here and those that came here, and those that were brought here; and secure for ourselves the power, the culture, and the religion of our sages.

III. To show that the evolution of civilization only works as the people of the earth persevere for right, truth and justice.

IV. We Americans are suffering from an aftermath of the world's most heinous sin-chattle slavery. About 65% of those that were brought here, are suffering from the sacrifice they made in that dreaded institution; and those that came here are also suffering from an aftermath of that henious monster. It is called the inferiority complex in the one and the superiority complex in the other.

V. Prejudice is ignorance, it is weakness, it is fear, it is full of hypocrisy and lies.

VI.—We must—"it's a challenge from God", eliminate and entirely eradicate race prejudice from our hearts, minds and souls.

VII. American people must all defend this nation, and there is not a physical, mental, social or moral characteristic in the one that isn't in the other; so those that came here and those brought here are one. So let us build a real American culture together.

VIII. The race problem is also gradually solving itself, by natural selection and individual choice.

IX. Those that were brought here should have full measure of devotion. "The Afro-American should be heard in his own right and language; he has made the greatest sacrifice," and is meek and lowly.

X. Love is master: I show you a mystery, no love is stronger than conjugal love, the eternal laws of nature transcend all moral rules of conduct, that wherever affection leads, the intellect must follow. Mind is servant; "so love and labor conquers all."

AMEN.

Finally, so let us be an example to our youth of this great commonwealth, to the Red, White and Black: ti gives greater respect for the womanhood of all races in the hope that their ideals will rise 'till, like the gods of all on their coronation day they will stand so high that that earthly crowns can be laid only at their feet; so for the edification of those that came here, read, "Finot's Race Prejudice," A. J. Rogers, "From Super-man to Man," and Dr. T. T. McKinney's "All White American;" and you that were brought here read Dr. A. Clayton Powell, Sr.'s "Against the Tide," and study the history of the "Anti-Slavery Society," the world's most famous organization and God's most famous people.

Finot says in his "Race Prejudice", the conclusion of the whole matter therefore forces itself on us that there is no inferior or superior races, but only races living outside or within the influence of culture. The appearance of civilization and its evolution among certain white peoples, and within a certain geographical latitude, is only the effect of circumstances.

The Negroes, wrongly considered as occupying the lowest rung of the ladder of humanity bring, by the fact of their raising themselves to the level of the most civilized whites, a powerful argument in favor of the equality of human capabilities, when, in addition we consider the progress accomplished by black Americans, in a century and a quarter in midst of almost unsurmountable difficulties, it is not exaggeration to affirm that under the influence of the same causes—the Negroes in the same space of one or two centuries will have acquired physocologically and intellectually the type which will prevail in the American.—Milieu.

Psalm 33:12 Acts 17:26

THE FOUNDER: I was born on a farm of a pioneer family, about six miles northeast of Oklahoma City. A log cabin, a dirt floor, a well and a living spring is all that I can remember of the place. My father was an 89'er. He came out to Oklahoma with the first Territorial Government, "The Land Office". It's headquarters were at Guthrie, the former capitol of the state. He had been a merchant of the state of Mississippi.

I started to school at the age of six and spent the day gazing at my teacher, whom I though was very beautiful. I still think that Miss Bertha Richardson, who later became Mrs. Bertha Bingham, was one of the most beautiful women that I have ever seen. At that time she was about 19 years of age and was of Indian, white and Afro-American blood. My ambition was to be a lawyer. I studied under Judge W. H. Harrison for several years.

I was a hopeless "stammerer" affected with an impediment of speech, which followed until 1925, when one of the greatest of all miracle took place and I have been talking ever since. For thirty years I had been the laughing stock of the people; everywhere people took advantage of me. The trials, the incidents and persecutions that I have gone through make one of the saddest stories of history. Jesus, my savior, whom I have always relied upon in time of trouble is the only one that has passed through so much grief and sorrow. My life has been a puzzle: God has truly put some heavy loads upon me. At the age of 12 years, I was converted under the preaching of Rev. S. S. Jones, of Muskogee, Okla., the first Negro to leave the state for the Holy Lands and return. I was baptised by the Rev. Jernigan, the pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church, the largest church in the state today. I suppose that there were 5000 people on the banks of the S. Canadian river that day, just 33 years ago this summer. The next pastor of Tabernacle church was our own Rev. A.C. Capers, pastor of Faithful Central Baptist church 40th and Paloma Sts., Los Angeles, California.

In 1935 I wrote to the late Dr. R. S. Abbott, editor and publisher of the Chicago Defender and told him that the only way that we as a race could secure our full rights as American citizens would be through a National movement to eliminate race prejudice. The letter was published in a national issue of this great paper and I received letters from every part of the nation as well as from South America, but no moral or financial support was given me at that time. I was forced to wait for a more opportune time to start, but I kept reading and praying and studying. Two years ago, I got real warm and went to the ministers of this city but they turned me down and that almost wrecked my life. I was a member of the Independent Church of Christ and I went to pastor Clayton D. Russell and told him what I thought God had called me to do and asked him for his cooperation. My first move was to go to the Interdenominational Minister's Alliance and get their cooperation. Dr. Russell gave me a letter to that honorable body and they appointed a committee to take up the matter but they have not reported to this day. They lisened to my story for ten minutes, "but they did not hear". They had several of their number on the carpet for taking vice money from the Shaw machine and gave all of their time to them.

It is mystery that the people of the earth, who have such a short time to live can hate each other so. It so happens that God has given me a spirit to pray for my enemies and we all must contend for world peace. There are too many people on earth today that over-rate themselves. They are all excited over color, position or greatness. Sacrifice should be the tape of time. How much have you suffered for this misjudged race? We all claim to be great and strong. Let us remedy ourselves in this last reach for the last rung in the ladder of civilization. Le us be civilized.

STUDENTS TO BUILD ADDRESS SYSTEM

Mr. Milles, radio and electricity instructor at Jefferson Evening High school, announces that his students will build their own six tube combination public address system and record player. The set, when complete, will be approximately equivalent to the ordinary $45 or $50 combination set. Anyone interested in this type of activity is invited to visit or join the class.

For absolute cleanliness everyone should spend 5,475 minutes a year in the bath tub.

The first thing Lindbergh asked for when he arrived in Paris was a hot bath.

lshire vs. Vernon

"Them that has gits" is a crude, fashioned truism, but one that rofoundly accurate. A fitting exple of this truth would be the fact t vast construction gangs are at sent busily employed "widening repairing" Wilshire boulevard.

On the surface of it, this does not n a very significant pronounceht. However, the importance of statement lies in what is not said; ttered items such as: "There are construction gangs widening and iring Vernon avenue; there are onstruction gangs widening and iring Central avenue, etc."

lready a magnificent six lane oughfare, boasting a nationally icized "miracle mile", expeny lighted and meticulously ntained, Wilshire blvd. is suddene object of costly improvement. nwhile, poor Vernon avenue, a ating traffic artery and one of city's important cross town chanis so narrow at the vital Central ue intersection that a single mobile has not sufficient space ass to the left of a street-car. street is so whimsically rutted it calls upon all the genuis of ern automotive construction to one's vehicle together while ng over it.

ithin the average block fronting Vilshire boulevard there are sevighly ornamental street lights. e are no houses to benefit from lumination throughout most of Wilshire boulevard length. But he Eastside, crowded with child adult pedestrians, there is nothhat approaches adequate lightrvice which one of the beautiVilshire blvd. lights might renlong a dark Central Avenue side is immeasurable. Vernon avewith its pitiful two lane traffic gement might benefit from ning and repairing" to a much er degree than "the miracle . If the civic fathers were faceg experts, we suspect they ignore Wallace Beery to aid e Power.

Shame of A Nation

News this week that the Board of Pardon and Parole of Alabama had denied petition for parole of five remaining Scottsboro boys shocked the nation.

In the minds of thinking Americans, the fact of the Scottsboro boys' innocence has been established for several years. Twice the United States Supreme Court has thrown the case back into Alabama courts charging irregularities. A judge of the Alabama circuit court set aside one verdict as being contrary to the evidence on the basis of what seemed to the judge to be the incontrovertible physical proof that there had been no rape of the two plaintiffs at the time alleged.

Thus, we have the ghastly spectacle of a great American State holding five defenseless boys through sheer malice and racial antagonism. At a time when loud pleas for "national unity" are voiced by leaders of the nation, the Alabama Pardon and Parole Board decision comes as a severe test to the faith of thirteen million American Negroes.

The very essence of a democratic state is a free and unbiased court. Through years of trials and appeals, the Scottsboro case has revealed Alabama court-room justice a mockery and a fraud. In 1937, four of the boys, held on identical charges with those still incarcerated, were set free. There is no more eloquent proof of the innocence of all nine, since those liberated were convicted on precisely the same evidence.

Throughout the long and bitter campaign to free these boys, the state of Alabama has repeatedly complained of "outside interference". Today, however, it is a well known fact that a solid wall of sentiment is held by distinguished groups of Alabamians favoring liberation of the prisoners. Hence, the Board's decision is an arbitrary affront both to the national conscience and the contentions of distinguished Alabamians.

As time passes, it becomes increasingly apparent that the only hope for equality and justice for southern Negroes is a militant campaign to regain their constitutionally guaranteed franchise. Activities of Sam B. Solomon in Miami, Florida, one of the most prejudiced of U. S. cities, in bringing twenty-three hundred colored voters to the polls there is ample proof that it can be done. No black ballot in the history of Miami had been cast at any time before 1938.

This internal war to secure such fundamental rights is the only conflict in which Afro-Americans can be wholeheartedly interested at this time. Screaming headlines declare latest developments along the Maginot and Mannerheim lines, but information concerning the battle of Atlanta, where 150,000 Negroes are demanding the right to vote, is not mentioned.

The example set by Miami is one which might easily lead to the enfranchisement of the entire south. The magic formula has been discovered. It is simply this: a willingness to die, if necessary, for the cause. When Ku Klux Klanners held one of the greatest demonstrations in their history in Miami night before the 1938 civic elections, they were bringing into play all the powers of terror and intimidation which have defeated southern Negroes for seventy years. But this time no fright and no fear were inspired by the fiery Klan demonstrations. Sam B. Solomon went to bed with a gun at his side. The following morning, hundreds of Negroes voted.

The Miami Klan has not been heard from since.

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

THIS RELIEF QUIZ NEEDED

When the State Legislature opens up shop on May 13 for the second meeting of its special session, it should be armed with all the relevant facts on the bitterly contested problem of relief. Having appointed, just before adjournment, a 17-man committee to conduct a thorough inquiry into that very matter during the present recess, Californians will expect an intelligent answer to this one vital question: How to safeguard the welfare of the needy and how to eliminate waste so as to safeguard those who pay for relief. The temporary legislation passed at Sacramento provides no answer to this question. It has merely postponed it. For this reason, the fact-finding committee of 17 has a grave responsibility on its hands. Its duty is to provide, when the Legislature reconvenes ten weeks hence, a nonpartisan, factual study which will enable legislators to take enlightened action with a minimum of passion and prejudice.

WHILE ROME BURNS

Believing it to be better late than never, the House of Representatives took more than 2 weeks to make up its mind on the question of a loan to Finland. The general temper of the House at no time opposed the granting of such aid. Debate on the question swirled endlessly around such irrelevant points as whether or not the loan should be plainly earmarked, "For Finland's benefit," or whether the whole matter wasn't simply a subterfuge to increase the authority of the Export-Import Bank, and other similar side issues. Since the extension of $20 million in credit to Finland was virtually a foregone conclusion, the House has laid itself open to the unenviable charge of fiddling while Rome burns, in view of the Finnish defenders' desperate plight. Whether the aid has come too late to be of benefit will be told in the military despatches from Helsinki during the coming weeks.

DEFENDING FREEDOM—NOW

No one has any trouble remembering to close the barn door —after the horse has been stolen. But nations, like people, sometimes forget to protect their possessions, particularly in time of crisis. This is why there was good sense in the declaration just made by Prof. Harold Cross, of Columbia University, and special counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association. Stated he: "National emergencies, including war, do not justify curtailing America's historical freedom of the press. Let us not forget that our guarantees of freedom of the press were born in and of an emergency." But all too often emergencies stifle such freedom with permanently harmful results. National defense in a military way must, in a democracy, go hand in hand with the upbuilding of defenses against and bureaucratic invasion of certain inalienable rights.

DISCOVERY ON A LAST FRONTIER

Far from this hurly-burly world of wars and violence, a campaign of conquest of a different sort forges ahead many thousand miles to the south of California. Down on the vast, eternally ice-mantled continent of Antartica, the Byrd Expedition last week mapped from the air something which has been the goal of explorers of a dozen nations during the past 160 years. This is the South Pacific Coast of Antarctica, and in charting its outlines, the daring aerial explorers also discovered a great mountain range, rising several thousand feet above sea-level. But the enemies encountered on this campaign of conquest have proved only slightly less harrowing than those found on man-made battle-lines. Nature has flung at them her battallions of gales, fogs and ice-packs, reluctant to surrender the secrets of almost the last of the world's frontiers of exploration.

RINGING UP PROGRESS

There was nothing breath-taking or exciting in the figures which the Commerce Depattment published a few days ago, stating that at the end of 1939 more Americans were using telephones that ever before in history. But that small bit of news would have thrilled and gladdened the heart of Alexander Graham Bell, who 64 years ago this week first displayed a strange contraption which transmitted sound by means of electrical energy. This was the forerunner of the modern instrument, the ancestor of the 20,800,000 telephones—an all-time record—which today constitutes one of the nation's vital communication lines. Apparently nowhere yet near the limit of expansion, 846,500 new 'phones were placed in homes and offices in the last year alone!

LIKED US ON THE AIR

Dear Editor:

I have had the opportunity of hearing your talks over the radio in and around Arizona several times. They are splendid indeed, and I feel sure that I voice the sentiments of all who listen in when I say you deserve much credit for the way in which you present your subject. I would also like to add that the Colored people really apreciate hearing just that kind of thing. You do indeed deserve the support of the Colored people.

With best wishes for your continued inspiration and ability to bring before your radio audience just the things they like to hear.

Very truly yours,
LAWRENCE C. JONES
Piney Woods School, Miss.

Dear Editor.

Inclosed find my check for $2.00 for a subscription to your paper. I have lived in Los Angeles ten years, and I confess that I am just now getting around to subscribing for the EAGLE. This is what prompted me to action at this time.

I was shocked, as the whole city was, over the kidnapping of the little colored girl. But what shocked me doubly was the negligence of the white papers as regards publicizing the crime. I heard about it Wednesday morning of last week through a neighbor and I looked carefully thru the daily papers for a story on it. I felt that if prompt publicity was given it, the fiend would be captured before he could do any graver damage to the child.

Not until Thursday morning was I successful in finding a line in the daily papers on the incident, and that, only a small item buried on the inside of the paper. I contrasted that to the headlines and careful description of the whole proceedings in the EAGLE. I came to the conclusion then, that we, as Negroes, can depend only on our press and what we make of it.

I am going to start now to do my part, to keep up my subscription, encourage my friends to do theirs, and patronize your advertisers as we are often heeded. Battling great odds, you have done a great work. I know it now, and pledge all my resources to helping where I can in order that you may continue.

Yours truly,
F. L. ANDERSON

CAN'T HELP IT

Dear Editor:

Twice in the past two weeks my pleasure in reading articles in the daily press dealing with the award of Academy recognition to Hattie McDaniel, has been spoiled by the papers' use of the word, "Negress," meaning Miss McDaniel. First the Times did it and last Sunday the Examiner erred, grievously.

Perhaps I am a hair-splitter, but I can't help it. I don't like it. I am not alone in this. I think I have read similar complaints in the columns of your paper. Something must be done about it and I am asking you to address a complaint to the offending papers, asking that they refrain from this careless affronting of a great number of their readers.

Thanking you in advance, I am,
Respectfully yours,
(Mrs.) RALPH HARPER

Dear Editor:

We wish to thank you for your kindness to us during our recent bereavement. It is deeply appreciated.

Will the States Vanish?

From The (Okla.) Black Dispatch.

JUDGE EDGAR S. VAUGHT, of the federal court, Western district of Oklahoma believes that state government will finally vanish in tht United States if central government continues its encoachment.

In discussing "Americanism and the Constitution at the Y. M. C.A.," the jurist dodged the question "Isn't the present day revolt against the constitution really a revolt against the lower standards of the men who represent us?" The judge said "this is a question for a jury."

The Black Dispatch always has and always will feel that "state rights' is the weak link in the American constitution.

In Chicago Al Capone organized his machine gun squads and shot people down in mass. State government could do nothing about this. Machine Gun Kelly followed the same path. State government could do nothing about it. In Kansas City the Pendergast political machine stole elections with impunity and immunity. State government did nothing about it.

But the federal government stepped in apprehending each one of these individuals. All are now behind prison walls. Can Judge Vaught get any light from this judicial experience we have had here in America?

The truth is that government has fallen down in law enforcement. The mob that lynches a black man offers the best example of what goes on when the people are too close to judicial processes. Everybody scurries for cover when a federal grand jury is called, because it is generally agreen that men who constitute such an inquisitorial body, coming from several counties, will not be swayed by local sentiment. When a county grand jury is called, on every street corner one can hear this expression, "So and So can fix that crowd" or "So and So is not going to let that get by". The general impression of a county grand jury is that it can be fixed from the inside or that outside influences will make contacts.

And Negroes, who belong to a demoted group, can give fine testimony on this score. Black folk know that jury fixing is common in local self government. It is the weak place in our democracy.

If state government is supurb, why were the owners of propery rich man's castle? We are in state courts when kidnappers swarmed outside the gates of every rich mans castle? We are willing to chance human rights in the hands of state courts, but when the kidnapper menaced property rights in America we rushed to the federal structure and enacted the Lindbergh Kidnap Law, and with it the financial structure of America protects itself.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has taken 14 cases to the Supreme Court of the United States. 13 of these cases have been decided in favor of the viewpoint of the Association. This means that in its interpretation of the Constitution of the United States, regarding the rights of America's largest minority group, state government has failed. The Supreme Court is composed of men coming from the South as well as the East, West and North. No narrow cramped conception of the Constitution could emenate from such a body. The experience of the NAACP in America's highest judicial tribunal is proof conclusive that state government does not meet the acid test of Americanism.

Several years ago records showed that there were more murders in the year the report was made in the city of Detroit than in all England. This ought to teach America that there is something wrong with our social organization. In America 48 state units and a different judicial system in each political subdivision. In England Scotland Yard starts on the trail of a criminal and tracks the individual to the fartherest point in the hinterlands of the empire. The sheriff in Oklahoma County must stop at every county and state line to get permission to pass through, when chasing a criminal. If the criminal is finally caught he may successfully fight extradition. State governmen with its maze of technicalities furnishes the criminal in America his best defense.

State rights in America has fashioned 48 types of morality regarding the marriage rites. It is a crime for a black man to marry a woman in Oklahoma whom he can legally marry in Michigan. On the other hand state rights leave Negro women unprotected so that a white man can approach her without responsibility. The white man is not required under any conditions to give a black woman his name or a black woman's child his name, even tho the white man is the father of her child.

When we started relief programs during the depression we forthwith rid ourselves of state rights and went into "regions" which was a modified form of centralization. Why did we do this? Prevailing wage scales would not mix with the state rights any more than oil will with water. We might go on and on to show how state rights and local self government has been a hinderance to the democratic ideal. It is state rights that today nurses Jim Crow, segregation, disfranchisement and all of the sectional prejudices.

Speaking for the Black Dispatch we care to say that a little more federal environment will suit us fine, if in the end it means the fullfilment of Judge Vaught's prophecy regarding the vanishing state.

• ON THE POLITICAL HORIZON

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Mar. 14—As far back as last August, this column emphasized that the chief factor challenging the attention of colored voters during these preliminary days before the political campaign of 1940 begins is a solution of the problems of unemployment, and the attendant and correlative issues growing out of these problems in these words:

. . . ."If the Negro people are to have a solid, industrial foundation they cannot accept a philosophy which substitutes relief as a cure for unemployment . . . that a mere subsistence level is not what Americans desire, that . . . instead they need and desire steady jobs at decent wages, and that . . . enlightened intelligence resents placid acceptance of relief as a palliative for unemployment."

Now comes the recently released Report of the Program Committee of the Republican National Committee, of which Dr. Glenn Frank is Chairman, with the statement that the New Deal which purports to have given special attention to the welfare of Negro citizens during the past seven years has made relief the primary and chief instrument in extending benefits to them, and that "the New Deal program has operated to encourage a progressive shunting of Negroes out of normal productive enterprise into a kind of separate (discriminatory) relief economy," placing them on a permanent "reservation" of relief.

In 1936, at Cleveland, Ohio, where the last Republican National Convention was held, the platform of the Party directed attention to this same subject when it expressed continued interest in the economic welfare of colored citizens in this statement:

"We pledge our protection of their (colored citizens) economic status and personal safety. We will do our best to further their employment in the gainfully occupied life of America, particularly in private industry, agriculture, emergency agencies, and the civil service . . . We condemn the New Deal policies which would regiment and ultimately eliminate the colored citizen from the country's productive life and make him solely a ward of the Federal Government."

Decision to re-submit the Ann and Utah Street housing project Cooperation Agreements to the City Council was reached by the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles at its meeting last week, it was announced ... by Charles Crail, Jr., vice chairman of the Authority.

What about Central Ave.?

Mrs. C. A. Bass is a member of the committee on National Political Affairs for the annual California Republican Assembly Convention which will be held at the Roosevelt Hotel, Hollywood, California, April 19, 20, and 21. The chairman is Edward S. Shattuck.

This will be the most important Convention ever held by the California Republican Assembly and the success of any convention depends upon the efficiency and ability of the committees.

Carrying Vice-president John N. Garner's campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to all sections of California, managers of the Texan's forces here announced this week that local organizations will be established in all of the State's 20 Congressional districts. Garner says he can't use a Negro on his campaign committee.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is quoted as having told the nation in 1933 that if he did not succeed in pulling the country out of the Depression he would be the last president of these United States! The Depression is recorded as having ended September 16, 1938--Relief and Unemployment we have still with us.

Secretary Ickes, trade-marked "Itching Ickes" by Republican presidential candidate, Frank Gannett of New York, is in Los Angeles again, on a third term missionary campaign, preaching a third term doctrine. He is asking all in favor of the same to say, "Amen--amen--amen".

The popularity of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio as a presidental candidate has not been of the wild fire sort, but it is beginning to appear to this Political Candid Camera that this man Taft is a serious threat to his Republican running mate.

On March 7, 1940, Congressman Arthur W. Mitchell introduced bill, H R. 8826, which is of vital importance to the Negro, in that it provides for a Federal appropriation to match an appropriation already made by the Illinois legislature, for the purpose of celebrating the 75th anniversary of the Negro Freedom in America.

And on the same date, Mr. Mitchell introduced the following bill: H. J. Res. 484 declaring the birthday of Abraham Lincoln to be a legal holiday.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

CHARITY BEGINS — AWAY FROM HOME. Mr. Herbert Hoover according to recent report has gotten together $2,500,000.00 in hard U. S. cash for Finnish Relief. He also made a sudden appearance before the House Foreign Affairs committte and stated that about $50,000,000 was needed for Polish Relief. Twelve other groups—emulating his example—were reported to be working equally as hard for the Finns.

During last week, all over America committees were formed, various groups threw parties, dinners, balls, benefits, worked night-clubs for the CAUSE. In New York city one enthusiastic sympathizer at some society affair bought a Dorothy Lamour sarong, $25.00; Paulette Goddard's (er slightly used) nightgown, $30.00; three of Jimmy Cagneys neckties, $22.00; and one woman gave the Finnish legation in Washington a $2000.00 diamond bracelet for the Cause. As I read of the doings of Mr. Hoover and the hyprodermic stimulus he has given national sympathy for stricken FOREIGNERS, all at once I realized WHY he lost the 1932 election.

AMERICAN RELIEFERS IN DIRE STRAITS. In many states of this country, notably California, sudden relief cuts have placed numerous families in just about the same predicament that many Finns and Poles are. Hunger, lack of warm clothing, lack of food are the same in any country or clime.

No longer than yesterday I happened to make contacts with the fathers of three different family groups, each with from two to four small children. These men's eyes were stony, faces haggard, bodies tense, as they related the plight of their families. Suddenly dismissed from their WPA jobs, allowances for their families cut forty per cent—it was tuff enough before the cut—angry landlords demanding rent, grocerymen refusing further credit, gas bills, electric light bills overdue and shut off notices staring them in the face.

"What in the Hell do they expect us to do," one father rasped desperately. I did not answer him out loud, but inwardly I groaned "Turn to a Finn, a Pole a Czechoslovak, or anything else but a native born, impoverished American and you will be quickly succored by your fellow-countrymen."

AMERICANS ARE SCREWY—When American Reliefers really need, in order to get the attention of their fellow-citizens, is a Barnum and Bailey type advertising manager. Americans are screwy, they can be aroused to the pitch of emotional ecstasy necessary to loosen their tightly corked wallets in only one way—circulars at Fairmoo.

If ten hundred Reliefers would put wokus on their little tots' necks start driving them down Broadway, cracking a Bull whip over their clanging heads and shouting that they intended to drive them over an Elysian Park cliff and be rid of them forever, before they would traverse a block the kids would be snatched from them, tearfully fondled, and probably over-fed. Some of them might even be offered good homes. Yet that same crowd who rescued them, under ordinary circumstances would allow those same children to starve to death living right next door to them. Yes sir, without doubt Americans are a screwy race of people.

NEGRO WOMAN ENDOWS WHITE SCHOOL. An aged colored teacher, Miss Rachel Hargreave by name, who died recently in Chicago, left $40,000.00 to four white schools, respectively, Knox college, Wheaton college, Aurora and Northwestern university. There sure is a lot of truth in the Bible saying "To him that HATH shall be given."

Not one of those schools needed the money as badly as some of our struggling Race colleges—aside from the fact that being white schools, they had 120,000,000 well-heeled whites to draw upon for funds. In the language of the old Spiritual, "We'll unnerstan' (our folks) better by an' by," maybe.

The Eagle

I know the name of a wonderful bird.
This name we all have heard.
The wings of this bird are very long.
And her bill is very strong.

Some birds are very feeble.
But not this bird, America's Eagle
Changing from the bird to a paper.
One of our own, let's try to save her.

The California Eagle and Its truthful facts.
Keep many off wrong tracks.
This press has helped many a child.
Kept them off the streets and from running wild.

Citizens of this angel city,
Not to take this paper is a pity,
For this is the mother paper of your town,
You can keep it rising or bring it down.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

These words from the Book of Revelation, "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is and is to come," are the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

One of the Bible selections in the Lesson-Sermon presents these verses from the Psalms: "By the word of the LORD were the heavens made; and all the host of them by the breath of his mouth. . . . Let all the earth fear the LORD: let all the inhabitants of the world stand in awe of him. For he spake, and it was done; he commanded, and it stood fast. . . . Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations. . . . The eyes of all wait upon thee; and thou givest them their meat in due season. Thou openest thine hand, and satisfiest the desire of every living thing."

Included in the Lesson-Sermon are these passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.'"

Pastor Scores With Sermon on 'Confucius'

Rev. Thurston G. Lomax, youthful pastor of the Second Baptist church of Long Beach, spoke before a capacity house Sunday morning, using as his theme, "What Confucius Should Have Said." The text used by this pastor was found in Rom. 6.23, "The wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life."

In the course of his message Rev. Lomax brought out many worthwhile sayings of this great philosopher, but showed the fallacy of his teachings.

"While the Confucian system is built on morality, Christianity is built on the shed blood of Jesus Christ. And while good morals help a man, they cannot save him," he said. This can only be accomplished through the sacrifice of the only begotten son of God. Had Confucius spent his time telling men, 'the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life': Christianity would have a greater grip on China today."

GLOBE NEWS & GOSSIP

By JAY GOULD

Tanforan, up 'Frisco way opens tomorrow with all indications leading to a banner meet, the best yet.

The New York starting gate is the latest alibi of crack jockeys in explaining their poor form. They place the responsibility on the horses not being able to steal head starts.

Ralph Love, old time tap dancer and minstrel man was doing his routine at one of the swanky spots when one of his pals teamed up with him uninvited. When they had finished, he was invited to a table filled with eats. Ralph was heard to say, "This is a swell combination", (Ham and chicken).

Dr. Paul DeKruif, a damyankee from Holland, Mich., hasn't seen "Gone with the Wind" on the screen and won't. "Dammit," he thunders, "the South lost the Civil war but no film or book writer will admit it."

Edna Harris, bandstand entertainer and movie actress, after rehearsing for a new show, spurned the star's roll. She wouldn't make her entrance to the stage thru the producers. (boo-wah!)

Edna Harris

A lady was dining in a swanky spot when a heel walked over, very politely tipped his hat, smiled and asked, "Aren't you a show lady". No, she replied, "I'm a housewife and here comes my husband now". The heel bowed his way out.

A guy with no conscience who did dirt to a young thing was asked if he didn't have a troubled mind. He replied, "she must be a wire walker to trouble my mind."

Alice Nunnely and Emma Robinson, the glamorous play girls, look like show cuties, while occupying high stools in cocktail lounges and sipping choice mixed drinks.

Olga Freeman, Tillie Whaley and Bea Griffith can be seen looking in the mirror at Lomax's Cocktail Lounge but never going for their powder puff or make-up box.

John Cole, an "in charge man" to Chicago, having lunch with a tub of champagne on the end of his table after the last race Saturday was very much noticed with Bernice Ayers and Clarence Fullbright. They kept the waitresses quite busy.

Miss Grace Prudhulne in company with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bruce and Roy Moore was the center of attraction after the last event at Santa Anita. Both gents wanted to pay the check and do the tipping.

Woody, the fish man at 42nd & Central, after wining and dining Mrs. Elizabeth Brooks of Detroit and M. Moore, the one and only, formerly of Chicago, after cabareting and hitting the hot spots 'til closing time, received a very polite good night at the Dunbar door as she stepped into a cab, saying "Thanks for a lovely evening, I'll see you gents some more."

The adorable Margie Johnson who has been on a sightseeing trip on a honeymoon for the past three or four weeks down Phoenix way, returned to the Dunbar Grill for duty on the dog-watch, exhibiting short skirts and peach colored hose with perfect stocking seam!

The charming Mrs. Mae Crowder and husband, formerly of Chicago, make a wonderful team in their liquor store at the Dunbar Hotel.

Jim Nelson, owner and head lobbyist of the Dunbar hotel, generally wins a few of his arguments with Lawrence La Mar and Cleo Wilson, Charley Moore, movie star; Lieut. B. Avers, Lomax, jr., and Moore who worked at Santa Anita. But when the learned N. Y. "Mex" comes along, it's generally "Mex" who wins.

Alonzo Carter and his beautiful wife, Kate, are taking a course of baths at the Pythian hotel at Hot Springs.

Andrew Jackson, Johnny Thomas and "Babe-face", dancing trio, are real fight fans and seldom unnoticed unless they are in the bleachers.

Tim Stevne, James Barker, Bob Franklin, Derby, Jimmy Pitts, Walter Green, Marshall Miles, Bob Clarke, Jimmy Lee, George Tittington, London Gale and Tom McGee seldom missed a day at Santa Anita and motored backed seldom singing the daily blues.

Kid North who could often be seen in C. S. Howard's box at the races, rooting for Howard's flyers to win, was in Seabiscuit's still with Tom Smith, while he saddled "the Biscuit", winner of the 100 grander.

Clocker Carter Hayes whose expert opinion is accepted by all horsemen, is on friendly terms with C. S. Howard and other millionaire horse owners, because he is 100 per cent smart on the game.

Little Ritz "Clocker" McMorris is on the job early and late; knows his way around and also what's going on.

Cortez Peters, champion typist with his charming missus is now in San Francisco, taking his mail at 1951 Sutter street, and exhibiting his skill as the fastest typist in the world at the different schools. Mrs. Peters looks more gorgeous in her outfits than any woman has a right to, in London, Paris, New York or Hollywood.

Mitchell Asks Congress for $75,000 Grant for American Negro Expo

CHICAGO, Mar. 14. (ANP)—A bill asking congress for $75,000 to help defray the cost of the American Negro exposition to be held here July 4 through Sept. 2, was introduced Thursday in the house of representatives at Washington by Arthur W. Mitchell, Congressman from Illinois' first district, it was learned here Saturday.

Favorable action by both House and Senate is expected on the bill to provide a federal grant equalling the $75,000 already appropriated by the state of Illinois last year for the forthcoming exposition depicting the progress of the Negro during the 75 years since emancipation.

VAL VERDE CHURCH OVERJOYED BY INTEREST IN WELFARE

VAL VERDE, (By Clara Taylor)—Members and friends of the First AME church of Val Verde are overjoyed by the interest displayed in the welfare of the church and the number of visiting friends from Los Angeles, and surrounding areas. Since the coming of Rev. E. Judge Wiley as pastor, it seems to have been the needed link, the tie that binds and everyone in the canyon resort is being brought together in one great family, working for the uplifting and building up of humanity. Easter Sunday morning communion will be served at the 11 o'clock services. We will be using our new communion set which was donated by the Stewardess board, headed by Mrs. Hamilton. The Altar linen was given by Mrs. L. Bruce, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Watkins. Rev. Wiley will be master of ceremonies at the Sunrise Services on Sunrise hill that morning. We hope that everyone will come out to witness this event which is conducted every year by the Outdoor Life and Health Association. In visiting Val Verde don't fail to visit our church.

Mrs. V. Phillips, Mrs. Anna Long, Mr. A. Luder and Mrs. Mary Bean of L. A. called at the Taylor Ranch, Sunday, then proceeded to the Club house where they enjoyed a fine dinner.

Birthdays, in the community have been happily remembered the past week. Mrs. Sellers entertained John Owsley, retired from 10th Cavalry, and his sons, Sergeant Morrow and William Tatum at a birthday dinner in honor of her husband, James T. Sellers.

Mrs. James Taylor served a delicious Sunday dinner in honor of the birthdays of her husband and the Rev. Judge Wiley.

Tree planting along the streets has been started and the improvement is something to talk about.

Says NAACP Is Changing Attitude of White South

The NAACP is responsible in large measure for the changing attitude of the white South toward the Negro.

This was the statement made by Eugene Robinson, formerly of Texas and now connected with the local American Woodmen office, at last week's campaign meeting of the Los Angeles branch of the NAACP in the 28th St. YMCA headquarters.

Robinson's talk added impetus to the current membership drive of the branch, a drive which has already passed the $1,039.50 mark. This figure indicates that over 1000 persons have enrolled on "The Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy." Citizens enroll by joining the branch during the drive A goal of 200 enrollees has been set.

Geo. A. Beavers, jr., general chairman of the campaign, said this week that the All-Star division leads the Warriors for division honors; Dr. H. Claude Hudson's team leads for team honors, and A. J. Williams is leading the individual race. Trophies will be presented the ultimate winners.

New Addition to Woodmen Force Here

Mr. Eugene Robinson is the American Woodmen's new addition to its force here. He comes directly from Texas, where he made as plendid record as a producer and a general supervisor. He is in a membership enrollment campaign at present that takes the form of a pugilistic bout. He says with the assistance of more than 900 members, and four fine leaders, he is determined to make Los Angeles more Woodmen conscious. He is affable, quite aggressive, alert, and believes in cooperation is civic and religious as well as fraternal minded. He is active in the NAACP membership drive and promises his support to those movements in the city that are for the general good of the people.

Mr. Robinson thinks the American Woodmen as a Fraternal Insurance association is a great organization. In his own words, he says that it takes the middle ground between the regular Fraternal and the regular Insurance company. He discusses quite interestingly the suoject of Fraternal Life Insurance of which the American Woodmen is a member. He is very favorably impressed with the fine group of neighbors with which he is working and the splendid cooperation they are giving. To him Los Angeles is a place of opportunities. What the American Woodmen has done and what it will do will be sung from the house top by he and his corps of workers. eH says, "Other young men should think of the fraternal field as a field of opportunities." Fraternal Life Insurance is in a great forward movement he says. He is here to sell the protection his organization is offering. —Adv.

$1,780,000 LOAN CONTRACTS MADE FOR LOW-RENT HOUSING PROJECT

City Housing Authority, USHA Contracts to Cover Cost of Project in Avenue District

Loan contracts have been executed between the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles and the United States Housing Authority for one million, seven hundred and eighty thousand dollars to cover development costs of a low-rent dwelling project to be constructed in the Central Avenue district, it was announced today by Nicola Giulii, chairman of the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles.

Known as "Pueblo del Rio," the project, part of the nation-wide program of slum clearance and low-rent construction fostered by the USHA in cooperation with cities and counties, will cover approximately twenty and one-half acres, and will provide low-rent dwellings for four hundred families when completed, Mr. Giulii said.

Appraisal work of properties on the proposed site is nearing completion, and will be followed by negotiators seeking options for the Authority. Headed by H. N. Steabeck, chief negotiator, O. L. Banks and A. P. Garnier will call upon property owners.

Mr. Giulii warns the property owners to "beware of speculators" and to "conduct no negotiations with anyone excepting the three men mentioned, who will bear credentials identifying them."

The City Housing Authority presented a three-day exhibit on Feb. 21-23 in the McKinley Junior High school, placing special interest in the "Pueblo del Rio" project, which was the subject of much favorable comment by visitors.

All civic and social organizations desiring to have speakers from the City Housing Authority to explain the program may obtain them by calling RIchmond 9336, or writing to the Housing Authority of the City of Los Angeles, Rm. 1250, at 1031 S. Broadway.

ARTHUR B. SPINGARN"

BILLIE McFARLAND GETS WORD OF KIN'S DEATH

Mrs. Billie McFarland, 3438 McKinley Ave., received word Tuesday of the death of her father, Frank Savage of Greensboro, N. C. Mrs. McFarland is active in club and civic work.

ACCUSE WHITE MAN IN ATTACK OF WOMAN

caught her, and forced her back into the car.

As he drove around the dark roads of the lonely Monterey Hills, near what is known as Sheep Springs, McGaha spied an abandoned car.

He stopped, Mrs. Berry reports, and built a fire on the seat of the abandoned car, declaring that he was going to throw her in it and send her to fiery death. He saw the headlights of another car in the hills, however, put out the fire and resumed driving.

VERIFY GIRL'S STORY

Exploring the hills Thursday, Ewing and Downey report that they found this abandoned car and found abundant evidence that a fire had been started on the seat, thus substantiating this fantastic detail.

After driving through deep ruts of mud, Mrs. Berry said, they stopped and McGaha attacked her. After a considerable time, she managed to tear from his grasp and started to flee in the darkness across a broken field, but he chased and caught her.

After that he took three dollars from her purse.

Driving back to Pasadena, Mrs. Berry continued, her attacker told her that he had a gun and would blow her head off if she ever reported her experience. It wouldn't do her any good to report it to police, he unthruthfully informed her, because his father was a Pasadena policeman. If her aunt asked her how she sustained her injuries, he commanded her to say that she had been out with someone else and to give a description that was much different from him.

REMAINS IN CAR

When McGaha stopped his car near Glenarm street and Fair Oaks avenue and entered a cafe in that vicinity to eat, he warned her to stay in the car and threatened to kill her if she tried to escape.

While he was eating, the woman ran from the car to a nearby service station where she hid behind a safe and asked the attendant to call police.

In the cafe, Ewing and Downey found McGaha. His clothing was disarranged and his shoes and trouser cuffs were muddy.

After arresting and jailing him, the detectives stripped McGaha to find his legs splattered with blood.

SERIOUS INJURIES

At the same time, Mrs. Berry, her nose bleeding profusely and her face bruised and swollen, was being examined by Dr. Paul Osiek at the emergency hospital. He listed her injuries as a broken nose, broken left arm at the shoulder, and many abrasions of the face, forehead, knees and body.

In the care of her aunt, Mrs. Berry was later taken to Huntington Memorial hospital.

When questioned by Ewing and Downey, McGaha admitted taking the woman to the Monterey Hills, said that he was not drunk and that it was all her fault.

Aside from this case, he also reportedly admits writing and passing two bad checks since Detectives A. C. Mansell and Joe Welsh gave him a chance three weeks ago to make good a number of worthless checks he had passed.

Because he allegedly took three dollars from Mrs. Berry's purse, which would constitute robbery, and because he allegedly forced her to accompany him by simulating a gun, McGaha is charged with kidnapping for the purpose of robbery.

It carries the death sentence.

ADMIT HARTSFIELD TO UCLA COURSE

Again in 1938, twice in 1939, Hartsfield filed application for the advanced course work, being repeatedly refused.

After his fourth refusal, civil liberties groups became active in his behalf, continuing agitation until his appointment. Move by UCLA military department heads in appointing him to a vacancy in the 1940 class and asking for "special permission" to qualify his late entrance has been hailed by leaders as a "definite step forward in the defense of democratic processes".

TELLS FIRST INTEREST

When asked when he first became interested in military science, Hartsfield stated, "I first felt a desire to take up this work in 1932 when I attended a benefit show at Shrine auditorium and a boys' drill team performed. I told my father, 'Dad, someday I'm going to do that.'" True to his ambition, Hartsfield served on drill teams which ran up the flag at many great football games in the Los Angeles Coliseum.

The young student stressed the fact that he has 'one hope—that before I leave, I will see some other Negro take an interest in this work.

"I feel that the Negro has represented UCLA very capably in sports, but I believe that this representation should spread to other fields," he added.

GIVEN MEDAL

Hartsfield is also active in sports, a prominent figure in basketball and track. He recently was awarded a letter and medal for team play in 145 lb. basketball.

He is well known as a member of the Sphinx club, Alpha Phi Alpha pledge group at UCLA.

TO JUDGE PEOPLE by their living conditions is an unwritten law. We like to point to some communities by saying "This is our most beautiful residential section." As a matter of fact, when tourists come to our city we take them through certain areas of the Eastside and Westside, showing them homes of our rich and near rich.

It was in the year 1927 that the Eastside realtors placed a whole page advertisement in this paper announcing the opening of Central Avenue Gardens. From all appearances the territory so designated was in Los Angeles proper, but technically it was on the outside, in the county. However, Central Avenue Gardens sprang up, as it were, over night.

At first, the Gardens included a small strip on the boundary line that separates the city and county, Hooper Avenue.

During this period—as it is today—Los Angeles was congested. The overflow found accomodation in this new section. Houses went up, it seemed, over night and within a few weeks Central Avenue Gardens was no longer a real estate proposition but a neighborhood.

Very soon, however, the new section was filled and the human dam started bursting its banks.

Opening of other nearby tracts was in progress. Most of these new settlements were not for Negroes, though builder Abe Blumenthal took a lead in expanding and beautifying the colored district. Through him, new, artistic homes commensurate with incomes of the new settlers were constructed.

Since 1927, Central Avenue Gardens not only has become one of the "pride-spots" of our city, but likewise the promise of an ever growing and beautiful residential area bordered by two great business thoroughfares, Central and Hooper Avenues.

From the start, the Gardens has attracted better class citizens. A few years ago, fresh from Tuskegee Institute, a young man and his wife bought property at 92nd and Hooper avenue. A. J. O'Rourke is a finished electrician, and he bought the Hooper avenue property to build jointly a neighborhood electric shop and a residence. Such a combined business-home establishment as is often seen in Hollywood and Beverly Hills.

With their cherished plans on paper, the O'Rourke's worked daily, looking to that day when they would be ready to build their dreams into reality.

In the meantime,—during last summer—the couple were invited to sit in on a meeting that had as its purpose the rezoning of Central Avenue Gardens. Realizing that Hooper Avenue, like Central, is one of the main business arteries that connects greater Los Angeles with the towns and small cities leading to the ocean, O'Rourke never suspected that the proposed zoning ordinance presented at this meeting would interfere with his construction plans. On or about the Ninth of October, 1939, the new zoning regulations went into effect.

As 1940 approached, young O'Rourke and his wife-partner found that they were financially prepared to build and to apply for operating licenses. His application for a permit was denied, authorities holding the new zoning ordinance prohibited him from using his property for business purposes. The refusal came as a thunderbolt from the blue.

When residents of Central Avenue Gardens discovered that their neighbors, the

Gang-Buster Tom Dewey Due Here

GOP Presidential Aspirant Speaks in Bowl April 20

Plans for a mammoth meeting in the Hollywood Bowl for Thomas E. Dewey, crusading New York district attorney and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, on the night of April 20 were being completed here today.

Dewey is to make his first appearance in California as guest and principal speaker at the state wide convention of the California Republican Assembly which convenes here April 19.

During the one-day visit he also is to crowd in conferences with Republican leaders of the State and with representatives of labor, business, newspaper and other groups.

The Hollywood Bowl, amphitheatre set in a canyon in the Hollywood hills, seats 20,000 and local Republican leaders predict a capacity crowd, based on Dewey's audiences elsewhere.

Dewey is to be feted on his visit by Republican leaders representing the entire State, including a large delegation from the North and from the Bay area.

The three-day convention of the California Republican Assembly, with Dewey's appearance as its principal feature, will be held in the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel, with Worth Brown, president, in charge.

Jail Woman As Burglary Suspect

Suspected by police of having committed from 35 to 40 burglaries, 23-year old Helene Woods, 641½ E. 27th street, was in Lincoln Heights jail this week.

Her arrest followed that of Y. Z. Moseley, 37, of 1114 E. 27th street, when police found him with allegedly stolen articles in an automobile. Detective Lieutenants Arthur Bergeron and W. G. Patterson said he told them he was on his way to "sell the stuff for Miss Woods."

The woman and Moseley were booked on suspicion of burglary.

Watson Gives Self Up in Policy Quiz

DETROIT, Mar. 21. (ANP)—Everett Watson, manager of heavyweight boxer Roscoe Toles, and reputed policy king, who was arrested in Chicago a month ago and fought extradition, surrendered at the county building Saturday afternoon in a surprise move.

Watson appeared before Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson with three attorneys just as the court completed examination of Prosecutor Duncan C. McCrea and 12 others on lottery conspiracy charges.

On Feb. 9 at the home of Jim Martin, identified with the policy game in Chicago, Watson was arrested in company with his wife, Irene, by officers led by Special Prosecutor Chester P. O'Hara, following a search of three months that had extended over a large part of the nation.

Fighting extradition, the Detroiter was scheduled to appear before a representative of Gov. Horner in Chicago, but Friday night, he got in touch with local officials and arranged to surrender after a four hour telephone conversation. Extradition papers for Watson's return were forwarded to Gov. Horner from Detroit Wednesday, Mar. 13, after signing by Gov. Loren D. Dickinson.

He was released under $2500 bonds for examination next Tuesday.

The Eastertide season once more turns the thoughts of men for a few brief moments toward the Prince of Peace.

Yet on only a few small plots of the earth's vast surface does the spirit of peace reign this Easter. To some, the celebration of Christendom's traditionally most joyous festival will seem an unhappy irony when the crash of guns seems to strike all ears more clearly than the hosannas which greeted the Prince of Peace when he entered the palm-strewn streets of Jerusalem, and the tread of marching millions seems to drown out the triumphant voices of those who cried out on that first Easter morning, "Peace, He is risen!"

Yet those words are ageless. No thundering instruments of destruction can silence them. Proud men with their dreams of conquest, their great kingdoms "built for eternity", have arisen endless times these past 2000 years only to be crumbled to dust. They lived without vision and they died leaving none. But Easter, in the awakening Springtide of the year, brings to the world a symbol of faith and hope renewed. Out of the darkness of the grave Christ arose. From this vision, mankind takes renewed courage at Easter to strive toward the day when all men, having broken the enslaving chains of greed, hate, and violence, may emerge from darkness and turn unashamed faces toward the stars in a world of peace.

Ala. Cops Raid CIO Union Meet Under Jim Crow Law

GADSEN (Ala.) Mar. 21. (CNA)—Six police officers who raided the meeting place of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee and the United Rubber Workers, CIO, on Feb. 14 and arrested 29 workers, may face federal indictments for violations of the workers' constitutional rights, local CIO attorneys announced this week.

The arrests were made under a city ordinance which "forbids meetings of Negroes and whites for the purpose of evasion or violation of any law, the advocacy of miscegenation or social equality between the races forbidden by law or State, county or city government."

The court action would be based on a recent case in New Orleans in which a policeman and two other men were indicted for beating up a photographer during the Democratic gubernatorial primary, Jan. 16. The photographer was "deprived of his rights, privileges, and immunities secured and protected by the constitution and laws of the United States" the indictment charged.

Similarly the Gadsen workers were deprived of their rights when police raided their hall just before a meeting, Feb. 14, without a warrant or formal charge, CIO attorneys said.

Spirited Mass Meet Held to Spur Gordon Kidnaping Aid

By LAWRENCE LAMAR

An enthusiastic crowd that well filled the spacious Elks hall, assembled last night at the behest of the Eastside Citizens Reward committee for the purpose of keeping up vigilance and interest in the search for 9½-year old Dorothy Gordon, kidnap victim of a white man last Mar. 5.

The meeting was presided over by chairman Rev. D. C. Austin, pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist church, of which the missing child was a member. Frederick M. Roberts was master of ceremonies.

Stress was placed on the importance of raising a suitable reward to be posted by the committee for information leading to the recovery of the Gordon child, dead or alive. During the meeting a sum of $33 was raised to swell the committee fund to $205.33.

Interesting factor in the meet was the presence of representatives of other well meaning civic organizations who pledged their own funds toward the committee fund.

Thomas L. Griffith, attorney-at-law and president of the local branch of the NAACP, spoke eloquently regarding the necessity of centralizing the various reward funds and said the organization which he represented was posting $250.00 reward for the apprehension of the kidnaper or recovery of the child.

Eugene Sorrall, exalted ruler of Golden West Lodge No. 86, which order donated the hall for the meeting, opened the meet and restated the Elks offer of $50.00 reward in the case.

Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins of the 62nd district, spoke and read a telegram from Gov. Culbert L. Olson, which announced that State official's proclamation authorizing the posting of a $1,000 reward in the kidnaping case.

Investigator Robinson of the District Attorney's staff, who appeared with chief investigator Roy Steckel, charged the people of this district with being guilty of civic lethargy when he pointed out the neglect of those who witnessed the girl's abduction, but failed to take the number of the kidnap car.

John V. Pitts, treasurer of the committee, and Mrs. C. A. Bass, editor of the EAGLE, both pointed to certain instances of moral decadence on the part of district leaders and urged that the committee should go deeper than the present kidnaping case and clean up its own neighborhood sin.

Mrs. Ethel W. Dunn told how she, Robert Strauther and Y. W. Thurman waited on the Governor in his local quarters.

Officers Kermit Brown, Sidney Hendricks and Fremont addresed the gathering. Wallace Braden, recently appointed general manager of County employes, sat through the meeting, an interested figure.

The committee will meet again next Wednesday night.

Charge Jim Crow By Merchants

Minister Heads Citizens' Group in Job Demands

An unfamiliar spectacle on Oakland's famed 7th street, Negro commercial center, soon will be mass picketing of colored citizens in protest of alleged employment discrimination by merchants, according to reports this week.

A citizens' committee of Jobs for Negroes was recently formed under the chairmanship of Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, progressive pastor of Taylor Memorial CME church. A survey was conducted among the stores on Seventh street showing refusal of thirty white businesses to employ Negroes. The Committee has gone on record demanding employment of skilled as well as unskilled employes among the race.

LONG INACTIVE

For many years, Oakland has been backward in protesting assertedly flagrant conditions of discrimination in the Bay City. Leaders in all parts of the state have hailed the new movement as a "waking up" on the part of northern, black public opinion.

Bay City chiefs were also commended for their choice of picketing as a method of securing economic justice. It was pointed out that the practice has been utilized with success in many cities throughout the nation.

New York's Harlem was urged o the greatest race riot in recent history, March, 1932, through picketing of communist agitators. Although the riot was condemned by majority of labor and civic leaders, it effected sweeping changes in the colored district's employment status. Since that time, orderly picketing has consolidated these gains to a great extent.

It was also recalled that Los Angeles shares the benefits of effective picketing with Eastern cities. Many Central Avenue stores which did not employ Negroes, were forced to do so thru mass picketing. However, rigid control of the practice is now exercised here.

Citizens of Oakland, a "union city," are not expected to be curtailed in picketing operations by civic authorities.

Public Meet Will Close NAACP Drive

General Chairman Beavers Announces $1218 on Hand

With over $1218.00 on hand, Geo. A. Beavers, jr., general chairman, announced today that the "Citizen's Honor Roll for Democracy" membership campaign of the local branch NAACP will close Sunday, Mar. 31, with a public meeting at Hamilton Methodist church.

The next report meeting for campaign workers will be held next Wednesday evening at the 28th street YMCA headquarters. An additional 500 members is forecast for this meeting to bring the total close to the 2000-member goal set at the start of the drive.

At the report meeting last week, Messrs. John Hargrove, Albert Baumann, J. K. Crump, and Mrs. Lola Beavers spoke and expressed confidence that the goal would be reached.

The battle for the three trophies, to go to the leading division, team, and individual, is close. Mrs. A. Hill's Kenny Washington All-Stars lead for division honors with a total of $674.50; Dr. H. Claude Hudson's team leads with $187.50; and A. J. Williams' $166.00 leads the individual race.

Throw Resources of County into Hunt for Kidnaped Girl

Resources of Los Angeles County were ordered by Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough thrown into the search for little 9-year old Dorothy Lee Gordon, who disappeared mysteriously more than two weeks ago.

The State of California was also brought into the search as a result of the vigorous demands of Supervisor McDonough.

Aroused over the abduction of the little girl, Supervisor McDonough bitterly assailed the kidnaper and demanded before the Board of Supervisors this week that every law enforcement agency in the County join in a concentrated search for the missing girl.

Specifically Supervisor McDonough requested the following steps as added impetus to the search:

1. That the District Attorney's office of Los Angeles County be instructed to confer wih the Citizens Committee interested in Dorothy's disappearance and work out immediate details for setting up his special fund an amount to post as a reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the abductor.

USE ALL MAN POWER

2. That the Sheriff of Los Angeles County be urged to detail all available man-power to provide unlimited facilities in the search.

3. That the Sheriff also be requested to contact all Chiefs of Police in the cities in the County of Los Angeles so that every corner shall be covered in this county-wide search.

McDonough conferred with the District Attorney's office regarding the reward fund and was informed that the District Attorney cannot set up such an award but that the State is permitted to do so. The reward request has, therefore, been submitted to Governor Olson for his consideration.

Court Order Means Nothing; Divine Says He Won't Pay

NEW YORK, Mar. 21, (ANP)—A showdown on which is the stronger, the New York supreme court or "God" in the person of Father Divine, loomed here Monday with the announcement by Edward Potter, the cult leader's attorney, that he would not pay a $5,900 judgment won by Mrs. Verinda Brown, 52, disgruntled former "angel."

Potter appeared on the scene as 600 angels picketed the county courthouse in protest against the court order. He said Divine would not pay the judgment because he claims it is "contrary to his rights and to justice in this case."

William W. Lowell, Mrs. Brown's attorney, said he would immediately file an execution of judgment and turn it over to the sheriff for him to levy on any Diivne property he can locate.

Steel Worker Is Found Dead in Garage

"Momma, I cannot live in this house with a dog. So goodbye. May God bless you."

That was the note written apparently by Thomas Huling, 65-year old steel worker, who was found dead last Thursday night with a bullet hole thru his head.

Mrs. Jenny Huling, the man's wife, told University division officers W. A. Gilliland and J. Molina, she left here home at 4607 S. Wall street about 7:30 p. m. to go to the store. An hour later she returned and found the note in the living room.

Searching the house to no avail, she said she went to the garage and found her husband sitting in a chair. Bertha Alexander and Evelyn Hyle, answering her call for help, called police.

The officers said Huling was sitting with his legs crossed, in his right hand, which was resting in his lap, was a .32 Colt auto.

$250 Reward Offered By NAACP

Governor of State Telegrams Offer from Sacramento

A reward of $1000 was offered late yesterday by Governor Culbert L. Olson for the capture of the kidnaper of little Dorothy Lee Gordon.

The governor telegramed his offer from Sacremento to Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, lone Negro member of the California State Legislature, and Mrs. Fay Allen, only Negro on the Los Angeles Board of Education.

The action was the direct result of efforts by Negro citizens to secure the offer of a reward from the State after petitions to the city had failed.

Assurance that the kidnaper, when found, will pay the supreme penalty for his crime against the 9-year old girl, was contained in the governor's tele-

GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION

I have issued a proclamation, stating that in order to assist in finding and returning Dorothy Gordon, a reward of $1000 (if offered under Section 1547 Penal Code) for apprehension of any person who has committed an offense punishable with death against or upon the person of said Dorothy Gordon.

gram. The reward was offered under Section 1547 of the Penal code, which specifies that the hunted criminal must have "committed, or is charged with the commission of an offense punishable by death."

Mention of the California Eagle was brought into the sensational case this week, with the report to Newton Sreet police by Charles Wherry, chauffeur of 1019 E. 25th street, of the unusual behaviour of a white man. Wherry told police that on last Thursday, EAGLE publication day, he saw a white man drive up to Adams and Central, and purchase an EAGLE from the newsboy. Wherry said the newsboy told him it was the first time a white man had bought a Negro newspaper from him.

THREW IT AWAY

The man paid the boy and sitting in his car, looked hastily through the paper, then threw it to the sidewalk and drove away.

A Mr. Allen, who gave his address as 886 E. 43rd place, also noticed the incident and took down the license number of the car. The two failed, however, to obtain a description of the man.

As Dorothy, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gordon of 1438 E. 22nd street, was missing today for the 16th day, police reported a number of clues, none of which, however, had led, to date, to unraveling of the baffling case.

Dorothy was kidnaped Mar. 5 at about five o'clock from 16th and Hooper avenue, as she was returning home from Easter practice at her family church. Her abductor was described by the only witness, Dorothy's 7-year old chum, Christina Pollard, as a white man who drove a grey sedan.

Last Monday afternoon Newton Street police station was visited by three women, Eva Anglin, 1234½ E. 24th street; Christine Conley, 4222 Compton avenue; and May Silver, 1368 E. 15th street, who told police they saw a man and girl, who might have been Dorothy and her abductor, on the day of the kidnaping, Mar. 5, at about 8:30 p. m.

The women said they were waiting at Avenue 20 and N. Main street for a street car. They noticed a young colored girl, apparently trying to signal them from a black coupe. The driver, a white man, was holding her down as the car sped out of sight, they told police.

Shown the only existing picture of the kidnapped child, the one published in the EAGLE last week, taken from a group picture, the women were unable to identify the girl they saw as Dorothy.

PROBLEMS OF NEGRO WAGE-EARNER TO GUIDE CIO DRIVE IN CALIFORNIA

Problems Will Be Guiding Principle of Organizing Drive, Council Official Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 21.—Special attention to the problems of Negro wage-earners will be a guiding principle of the great organizing drive which the CIO has launched in California, according to Revels Cayton, vice president of the Industrial Union Council of this city.

In a statement issued to the press this week, Cayton declared the organizational drive is taking fully into account "the increased unemployment and suffering which the cuts in government spending have brought upon the Negro people.

"We intend to carry out the program outlined by John L. Lewis in his statement to the Negro press several weeks ago," Cayton said. "He said that a man's color should have nothing to do with his chance to earn a decent living, and that the principles of the Congress of Industrial Organization were in keeping with this idea. Well, that's our idea out here in the West too."

The Council official outlined some of the main tasks involved in organizing Negro workers and bringing them into the ranks of organized labor. He said that the suspicions of the labor movement distilled in the Negro people by long years of abuse and segregation at the hands of corrupt labor leaders were an important obstacle to overcome.

"The most important hurdle before us is the fact that Negroes have been kept out of jobs by the refusal of trade unionists to fight the employers' exclusion policy," he added. "In the past, whenever Negroes have been sent to a job and the employers have refused to accept them, their union officials have surrendered to this policy. But it's different now. White trade unionists are beginning to realize that if this state of affairs contnues, it will turn thousands of Negro workers against the unions and create a state of mind which the employers can exploit whenever they need strike-bearers."

Cayton discussed how the problem had been handled in the Marine Cooks and Stewards Union, where he first became active in trade union affairs as patrolman on the San Francisco waterfront. He said the union discovered that if it capitulated to the employer, its membership would be broken up. Consequently, it adopted the policy of refusing to supply other men to the ships whose officers refused to accept Negro or Oriental employees.

Golden West Bridge Ass'n Notes

BY ELLIS VEIL

Ten pairs of our faithful members took part in the monthly match point play Saturday North-South winners were: Mmes. Millie Hopkins and Louise Roan with 34½ match points. Dr. A. L. Wallace and J. D. Dunn had things their way in winning East-West with 41 points, six ahead of their nearest competitor. Dunn is out in front of the rest of us. This is our second play and his second win.

Our advice to you hundred or more members who have not shown your skill at duplicate is to set aside one day a month for your association, so that you may get your share of the master point certificates that are being awarded each month. The GWBA plays duplicate every Monday night at 1503 E. 22nd street.

Last week's bridge hand and questions were as clear as mud, so we are repeating this week. If you hold 10 spades, headed by the KQ8, you should ask for a new deal as you have a bad deck. For when you add the AJ109, you will have 14 cards in the spade suit. Bidding of last week's hand should be one spade by East, three no trumps by West. Most West players bid three clubs. The reason for the three no trump bid is you have no support for your partner and your hand is the balanced type and would definitely play better at no trumps. Two East-West pairs reached a contract of six clubs which could not be made. One San Diego pair failed to reach game. Terrible, did you say? We agree.

Citizens Seek Improvements in Willowbrook

Claiming that an adequate water supply, sidewalks, street lights and other improvements are badly needed in the community, citizens of North Willowbrook, aided by the Willowbrook Civic Betterment Club, began circulating petitions this week. The petitions request the County of Los Angeles to create a water district in the communiy for domestic purposes and fire control, supply street lights, put in sidewalks, sewers and other improvements. The fire insurance rate in Willowbrook is $11.00 per $1000 policy.

Willowbrook, a town of 7500, between Compton and Watts, has a Negro population of about 2000. Four water companies operate there, one maintained by Los Angeles County in the white section, whose minimum rate is 55 cents per month, and three others whose minimum rates are from $1.25 to $1.50 monthly, in the area most occupied by Negroes and Mexicans, the petitions charge.

County Counsel O'Conner, gave an opinion to a delegation from Willowbrook to the effect that the Cunty of Los Angeles could parallel the lines of the mutual companies with adequate water mains, if the majority of property owners in the affected area sign up for a new water district, or for annexation to the county water district now serving the white area of Willowbrook.

The Assemblyman termed the "little Hatch Bill" an encroachment upon civil liberties.

They further asserted that the defendant would within the next two years earn approximately $54,250.00 and asked that they be awarded the sum of $5425.00 as their percentage of her earnings. Miss Noels' attorney, Walter L. Gordon, Jr., filed an answer to the complaint and the suit is now pending in Superior Court.

Miss Noel first gained national attention as the Sweepstakes winner on Eddie Cantor's radio program. At present, she is making a picture with Cantor, tentatively titled, "Forty Little Mothers."

Negro Farmer Real Victim of New Deal Crackpot Farm Schemes, Scott Writes

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 21.—Truly "the forgotten man" of this era of New Dealism, "ill-fed, ill-clad and ill-housed," is the Negro farmer the majority of whom reside in the South.

They have no vote. They are disfranchised. They do not come within the political programs of the New Deal. They are not organized. They are not a pressure group. They have suffered grievously during these past 7 years of agricultural experimentation.

In contemplating New Deal votes they are not taken into account. New Dealers feel they can be done without. Unlike their brethren in the Northern and Western States they can wreak no reprisals for neglect and broken promises. Their lot is tragic.

Karl Steinbeck, in a diagnosis of the ills of the Southern farmer, Negro and white, calls attention to the fact that, under the "plowing under" edict, thousands of Negro as well as White farmers have lived a hand to mouth existence because the compensation they were to receive for land taken out of cultivation was consumed by avaricious, brow-beating landlords.

The situation developed into a mathematical problem in economics--reduction in acreage--reduction in work--destitution.

Statistics show that 90.7 per cent of Negro farmers are in 11 southern states. The government appropriated $227,000,000 for rental and benefit checks under its cotton acreage reduction program alone. It has been estimated that the farmers, both white and black, received about 3 out of every 1,000 of these compensation checks. The other 997 were devoured by landlords through a multitude of fraudulent subterfuges.

Farm relief under the guise of "subsistence farms", he says, as operated through the Government's Resettlement Administration, is a farce. Negro and white farmers are expected to live on 30 cents a day, yet are denied by the Social Security Act any right to old age pensions, unemployment benefits, or any other farm of social insurance. Instead, farm jobs are provided which pay the magnificent sum of $19 to $21 a month, or 12 to 15 cents an hour. Is this a reassuring picture to the Southern farmer — particularly the Negro farmer—even if he were allowed to vote?

This situation is so desperate that, when the Second National Conference on the Problems of the Negro met here in Washington, it devoted much of its time to a survey of the facts, and a discussion of the sorry plight of the neglected Negro farmer, who is in fact and truth "the man farthest down", and forgotten.

The Conference declared that a democratic administration of the provisions of the Bankhead Act would indicate the equitable inclusion of all elements of the population in the benefits accruing from and the carrying out of the provisions of the Act. In many States and counties in the South, it reported, the percentage of Negroes in the total farm population, as well as in the farm-tenant population, unquestionably warrants the inclusion of Negroes in the membership of State and County-Farm Tenant Committees, the Conference insisted. By the same token, it said, there should be inclusion of Negroes on local Acreage Allotment Committees of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, or any other local committees for the administering of Federal programs where Negroes are vitally concerned.

The Conference requested the Secretary of Agriculture, as representative of the Federal Government, to remedy the undemocratic practice now prevailing in which Negroes do not receive appointment on these committees, that they may protect their interests.

As a result of forces growing out of the prolonged agricultural depression and changes in the organization of many plantations in some cases, apparently, as result of Federal legislation), the Conference pointed out, there is occurring a more or less rapid shift from tenancy to day labor in many sections of the Cotton Belt. In these areas Negroes are faced with a growing agricultural group of landless, propertyless, and often casual laborers, of which group Negroes are a majority. To a considerable extent this represents total displacement of families and unemployment.

The conference recommended that the Federal Government make carfeul studies of this situation with a view to providing a program for the security and protection of these people.

● POST NEWS

Lt. Col. James M. Beck, post No. 2661, VFW of the U. S.; Moody Staten, commander; L. L. Vaughn, quartermaster; Robert Culpepper, adjutant; Elijah Goodwin, service officer, meets every first and third Wednesdays in each month.

Our official visitation to Zion Temple Sunday was a decided success. All comrades enjoyed the program presented by the post and the wonderful sermon preached by Bishop Sara Butler. Those who stayed away missed a splendid service and disappointed their commander. However, the attendance was very good. We owe the success of our program to the splendid numbers rendered by Miss Helen Dundee, a piano selection; Miss Violet McDowell, vocal selection accompanied by Miss Edwards, sister of Comrade Theodore Edwards was sponsor for the number; the incomparable Smiling Travelers Quartette was a program in itself. The members are: Mrs. Ethel Dorsey, Mrs. Kinsbury, Mrs. Martin, and Mrs. Overstreet, accompanied by Miss Adams at the piano. Comrade Kuykendall acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, editor and publisher of the California EAGLE gave some very inspiring remarks.

At our meet April 3 an election of officers will be held at which time all past officers will be elected for the next year. Prepare your slate for your old officers are getting tired and would welcome a rest. At the meeting of Mar. 17, there will be a joint installation of the officers of the post and auxiliary which we hope will be a very fine affair.

The happiness of your life depends upon the quality of your thoughts, therefore guard accordingly; and take care that you entertain no notions unsuitable to virtue and reasonable nature.—Marcus Antoninus.

Picturesque Negro-Indian Woman Dies as Farm Home Burns

CLARENDON (Ark.) Mar. 21. (ANP)—Aunt Viney Field, 94, of Negro and Indian extraction and one of the most picturesque characters in this section, burned to death in her home on the Batesman farm near here Sunday night.

She told friends she was born in Galveston, Tex., in 1845 and came to Arkansas at the age of 15. For 50 years she farmed and engaged in heavy work daily until five years ago. Last October she picked cotton and carried a 150 pound sack of cotton.

She was fond of fancy dress, especially beads, fringe, tassels and lace. At one time she had a costume fashioned of automobile tire inner tubes, cut to form fringe in every conceivable place.

A few gray hairs—some lines around the eyes

The Social Whirl . . .

By: Lillian Johnson

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mosby entertained Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Hampton with a dinner party at their lovely home on E. 50th street Saturday evening with a formal dinner. (Details will be found elsewhere).

Mr. and Mrs. R L. Devers entertained Miss Nora Medley with a surprise birthday party Friday night. Among the guests we noted the L. Lassiters, the D. Scroggins, Misses Edna Hunter, Hazel Williams, Claud Devers and M. L. Milligan. After a lovely repast bridge was played. Miss Medley was the recipient of many lovely and useful gifts.

Elizabeth Armstrong became the bride of Murray Lewis at San Gabriel Mission Sunday in a very beautiful ceremony. Guests noted were the Alfred Mays, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Jackson, Attorney Crispus A. Wright, Chas. Trammel, Wilbur and Emily Mason and oodles of others.

"East is East and West is West and never the 'twain shall meet", but such was not the case at the People's Independent Church of Christ of a recent Friday evening. Under the sponsorship of the Live Wire club and the capable directinon of Mrs. Balentine, East met West and the beauty of both as represented in "A Nations' Wedding," presented a picture of loveliness.

It is utterly impossible to adequately describe the costumes worn by all participants, however, the nations and races represented were America, France, Holland, Ethiopia, Jewish, India, Japan and Hawaii. So vivid was the performance of these weddings that one felt as if he were taken for a ride on the Magic Carpet in to many beautiful lands. Honorable mention was given Misses Gwendolyn Valentine and Mrs. Pricilla Bailey, who was dressed in a lovely two piece satin gown, a lace veil and carried a beautiful white prayer book. Her attendants were a maid of honor, a matron of honor, and 12 bridesmaids.

As each bridal party approached the altar, they courtesied to Uncle Sam, who was Mr. E. Blackwell, and the Statue of Liberty was Eleanor Wallace.

The very charming Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew in her usual capable manner described each group. Soloists of the evening were Mrs. Margaret Chapman, who sang very beautifully as usual; William Gillespie and Earl Pleasant, whose contribution to the program was greatly enjoyed by all. At the pipe organ was Mrs. Fannie Benjamin, who was assisted by Miss Emma Smook on the violin.

A befitting climax of the evening was the presentation of the bridegroom, whose identity was not revealed until the last moment. He was none other than M. Oliver, one of the oldest and most beloved members of the church; he proudly left the altar with Miss America. Many socialites were present to witness the affair and I am sure I voice their opinion when I say "here's looking forward to a return performance in the immediate future."

Our hats are off to Marjorie Vena, former Denver deb who is now making Los Angeles her home, for adding her little bit in the march for community progress. She recently organized the Delphenian Social and Charity club whose purpose is community betterment.

Mr. and Mrs. Steven Floyd Wrigh of Portland, Oregon, were the honored guests at a dinner party given by Mrs. Katie Wilson on Hooper avenue, not a cocktail party as mentioned last week. . . .

Some little bird has brought me the news that Miss Gwendolyn Valentine will soon be announcing her engagement to a certain young man who was in charge of the Musical Festival Thursday night week at the Independent Church of Christ. . . I wonder . ? ?

Congratulations to Albert McNeil and his Choral group of the Calvary Baptist church whose debut Friday night was an overwhelming success

Out-of-towners stopping at the Dunbar include Mrs. E. Washington of Chicago; Mrs. Charlott Jones of New York, the Fletcher Hendersons of New York, who are with the Benny Goodman aggregation now playing on the coast; Mrs. E. W. Ousley of Kansas City.

Mrs. Dorothy Miles entertained Mr and Mrs. Steven Floyd Wright of Portland, Oregon with a picnic at Irwin Park, Santa Ana, California. Sixteen persons made up the party.

Things we look forward to: The Kappa Alpha Psi basketball dances. . . The Mannequinettes cocktail party to be given on the 30th . . . the Penguins Cocktail party to be given at the LaVada and promising to be an affair deluxe . . . seeing our friend Alice DCuir back in circulation in the immediate future.

For your social news reporter all REpublic 6300 or write the California Eagle.

THRIFTY HOUSEWIVES HOLD PRE-EASTER MEETING

The pre-Easter meeting of the Thrifty Housewives Literary and Art club was held at the home of Mrs. E. V. Leonard, Thursday, Mar. 7.

The origin and growth of the club was depicted in a beautiful table arrangement, a nest of eggs, baby chicks and rabbbits, by the hostess.

An interesting program was presented. Each member gave a brief account of the club and its progress from questions that were drawn from the table center arrangement.

TANFORAN RACE TRACK, Mar. 21.—Seabiscuit, 10-1 in the winter books, cost the Aqua Caliente 60 G's chalking up 10-1 against a 70c on a dollar horse, which was his price at post time.

Roy Gardner and Marque Neal travel around the country with two rich widows, but didn't seem over-anxious at the beginning, as they knew good things go to them that wait. . . Octavia Sumler, formerly burlesque queen and strip tease dancer has caused many a guy's pulse to jump up. Octavia measures up to the brim with Gypsy Rose Lee, Sally Rand and Faith Bacon, as an artist hip twirler. Jeanette Rollins, formerly manager of the Virginia Apartment House in L. A., is bullet proof and wears a wide iron belt. This queen may have a troubled mind some day and confess her sins. For further proof ask King, the clerk at the Dunbar hotel, whom she sold the building to. . . June Hall and Gwendolyn Hodge of San Diego, and Catherine White of Detroit, enjoyed their visit to L. A. by taking in the fight, races, night clubs, and the best downtown shows.

Marion Biezley, who scored big in "Run Lil Children" looks as good in her street outfit as she does uncovered on the stage. . . Suzette, art model and pretty, is beautiful to look at, on and off the stage. . . The smart set manicurists, Miss Winslow at the Dunbar hotel, is very clever on all things and can generally tell a live man or an angel soon as she holds his hands.

Flo Washington, entertainer and globe trotter, is one of the best lady auto drivers in California and motors to Aqua Caliente each Sunday carrying a bunch of friends. . . Dorothy Spivey, of L. A., with an expensive set of red fox furs hung on her pretty shoulders, has a gorgeous lady friend from Chicago as house guest and gave the late spots a hard play.

The adorable Vera Crawford of the Dunbar Hotel, goes in for a pretty pill box bonnet with a close tom-boy bob, short skirts, pretty boots and peach colored stockings, which raises the boys' eyebrows when she passes.

Water Green, one time playboy, Hawk Wells, and Lee Thompson motor across the bridge daily to Tanforan. I think they know a girl by the name of Marie Williams, who rides and dines with them daily.

Mrs. Louise Brooks, boss of the Dunbar restaurant with 7 or 8 girls working, is battling a bad cold and perhaps a pneumonia threat.

I wonder what the deal is behind the Clark hotel. Getting all the Dunbar Hotel lobbyists. Don't be uneasy boys; all you have to do is to identify yourselves when the police search you or ask questions. Jimmy Nelson will speak for you, maybe.

Pansy Spates doesn't do anything but play pinochle, have a good time and motor around the country sight seeing, looking on and watching the modern world pass by. . . Alice "Redhead" Keys, while petting and sugaring one of the Mills brothers, arousing one onlooker to say to another, "That man reminds me of Rudy Vallee." Tommy Miles, formerly a Los Angeles politician, now in New York, while sightseeing and playing the late spots with a pretty, she was heard saying, "I had the Tom of my life." The S. P. Streamline waiters in and out of L. A. after winning the game T-other night in front of a large crowd in L. A., cooked terribly before leaving on their train . . . Nettie Parks, with a worried look on her face since Pop Mills has left for the East and foreign countries, may get the letter soon she has been expecting. Pop will write—maybe.

Pansy Spates

Black Dot McGee, Charlie Alexander and Hobart Sanders, are still in power and real playboys, but only play hard one or two nights a week. . . . Fern Martin, San Diego, has gone for one man 14 years, regardless of whether he is a race track man or not. They claim that he is tough and a hard man to hold . . . George Ramsey's next bride may be a Spanish-looking cutie, with a daughter half her teens . . . . . Charming Jean Green dressed in an expensive outfit, driving a 1940 car, passed through 'Frisco en route to Sacramento and picking up several friends, including Stuff, Henry Armstrong's friend. Colleen Carter, earthquake shake dancer, and show model, taking her mail at the Dunbar, L. A. Her next groom will be Bill McGee of Seattle, maybe.

Helen Hamilton, of San Diego, Helen Valdeaux of L. A. and Helen Herbert of L. A., and Helen Coffee, of New York, have always been prosperous and look like a million. There must be something in names . . . Bob Moore of Seattle, with his pretty Spanish-looking wife, are in 'Frisco sightseeing, playing the nite spots and enjoying the Tanforan races. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Joe Davis of Monrovia, and Mrs. Mary Roseburg, John Howard, of Oakland, can be seen romancing and having a good time on each side of the Bay Bridge and playing the nite spots hard.

Edna sings all the latest melodies, and measures up to the brim with any of the Broadway entertainers . . . Mrs. Jack of Jack's Tavern, is the real owner and is getting a good break from the public as her whole staff of employes is well liked.

When you are around 1820 Post way, the 'Bam, stop in and say hello to Vernon Brown and Louie Verette. They will rack 'em back as often as you buy, maybe.

While Lomax, Jr., and his pretty wife, Carmelita, were dining, a certain party with his lady friend seated at an opposite table, drinking high-balls, remarked, "She's beautiful but I hear she's dumb." To which Lomax said, "What do you want, sunrise that sings?"

French, well known race track fan, was blasting some friends about their accent and one remarked, "Whats your story, Columbus couldn't speak a word of English."

Mabel Ramsey Rowe, full owner of the Douglas Hotel in San Diego and her manager, Joe Robinson, are sparing no expense in improving the hotel, the latest improvement costing $750, a sun portico, discarding the old one. Mabel recently walked into one of the Broadway stores with her pet dog in her arms. The dog, Bubbles, noticed the sign, "No Dogs Allowed" and laughed.

Some of the smart set "dictys" of L. A. who string along with the races and swell dances when they have a band with a big name are Armette Gamble, who will probably lead the Easter parade; Miss Josie Crawford, Gwendolyn Shaffer, Mae Turner Brooks, Juanita Ferguson, Annabelle Bledso, Julia Mitchell, Octavia Fulbright, Vivian Lee, Louise Beavers, Adabelle Rivers, Terresa Felton Edwards, Dorothy Brown, "Gone With the Wind" Hattie McDaniels, Bernice Eblon, June DeCuir, Carmelita Lomax, Maggie Hathaway, Winona Martin, Bernadine Lyons, Ruby Jefferson, Eola Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bruce, Tilley Whalley, Millard Russ, Solona Taft and Anna Rosa Broyles. This bunch takes in all the big events, basketball games, races and boxing matches and with their swanky outfits they all look 100% good.

One of L. A.'s most popular 100% "righ guys," Eugene Sorral, seen surrounded by the popular mixologists, Pete and Chisholm, and the charming Misses Wilma Brown and Ethel Walker.

Write or wire for any information to Jay Gould, 1951 Sutter street, San Francisco. Cherio, sunrise and music.

GROSS NEGLECT OF MIDDLE CLASS NEW DEAL'S GREATEST SIN--SCOTT

Fruits of 75-Year Effort to Establish Economic Parity for Negro Slipping Away

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 21.—Congressman uce Barton of New York in an address last week mphasized a point this column has repeatedly ght to bring to the attention houghtful members of the Ne- racial group.

e was calling attention to the lect by the Government of a up seldom taken into account New Deal programs—the so- ed "middle class" of our erican citizenship.

he wealthier classes of our ntry, while carrying a great den of taxation, under the v Deal "soak the rich" pro- m, are able to take care of mselves. Relief, social security, n parity, unemployment, and al insurance benefits are pro- d for lower income groups. the meantime, the great mid- classes, the backbone of our lization, struggle along as they can, paying an enor- sly high yearly tribute in the of hidden taxes, while at the e time feeling the pinch of taxes on their modest homes, present-day abnormally high s for upkeep repairs, with r net earnings providing only tence levels.

hat all this means, Mr. Bar- says, is that the efforts of ernment to seize and main- power at the expense of the ftier elements in the com- nity is depressing the stand- of living for the middle class- and that the New Deal cyni- believes "if it can buy en- votes in the lower income ps, it can afford to disregard middle classes."

RE MEANING TO NEGRO

the Negro in the United es, it means even more. For s, they have been urged to e themselves good citizens by iring homes, educating their dren, maintaining churches schools and saving some part heir all-too-meager earnings, providently, providing some ll insurance for their families n the inevitable comes.

housands and thousands of have done this. Statistics of Census Bureau, that barometer f progress and failure, indi- they have made remarkable gress during the 75 years of emancipation.

heir handicaps, racial and eco- ic, have not destroyed alto- er their morale or halted efforts to prove worthy of citizenship which is theirs. their struggles against nor- adversities, they have en- hurdles to surmount with- the additional ones of Gov- mental obstructions which ent that orderly progress our ashioned concepts encourag- s to expect.

is now all to apparent, as Glenn Frank Program Com- ee pointed out, that the New has failed disastrously, and emendous cost, to attain the ctives it set for itself, due to mplete misunderstanding of economic principles upon h our America has been ded.

Convict Gangster for Trying to Kill State's Witness

ST. LOUIS, Mar. 21. (ANP)—Elmer "Dutch" Dowling, white, was convicted Friday night of assault with intent to kill Lee Baker, state's witness in the bombing trial which sent another on. Dowling was sentenced to 30 years in the state penitentiary.

A former official of the bartender's union, Dowling was arrested here Jan. 13, after a coast-to-coast hunt. Baker was shot andleft for dead in an abandoned clubhouse in St. Louis county Nov. 18, 1938 to prevent him testifying against Londe. Baker lost his right eye, and a neck wound has never completely healed since then. Later he was rewarded with a fund to which the entire city contributed.

At Dowling's trial, Baker testified he had been offered as much as $2,400 through telephone calls to leave town or else state his identification of Dowling was wrong. It was also revealed that a group of five or six white men accosted a Negro janitor in the courthouse basement Tuesday night after the second day of the trial and tried to obtain keys to the jail wher the assailant was incarcerated.

Mayor La Guardia Asked to Employ Negroes on Subways

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Mayor LaGuardia was asked this week by the NAACP to open the way for the employment of qualified Negroes on the B. M. T. and I. R. T. subway lines, after city takes over these lines under the proposed plan for a unified city-owned rapid transit system.

The letter was sent to the Mayor Mar. 5, at the height of the controversy between LaGuardia and officials of the Transport Workers Union over the Mayor's labor policy, after unification is completed.

The Mayor has already stated that neither the right to strike nor the closed shop will be allowed after the city takes over the lines. To this policy the transport Workers Union has strenuously objected.

The NAACP letter, which expressed agreement with the Mayor's position in the union controversy, asked the Mayor to give special attention to the employment of "qualified Negroes who do not have such status, because they have been denied opportunity to work at all, may be given opportunity for employment, as they are on the Independent Subway."

Negroes are at present employed on the Independent subway, which is city-owned in the capacity of guards, conductors, motormen and station agents.

Freeze Out of Negro Shipyard Workers Cited

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, was condemned today by the NAACP, for denying in a recent speech in Atlanta, Ga., that "exploitation and racketeering" existed within the top ranks of the A. F. of L., while fully aware that "less than 300 miles away in Tampa, Florida, the most vicious exploitation of and discrimination against Negro shipyard workers is being practiced by officials of A. F. of L. unions.

The N. A. A. C. P.'s attitude was expressed in a letter sent to Green in another effort to get the labor leader to investigate conditions in the Tampa, Florida shipyards where 500 Negro workers have been reportedly frozen out of their jobs by lily-white A. F. of L. Unions. For more than a year the Association has sought to get action from the labor leader through an investigation of discrimination against these men.

Green spoke recently at the two-day southern organization conference of the A. F. of L., held in Atlanta. It was here that he denounced those who charged the A. F. of L. with permitting exploitation to thrive within the organization.

SAYS BIG BUSINESS OUGHT TO KNOW ABOUT TODAY'S NEGRO MARKET

New York City Council President Speaks at Luncheon for Hampton Association

NEW YORK, Mar. 21.—Newbold Morris, president of the city council, who succeeded William J. Schieffelin as president of the Hampton Association of New York, told a group of members at a luncheon last week:

"Big business ought to know more about today's Negro market and its potential development."

Morris pointed out that in 17 of the largest U. S. southern cities Negroes consume $2,000-000,000 worth of goods annually, two and a half times greater than U. S. exports to Great Britain, France, Germany, Poland and Finland, which in 1938 totalled $800,000,000.

"Our foreign trade, long-suffering from peace-time tariff barriers, continues unstabilized by present war-time restrictions," he said.

"Yet, within our borders, lies one of the greatest markets still undeveloped. This consumer outlet, represented by our Negro population would expand in enormous proportions with the advancement of their living standards.

"Economically submerged, thru no fault of their own, our 13,000,-000 Negro Americans are 90 pe cent unskilled and untrained. Equip our largest minority with the means of increasing their purchasing power and we create a better prosperity for the nation as a whole."

The Hampton club is an organization of greater New York businessmen, interested in the advancement of Hampton Institute for Negroes in Virginia.

We must form perfect models in thought and look at them continually, or we shall never carve them out in grand and noble lives.—Mary Baker Eddy.

HE HAS RISEN

Easter and Spring arrive about the same time this year. We will rejoice with religious fervor and a joy in our hearts, in greeting this celebration of two glorious days. We will awaken to find ourselves released from the cold dark clouds of winter, to the soft gentle breezes of spring. Mother nature and the human soul seem to take on a new life in the promise of this budding freedom.

We, like nature, have different seasons of the year. Our minds and hearts change to suit the life and conditions in which we dwell. At this particular time, a new life, and a fresh interest is born, and, the cobwebs of gloom are washed away. Therefore, let us cast aside our cares and disappointments and revel in the wonder and glory of this changing world.

To do this one must have Faith, Hope and Charity in looking forward to the future. The Astrological wisdom of the ages is contained in the advice and help offered by Prof. Herman. Let him assist you in solving your problems and helping you to enjoy a new life in all of its splendor.

M. B. D. H.—Ihave loved a certain man for a very long time, is there any possibility of our becoming great friends again?

Ans.—Probing into this matter the answer I find is that you and this person are destined to become the friends you were sometime ago. You will be much happier when this occurs.

G. W. T.—What became of my wife, who left me sometime ago?

Ans.—It comes to me that your wife soon after she left you lost her mind and has been confined to an institution ever since. I do not vision her being dead. A careful check with the authorities will reveal her whereabouts.

Thanks Prof. Herman for the information you gave me in regards to finding my nephew. Just as you said, he was in the state of Tennessee, and I certainly feel much better now. GRATEFUL.

L. S.—I am very much interested in the couple who are friends of mine. Will they go back together again?

Ans. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals F. D. and A. D. as being very much in love, and they will soon rectify there mistake and be reunited.

G. T.—Who stole some clothes of my clothes line?

Ans.—It is the writer's opinion that your beadspread and 2 shirts were taken by a very young boy who has been stealing from various persons in the neighborhood. I do not vision your getting them back.

Miss A. O. Y.—Why doesn't my friend write me?

Ans.—It appears that your friend has been very ill, and therefore unable to write to you. But now that they are better, will contact you very soon.

M. V. K.—Will I be successful in the work I am about to take up,

Ans.—The answer I find in regards to your question is that you will be very successful in this work as it is an art with you and with careful concentration and study you will rise to fame.

E. M. R.—Is my husband in love with me or another woman? He acts indifferent at times, as if his mind were somewhere else. And he never takes me outu or is congenial anymore.

Ans.—A careful analysis of your chart indicates that your husband is not well. He has been worried over various conditions in your home, and seeks diversion from these worries by going out with various groups of men. He does not appear to be interested in any other woman and he loves you very much. A little more confidence in him would help.

G. D. S.—Prof. Herman I must tell you about the blessing I received after securing your Prayer and Meditation Combination and using it. A few days later, I was able to pay off an old bill and that has lifted a weight off o my shoulders. May God bless you in your wonderful work. I shall tell all of my friends about you.

ALPHAS EKE FEEBLE 19-18 VICTORY

Perry Parks' and his Alpha Phi Alpha basketball quintet were almost caught with their ragged britches at knee length last Sat. nite by "Jelly" John Shackleford and his scrappy Omegas. However, after much shooting at two baskets—located in plain sight in the Patriotic Hall gym,—the "Apes", coached by "screen idol" and purveyor of small-time woof, Ralph Cooper, retired from the "tea party" beating their bosoms over a one-point victory . . . instead of beating it to the nearest optometrist for eye exams!

KAPPAS STYMIED AGAIN, 31-27

While the Alphas were merely caught with their pantaloons in a lowered position, the highly vaunted Kappas were relieved of theirs by the Oakland Y, 31-27 last Saturday eve. in Oakland. . . Though outplaying the Y five, who apparently played over their heads when here, the only consolation that the local fraternity lads, amid the cheers of the entire female populace present, the Kappa lads actually outplayed the Y five. . . only Alpha man Paul Ford, who posed as referee and was presumably "on orders from Headquarters", decided to practice the game of blind man's bluff!

With Francis Garland due to return to the Kappa lineup and Jackie Robinson likewise scheduled to do some much needed bolstering in the Alpha camp, this Saturday night's titantic looms as a definite sellout. . . Inter-fraternity rivalry will be rather high—to say nothing of a few brothers who will really feel the spirit. . . Should advise early entrance if desirous of seat, from whence a preview of the Easter parade will undoubtedly greet the eye.

ECHOES FROM BAY REGION

Boys tell me that quiet and conservative Leonard Spencer, aside from being California's star miler with a mark of 4:12 to his credit, is also starring over at Ruth Morgan's. . . and that when two of the local bigwigs, both former swains—with one supposed to still have the inside track—stormed over last week-end, "There was no h----y for the cold, cold field larkey!" Jane Williamson Lewis' "legal exit" from hubby is pending. . . and finally that the "discussion" between Halley Harding and Paul Ford as to each other's respective knowledge of basketball was a classic, chiefly due to the quaint language used.

VEST-POCKET SPORTS

Because of broken bone in his foot, Henry Duvall, ace City college shot-putter will be on the sidelines for another week. . . Little Dewey Weinberg would be the kingpin of Southern California Junior College 440 men this season had he not ran afoul the City College faculty axe; only ran 48.5 last year. . . Clarence Mackey, aside from prexying the Compton Negro group, quarterbacking the football team and broadjumping 23ft., is the newest addition to the Kappa Pledge club. . . When the L. A. Postoffice basketball team takes Kezar court against the San Francisco P. O. five, three gentlemen of color will adorn the L. A. lineup; namely Bob Johns, Reginald Arnaud and Wilbur Ashford . . . while Lambert Green has hied himself northward for competition in the Japanese basketball tourney this week-end.

Apologies to Kenny Washington for the faux pas last week. . . notice of his receiving of teacher's credentials at graduation is untrue; however it was a heck of a rumor while it lasted. . . Francis Warren and Bernice Zebbs were among those that were breaking it down at the City College Prom at the Biltmore last Saturday, ballin' time. . . A group of young bucks called the Argonauts coralled all of the cuties in the Alpha Phraters and proceeded to entertain them last Friday eve at Camille's with jibe, rythym and punch. Arthur Topsil is head Argonaut.

EQUESTRIENNES LAMENT

The Sam Beadles, Rudy Mannings and Irving Fosters went horseback riding last Sunday morning. . . the three wives have been eating from an upright position ever since. . . the hubbies say that the vehemence and monotonous regularity with which saddle met posterior was just that brutal.

All-Vegetable Way To Pep Up Lazy Insides

Here's an all-vegetable way to relieve constipation, that is easy to take and gentle with your lazy intestines if you'll do this:

Take a quarter to a half-teaspoonful of this spicy, aromatic laxative at bedtime; wash it down with water.

That way, BLACK-DRAUGHT generally permits a good night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning; usually relieves constipation's headaches, bad breath, biliousness, sour stomach.

Chief of BLACK-DRAUGHT'S all-vegetable ingredients is an 'intestinal tonic-laxative" that helps impart tone to bowel muscles.

Happy Women Secure Help From "Build-Up"

Periodical headaches, nervousness, irritability, cramp-like pains of women may come from functional dysmenorrhea due to malnutrition!

That's why these discomforts are so often relieved when a woman's physical resistance is increased.

CARDUI helps build physical resistance for many users by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice; thus aiding digestion; helping to build energy, strength, nerve-force. It also helps ease periodic distress for many women who take it for a few days before and all during "the time". Over 50 years of use and popularity invite confidence in CARDUI!

FUNCTIONS OF PRESS

T. Thomas Fortune Fletcher, assistant professor of English at Lincoln University, Missouri, on the occasion of the commemoration of national Negro News-Week, stated that "the Negro newspaper is failing in its function as an aid to the preservation of American democracy and that the fault lay mainly with the Negro newspaperman".

A former reporter on one of the larger Negro newspapers, said that the editors of such papers were too often guilty of sensationalism, too seldom aware of the virtue of truth, dignity, and restraint in writing.

Speaking on the program of Delta Phi Delta, national Negro journalistic fraternity, in Jefferson City, Mo., Mr. Fletcher stated, "The constant preoccupation with racial conflicts did more to aggravate race prejudice and bigotry, than to alleviate the conditions causing them".

Mr. Fletcher is undoubtedly correct in his appraisal of the Negro newspaper. No one familiar with this journalism will hardly deny that he is.

The position of the Negro newspaper in American journalism is indeed unique.

It must mirror and interpret the national scene and break it down as it applies to a minority group of approximately 15,000,000 people.

To mirror the national scene is a job in itself. How much more so when the Negro press is commissioned to interpret that scene to the best interests of a large minority group so that body of people might fit better in that national scene!

There is no doubt but what "constant preoccupation with racial conflicts aggravates race prejudice and bigotry", as Mr. Fletcher so well stated.

We have heard it said on occasions that certain Negro newspapers made intelligent white people "mad"—"mad" because they didn't like the prospects of being continually held up as oppressors, rather than as another group in the American family of races.

And so, it would seem that the Negro newspaper has a big responsibility in incorporating this large minority group into all phases of life in this nation, doing it intelligently, and with least friction with other groups with whom this group must live and associate daily.

FOR YOUTH

Floyd W. Reeves, director of the American Youth Commission, this week announced preliminary findings in a series of research studies for the purpose of making specific recommendations to carry out the Commission's program to meet the health, education and job needs of the nation's 4,000,000 unemployed youth between 16 and 25 years of age.

As a group the Negro has the highest ratio of unemployed, of illiteracy, and the largest proportion of arrests and convictions for crime, Mr. Reeves points out.

Lack of recreational facilities in areas of racial segregation gets the brunt of the blame for this condition.

In these areas, says Mr. Reeves, "the public schools do not meet the need for effective training in the use of leisure time. As a result, 'doing nothing', 'hanging around', and 'loafing' form the recreational pattern of the moneyless urbanite, who finds the street corner, the 'barbecue joint', the barber shop and the pool room, places of least discomfiture and greatest relaxation."

Recreational facilities are limited to cities in the East, Midwest and West where absence of social restrictions permit Negro youth to participate in school and community activities.

There is no reason for hanging around on street corners, in barber shops, pool halls and barbecue joints in California. The youth of the State has its recreation supervised in an efficient, modern manner which affords youth the chance to make the most of its leisure time.

How well this regulated recreation is succeeding may be noticed any time of year, as all youth, regardless of race, creed or color, have the opportunity to compete in all phases of athletics.

Charge Mistreatment of 3C Camp Enrollees in California

SEATTLE, Mar. 21.—A signed article by Hutchin R. Hutchens in the Northwest Enterprise, local weekly, charged mistreatment of enrollees in the segregated C. C. C. camps of California.

The story, printed in the issue of Friday, Feb. 15, purported to relate an account given the Enterprise reporter by Seattle youths, who had returned home from what they described as the "Jim Crow CCC Prison Camps of alifornia". The location of the camps accused was not given.

Enrollees are subjected to prison discipline, Hutchens' article claimed.

"In good old prison fashion, they marched to the dining hall in silence and ate their starchy food without saying a word to one's neighbors."

Hutchens described the youth's diet as "cold cakes, beans, cabbages and spuds today and cabbage, beans and spuds tomorrow". He said the boys would wait tensely before meals in the hope that each one would "be the lucky one to find the only piece of meat cooked in the pot."

FOUGHT FOREST FIRES

The youths complained they were sent to fight forest fires without any preliminary training. Hutchens wrote. Such training, he said, is given white CCC boys.

He called the camps "ghettos" and asserted that they are in charge of "southern white army oficers", who work the enrollees 7 days a week and confiscate their $8.00 monthly allowance for any infraction of the rules.

Hutchens quoted one J. C. Ward of Seattle, as reporting a strike recently against "being worked 7 days each week and in the rain."

Hutuchens said that mixed camps had worked successfully in California until the government reorganization drive in 1939 when the Army got control and segregated the camps.

Hildred Dandridge, musician, was divorced by his pretty wife, Mildred, this week in Superior Court on grounds of desertion. Dandridge is now in Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Dandridge was awarded custody of their minor child. Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr., represented the plaintiff.

Youth Meet Slated for New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 21. (CNA)—One thousand young people of both races will assemble here April 18-21, as part of the Fourth All-Southern Negro Youth Conference to further the "right to vote movement" being organized by the Southern Negro Youth Congress with the assistance of organizations throughout the South.

With the slogans, "Cast Your Vote in 1940" and "Vote the Youth Ticket," the conference will be designed to further the organization among Southern youth of voting clubs, abolish poll tax campaigns, registration drives and general understanding of the impoftance of the ballot.

The conference will afford an opportunity to discuss for the first time on a major scale the organization of 800,000 Negro youths of voting age in the United States for independent political action.

Dr. Rayford W. Logan, professor history at Howard University and director of the voting campaign of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, will lead a symposium on "Balloting for Democracy," and will assist the various state delegations in the discussion on "Attaining the Vote Through Community Action."

Faces Trial for Murder of WPA Worker

Willis Jones, 38, laborer, will go on trial April 17, before Superior Judge A. A. Scott in Dept. 46 of the Superior Court on charges of murdering William Small, 43-year old WPA worker.

Superior Judge Frank G. Swain set the date of trial after Jones entered a plea of "not guilty" when he appeared for arraignment last week.

Small was stabbed with a knife, assertedly by Jones on Feb. 14, during a quarrel at the Jones home, 1117 E. 41st street, where Small was visiting.

It is expected that the prosecution will demand death by lethal gas for Jones and defense attorneys indicated that the man will attempt to escape the supreme penalty on the ground that he acted in self-defense.

Chicago Critic Blasts 'GWTW'

CHICAGO, Mar. 21. (CNA)—Not every white motion picture reviewer praised "Gone With the Wind.' Lloyd Lewis, in the Chicago Daily News, largest evening paper, said of it:

ATLANTA COP INDICTED; BRANDED BOY, 16, WITH SOLDERING IRON

Policeman Suspended as Boy Tells How He Was Forced to "Confess" to Burglary

ATLANTA, March 21. (By Thomas E. Watson for ANP)—Charging that he was tortured and beaten on Feb. 28 by a city detective, in an effort to force "confession" to a burglary which he claimed he knew nothing about, Quintar South, 16-year-old Negro, was heard by a federal grand jury last week when he related the brutal tactics of third-degree methods used on him.

The grand jury Tuesday indicted City Policeman W. F. Sutherland for assault and battery on three counts. He was suspended from the force. Bond was set by the U .S. Court at $2000, and the case scheduled to be heard Monday, March 25.

Sutherland was identified by the youth as the one who "branded" him on the arm and neck with a photographer's electric drying iron after slapping him around and beating his head against a wall.

The case was brought to the attention of the grand jury by Mrs. C. E. Harrison (white), who employed young South after school hours as yard boy. Mrs. Harrison called at the juvenile detention station to visit Quintar and observed the undressed wound on his arm. After being told how it was inflicted by the detective in forcing him to "confess" the burglary of Clark university gymnasium. Mrs. Harrison sought an investigation of the case.

TELLS STORY

In relating the alleged torture ordeal, the boy said in part:

". . . Just one officer was with me. He was a tall, slim man, and he was the one I heard them call 'Red'.

"He asked me about breaking in the gymnasium and I said I didn't. He kept on asking me and I kept on saying I didn't, for I never broke into the gymnasium.

"Then he backed me up in a corner and slapped me and beat my head against the wall. Then he told me to go on out.

"I went out in the other room and he called in Alphonso Jameson and John Biggs (also held on suspicion of burglary). Then when John came out he called me back in and said the other boys had confessed and that I was going to confess too; he was going to make me.

"I kept telling him I didn't do it and he picked up this thing what looked like a soldering iron and plugged it in the wall and stood there with it in his hand and said that now I was going to tell him the truth. I told him I had told him the truth all the time.

"Then he hit at me and I threw up my arm and the hot iron hit on my arm. When it came off the skin came off with it. I didn't holler, though, and he pushed it against my neck. I didn't want him to burn me any more and I told him all right, I was one who helped break in the gym."

According to news reports, Sutherland's only reply to the charge was: "Nobody's burned the boy."

If the charge against the detective can be proved, he probably will be fined $1,000 for assault in jail and permanent suspension from the detective force of Atlanta.

One of the most significant facts in the case is that the Atlanta Constitution, one of the South's most liberal white daily newspapers, ran a prominently placed front page story of the brutality charge against Sutherland and a three-column cut of young South and two investigating officers on the second page.

NAACP Fights Jim Crow in D. C. Restaurants

WAHSINGTON, D. C., Mar. 21.—A conference, arranged thru the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was held here at the office of John Carmody, director of Federal Works Authority, to discuss longstanding complaints of discrimination against Negro citizens in restaurants and other public eating places located within the various Government buildings here.

The conferenct was held shortly after the Comptroller General ruled that present contracts thru which concessionaries operate restaurants and other public facilities within Government buildings are void because bids were not asked before these contracts were signed. In the new contracts the NAACP wants a clause inserted prohibiting discrimination against any person by these concessaires because of race, color or creed.

SUAL STORY

s an unusual story to be d between bookends. Stories Bigger's are behind the lines of every Negro news- r, but as Time magazine idly stated, "Only a Negro d have written it; but until no Negro has possessed r the talent or the daring rite it."

dging by the reviews, it's nothing written by DuBois, ever likely to be); by Zora e Hurston, Claude McKay, gston Hughes, Arna Bon- s, Jesse Fauset, to name our diard bearers in fiction.

erhaps Walter White, of all ple, has come closest to the of thing Wright has done. fer to White's badly writ- but realistic, "Fire in the nt", a story of hatred, rape lynching in the South.

e critics brought out their potent adjectives in eval- g Wright's book. "Tremen- ", said Newsweek; "Over- ming", the New Yorker; rmously Stirring", the N. Y. es.

was inevitable anyway by time we-all got to it, it is pared to "The Grapes of th." A white man beat us to owever, Lewis Gannett of the York Herald-Tribune. He d it "The Grapes of Wrath 940.". . . (All that's left for to "libel" Wright the "Brown Steinbeck.") lmly-critical Joseph Henry son, book editor of the San cisco Chronicle, who review- 'Native Son" on his broad- "A Bookman's Notebook", day night, was most solic- in his warning to those who easily "offended, shocked, or ified", not to read it. Marvel in the N. Y. Amsterdam- s, (colored), called it a "ter- , blood-curdling crime story". ur Needham, in the Los An- Times, feared Wright's ce of a chief character was unfortunate, because Bigger is a crook and "many readers will be led to think he represents the American Negro". . . All of which might lead us to think Wright has written a murder mystery.

ME STORY

But quoting Time magazine again, "'Native Son' is no more simply a crime story than was "Crime and Punishment". Bigger's murder only pulls the trigger of Author Wright's bigger story—the murderous potentialities of the whole U. S. Negro problem."

That's about enough of the story to have whetted your curiosity. It's got mine down to a sliver's edge. So to Richard Wright himself. . . .

Wright is grim-faced, cold-eyed fellow, with a pugnacious jaw, from his pictures. But for a look of great, searching intelligence in his eyes, a sensitive mouth and a high forehead, he'd probably look a lot like his own Bigger Thomas. He's 31 years old. Mississippi-born and self-educated, by the Abe Lincoln method, avaricious reading.

By his own statement, he was something of a "bad nigger" himself, in his early boyhood.

"Before I left home, my grandmother despaired of trying to keep me from fighting, lying, stealing and playing hookey; . . . predicted I would end on the gallows. An aunt attempted to bring me under the softening influence of religion without success, but I eventually began to read and learn and achieved reformation."

At 15, Wright hitch-hiked North, working at whatever was handy, and reading. Twelve years later, he was on the WPA, first as a laborer, then on the Writer's Project in New York. In 1938, four of his stories were published in a book entitled "Uncle Tom's Children". They are called by critics "the most powerful lynch stories in U. S. fiction".

"Native Son", Wright wrote last year on a Guggenheim Award. The latest news about the book is that a Broadway producer is thinking of making it into a play, with Paul Robeson as Bigger Thomas. TERRIFIC!

ANOTHER BOOK

In New York this week, Dr. W. E. B .DpBois, renowned teacher and writer, signed a contract with Harcourt, Brace and co., for the publication of his newest book, "Dusk of Dawn," the autobiography of a race concept."

Partly biographical and partly sociological, the book is an "attempt to evaluate the race problem of the United States and its various changes in the life of the author." Publication is set for the early Fall.

This will be the 12 bound volume of Dr. DuBois' writing. In addition, he has collaborated on 9 other volumes, has edited 16 of the Atlanta University publications and 23 annual volumes of the Crisis, besides numerous contributions to other publications.

Rush Jim Crow Alexandria Library

WASHINGTON, Mar. 21. (ANP)—Work is being rushed on the new library or Negroes being erected in the nearby village of Alexandria, Va.

Costing close to $2000, the one story building will contain a large reading room and a librarian's office. The plans are so drawn as to permit an enlargement and the addition of two wings if necessary. Appropriations by the city council for furnishing the building are being rushed through as fast as possible.

The erection of the building follows the finding of an Alexandria judge that there was no legal way to bar Negroes from the city library. To forestall the use to the library by Negroes, the City Council hastily voted to erect the segregated building.

TUSKEGEE PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES PATRONS FOR STAMP CELEBRATION

Dr. F. D. Patterson Announces Nationwide Support of Washington Stamp Celebration

TUSKEGEE INST., Ala., Mar. 21.—Nationwide support for the spirit and purpose of the Booker T. Washington Stamp Celebration was announced here today by Dr. F. D. Patterson, president, Tuskegee Institute, as the educator made public a partial list of the National Committee of Patrons under whose auspices the celebration will take place.

"Hon. Chas. Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States is Honorary Chairman of the committee," Dr. Patterson announced, "and Dr. William J. Schieffelin, New York City, chairman of the Board of Trustees, National Chairman."

The celebration will close on April 7, when Postmaster General James A. Farley will sell the first Negro stamp at the Tuskegee Institute Post Office and deliver the Founder's Day address during a 45 minute national radio broadcast on which the world famous Tuskegee Institute Choir, Paul Robeson, Roland Hayes and other artists will sing their tribute to the former slave, Booker T. Washington.

"Concurrently with the Tuskegee ceremonies we are organizing a series of public meetings in various cities to which other state and national personalities are being invited," Dr. Patterson said.

"The national response to our invitations is dramatic evidence that Booker T. Washington's widespread contributions to America are still fresh in the public mind.

RECALLS WASHINGTON'S LIFE

"Booker T. Washington walked 500 miles to Hampton Institute, Virginia to go to school. He became its most distinguished graduate.

"He founded Tuskegee Institute in 1881 in an empty, leaking Negro church where he taught his first 30 pupils. Since then more than 30,000 students have passed out through its portals equipped with a useful trade and academic training. Today Tuskegee's towers rise above 2300 acres of park and farm land. The disused church has grown into 132 modern buildings. The educational philosophy which our founder developed has spread to four continents."

More than 300 members of the committee were announced today. They include Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Governor of Massachusetts; A. Lawrence Lowell, President emeritus, Harvard university; Hon. William B. Bankhead, Speaker of the House of Representatives; Robert H. Hutchins, president, University of Chicago; Hon. Frank A. Dixon, Governor of Alabama; U. S. Senator J. H. Bankhead, (D. Ala.); Charlotta A. Bass, editor, Calif. Eagle, Los Angeles, Calif.; L. G. Robinson, Los Angeles.

KENTUCKY WON'T ACT ON COURT DECISION

LOUISVILLE, Mar. 21 (ANP)—That the state of Kentucky accepts the principle of the Supreme court decision in the Gaines versus Missouri university case, but does not act on it, was stressed by the governor's advisory committee on higher education for Negroes recently when they reported on educational opportunities for colored students within the state.

Recommendations by the committee included one for the expansion of Kentucky State college to provide more effective training in agriculture, business administration, industrial arts, teacher education, and graduate work. A program of cooperative planning with the Louisville Municipal college was advised.

Father Divine Has New Heaven

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Mar. 21. (ANP)—A fifteen room house at 541 Washington avenue here last week became the newest of Father Divine's "heavens" when purchased for $4,000, according to the former owner.

"heaven" which is next door to Cathedral college, a preparatory seminary for 300 young ladies, also is near a Catholic parish. Officials of the school, established in 1915, expressed annoyance when several of Father's "angels" moved in last week.

Miss Isabelle Kelly, former owner of the house, decided to sell it last year after residing in it for 26 years. Considering Father Divine the best ready market for cash, she said, she wrote him about the house, naming the price as $6500. Divine thought the price too high, but reconsidered the offer when Miss Kelly lowered it to $4000.

The house, a three-story brick and stone building with 15 rooms and two baths has a tax valuation of $18,000.

A parade of Edison Company stockholders—98,094 strong, marching four abreast—would be thirty-three miles long. It would take such a parade approximately twelve hours to pass a given point. ★ There would be 52,637 men, 42,508 women, and 2,306 children in the parade, representing every kind of occupation—farmers, laborers, clerks, housewives, executives. ★ And it would be a parade of Californians, too, for approximately 80% of the Edison stockholders live in California. It is a Southern California company, owned and operated by Southern Californians.

Down in Front

With J. CULLEN FENTRESS

An Eye-Opener

To convince one and all that there is a lot that goes on behind the scenes in the boxing game of which the public is not aware is the suit filed against "Monopoly Mike" Jacobs by former heavyweight champion Jim Braddock.

Substance of the suit is that Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould, allege that Jacobs owes them $104,201.64, the rest of their 20 per cent share of the promoter's profits from the fights of world's heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

You wonder how Louis' name is mixed up in this?

Well, it appears that back in 1937 when James J. was ruler of the heavyweight roost, he was slated to defend his world crown against the "Black Uhlan", Max Schmeling. Braddock ran out on that fight for a bigger one with the Brown Bomber.

As the price of running out, Braddock and Gould set forth in their suit that they were to share 20 per cent of any profits made by the promoter out of Louis' ring appearances and radio, movie and television contracts for a 10-year period. They contend that the promoter has paid them only $20,799.36 under this contract and estimate that Jacobs has pocketed over $600,000 from the Bomber's fights.

Of this amount Braddock and Gould claim Jacobs owes them $104,201.64 more.

And so, with this information comes the knowledge that Braddock does not own a "piece" of Louis, insofar as the current champ's ring earnings are concerned. But the suit does bring out the fact that under fistiana's surface a lot of strings are manipulated—strings which, unless they become entangled, are pulled in strange and devious ways.

An Aspirant from England

From England a little over a week ago has come Thomas Martin, Negro heavyweight, who is said to have had over 200 fights. The good-looking Englishman tells us he claimed the heavyweight championship of Europe when Tommy Farr and Len Harvey refused to fight him.

He is scheduled to make his debut here in the near future. The coast can use some good heavyweights and if Martin has anything on the ball he should be welcomed.

There Ain't No Such Thing

The Associated Press quoted Jack Dempsey, the old Manassa Mauler, as having a few things to say about the boxing game this week, not the least of which is the fistic ability of one Joe Louis.

Says Dempsey: Joe Louis a "good, game fighter who boxes better than many critics think and punches like nobody's business". But his jaw is weak and eventually a "puncher, a good, rough, tough guy who can take a punch and keep on punching himself" will take away his heavyweight title.

Dempsey analyzed Louis' "weakness against a good punch" as about all that "keeps him from being a great fighter but it's been shown too often that he goes down too easily to be called really great".

Old age must be interfering with Dempsey's memory. Several years ago Max Schmeling hit the Bomber with everything but the ring posts before Louis hit the deck for keeps—and Dempsey says he goes down too easily!

Dempsey admits but for this weakness (?) Louis would be a great fighter. He is for our money. Dempsey must be looking for a perfect heavyweight, with no weakness—there ain't no such thing!

Harvard Will Unleash Sepia Half Next Fall

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Mar. 21. (By Mabe Kountze for ANP)—Harvard is preparing to uncover her first Negro football player since All-American Center Bill Lewis, the man who invented the roving center play.

Donning the Cromson next Fall will be Raymond Guild, son of Atty. Guild, who is president of the state NAACP.

Harvard, with a 1940 schedule that lists Michigan, Army, Dartmouth, Princeton, Brown and Yale, is looking for a "climax runner" this year and Coach Dick Harlow is considering young Guild for the spot. There are a number of reasons why.

Guild was a track star at Cambridge Latin and a fleet ball carrier through his high school and Harvard freshman term. This year he will be a sophomore on a team which Harlow calls a "pretty fair group of boys."

Another reason Guild will win his share of applause here is that Harvard, having no southern teams scheduled, will use the Cambridge speedster in practically every game to draw the spotlight away from Boston college's sepia attraction, Lou Montgomery, who is not scheduled to play every game next Fall. B. C. will bench Lou against Tulane.

Unique as colored stars may be at Harvard, they have always won tremendous favor with Harvard fans. Crimson athletes like Ted Cable, Bill Lewis, Alexander Jackson, and Ned Gourdin, were exceptional performers and great favorites here.

Harvard officials made it possible for southern Negro athletes to compete in the 1936 Eastern Olympic trials when they were barred in the South.

Suspend Boxing Shows on Good Friday

Requesting all boxing clubs not to schedule any shows on Good Friday, tomorrow, J. M. Genshlea, secretary, released a bulletin from the State Athletic commission this week.

Listed as ill and unavailable: Mike Ketchell Dragovich, L. A.; Charles Simpson, L. A.; Albert Large, Camp Ord; Henry Rico Martinez, Fresno; Favian E. White, Watsonville, all boxers.

Reinstatements: Jack Means referee of L. A.; Ray Salas Zulaica, Berkeley; Lew Fontaine, Oakland; Steve Sarles, S. F., boxers.

Contracts filed: Jean Bonnel, boxer, Frank Melkonian, manager; Pert Ross, boxer, Fred Lazzari, manager; Richard Haman, boxer, Albert Weymouth, manager.

As a result of an investigation conducted in San Francisco, Mar. 9 and 10 by the commission, during which Leo Leavitt admitted on the witness stand under oath that he had been acting as manager of Little Dado without a manager's license, the commission has adopted a new rule: "Any club, promoter or matchmaker who deals or negotiates with an unlicensed managea, may have his club or matchmaker's license revoked or suspended and may be subject to such fine as the commission may determine."

The commission suggested that "all boxers be cautioned not to permit any unlicensed managers to negotiate contracts for them for the rendition of their services."

Alphas Meet Kappa Quintet Saturday Night at Patriotic

BY ALMENA DAVIS

A special request for extra-special publicity for Saturday night's grudge match par excellence, the Kappa-Alpha basketball Titantic, was put in at the EAGLE hatchery by representatives of both fraternities 'ere deadline this week.

The boys expressed a hankering for a lotta black type and bold headlines anent what IS to be, in preference to "THAT" which was.

Because it is our opinion that the less said about "THAT," the queer goings on of Alpha Phi Alpha and Omega Psi Phi at Patriotic Hall last Saturday night, the better; we agreed. We might, however, venture an interpretation of whatever "THAT" was at the tail end of this story. But to more manlier doings—

The Kappas are going to be in a rough mood Saturday night. They're all roughed up because of the slapping around administered by Oakland the past two Saturdays. They're going to take out their pique on the nearest object, which happens to be the Alphas.

The Alphas, on the other hand, curiously enough, are inspired whenever they meet the Kats. They stand up on their hind legs like men, not Apes . . . (which is what they are; whatta coincidence!) Of course they don't win, but what did Confucius say? . . . He who fight, might . . .

At any rate, the result is fairly decent basketball . . . the sport in which the ball is supposed to be thrown through the basket. (The explanation is necessary because many were hazy after what was presented in the name of basketball last Saturday night.)

SUPER TITANIC

The hopeful ones are anticipating a super titanic, a duel between Kat Francis Garland and Ape Jackie Robinson. We understand the Alpha legal battery is re-interpreting the Pacific Conference rules which might enable Jackie, and Bill Lacefield, who belong more properly to UCLA, to play.

Anyway, the Alphas will field a squad that sounds fine on paper: Leonard McClain, Perry Parks, Jack and Bill Terry, Melvin Nickerson, Lee Bowman. Of course, that's the crowd that participated in the egg-laying last week, but we're counting on inspiration.

Coach Ralph Cooper promises that Leonard McClain's back, which is mighty pretty, but was of little help to his team last week, will be limbered up; that Jack Terry's fancy shots will connect; that the boys will be no less defensive, but more offensive.

TO "THAT"

Preliminary to the mysterious "THAT," which engaged the energies of the Omegas and Alphas last Saturday night, was a dainty bit of tusseling between the Manual Arts Tri-Y and Les Marquisettes Social club. That was fine. The girls can't play basketball, but they looked sort of cute trying to.

The trouble was that the two fraternities took up where the girls left off, but they weren't cute. There isn't a shapely pair of legs on either squad and when the vision is further offended by the tubby frontispiece of Omega No. 1, John Shackleford . . . . WELL!

At the half when the dancers retired to their pallets, dripping strangely with sweat, the score stood 6-6. At the brutal blast of the whistle, they sallied forth again, pirouetted and tripped through another 20 minutes. The score, 19-18 in favor of Alpha.

Really, it's too cruel of us to say so, for they did try; but it was AWFUL. Sole redeeming grace was the carefully planned entrances of sub, present and post-debs, attired in ALL THEY'VE GOT, and the choice morsels of gossip we could glean, listening over the shoulders of our neighbors.

Don't let all this griping sour you sports fans, or fashion fans, on the fraternity basketball series. Part of the fun is the good nature, the tolerance, with which the boys . . . (really our intelligentsia, you know), receive ribbings of this sort . . . I HOPE.

Come on out. You won't be bored. If they don't play basketball, there's always the prevue in Spring styles.

Oakland 'Y' Again Tops Kappa Five

OAKLAND, Mar. 21—Defeat, twice as bitter because it was twice tasted, was the potion of the Kappa Alpha Psi basketball team from Los Angeles in its rematch with the Oakland YMCA varsity here last Saturday night.

Swamped the previous week in Los Angeles 35-18, the Kats lost by only four points after a valiant fight. The score was 31-27. A capacity crowd of 500 saw the game, played in McClymonds High gymnasium.

Lowell Steward, springy little Kappa forward from Santa Barbara State college, was high point man with 11 digits. Absence of the Kats' ace center, Francis Garland, was held responsible in some quarters for the defeat of the Southerners.

"ALIEN CORN"

Both teams have a curious penchant for showing up best on alien ground. During the three previous encounters, Oakland was victor in Los Angeles; the Kappas in Oakland, in the 1939 series. This season, the Y Varsity ran over the Kats in Los Angeles and barely eked out a victory on the home court.

The game was as hard fought as ever a grudge match was. One minute before half time, the Kats led 10-7; at the half time, Oakland led, 11-10. A succession of long, looping shots by Coach Lionel Wilson put Oakland in the lead as the second half got underway. But five minutes before the final whistle, the Kats went on a spree, scoring 10 points to the winner's two.

Kappa scorers ere: Stewart, 11; Mars, 7; J. Brewer, 3; Love, 2; Randolph, 2; and A. Brewer, 2.

'Turkey' Will Box Yarosz Tuesday

Sojourner Truth Home to Benefit from Ticket Sale

"Turkey" Thompson steps up the middleweight ladder next Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium when he tackles Teddy Yarosz, former middleweight champion of the world, in the 10-round main event.

Working with matchmaker Jimmy Murray in promotion of the match is the Citizens and Advisory committee of Sojourner Truth Home. The committee will share 50 per cent of the sales of the $1 and $2 tickets, proceeds from which will be used to enlarge and better the facilities of the home. The committee urges the public to secure the $1 and $2 ducats by Saturday so that it may benefit from the sales.

Dr. E. I. Robinson, committee chairman, announced this week that the ducats are on sale at all of the usual ticket agencies on the "Avenue", including the Dunbar and Clark hotels, and the Memo.

The Thompson-Yarosz bout shapes up as a natural and matchmaker Murray is backing the main bout up with a sparkling preliminary card.

Jeffrey Ties World '100' Dash Mark

Lacefield, Turner Tie for Broadjump Crown at Relays

Clyde Jeffrey's sterling performance in tieing the world's 100-yard dash record of 9.4s highlighted the 12th annual Long Beach Relays Saturday on Stephens Field.

The Stanford University speed burner joins Frank Wykoff and Jesse Owens a co-holders of the record. Jeffrey's mark also set a new relay standard, the old mark of 9.7s was set in 1936 by Al Fitch of USC.

Track officials measured the track and wind velocity immediately following the race and pronounced the time official.

Mickey Anderson of USC was second to Jeffrey and Jim Ruffin, former Pasadena junior college ace, was a bang-up third. Ruffin, a Negro, won his heat in 9.7s.

As predicted last week, Bill Lacefield and Pat Turner, U. C. L. A.'s great broadjumpers, walked off with honors in this event, tieing for first place at 23 feet 4 inches.

Tom Bradley and Hal Sinclair were on the UCLA four man mile relay team which took second in this open event to Stanford which set a new meet record of 3:15.

Los Angeles City College's squad won team honors in the junior college competition. Bakersfield High topped in high schools. And Pepperdine nosed out San Diego State in the college section.

Fishing Starts in Mexican Waters

Deep sea sport fishing in Mexican waters got under way Sunday when live bait boats operating out of San Diego began a daily schedule to the Coronado Islands, reports the outing bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Boats will leave the Sprotfisher dock at 2:30 a. m. daily.

On a trial trip last week, five fishermen brought in 34 yellowtail.

BY HARRY MORGAN

According to the calendar, we are just about on the edge of Spring—which is usually the busiest season of the year. Apartment dwellers are plowing their window boxes, house cleaning becomes a major offensive and young lovers walk around like something out of a Disney Silly Symphony. Poets rip off a sonnet or two that starts, "O, Spring!" while heads of families rip off a check or two for Spring outfits and mutter, "Oh, gosh!"—or a reasonable facsimile. Squirrels and bears come out of hibernation and even the ants are sending out scouting expeditions to look for picnics.

In Redwood City, Calif., a seal left the ocean and appeared in town. Probably it wanted to show off its new Spring coat in the Easter Parade.

The next time you are giving a party let Harry Morgan help you select the liquor and insure a good time by all. I can give you some good ideas on cocktails that can be served with a minimum of time and effort. I have a complete stock of liquor, wines and beer. House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave.

Jackie Wilson Nods Ybarra in Rousing Olympic Battle

Jackie Wilson, the sensational lightweight, met a man who could take his best shots and come back for more at the Olympic auditorium Tuesday night, but undaunted, he went on to win a decisive 10-round victory.

Joe Ybarra, San Francisco Mexican, was the man who could take it. Ybarra also showed he could dish it out—not enough, however, to keep from losing the decision to the string-bean Wilson.

Although the crowd expected the bout to end in a quick knockout in Wilson's favor, Ybarra confused both his opponent and spectators by remaining upright throughout. As the fight progressed it became increasingly apparent that a stirring battle was being witnessed by the small house.

Wilson, fighting a smart fight, switched his attack to meet that of his sturdy opponent. Usually a long range sharpshooter, Jackie used short right and left uppercuts to combat Ybarra's boring-in style.

ADDED ATTRACTION

The crowd was treated to an added attraction at the end of the sixth. The bell rang ending the round but, neither the fighters nor referee Jack McDonald heard it. The handlers of the boys did, and Guido Tafanelli, Ybarra's second pushed Wilson off Ybarra. That was the spark that lit the fuse for Alex Balz, Wilson's handler, went after Tafanelli. The two exchanged blows and rolled on the canvas for all of a minute before they were separated.

Wilson, who weighed in at 130, clearly won the bout, taking seven rounds. Yabarra, who tipped the Fairbanks at 138¾, went out with his left eye almost closed.

Sammy Musco nodded Gene Espinosa in the six-round semi. In the fours: Chief Crazy Horse decisioned Dub Bowen; Babe Hernandez and Jimmy Brooks went to a draw; Eddie Rivera swamped Kid Buddy; and Pancho Perez drew with Felix Piquit.

Garner-Directed Cantata Inspires Many Adjectives

BY HAROLD WORTHINGTON

Majestic in their rendition; dignity that became colossal; singing that was superb; are the descriptive adjectives that go to the choir and minister of music, George Garner of the First AME church for their matchless presentation of Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ" last Palm Sunday evening. Soloists Margaret Davis, LaVida Irvin, George Bryant, Charles White, Arthur Whitman, covered themselves with glory and have been enjoying the congratulations of an admiring public the past week. Elizabeth Bruce was the organist par excellence. Her fine accompaniment gave adequate support to the artistic singing of the great choir.

The entrance of the official family of stewardesses, led by Mrs. Eliza Warner, was a beautiful sight. The choir, jointly led by the pastor, Dr. H. Mansfield Collins, and Prof. Garner, was impressive as they walked slowly down the center aisle of the sanctuary to the strains of "Midnight on Olive Brown," in short, a silent processional and recessional that will live forever in the memory of those fortunate to gain entrance to the occasion that became stupendous. More than 500 people were turned away.

George Garner, internationally known tenor, sang the "Death and Transfiguration Scene" at "Golgotha" and his powerful tenor voice became phenomenal as he alone "rent the veil of the temple and rent the rocks" and "opened wide the graves." His singing was a masterpiece.

Netta Paullyn Garner, famous pianist, and Atwell Rose, violinist extraordinary, completed the ensemble accompaniments. Dr. Collins narrated the service. For Cathedral music, finely interpreted, visit First AME church, E. 8th and Towne avenue, on Sunday mornings. A cordial welcome awaits you.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal." This verse from Matthew is the Golden Text in the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist.

A Scriptural citation in the Lesson-Sermon includes these words of the Psalmist: "Oh that men would praise the LORD for his goodness, and for his wonderful works to the children of men! For he satisfieth the longing soul, and filleth the hungry soul with goodness. . . . He brought them out of darkness and the shadow of death, and brake their bands in sunder. . . . He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions. . . . Open thou mine eyes, that I may behold wondrous things out of thy law. . . . Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness, and thy law is the truth."

Passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, state: "Every law of matter or the body, supposed to govern man, is rendered null and void by the law of Life, God. . . . In infinite Life and Love there is no sickness, sin, nor death, and the Scriptures declare that we live, move, and have our being in the infinite God. . . . Let us banish sickness as an outlaw, and abide by the rule of perpetual harmony,—God's law."

America, we have the boon of a free press. Occasionally it makes mistakes; it sometimes lies deliberately. But of one thing we are sure: no government censor has decreed what items we may or may not read. American free competition is a guarantee against stagnation in the delivery of news. Three giant news agencies in hot rivalry keep U. S. news wires buzzing with "the very latest". America is the best informed nation in the world.

Both Hitler and Mussolini have been loud in their ridicule of "stumbling democratic procedure". They have howled uproariously at the "waste of time" involved in American filibusters. They have jibed repeatedly at the fact that U. S. Supreme Court can nullify the acts of a U. S. congress. They fall in paroxysms when the Supreme Court reverses itself. How slow! How inefficient!

The dictators are quite correct. Democracy is slow, sluggish, procrastinating. It is obvious that there might occur some difference in time required for a decision by one man and a decision by 130,000,000 Americans.

The important factor, however, is that U. S. public opinion decides for itself. Congress cannot enact into law successfully any vital program which is at odds with the bulk of public opinion. America, in its ponderous and involved manner, GOVERNS; it is not GOVERNED. Hence, no matter what great leader falls, we are not lost. We know the facts and stand on our feet. No single man or pair of men will meet in an American Brenner pass to decide the fate of 130,000,000 fellow Americans.

Death or Birth of a Civilization

Most authorities agree that the present European war is essentially a battle for commercial ascendency. Despite the loud bleatings of "defend democracy", the current conflict is the old story of "have" and "have not" nations.

The economic and political domination of the British Empire is being challenged. It is as simple as that. Hitler hopes to substitute German imperialism for British imperialism. Thus, we see that really important factors in the conflict are not at all on the continent of Europe. greed for possession of or commer-Most urgent cause of the flare up is cial priority with Africa and India. Germany, England, France play a game of poker--Africa and India are the chips.

However, a great many experts agree--among them Col. Charles Lindbergh and Dr. W. E. B. Dubois —that this will be the most unique poker game in all history. For it is just possible that while the players battle, the chips will up and walk off.

Already, India has shown vast reluctance to maintain its position under the British heel while England fights for democracy. It is predicted that, if Mussolini should go to war Monday, Ethiopia will be free Tuesday.

A complete system of European domination that has existed for almost a thousand years is expected to collapse. Providing the war stretches itself over years, it is certain that white civilization as we have known it will perish. If and when it does, the great nations of the earth, with the possible exception of the United States, will be those of colored peoples. Japan, India, Arabia, Africa, China, South America--colored races of the earth. Perhaps civilization, born in the hot bosom of Africa and Asia, is returning home.

Too Many Church Buildings

From The Nashville Defender

There is a business side of religion. Religion should be the best business in the world. Extravagance in the prosecution of a church program is just as blameworthy as wastefulness in any other field. Church leaders have no moral right to "throw away" the people's money, not even "in the name of the Lord."

When this editor expressed the opinion that Negroes wasted too much money in the building of too many churches; when he said some tchurch organizations very often NEVER PAY for their church buildings in a generation, a friend in rebuttal said that God SHOULD have the best. This fiend cited the Temple built at Jerusalem by Solomon, the most costly and most elaborately ornamented structure of all time.

We reminded this friend as we now remind all others of similar opinion, that there was only ONE Temple. Everybody with all of their resources concentrated on ONE structure. It was good business to build ONE grand place to worship for ONE race of people. ONE CHURCH FOR ONE RACE.

Negroes have in this city (Nashville) 77 Baptist churches, 25 Methodist churches, 8 Churches of Christ, 3 Presbyterian churches, 1 Episcopal church, 2 Christian churches and 21 others. We have to our knowledge 137 separate and independent churches. We wish we could at this time give the result of our survey showing how much money is tied up in all of these church buildings.

It is the contention of the Defender that half this number of churches could do more and better work and reach just as many people. This could be done without the strain of the many money-making programs which Must, by reason of short-sightedness, have the right of way if all these congregations wish to keep a roof above their heads.

Take into consideration that a large number of these congregations are merely "eking out a miserable existence.' The financial ability of our people is not lucrative to the extent that they can build, pay and maintain 137 separate churches, pay 137 pastors a decent, living salary and keep up the current expenses. As a result of the untactful procedure as well as the unbridled ambition of many preachers to go on record as having built a church somewhere, we have an overplus of church buildings. The financial resources of the people are taxed beyond the limit. A "borrow-from-Peter-to-Paul" plan is the regular program of many overburdened congregations.

The truth is that four LARGE churches in EVERY well-populated area of the average town and city could carry on a better program. The membership would be larger, and more money could be pooled for one program. Heavy mortgages would not be forever hanging over congregations year after year. Many churches would not be sold and refinanced and resold. Some churches would not be abandoned and used for everything except for churches. The many members of a FEW churches would have the time and money to concentrate upon the main business of the church which is the creation of a healthy spiritual atmosphere, and the salvation of scores of people; many of whom live right under the shadow of the scores of churches we now have.

Talk to members of any church group; the majority of them will deplore the fact that all they do is RAISE MONEY all of the time. Some of them will frankly admit that they GET NOTTHING, or VERY LITTLE spiritual comfort from their church programs on Sundays or week-days. While money must be had to operate a church, the operation should be in keeping with the financial ability of the people.

It must be remembered that the average church member of our group is the member whose income is meager and small. Somebody has aptly said that the Negro churches are maintained chiefly by cooks, maids, washerwomen, porters and those whose incomes are small. If that is true, the business of piling up a $20,000 of $40,000 church debt on that class of wage-earners is out of reason and shows no merciful attitude toward those who "must pay the fiddler".

There is no field of endeavor into which our people have been so easily led into the wilderness of failure and more notably exploited than in the field of religion. If there is any "sop" which our people will grab, it is some plan glossed over with a coating of religion.

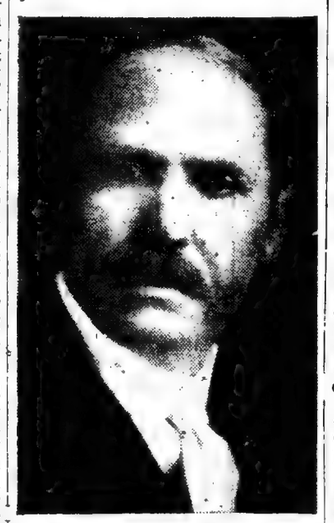
Dear Editor:



The recent Dorothy Gordon kidnaping case is a blow to the peace and security of our entire community. Not one of us can, or should, feel secure until the person responsible for this dastardly crime is found and justly punished.

Every effort on our part, the full resources of our community, should be expended in solving this case, and toward preventing insofar as possible such crimes in the future.

This is no time for personal bickering on the part of our leaders; or for disagreement over one's politics, what personalities are to lead the fight, or what the methods of approach should be. Only in a spirit of cooperation can success be fully realized.

We, your elected representatives, wish to take this opportunity to state that we have prevailed upon all law enforcement agencies to "push their fight," that we are doing everything humanly possible ourselves, and we call upon everyone in our community to re-double their efforts and cooperate in every way possible. The Dorothy Gordon case must be solved.

REV. D. C. AUSTIN SPEAKS:

Rev. D. C. Austin, pastor of the Cornerstone Baptist church, 1428 E. 14th street, and general chairman of the Eastside reward fund appropriated for the return of little Dorothy Gordon, kidnaped victim, pleads with the American Negro in his statement.

"The general public has no time to seek honor, a human life is involved. We are asking for human assistance, not notoriety, not gossip, not personal opinions, but action. An innocent child has disappeared, a Mother's heart is broken. Her words echo and reecho thru my mind: 'Is my baby alive? Is she hungry and cold? Is she in pain, crying for mother?' Can we think of seeking honor with this mother's plea ringing in our ears? We must fight for Dorothy's return dead or alive. We must show the world that our children must be protected, our women must be shielded, our American Citizenship must be recognized.

"I want to personally thank the Negro women of the various clubs, lodges and the many different L. A. organizations for their whole-hearted support. Our reward fund is increasing daily, but I am pleading with our men and our local churches not to be slothful, but to wake up and realize that our children's lives and Now Los Angeles has a chance our women's honor is at stake. to show what and who our men are, we must protect them. Matt. 25:43: "I was a stranger, and ye took me not in; naked and ye clothed me not; sick and in prison, and ye visited me not." We might answer, Lord, when did I these things, and the answer, when little Dorothy was taken, did I give assistance? Did I do my bit? Did I help to ease a mother's broken heart? Did I give a dime or a dollar? Did I offer sincere prayer? Every church should respond. Denominations should be forgotten. Help to find Dorothy."

structing the organization's legal committee to prepare the proper offer reward of $250.000 for the arrest and conviction of the abductor.

Attorney Thomas L. Griffith, Jr., president of the local branch, stated that this reward may be increased to $1000.00, if sufficient sums are not derived from other sources. Meanwhile, Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough advised Mr. Griffith that the Board of Supervisors will request the District Attorney to post a reward.

The organization views with alarm the abduction and the very slight information at hand surrounding the disappearance of the minor child. It is tremendously interested in the efforts of the Eastside Citizens' Committee and other kindred organizations trying to expedite the capture of the kidnaper and the finding of the girl. The movements have the organization's indorsement.

Immediately upon receiving information of the crime, a Special Committee of the organization, consisting of Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, Mrs. A. Hill, George A. Beavers, Jr., and Mr. L. G. Robinson, went into action and met with the Sheriff, the District Attorney's office and the Police Department, and urged that a nation-wide investigation be made of the crime. The committee was assured that everything would be done and that full cooperation of the metropolitan press was benng sought.

My dear Mr. Griffith:

Knowing of the interest of the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in the kidnaping of Dorothy Gordon, I wish to inform you that at the regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors, Tuesday, Mar. 19, I obtained the unanimous approval of the Board of Supervisors to the matter of instructing the Sheriff to obtain the cooperation of the police chiefs in all the cities of Los Angeles County to energetically search for the kidnaper.

I also requested the District Attorney to render what assistance he could from his special fund in the setting up of a reward or special services through his officers.

I have since been informed that the District Attorney has requested the Governor to offer a reward of $1000 for information leading to the capture of the kidnaper, which can legally be done by the Governor of the State of California.

I took occasion to broadcast the details of the kidnaping of Dorothy Gordon over Radio station KGER at 1:00 p. m., Tuesday, and I have information from Captain Bright of the Sheriff's office that descriptive details of this kidnaping are being posted in all of the branch offices of the Sheriff's department throughout the county, as well as the police department's offices in the various cities of the county.

I am also enclosing herewith copy of my letter to Mr. Beldon Gilbert, executive secretary of the Peace Officers' Association, asking for the support of his organization in the search for Miss Gordon.

Miss Gordon is a 9-year old Negro girl, who was allegedly picked up by a white man in an automobile while she was on her way home from the Cornerstone Church on E. 14th street.

O'Rourkes had been rooked, they rallied instantly to their defense with a committee more than a hundred strong to demand a rehearing. The work of that committee is not yet accomplished, but the fight is being carried forward vigorously. Gardenites have come to the realization that any regulations which suffocate little business, the opportunities for steady self-employment of community youth, is not a boon but a menace.

A neighborhood which arbitrarily denies itself opportunity for business enterprise cheats itself of its most important asset. Examine the results of such a policy. The purchasing power of the community is FORCED INTO OUTSIDE CHANNELS. Craftsmen in the community may starve, while neighbors are obliged to buy their skills from outside sources. A residential area that is wealthy, whose citizens' economic interests are not interdependent can afford such iron-clad zoning regulations. Obviously, Central Avenue Gardens is not in such a category. Indeed, to carry the classic simile even further, regulations of this nature in the Gardens cut off the entire body to spite its toes.

Rezoning must be tempered with reasoning.

Police reported they were unable to determine if Huling had been despondent, although witnesses claimed he had been in ill health for some time, told police she noticed her husband with a revolver Mar. 9 and that he had acted suspiciously. He had stated several times, she said, that he would commit suicide if anything happened to her.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

"HEAT" TURNED ON POLICY KINGS

IN CHICAGO the Southside is in a dither on account of Federal indictments against the Ex-Jones Brothers, policy kings. Articles in several Negro newspapers seem to intimate that the colored citizens of the Windy City as a whole, lament the plight of their Policy Barons. Reasons—first, that in the event of their conviction the profitable "Numbers racket" will probably be taken over by whites; secondly, that after all, the indicted Negroes had used the money they made in the policy racket to promote Negro-owned-and-operated businesses on Chicago's Southside. This they fear whites will not do once they get control.

One of the most noteworthy attributes of the white race is their penchant and ability for "Cleaning House" within their own ranks. Constantly they are at work busting trusts, smashing, ceaselessly warring with Organized Corruption in the effort to create cleaner government, better citizens, and better environments for their growing children.

These Negro racketeers, notwithstanding their apparent benevolence, are no more worthy of sympathy than any other lawbreakers, no better than Al Capone, Boss Pendergast, Judge Martin Manton, and other highly entrenched buccaneers who have preyed upon the public. As columnist Schuyler of the Courier so aptly stated, the thing to be most lamented is the failure of our own group to take steps THEMSELVES to wrest the untutored masses of their community from the insidious grip of these 20th century pirates.

So long as "Playing the Numbers" continues to be the only steady occupation of the bulk of the Southside Chicago's citizens, just so long will the birth of clean, legitimate, honorable business—the kind that requires expert planning, intensive study and constant alertness—be delayed. For Necessity is truly the mother of invention. Let us hope that the Numbers Racket has been permanently crippled in Chicago. In the long run her Southside citizens will undoubtedly benefit by its absence.

HUMOR—MAN'S SUBJECTION TO TROUSERS

One of the marvels of modern civilization is the slavish subjection of Mighty Man to those queer-looking, elongated, in-artistic appurtenances of male dress called pants. No matter how renowned, how pompous, how important or aggressive a man may be, snatch his trousers away from in some public place where he can't get hold of another pair and he is transformed into a cringing, abject creature. As much as men ridicule women for their slavish deference to form and fashions, I doubt if any woman fears deshabille as much as a man.

In Chicago the other day, police found a newly-wed man, pantless, sitting in an auto in a dreary, chilly auto-park. He had been sitting there for 30 Hours, waiting for the return of his newly-wed wife who had said she would be gone only 30 minutes. When leaving, she had said, I'm taking your pants with me to make sure that you'll stick around until I return."

This evidently tickled his vanity so he trustingly assented. They had just eloped to St. Louis the week before and were on their return journey home. Evidently the groom had not come up to expectations, so his bride—sensing the utter helplessness of a pant-less man—chose this unique way of "planting him" until she could get her business arranged and make her get away. A word to the wise should be sufficient. Henceforth, all Don Juans should keep a weather eye on their trousers.

Do You Know?

By EARLINE A. WILLIAMS

Do you know that Christ died
Many, many years ago?
Do you know He was crucified
Many, many ears ago?

Do you know that Christ did lie
In the grave for three long days?
That you, and you, and you, and I
Might be saved from sinful ways.

Then, do you know that Christ arose
Our salavation to make whole?
And, do you know that He doth live
Today within our soul?

Sure, I do know these things I say,
Sure, I know them all;
That Jesus died arose one day,
And paid the debt for all.

That's why today write I here,
Write I here so bold;
Telling men both far and near—
HE LIVES WITHIN MY SOUL.

Hold Your Ballot in Your Hand

Every citizen has a responsibility to use his ballot for good men and good causes. As election time approaches every citizen should be prepared to use his ballot as a weapon against the forces of evil and social injustice. A citizen without a ballot is like a soldier without a gun. Register now in order to be able to cast your ballot.

Prepare now by acquainting yourself with the situation and needs in your community. Sober and alert individuals who have courage under fire are needed to defy the forces of aggression. Constantly shun all that makes strong men and women weaklings. Great objectives should constantly be before us. Let satisfaction be found only in the achievement of these lofty ideals.

In unified action there is strength. Hang onto this belief and hold onto this fact regardless of the divisive forces at work or the competitive hordes encountered. Stand ready with your ballot in your hand!

The Negro As A Pioneer

History brings to our knowledge that Negroes visited parts of America even before Columbus. With Ponce de Leon, they explored the wilds of Florida. They served with Cabeza de Vaca in the great Southwest and with Alarcon and Coronado in New Mexico. They were with De Soto on the Mississippi. On the present site of Jamestown they kept the Spanish from colonizing.

With Balboa they discovered the Pacific Ocean and their hands helped build the first ships made on the Pacific Coast in America.

In the early exploration, subjugation and settlement of practically every part of these United States of ours, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada, the Negro did his share.

The Negro helped nurture California into maturity, and in 1850 when she was admitted into the sisterhood of states, nearly 1,000 dusky inhabitants were numbered in its population. In two years the population increased to nearly 2,500. These early pioneers were miners, prospectors, sea captains, steamship owners, ministers, business men, councilmen, government men and preservers of the peace.

Pasadena, too, has had its intrepid pioneers. When Pasadena was incorporated as a city, Negroes were among its first citizens. With their labor and love they have helped to make this the Crown City. Let us emulate the faith, courage and strength of character which have carried us thus far on the road of progress.

Concerning Pasadena Pioneers

For the next few weeks, Pasadena pioneers and their work will be one of the many features of the Pasadena Edition of The California Eagle.

Writer Has 'Honor' of Being Convicted By Drunk-o-meter

Carl Echols, Pasadena writer, had the "honor" last Friday of being the first motorist to be convicted in a California Superior Court by evidence obtained from a "drunk-o-meter." Echols was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor.

Following an accident last Dec. 25, in which his car had knocked down and seriously injured Mrs. Harriet C. Hamilton, Echols had been severely beaten by the crowd which gathered. Dazed from the blows received from the mob, he was taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment.

Originally Echols was charged with hit-run in addition to the intoxicated driving charge. Evidence was produced that the defendant remained at the scene of the accident until "someone in the gathering crowd urged that the driver be lynched."

When Echols was taken to the Emergency Hospital on the evening of his accident, William W. Harper, Pasadena police physicist, took a sample of the motorist's breath and put it through the machine. The contrivance, which operates on the principle that alcohol in the blood stream bears a definite relationship o the alcohol content of the breath, showed conclusively that the driver was under the influence of liquor when the count is but 1-1500 of 1 per cent.

Had it not been for the evidence of the "drunk-o-meter," Judge Frank C. Collier indicated he would have had doubt as to whether Echols was dazed and incoherent from alcohol or from the beating of the infuriated crowd.

Judge Collier indicated that unless a previous conviction is found against Echols, he will be freed from incarceration after his probation appeal is heard April 1.

Man Stricken on Way to Home

On his way home Sunday evening, after visiting friends in Los Angeles, Lawrence C. Livingston, 66, resident of Pasadena for many years, was stricken with a heart attack on Central Avenue and died before medical aid could be obtained.

Realizing the seriousness of his condition, he had entered a store on Central Avenue between 43rd street and Vernon avenue and asked a friend to call a doctor. Unable to locate a physician, the ambulance was summoned. Efforts to relieve him were put forth by those in the store, but he died before the ambulance arrived. The coroner ordered his body removed to the county morgue while funeral instructions were awaited from his daughter, Mrs. Larry Donely of Chicago, only relative whose whereabouts are known.

Between the time of his heart attack about 8:15 p. m. and his identification at the morgue several hours later, the funds on Livingston's person decreased from $66.00 to only 54 cents, which the coroner's office turned over along with a key and some papers to Messrs. J. T. Morgan and Huff of Pasadena.

Livingston lived at 131 W. Mountain since the death of his wife, Mattie, over a year ago. The Livingstons were married in Chicago in 1912 and had lived in California the major portion of the time since their marriage. He was an active member of the Sunset Avenue Church of Seventh Day Adventists and had been elected as a delegate to the Biennial session of the Southern California Conference which was held Monday in Los Angeles.

Gold's Offers Easter Values

Penny-wise and bargain-bright buyers of the Eastside have long commented upon the outstanding values annually offered during the Easter season at Gold Furniture company. However, the current line-up of sensational "steals" at Gold's surpass anything in the memory of the staunchest Easter bargain hunter.

Of course, as we all know, nobody does anything—or, at least, not very much—for nothing. So, there's a method in the apparent madness of Gold executives. Due to the coming expansion and beautification of the store, it will be necessary to restock in many lines. Thus, Gold's must do a bit of house-cleaning. Prices are sweeping breathlessly BELOW COST—values are consistent with the traditional Gold Furniture Store standard.

WRECKERS

I watched them tearing a building down,
A gang of men in a busy town.
With a ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell,
They swung a beam and the side wall fell.
I asked the foreman, "Are those men skilled
As the men you'd hire if you had to build?"
He gave a laugh and said, "No indeed!
Just common labor is all I need.
I can easily wreck in a day or two
What builders have taken years to do."
I thought to myself as I went my way,
Which of these roles have I tried to play?
Am I a builder who works with care,
Measuring life by the rule or square?
Am I shaping my deeds to a well made plan,
Patiently doing the best I can?
Or am I a wrecker who walks the town
Content with the labor of tearing down?

'Call Benton's' An Eastside Habit

Nine out of ten readers starting this article already know that telephone number, AD-7177 —Benton's delivery drug store.

"Call Benton's" has become a community habit in the past few years that is ample tribute to the vision of a young pharmacist who dared try a new kind of service. When the proposal of free delivery of drug goods, the chain telephone system, the motorcycle fleet were first mentioned by Dr. Benton, the howl of "It can't be done!" thundered through the local drug store realm. Today, "Call AD-7177" is an integral factor in the Life and Times of Central Avenue.

Liberty Continues Forward March

ed this week by the Liberty Building-Loan Association as fresh legions of "new accounts" came to the famed Eastside savings institution.

In the midst of most aggressive and hard-hitting savings build-up campaign in its history, the organization has scored an enviable record to date. Success of the campaign has been attributed by executives to the fact that community depositors are becoming increasingly conscious of the need for economic solidarity. They KNOW that the Liberty Building-Loan Association is a safe, secure savings institution dedicated to THEIR OWN COMMUNITY.

J. L. Turner Rites Held in Pasadena

James L. Turner, beloved and well known Pasadenan, was laid to rest Mar. 11 at the Mountain View Cemetery after rites were conducted at the First AME church of Pasadena by Rev. J. A. Dames and assisting ministers of the city.

Pioneer citizens and those who knew him best, gathered to pay homage to this outstanding, tho unassuming citizen in typical "Jim" Turner—style without ostentation and demonstration. Though the audience was deeply touched with grief over the passing of this great man, yet they took heart from the message and homespun philosophy drawn from the life of Mr. Turner by Dr. J. M. Brown, former pastor of the C. M. E. church, who delivered the eulogy.

Mr. Turner was great, Dr. Brown pointed out, not only because he was diligent in business but because he had a purpose and objective in life. "He was a builder, a supporter, one who was a foundation stone. He filled an important place in the community. And he had a place in the hearts of his country men.

"He was not a man to push himself to the front. He stayed in the background in order to make the front possible. I feel we have lost a friend and a great and good man."

The Rev. W. M. Prince, 53-years a resident of Pasadena and who preached the funeral of Mrs. Turner's mother and who had charge of Mrs. Bertha Turner's funeral just a little over two years ago, also spoke.

Music was furnished by George Garner, noted tenor; the 1st AME choir and their soloist, Ethel Miller Thomas.

At the close of the services mourners from all walks of life passed the casket banked with flowers, bowing in silent farewell to a man beloved by all.

Other ministers assisting in the services were the Reverends W. D. Carter, W. A. Wilkins and Owen A. Troy.

The James Woods Funeral Co. was in charge.

NATIVE OF TENNESSEE

Mr. Turner, whose residence was 725 Winona street, died Mar. 8. He was a native of Alexandria, Tenn and had lived in California 35 years. He is survived by one son, Raymond; a sister, Mrs Mamie Malone; one brother, Albert Turner of Indianapolis; a sister in law, Mrs. Sadie Holt; two nephews, Elmer Lee, Pasadena, and Hamilton Turner, New ork.

● Turning Back the Pages of Pasadena's Past

By REV. WILLIAM PRINCE

The Boones and the Millers

I think one of the most progressive families that lived in Pasadena was that of Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Boone.

They came to Pasadena about 50 years ago from Ohio, bringing with them their attractive daughter, Miss Georgetta Boone, now Mrs. James Miller. Mr. Boone was a blacksmith. By trade, Mrs. Boone was a dressmaker.

Mr. and Mrs. Boone settled on S. Fair Oaks avenue, just south of Congress street. All the old buildings are standing in the same place except the blacksmith shop. The Boone home was a great place for the young people to meet on Sundays as their daughter was very attractive and a lovely entertained. Mrs. Boone liked to fix nice dinners for the young people and her friends. I remembered they entertained Bishop Abraham Grant, Bishop Lee Bishop Gaines and others.

Mr. Boone had a fine blacksmith trade The rich white people had their coachmen take the horses to Mr. Boone to be shod there. There were no automobiles in those days. Mrs. Boone was kept busy at her dressmaking trade. Mr. Boone was the first Negro to build a modern home in Pasadena. When the automobiles came in style he was the first to buy one. This was in the days when an auto came through the city, it made more noise than a train.

Mr. Boone was a local preacher in the First AME church and served as a class leader and steward and was one of the most liberal supporters of the church.

Mrs. Boone served as a stewardess for many years. Miss Georgia Boone was the first organist of the AME church, 50 years ago. She married James Miller about 48 years ago From this union was born four girls and three boys. Mr. Miller passed away about 8 wife and six children. Mrs. Miller years ago, leaving behind his er makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Ethel Thurman, a noted singer. I am sure we all know James Miller, Jr., as a great singer. Mr. Boone had an accident some years ago. He died about 30-years ago. Mrs. Boone followed him ten years later.

Opens Furniture Bargain Bag

With the Easter holiday season upon us, Juan Ray, sensational young Negro businessman of the West Pico Furniture company, has snatched out yon bargain bag some of the sweetest furniture stoops in Central Avenue history.

In carving his niche, Ray perhaps has put a dent in competitors. The young business expert is the only Negro in full charge of a branch furniture store west of the great city of Chicago. He is probably the first manager to show an immediate profit for his employers in a brand new location west of any place.

FORESIGHT

There was once a man who wanted to hire an office boy. There as a long line of boys waiting at his door in response to a notice in the newspaper.

"Well, my lad," said the man to one who looked like a good prospect, "you've seen the long line of boys outside waiting for this job; is there any particular reason why you should have the job?"

CHURCHES

Grant Chapel AME

Sunday morning, the pulpit was occupied by Reverend J. M. Brown of Pasadena, former presiding elder over the district, who delivered a most inspiring message. Sunday afternoon at three, the Paul Quinn Quartet rendered another of its enjoyable programs and Sunday evening, the pastor, Rev. Hayes Hayter, spoke from the topic, "How Shall we Escape?"

Thursday evening, Mrs. Marie Clay, captain over the men in the fund-raising campaign, sponsored a musical given by the chorus under the direction of Mrs. Carrie Mae Craig.

Members of Grant Chapel and friends throughout the city, were deeply shocked and grieved by the death recently of Mrs. Annie Goodson, wife of Archie Goodson, 1137 Myrtle avenue. Mrs. Goodson, a member of the Senior Stewardess Board, and a faithful, conscientious worker, was deeply loved by all. She was a member of the Eastern Star, and her passing leaves a void which will not soon be filled.

FASHIONAIDS

Ah! Exotic beauty—you with the lacquered black hair, slanting, languorous eyes and slim svelte figure, are modern competition to Cleopatra and Salome, but since today there are no leopard skin couches on which you may lounge in barbaric splendor, your exoticism must be toned down to streamlined simplicity. Your tailored suits and jacket dresses are of luxurious materials, but simply cut. Dramatically wound turbans and wide cartwheels are the hats for you .... black chiffon lingerie, sheer black hose, high heeled sandals (when appropriate) musky unusual perfumes and deep purple orchids. Your colors besides black, may be maroon or burgundy—vibrant, turbulent colors, exciting oriental prints, touches of stark white. Your costumes for day must be subtle, but you may shine and sparkle after dark, for night time is your time.

Lionel Hampton and his swing band entertained the crowd with a jam session, and Hampton presented each person with a picture of himself and a pair of drumsticks. Jerry Colona, noted radio celebrity, added spice to the program by his witticism. The Bell Boy's Good Girl "Thursday" lent her lovely voice to such favorites as "It's a Blue World Without ou," "Careless,' and many others. Autographed pictures of Jack were given to each member of the "Good Kid" Club.

At around 3:00 in the afternoon, each person received a refresh ment ticket good for one drink and one hot dog. And just before the party broke up, a souvenir was given to each person as a remembrance of the swell time they had at the "Good Kid Party," at the Victor Clothing co., that friendly store which boasts over 85,000 satisfied accounts.

Victor has been in business over 20 years, and is proud of the fact that over 10,000 colored families do all their shopping at the Victor. The store is open from 9 in the morning 'till 9 at night for your convenience. If you drive down, you can park your car free right next door, while you shop. They employ two expert union crews to give you courteous, prompt attention. So go down to the Victor Clothing Company tomorrw and see for yourself why more than 10,000 colored families do all their shopping under one friendly roof. And if you don't already have a membership card to the "Good Kid" card, the next time you're down at the Victor, ask the cashier for a card to the club. IT'S FREE.

SENATE JUDICIARY COMMITTEE OKAYS ANTI-LYNCH BILL

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. (ANP)—The senate judiciary committee by a vote of 11 to 4 approved the federal anti-lynching bill Monday, thus sending the legislation to the senate floor where southern senators have already announced they would filibuster it to death as they have all previous measures of this type.

Attractive Miss Delle presides over her counter at the 103rd and Beach streets branch. Helpful in securing the position for her was the Citizens' Civic League of Watts, headed by militant Dr. Ralph Bledsoe. 3 Girls Say Man is Kidnaper

by c. a. b.

UNTIL four weeks ago when nine-year-old Dorothy Gordon was kidnaped and spirited away to regions yet unknown, little or nothing had been said or done about conditions in the Central Avenue district. Now we are hysterical. In public gatherings, on street corners, and even at churches we are trying to place the blame.

The truth is that the Central Avenue district and what goes on there are only considered in political campaigns. On such occasions the theme songs are gambling and prostitution.

As a matter of fact, the real evils that are responsible for these social and moral diseases receive from the people they concern most the three little monkey tactics--see nothing--say nothing--hear nothing.

For more than a half century, this newspaper has preached the doctrine of production, in order to be good citizens, we must produce some of the things we consume.

Within the past twenty-five years, the Negro population, which at that time was scattered all over Los Angeles, has more than doubled and has become concentrated in the Central Avenue district. In those early days, jobs, especially for women, were plentiful. I can remember when wealthy people from Hollywood and other sections drove through the district looking for domestic help at almost any price suitable to the worker.

In the days of plenty, Negroes failed to heed admonitions of the Eagle to secure small farms and produce some of the things they consumed. They revelled in their new prosperity, but the seasons of famine (WPA) were ahead.

When the depression hit, wages for domestic workers changed from $4.20 a day to $5.00 a month. Under this new wage order, many who were buying homes on the monthly basis lost them. Housing conditions became more and more acute. Two and three families were forced to live huddled together in so many rooms. Male heads of families, in many instances, deserted; and some women, left with the support of one or more children sold body and soul to the highest bidder.

These are but a few glimpses of what goes on in the Central Avenue district in front of the screen. Your guess as to what goes on behind the scene is as good as mine.

So, we have come down to the period of the kidnaping of little Dorothy Gordon. After all, the great question that confronts us is not "How are we going to catch her abductor?", but "What are we going to do to save other little Dorothy Gordons?"

We know that moral conditions about some of our schools are so bad that they are no longer whispered and that the average public dance has become a public nuisance. Perhaps the most potent contributing agency to this break-down of the moral standard in our community is the type of motion-picture our children see daily.

One way, at least in which we might aid conditions is investigation of this entertainment medium that has become so significant a part of the cultural development of our children.

Jewish women in a meeting at the Ambassador hotel last week offered a resolution to join in a national drive for clean motion-pictures. The sense of this resolution was that the 'movie' has become an increasingly important factor in education and entertainment.

Many of the films shown in motion-picture houses along the avenue are below desirable standards of decency and good taste. Negro women who spend their spare time in social and political clubs might do well in following the example of their Jewish sisters and demand a censorship of the pictures that are exhibited in this district. Less political bossism and more attention by many of us to the vital needs of the community might react to the immense benefit of all concerned.

The brands of wines and other liquors sold on Central Avenue also should be censored as well as certain types of phonograph records especially prepared for this district. Jazz wagons that are barred from other districts have full sway on Central Avenue Sundays. The regulation, in fact, the elimination of these nuisances which have a tendency to cheapen and lower our standards in the eyes of other communities must be effected eventually.

What happens in the Negro section is of more than local im-

CAR WASHER HELD AS MAN HE STRUCK WITH FIST DIES IN HOSPITAL

Argument Over Auto Steam Cleaning Plant Ends Fatally for Pasadena Man

Wesley Sinclair, 25, of 1607 East 42nd street, is in county jail today facing a possible murder charge. The dead man is Malcolm A. Neal, white, of 1509 Fair Oaks, South Pasadena, who died Tuesday afternoon at Huntington Memorial hospital in Pasadena apparently as a result of blows received by him in an altercation with Sinclair last Mar. 6.

Sheriff's Deputies R. T. Hopkinson and D. E. Ostraff, of Hollywood station, reported that on the afternoon of Mar. 6, Neal come to the station and stated that Sinclair had struck him. He also stated that an argument had started over an auto steam cleaning plant which he had sold to Sinclair and his partner, Alvin Brown, 859 E. 28th street, who maintain a washrack at 7786 Santa Monica blvd.

Sinclair, apparently losing control of his temper, knocked Neal down twice with his right hand, Brown told the deputies. No weapon was used, he said. Taken to West Hollywood Emergency hospital, Neal was said to have suffered a possible fracture, multiple abrasions over right jaw and inside upper lip.

PLEADS GUILTY

Six days later, Mar. 12, Neal signed a complaint in Beverly Hills justice court charging Sinclair with battery. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody at 3250 W. Olympic, and bail set at $100.

Brought before Judge C. D. Holland and arraigned, Sinclair pleaded guilty to the charge and was allowed to file application for probation, and a hearing was set for Mar. 17. Sinclair was released on his own recognizance.

Neal's wife told deputies that after he had signed the complaint he collapsed and went into a coma. Rushed to the Pasadena hospital, Mrs. Neal said his condition was serious.

Calling Hollywood station at intervals, Mrs. Neal called deputy Ostraff Wednesday of last week and said that Neal was unconscious and had been since Mar. 12. Tuesday afternoon she again called and reported that the injured man had died without regaining consciousness.

Deputy Ostraff notified the court which issued a bench warrant. His bail set at $500.00 by Judge Holland. Sinclair was remanded to county jail on the original warrant.

Reunited in death were Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus T. Hudson, heads of a prominent California family, with the death Monday of Mrs. Mary Hudson. Mr. Hudson died in 1938. (see story).

Girls Say He's 'Just Like' Kidnaper

"Psychic" Reveals Visions to Cop as Kidnaping "Clues"

The likeliest suspect to date in the Dorothy Gordon kidnaping case was tentatively identified late yesterday by three Eastide girls.

He is Percy Hicks, shock-headed white man, who was arrested in a drunken condition on Central avenue late Tuesday. He was picked from a show-up later by Christine Pollard, 7-year old companion of the abducted child; May McLain, 19, and Mollie Fambro, 16; and identified as the man who had thrown Dorothy into his car on Mar. 5, and who had approached Mollie and May earlier that day.

Christine, who was walking home with Dorothy from Easter program practice when the abduction occurred at 16th and Hooper Ave., said Hicks definitely resembled the kidnaper. Mollie and May said he "looked just like" the man who had attempted to lure them into his car, on two different occasions, earlier the day of the kindaping.

INVESTIGATE HOME

Hicks, who is 49, gave his address as 1118 Maple avenue, but said he stayed sometime in a shack at the rear of a junk yard at 624 Banning street.

There detectives found a blood-stained newspaper, a paring knife and some black hair. A police chemist is examining the objects to determine if the blood and hair are human.

Police also planned taking Hicks for a drive late yesterday, to see if his story of not having been behind an automobile wheel in two years, rings true. They had to wait, however, until he was sober.

An erroneous report of finding the kidnaped child was circulated yesterday. Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gordon of 1438 E. 22nd street reported numerous telephone calls Tuesday and Wednesday from persons who had heard that the child's body had been found on E. Jefferson. The EAGLE office was also deluged with inquiries.

A summary of developments in the case since last Thursday follows:

1: At three a. m. Mar. 25, Valcour Riggs, 859 E. 43rd place, reported to Newton street police that he is "psychic," as he was born with a "veil" over his face; that he had a vision while sleeping, and saw the license 5E9946 or 59E946, on a gray sedan, appearing to be at 156 Lakeview, standing by a park.

Riggs said he awoke, bathed and went back to sleep, having another vision. In it he saw a brown-looking coupe with the license 64E178, moving North in a built-up area.

Board Recommends Raise in Refuse Collectors Pay

Announcement that the Board of Public Works has recommended a raise of $10.00 per month for truck drivers and $5.00 per month for truck loaders, employed in the Refuse Collection Division, was made this week by Stanley Loupe, president of the Municipal Refuse Collectors association. Loupe coupled the announcement with an urgent plea for organizations and individuals to request support of the recommendation by the mayor and city councilman.

"The Association has long urged and fought for a raise in pay to enable our more than 500 employes maintain a decent standard of living," Loupe said, "and it is essential that we receive widespread public support at the present time. A raise in pay for us means a substantial gain for merchants, landlords and professional men who serve us."

MAYOR'S ACTION

Announcement of the Board's recommendation was made by Commissioner R. W. Borough in a conference with Association officials last Friday night and with their attorney, Loren Miller. It was explained that the Board's recommendation now goes to the Bureau of Budget and Efficiency which has the power to make recommendations in the matter and finally to Mayor Bowron who can either accept or reject the recommendation.

The Association, which includes in its ranks a majority of employes of the Refuse Division, pointed out that refuse employes who have been described as some of the "hardest worked and least appreciated city employes" have never had a pay cut of several years ago restored.

Testimonial to Be Tendered Dr. Henry Mansfield Collins

Under the general chairmanship of George R. Garner, Los Angeles, without regard to denomination, will unite Sunday night at 7:15 o'clock in a testimonial tribute to Rev. Dr. Henry Mansfield Collins, popular pastor of First AME church, 18th and Towne avenue.

The choir under Garner's direction, will render selections from standard oratorios and cantatas. This group which has achieved city-wide distinction, never fails to attract an overflow throng of music lovers of both races.

From Pasadena, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Venice, Alhambra and numerous other cities in this area, scores of persons are expected to hear the choir and to honor the dynamic prelate who will soon depart for Detroit, Michigan, to attend the General Conference of the AME Church, where he is an outstanding candidate for the bishopric.

Dr. Charles S. Morris, celebrated orator, will deliver the testimonial address from the subject: "Henry Mansfield Collins, Financier, Preacher, Churchman."

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE publisher, will introduce the speaker.

NAACP to Close 'Citizens' Honor Roll' Sunday

With Kenny Washington, great UCLA football player promising to be on hand to assist in determing the winner of the "football contest," the local branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People brings its "Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy" membership campaign to a close Sunday afternoon, 3:30 o'clock, with a public meeting at Hamilton Methodist church, 18th and Naomi avenue.

The three trophies, offered by the Golden State Mutual, Conner-Johnson and Angelus Funeral Home, will be offered the winners of the competition for division, team and individual honors in the drive.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by William Gillespie and the gospel choir of Independent Church of Christ. Josephine Webster Cooper, soprano, and Edgar Brown, tenor. Dr. Andrew King will present current news items.

"I believe," Geo. A. Beavers, Jr., general chairman of the drive, said today, "that our goal of 2000 members will be passed at the meeting of the branch Sunday. Over 1500 Los Angeles citizens have already enrolled on the 'Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy."

Pays Penny for 5c Papers, Butler Nabbed

A 50-year old butler, Walter Roler, of 1581 E. 41st place, was arrested Tuesday morning by Sheriff's Deputy D. E. Ostraff for assertedly taking newspapers out of a rack at 9315 Santa Monica blvd., and not paying what they were worth.

According to August W. Strite, newspaper vendor, he had tried to apprehend Roler on numerous occasions. Tuesday he emptied the money box of the rack and marked the newspapers. When Roler came along and dropped a penny in the box instead of five cents, Strite called police.

Deputy Ostraff, attempting to determine if Roler could have paid for the paper, learned from a market attendant at that address that he had just sold Roler a can of coffee and had given him 75 cents change.

Hold Rites for Mary Hudson

Was Mother of Outstanding Los Angeles Citizens

Low mass was read yesterday morning at St. Patrick's church for Mrs. Mary Hudson, mother of several of Los Angeles' outstanding citizens. Mrs. Hudson died Monday afternoon at the family residence, 1168 E. 42nd place. She had been a semi-invalid for five and a half years.

The mother of Dr. H. Claude Hudson, dentist and prominent civic figure, Mrs. Hudson's death is mourned by the city's pioneers, among whom she was active up to her illness. Throngs paid last respects to her at the rites. Graveside services were presided over by Reverends E. W. Rakestraw and S. M. Beane.

Mrs. Hudson was buried in a shroud made from material which had been purchased in 1934 for her 50th wedding anniversary. Shortly before the event, however, which was to have been in November, 1934, her husband, the late Thaddeus T., fell ill, and the anniversary was never celebrated.

Born in Karnsville, Louisiana, Jan. 26, 1866, Mrs. Hudson was 74. She had lived here since 1927, coming here from the family home in Alexandria, La.

Survivors, in addition to Dr. Hudson, include: J. R. Hudson, mail carrier, L. C. Hudson, pharmacist; Miss Helen Hudson, county social worker; Mrs. Thelma Harris, an adopted daughter; 11 grandchildren; a brother, John Cass of St. Louis, Mo.; and a sister, Mrs. Rozena Foresman of Alexandria.

Mark Williams Divorced By Mate

Mark Williams, socially prominent in club circles and special aide to ranking officials of the Southern Pacific railroad, was divorced by his pretty wife, Laurel Williams of 1650 W. 37th street, early this week after Mrs. Williams had related to Judge Crum in Dept. 44 of the Superior Court that her husband was a dashing Romeo who sometimes forgot to come home in his amours and that he had been mixed up in several court affairs with other women as well.

Both parties are former residents of New Orleans, La., and extremely well known in the southern city. Mrs. Williams was represented by Attorney Walter L. Gordon, Jr. Mrs. Thelma Romaine, 1640 W. 37th street, a former resident of New Orleans, testified in Mrs. Williams' behalf.

Mothers' Tea Planned

A mothers' tea, to rally Eastside mothers to an interest in Eastside conditions, will be held Sunday, April 7, at the Elks' second floor auditorium. A general invitation to all mothers to attend is issued.

The tea is being held under the auspices of the Civil Liberties committee of Hiawatha Temple No. 91, IBPOEW. The committee is taking an active interest in community affairs, which interest is defined as "civic, not political."

An investigation of the jail was conducted this week by the committee. Members conferred with Lieut. Starr of Newton street station on Eastside crime conditions. Lighting, sanitation, limitation of liquor stores, correction of ill smelling chicken markets, all are coming under the critical eye of the ladies.

They invite the women of the community to join them. Free discussion of problems will be permitted at the tea, which will be held from four to 7 p. m. Refreshments are free.

Dr. Morris Lauded By New York Baptist Ministers

Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, II, who recently came to California to reside permanently, is today in receipt of a letter from the New York Baptist Ministers' Conference, representing more than 100,000 persons, in which remarkable tribute is paid him.

On his recent trek through the East, Dr. Morris was the guest speaker at the Abyssinian Baptist church, New York City, where his late father was the predecessor of the Rev. A. Clayton Powell, Sr. With its 17,000 members, Abyssinian is reputedly the largest parish in the world, white or colored. Dr. Morris was heard by the New York Baptist Ministers' Conference.

In the communication which has just been received by Dr. Morris, signed by Rev. Frank P. Twine, president, and Rev. Walter S. Pinn, secretary, the New York Ministers' Conference declares:

"This is to certify that Charles Satchell Morris, II, has received from this organization its highest possible recommendation and endorsement.

"To us he is no stranger, having worked with us and resided in our State for a number of years. We know him as an orator, educator, and gospel preacher of the first magnitude. However, the best we can say of him is that at all times we have found him to be a fine Christian gentleman.

"We know for a certainty that he is able to cope with whatever situation he might find himself confronted, for we know his ability, his fine background, his broad experience, his extensive education and the rich heritage that was handed down to him from his most illustrious father who was a pathfinder for the Baptist denomination.

"Wherever Charles Satchell Morris, II, might have occasion to go he will always carry with him the highest regard, richest benediction, and earnest prayers of the Baptist Ministers' conference of Greater New York and Vicinity."

It is understood that the motion to laud the distinguished

26 Cafeteria Employes Walk Out

Walkout Climaxes Contract Dispute in U. S. Capital

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. (ANP)—A contract dispute between the employes of the Press cafeteria and the operating company was climaxed Saturday by a walkout at the rush hour. A total of 26 employes, a majority of them colored, deserted the premises, although the United Cafeteria Employes union claims that 38 out of 40 union employes had walked out.

In a company statement regarding the Press cafeterian__garding the dispute, the press cafteria declared, "We had agreed to renew our present contract with the union provided control of the company's operation remained in the management. The union demanded, however, a closed shop."

In connection with the dispute the Press cafeteria inserted a large advertisement in the Sunday Star, setting forth their claims for firing three employes, all colored.

The advertisement stated that last April 29, two colored employes started a fight in the dining room. Both had been drinking, it is reported, and several items of company property were destroyed. One fled, the other was taken to the hospital for treatment and discharged the next day.

• TODAY AND YESTERDAY

BY ALMENA DAVIS

Buried in a judiciary subcommittee of the House of Representatives is a bill which is viewed as of great importance to 65% of the 9 and a half million Negroes in the South. It is a bill to outlaw the poll tax, a system operating in 8 southern states as a prerequisite to voting.

Not only is this bill important to Southern Negroes, but to 64% of the whites in the South, as well. These add up to the 12,000,000 citizens which Author Geyer of California, says are disfranchised by the poll tax.

The poll tax, described as a compulsory contribution per head to the state government, irrespective of income or property, has a long history. It was levied in England in the 14th century and caused a peasant revolt in 1381.

I don't know what the Englishmen were charged; and it varies in the American states where it is in operation. On an average, however, it runs around $2.50 per year, per person of voting age.

UNDEMOCRATIC

The Gever bill contends that the poll tax is undemocratic and in violation of the 15th amendment to the Constitution. The bill would make it unlawful to require payment of a poll tax as a prerequisite for voting or registering to vote, at any election for a president or presidential elector, senator or member of the House of Representatives. Thus, application of the bill is limited to federal elections.

The poll tax came into being in the South near the end of the Reconstruction. Historians recognize that it was applied as a means of wresting the vote from the Negroes and returning control of Southern politics to the whites. It was one of many means to that end attempted and although it has been abolished in some southern states; where it prevails, it is still particularly potent.

The states which have the poll tax are the South's most densely populated regions: Texas, Tennessee, South Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana. They are also the centers of the Negro population. Texas Negroes form 14.7% of that state's population; Tennessee, 18.3; South Carolina; 45.6; Georgia, 36.8; Florida, 29.4; Alabama, 35.7; Louisiana, 36.9 and Mississippi, 50.2.

POWERFUL FACTOR

From these figures, you can see that if the franchise were permitted Negroes, they would be quite a powerful political factor in the South's largest conters. The question raised by many is that even if the poll tax is abolished, will the Negro yet be able to vote? There still would remain the various forms of intimidation in vogue, plus the apparently impregnable white Democratic primary.

Representative Geyer has received overwhelming support for his bill from so-called liberal elements. Both labor groups, the AFL and CIO, have pledged support. The Southern Conference for Human Welfare, an organization of Southern white liberals and progressives, and several influential white papers are for enactment of the law.

However, some of the aforementioned, while heartily in favor of abolishing the poll tax, don't think much of the bill as a means of accomplishing that fact. In particular, John L. Lewis, CIO head, was quoted recently as favoring intervention by the Department of Justice. He feels that the Civil Liberties Bureau of the Department should step in and bring the poll tax to the federal courts for trial.

Digging around in sundry history books, I ran upon something else that I hadn't noticed among pros and cons of the anti-poll tax bill. It seems that the government has one means of punishing the poll taxing states, which I've never heard of it using.

Section two of the 14th amendment to the Constitution clearly says that any state which denies the vote to any of its citizens shall have its representation in Congress reduced proportionately. Congressional representatives are awarded for each 279,712 persons in a state. Texas, for instance, has a total population of 5,824,715, 32% of which don't vote, because of the poll tax, according to the Geyer faction. Yet, Texas has its 21 representatives!

Louisiana Names Negro to GOP Convention

ALEXANDRIA, La., Mar. 28. (ANP)— Under the rotunda of the city hall in Alexandria, where Negroes can neither register nor vote, the Republican State convention opened at noon Saturday, with a large delegation of Negroes included in the assembly of 100 delegates from 37 parishes throughout the state.

Delegates to the convention were instructed to act as a unit on all important questions, but are to attend the national session uninstructed as regards to presidential nominee.

New Alexandria Library Named After Slave

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Named for Robert Robinson one time slave, the new library for Negroes in Alexandria, Va., will be completed early next week.

Robert Robinson, for whom the library is named, gained freedom from slavery because his grandmother, a personal maid to Martha Washington, was able to remember the death of George Washington.

After President Washington's death, she became the property of George Washington Parke Custis, who promised to free her grandson if she would relate her impression of George Washington's death scene to Historian Gerard Sparks. The former slave then prepared himself for the ministry by studying borrowed books, and became pastor of a church in Alexandria. He died in 1907 at the age of 87.

How can a people be free that has not learned to be just? — Sieyes.

All that is needed to remedy the evils of our time is to do justice and give freedom—Henry George.

Although it lagged in spots, probably due to the length of the revue, the Covan presentation was well paced with song and dance, vocal, instrumental, class, acrobatic and specialty numbers.

STAR PERFORMERS

Early in the show, Mrs. Covan had to interrupt proceedings to request youths in the audience to be more courteous to the young artists.

The Covans had several star performers in Norma Lee Winston, Robert Felder, Donald Brown and Bobbie Jean Chadwick, all of whom drew round after round of applause from the audience.

Directing the evening's entertainment was Claude Alexander.

Social Hygiene Bulletin Retracts Slur on Race

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—Complete retraction of a supposedly scientific article written by Dr. Emily D. Barringer, slandering the Negro race, which appeared in the January issue of the Social Hygiene Bulletin, a publication published and distributed by the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, was announced today by the NAACP.

The retraction which is carried on the front page of the February number of the bulletin expresses the regret of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, the Social Hygiene Committee, and the editor of the publication for having allowed the article to appear.

The sentence appearing in Dr. Barringer's article entitled "Gonorrhea in the Female," to which the NAACP took exception, reads as follows:

"Some races are apparently more susceptible, as for instance the Negroes, but the reason for this may largely be due to the presumably greater promiscuity of the black race."

Negro Business to Have Part in Coming Expo

DETROIT, Mar. 28—The advancement made by Negro business and industry over the past three-quarters of a century will be vividly demonstrated at the 75 Years of Negro Progress Exposition, which will be held in Detroit's mammoth Convention Hall, May 10-19.

Since Negro business has played such an important part in the Negro struggle, the Exposition Committee is planning as one of the Exposition's principal attractions colorful exhibits showing the evolution and growth of race enterprises. Products from the 48 states, Cuba, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rica, and Liberia, will be a part of a great panorama of business, commerce, industry and agriculture.

Negro business will be given its first opportunity since the Atlanta and Cotton States Exposition of 1890 to exhibit on any large scale its development and diversity.

SPIRITED REVIVAL BEING CONDUCTED IN RIVERSIDE

RIVERSIDE, (By Frances M. Williams)—For the past two weeks, Miss Marjorie L. Casson, evangelist, and Miss Liska J. Moss, Gospel singer, have been carrying on a very spirited revival. One of the most outstanding sermons of the revival was the "Devil's Funeral" last Friday night. Another very touching play dramatized very beautifully by six young ladies was the "Old Rugged Cross" which was presented Monday, the closing night of the revival.

Beginning at 7:00 Sunday nite, the Easter program of the Sunday School department was presented. The smaller children with their little recitations and songs, were very entertaining along with the colorful pageant, "The Ten Virgins," given by the older ones. After the program, Miss Marjorie Casson, consecrated the 20 dimes held by Mrs. McDowell, Rev. Rutledge, Miss Liska Moss, and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Williams. The distributing of lovely Easter eggs and bunnies were the last event on the program.

Mrs. L. B. Williams, an Evangelist from the Mississippi District, and who has been visiting in the city for the past two weeks, left for her home Sunday afternoon. She also visited many beautiful sights in the city of Los Angeles. She was the guest of Mrs. Ida Yates and Mrs. V. Jones.

SICK LIST

Mr. Arnie Baker has been very seriously ill in the hospital for the past two weeks. We are praying that he may have a speedy recovery.

Mr. Walter Maves has also been confined to his bed and under very careful care of the doctor. We hope too, that he will soon be in our midst again.

We are happy to say that Mrs. Mamie Felton and Mrs. Sarah Robinson have greatly improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Gaulf and baby Patricia of Palm Springs spent a very wonderful Easter day at the home of Rev. F. H. Johnson, father of Mrs. Gaulf. Mrs. Helen Dickinson (Helen Gordon) and daughter, Frances, from Santa Monica, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gordon and daughter of L. A., were also visiting their mother, Mrs. Noreen Gordon.

BENEFIT FASHION TEA HELD IN SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, (By Madelyn Cooke)—A benefit fashion Tea, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garry Gaines of 640 Perris street, was the highlight of a Easterday in San Bernardino. For the purpose of helping the Looper Kindergarten and Nursery school, it was well attended by many mothers and friends.

The table was beautifully set with a lovely display of lillies. Tea was poured by Mrs. L. V. Jiggetts.

Mrs. Rowena Savage was mistress of ceremonies, who conducted the Easter parade, displaying spring modes for evening wear: Miss Carrie Davis; for afternoon dress-up, Miss Madelyn Cooke; sports, Misses Dora Jones, Bernice Ingraham, Barbara and Virginia McMar, Madeline Moreland, Shirley Banks and the little Misses Woodrings. Mrs. Looper and kiddies gave a wonderful doll hat performance in displaying the modern styles.

Mrs. Looper has lived in San Bernardino many years and has served the people many ways, especially with the children, and we hope that someday her dreams will come true in having a modern, equipped school.

Plan National NYA Chorus at Exposition

California Among 21 States to Aid Selection of Chorus

CHICAGO, Mar. 28.—At least 21 states will hold contests to select members of a National N. Y. A. Youth Chorus to sing at the American Negro Exposition in Chicago from July 4 through September 2.

This chorus, composed of more than 100 voices, will be a standing feature of the exposition. The project has already been approved at NYA headquarters in Washington, according to Truman K. Gibson, Jr., executive director of the Exposition authority.

Plans call for each state to hold a contest and select its five best singers. These will be sent to Chicago and especially trained for the chorus.

In addition to the contest, each state division of the NYA will select one outstanding contribution made by Negroes in the 75 years since emancipation for exhibition at the coming exposition.

States which will cooperate in selecting the National NYA Youth Chorus include Arkansas, Alabama, California, Illinois, Georgia, New York, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Florida, Virginia, West Virginia, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Kentucky, Texas, Oklahoma, New Jersey, Maryland and the District of Columbia.

Our next meeting will be the annual election of officers. All members in good standing are urged to be present and take part in selection of those who are to guide our organization through the next year. This will be a very important year with so many things coming before the organization. The comrades should be very careful to select the very best men available for the various offices.

There will be a number of candidates to be obligated before we go into the election. After all business is cleared up, which we hope to make as short as possible, there will be a "love feast" with plenty of free refreshments. The meeting will be held at our club room, 5403 S. Central avenue, 8 p. m., April 3.

It is hoped that delinquent members will see the quartermaster before that date, and that all pending applications will be presented with the applicants at that meeting for action. Remember we need more members to make our quota for the department in June, and the national encampment in August.

ASHFORD RAMBLES AGAIN

EASTER VERSION

Last week-end was the signal for everybody to dash to the nearest toggery in order to present that front; however, with Easter a thing of the past, folks are again flitting hither, thither and yon for a piece of muslin, cotton, or something with which to cover up THAT PORTION of the back.

KAPPAS SCUTTLE ALPHAS, 52-30

Sandwiched in between the pre-Easter fashion parade staged by the oversize house of cash customers that jammed Patriotic Hall last Saturday nite, was a terrific basketball fray, in which the good ship Alpha was scuttled and sunk by a better craft called Kappa, 52-30, with the "division of the booty" going to diminutive Lowell Steward, who, beat a merry tatto on the Alpha hoop for 18 points.

The evening's festivities were heightened by the original skit put on by Alpha coach, Ralph Cooper, who, when informed by Nate George, scorekeeper, that McClain had three fouls, went through the motions that have reportedly made him the "idol of millions" . . . He charged improper keeping of book and swore to have the supposed mistake rectified, or "have collateral" . . . the game went on as per usual.

Amid the cheers of the Alpha femmes, Leonard McClain abandoned his old "bull-in-china-closet" style and assumed the role of spearhead of the "Apes" attack . . . said attack was functioning until Kappa brother Dunbar Alonzo Hunt, in the role of yell leader, rallied the grandstand to the cause with "Give Me That Good Old Kappa Spirit" . . . which was the signal for the Kat quintet to go berserk on the Alpha hoop . . . Series finale this Sat.—fevvens sake, don't miss it.

SUNDAY SOCIALS

Lionel Alexander and his Social Knights had the Elk's literally jumping last Sun. aft. with their annual Easter ball and parade, which was featured by the appearance of a bountiful array of beauteous femininity, and the young bucks in those nightgown-length coats . . . The words Cocktail Dance (mostly the former) drew many to the Penguins' shuffle at the La Vada . . . in case you're interested they're shepenguins, namely, Dot Woodfox, pres.; Margo Collins, vice-pres.; Florence Gagnet, sec.; Emma Ford, treas.; La Reeta Clairette Grant, Dot Tabor, Helen Alberga and June Brown.

NORTHERN TALES

The latest tale to filter in from the bay region concerns one of the stout-hearted Kappas, who, upon arriving in Oakland called "one of his chicks" and ordered her to have breakfast for a definite number of henchmen the following a. m. . . . at which time the promoter and hungry guests called, only to find no "scarf" and that the would-be hostess had flown the coop . . . Thurston Davis, who spends his time on the basketball court for Cal's Golden Bears, and whose name was linked with one of the northern gay divorcees, last week vacationed here with family . . . Boys say "chubby cheeks" Bobbie Lee of Oakland has a most enterprising moving and hauling business . . . hauls everything but fertilizer.

AU REVOIR

Local swains will be minus the lovely company of Rhetta Jean Boswell, who has decided to enter the dietetics dept. of the Homer G. Lewis infirmary in St. Louis, in lieu of entering into any "entangling alliances" with said swains . . . The unusual drop of Frank Matthews' lower lip can be attributed to the departure of lovey-dovey Betty Nickens, who will vacation-it for four months with her family in Columbus, Ohio . . . Frank Collier's arrival from Oakland has caused quite a commotion as Cora Beth Tucker has been unavailable since he barged in . . . Local lads Frank Dupas and Arthur Trent will be greatly relieved at his departure this week.

SPORTS IN A NUTSHELL

In last Saturday's UCLA-Arizona State meet, affable Tom Bradley knocked out the 440 in 49.1, breezing, to win going away, while Harold "Seabiscuit" Sinclair looked good in chalking up his first win in college competition . . . was not pressed in a 10.1 century and looked better yet in his 21.4 furlong . . . Forgot to add that Bradley was unable to partake of another taste of victory due to the fact that the 880 was run five minutes after the quarter . . . Hubert Duke walked off with low hurdles in 24.5 in the UCLA Frosh-Long Beach J. C. duel . . . Dewey Weinberg had SCAA coach A. L. Monteverde raving over his 49.4 relay lap against Compton Junior college . . . hot duel is expected when Bradley and Weinberg tangle in SCAA-UCLA meet this Sat. at Westwood.

Stocky little Al Norman established a new record in broad-jump with his leap of 23'7" at Redlands . . . Also watch this James Tripp of San Diego State who reeled off a 9.9 century, 49.6 quarter and then had strength and stamina to propel himself 23'5" . . . We ran a littel better than 55s 440 and they had to carry us off the field! . . . let alone do anything else.

BROWNSKIN BEAUTY

As a connoisieur of beauty, it is fitting and proper that we commit ourselves and say that the natural brownskin beauty of Bernice Batchelor is just too much . . . while not occupied in the public health nursing dept. of the General hospital, she is very much occupied by John Merrill, exchequer of the Kappas . . . The Dandridge sisters are in Denver this week with Jimmie Lunceford and will continue a tour of the East with the orchestra . . . Forget not the fashion show and ball at the Elk's this p. m. with maestro George Brown furnishing the balling tempos.

. . . and they carried him away in the morning a helpless wreck!

DO GERMS DESTROY LIFE

(Taken from Hygia, Con't. from February 4)

Diferent specialized groups of germs devide the work. Some of them kill us. This is their share and they hasten the day of repayment. Lacking sympathy with this part of the scheme, we resent their impertinence. Nevertheless, they kill us. Then other microbes get busy. We carry them with us, and they wait. While we live we can hold them in check. When the barricades of our resistance are battered down, they surge over, and nothing they can break is spared.

Some of them do a thorough job. From the elaborately fashioned and magnificently joined furniture of our tissues, they make the sawdust that is plant food—carbon dioxide, water, nitrates. Other germs are less enterprising. The microbes, a numberless army of expert butchers and cooks, contrive from the raw material of our substance to lay a delicate repast at the feet of the plants. And they do the same of course, with other animals and with dead plants and with the product of both. Their's is the dirty work that goes on in damp, dark places. It is not beautiful, but beauty would have little meaning without it.

If decomposition ceased, the mechanism of life would run down quickly, probably within a single season. The fertility of the soil would vanish. Plant growth would come to an end. Seeds would not germinate. Farm animals would face starvation, and we would face it with them. There would be reserves of food available for us, of course; and while we are consuming them, and as their approaching depletion enforced shorter and shorter rations, attempts would be made to restore then continuity of life by artificial means.

Chemistry would become the hope of the world, if only its possibilities could be recognized and its potentialities developed without fatal delay. Most of the useful things microbes do, the splitting of complex substances into simple ones, even the fixing of the nitrogen of the air, can be done now by man made, strictly chemical means. Usually the chemical methods are slower and smaller in scale. Whether they could be adapted to the vast of the earth. They are found just where we need them. They are largely self-supporting and exceedingly productive. They get the energy they need for their work as a by-product of the work itself, but they get so little energy for so much work that they must be very active to get enough to keep them going. And their activity is amazing! Some bacteria ferment—decompose—as much as twice or three times their own weight of sugar in an hour. No strictly chemical means now known can duplicate this prodigious activity, although the same end can be gained by other far more laborious methods.

Human ingenuity, were it faced with the dire emergency that destruction of the world's microbes would bring, might possibly manage to keep the world alive. Plants can be grown without soil and without bacteria, in solutions of suitable nutrient materials. Perhaps the world's agriculture would become industrialized. Factories where food would actually be manufactured might be set up at places convenient for transportation of raw materials and distribution of products. Our food would then be made, not as at present by the age-old chemistry of the naturay world in its broad farms and pastures, but in super laboratories where the chemistry of men would attempt to supplant the barren soil. The receiving department of laboratory-factories would replace our present undertakers. Burying bodies in the soil would have to be abandoned as useless and prohibitively wasteful. All dead bodies and every other kind of dead plant and animal matter would be delivered to the factory doors. From these few materials, chemical methods of decomposition would make food for plants.

The factory proper would be a chemical "farm". Crops would be grown in tanks or trays, arranged vertically in tiers instead of horizontally as the soil demands and irradiated artificially to save space and insure continuous crops and a controlled yield. Part of the crop would be fed to live stock, which would still fabricate our milk, meat and eggs in the usual way. But the animals would have to be housed nearby and husbanded, with rigorous economy. No waste could be permitted, since that which normally finds its way back into service by itself would have to be returned by human intervention. Manure, always useful as a source of food for plans, might become more valuable than gold.

DEFENSIVE BIDDING

The Second and Fourth Hand bidder is necessarily on the defensive but uses the exact method of valuation as the Opener. Opening bids of One in a Suit are usually made with about Four Naturals or the equivalent, hence there are only eight Naturals left for distribution among the other three hands.

When Second Hand holds 3 to 3½ Naturals, governed primarily by the length and type of suit, it is good policy to give that information to partner—Fourth Hand, or the reverse. Defenders are usually on thin ice.

Special to member of the G. W. B. A. and all bridge players who are interested, our next match point rating tournament will be held Friday, April 5, at our regular meeting place, 1503 E. 22nd street. Starting time is 8:30 p. m. Hereafter, our monthly tournament will be on the first Friday of each month, so set aside that day for your association. The president and officers particularly are looking for those members who have not participated so far in any of our tournaments.

The 8th Annual National tournament is only five months away. The executive boards of the American Bridge association and the GWBA are urging all who can to attend and take part in this, the greatest event of the year. The place is Atlanta, Ga., the date, August 19. If our representation is large enough this year, it is probable that next year's tournament might be held in Los Angeles, if not next year, than definitely 1942.

At the beginning of every year, the question on the lips of bridge players the world over is, will there be any changes in the Culbertson system. A few days ago we received a letter from Mr. Culbertson stating that there are to be no changes in the system this year. We are happy to pass this news along to you for we are definitely opposed to frequent changes in something so difficult, (for some of us) to learn as contract bridge. The letter also says there are a few bids he wants his teachers to clarify. Next week we will give you his exact words.

The Contract Bridge club is dispensing with honorary memberships. The same club is planning a mammoth charity tournament, net receipts to be given to two local charities. The date is April 13. Let's help them make this the biggest tournament ever to be held in our city.

Our hand this week is not hard to bid or play. We use it only because it netted Robinson and Dunn 1970 points, as a part of the highest score we have ever seen in a three game rubber, 5730 points.

The opponents, Dr. Wallace and Capt. Taylor, were somewhat off in their bidding. They took three penalties of 300, one 700, one 600. Our heroes ended the rubber by making six spades redoubled. Here is the bidding and the hand both sides vulnerable: North and South do not bid; East one spade; West two hearts; East, three spades. West, four spades; East, four no trumps; West, six spades; South doubles; East redoubles. Of course the hand is spread for six spades. It is very unique to make such light doubles. May we have your corroboration, Doctor?

RECREATIONAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH "WOEFULLY INADEQUATE"

Director of American Youth Commission Tells Findings in Study of Youth Problems

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—The successes of Joe Louis, Jesse Owens, Paul Robeson, and other Negro athletes who have distinguished themselves in the field of sport, serve by contrast to highlight the "woefully inadequate' recreational opportunities open to American Negro youth as a whole.

This was pointed out today by Floyd W. Reeves, Director of the American Youth Commission, in announcing preliminary findings in a series of research studies concerned with the problems of Negro youth, which, has as a group the highest ratio of unemployed, of illiteracy, and the largest proportion of arrests and convictions for crime.

Studies of the Commission, organized in 1935 by the American Council on Education and headed by Owen D. Young as acting chairman, are for the purpose of making specific recommendations to carry out the Commission's program to meet the health, education and job needs of the nation's 4,000,000 unemployed youth between 16 and 25 years of age.

By contrast with the exploits of many outstanding Negro athletes, said Reeves, recreational opportunities for the average Negro boy or girl in an urban community are limited largely "to random activities on the part of gangs or passive time-wasting on the part of individuals," and to "commercial recreational activities such as the pool room or the beer parlor."

LEISURE TIME USE

"In areas of racial segregation the public schools do not meet the need for effective training in the use of leisure time. As a result, 'doing nothing,' 'hanging around,' and 'loafing' form the recreational pattern of the moneyless urbanite, who finds the street corner, the 'barbecue joint,' the barber shop and the pool room, places of least discomfiture and greatest relaxation.

"It partly explains the crime rate, for lack of healthful recreation, idleness and poverty are recognized factors which breed vice and crime."

Recreational facilities are limited to cities in the East and Midwest, where absence of social restrictions permit Negro youth to participate in school and community activities, to a few cities which have made special recreational provisions for Negroes, and these cities having Negro high schools or colleges which encourage athletic programs.

A national stock-taking of opportunities for organized recreation, according to Reeves, shows that colored branches of the YMCA and YWCA provide either gymnasiums, swimming pools, game rooms and vocational classes in about 60 cities; Negro settlements and community centers exist in only approximately 40 cities; Boy Scout troops are to be found in at least 200 communities, and either Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls troops for Negro girls exist in only 66 cities.

"If it were not for the activities of such organizations, plus those of the National Recreational Association and the Playground Association of America, the leisure-time aspect of Negro life in America would be bleak indeed," said Reeves. "However, it is encouraging to point out that recreational facilities for colored people have increased nearly 200 per cent between 1925 and 1935."

Absence of normal recreational opportunities is today made more serious by the increasing job competition which has upset the traditional balance of employment between whites and Negroes, explained Reeves. "Unemployment among whites has sent them scurrying to seek jobs traditionally filled by Negroes, until today the only jobs in which Negro youth do not have to cmpete with white are those of Pullman porter and dining-car waiter.

"This competition, and resulting decrease in opportunity, is reflected in the estimate that 35 per cent of all colored youth are unemployed, as opposed to 30 per cent in the case of white youth.

By Bill Smallwood

BUZZ ME, GERTIE. . . I'M RIP-PIN' AND RARIN'. . .

Reports keep coming back here that Bill Robinson's tour with his show about Japan's colorful ole gent is little short of phenomenal. Box office reports are unbelievable and it looks like the show will go on, like Ole Man River, the search for Chloe and Tobacco Road. . . In Omaha they encored Bill so much he was forced to beg 'em to give him a rest. . . Now word has it they'll go back to Bway and start all over again. Also at the NY Fair. Besides Billy Rose' Aquacade, the Hot Mikado was the best draw at the Fair last summer . . .That's all grand reading it means a good number of kids will be eating and sleeping and living very nicely for some time to come. . . Show biz being what it is, it's good to see some of 'em hit the jackpot . . . Another opus that would've given the Mikado a run for it's cash would've been Swinging the Dream, had the powers that always be hadn't put the finger on it because the brownskins were TOO good. . .

Nobody in town can ape Uncle Bill telling jokes as can Oakland Levy! He and George Mosby are a pair, and are party boys from way back. . . Duke will play the Vogue. . . Things we'll never grasp: how it is Bluebird allowed Glen Miller to come behind Erskine Hawkins and wax a tune (Tuxedo etc.) that had been previously pressed. Practically unheard of in the same set-up. Despite noble but weak efforts in trade mags to offset it, every day more and more people are giving Miller credit for penning the tune. . . Another one of those things . . . Too bad. . .

Something you very seldom see: a flat bottom bass in a dance crew. . . Bakersfield: recent reunion over a a beer keg with Charlie Olden, who swings out with a torrid 4-piece combo around a corner and down a lane or 3—somewhere up there— anyhow, we had a ball. . . The hills around there really vibrate nites. They should ankle to town and do their stuff down one of our lanes and around one of our corners. Eddie Young, Jordan Young, Eugene Williams, Charlie Olden and Lee Williams handling the vocals, is the set-up. . .

Goodman signed for 4 weeks at Catalina in June. . . Indianapolis show owner passed the buck after promising Goodman they'd let down the bars and allow brownskins in the balcony, then didn't. . . Local musicians hearing rumor that a mixed outfit will be formed in NY, and the cream of the sepia side will be scouted for, here. . . They tell us there's been nothing in an age in Harlem to outdo Jimmy Daniels' smooth place. Garland Wilson is with him at the twin piano, and snazzy folks sit around sniffing brandy, murmuring polite French phrases and outreaching each other for checks that run up to ten bucks a snap. . . well, it's about time Harlem regained a lot of its long-gone glamour . . .

Lionel Hampton and Kenny Washington put on a jam session of Victor waxes Wednesday nite for a couple dozen hi school girls and boys. . . We still say Popsie Hampton was the best thing on the recent Face the Music program, and he had 'em on the verge of a good-natured riot at the Victor Clothing address last Satd. when he broke up the place and ate the pieces But if Jack the Bellboy ever collapses he can sure dub in Pops for these two are nightly thicker via Western Union than champagne and bubbles. Next thing, Jack's set to do the vocal on the coming-up wax for a theme for his night show.

Kenny Wash, probably soon set to make a p a. tour with his picture, which begins shooting Monday. Somebody told him he favored Mercer (Duke's Brat) Ellington, and now he wants to see Mercer. . . they really do favor. .

Village matron had to work up tears to dissuade her irate hubby to place an ad in the dailies telling the world he's not responsible for her pretty terrible poker debts. . . but that's being catty, Gertie. . . Dance step somehow that never reached LA was the Sabu, from Swinging the Dream. . . a kill. . . Can you pen poetry? Send your stuff to us—we've a poetry corner idea. . . you may like it, no kidding. . . and happy Easter, Gertie . . .

Statue of Christ Unveiled at Zion Temple

An awed throng witnessed the unveiling of a life-sized statue of Christ on Easter Sunday morning at beautiful Zion Temple, 1315 E. Vernon avenue. The vested choir marched from the beautiful auditorium to the outside of the church edifice, singing "He Arose."

The waiting throng listened and prayed with Bishop Sara Butler, pastor of the church, as she expressed the desire of the Temple to be of service and a blessing to the community. She stated that the object of placing the likeness of the Saviour in the outside niche was not only for the beauty displayed, but that He might silently watch over all who pass by. Mounting the ladder to the top of the portico, Bishop Butler drew aside the veil bringing in full His glorious Presence. At the exact moment of the Unveiling, the halo lights were flashed on by Elder Horace Nesbitt. Instantly a mighty chorus of deep-throated 'Ah's" burst from the throng below and rose upward to the throne of God.

This beautiful image of the Christ was a donation to the Temple by the Jolly Workers' club, Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, organizer, business manager; Mrs. Izetta Allen, president; Bishop Sara Butler, founder-pastor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Reality" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from James: "Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning."

Among the Bible passages are these verses from Matthew: "And when Jesus was entered into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him, And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented. And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him. The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed. . . . When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel. . . . And Jesus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed, so be it done unto thee. And his servant was healed in the selfsame hour."

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the statements: "All reality is in God and His creation, harmonious and eternal. That which He creates is good, and He makes all that is made. Therefore the only reality of sin, sickness, or death is the awful fact that unrealities seem real to human, erring belief, until God strips off their disguise."

Later he received his Master of Arts in English at Columbia University and completed the residence requirements in the same institution for the Ph.D. Afterward, he held professorships at five colleges including Tennessee State from which he is on leave, and Pacific Coast representative.

Washington at the Second Baptist church on Friday night, April 5. It is announced that he will give a critical analysis of Dr. Washington's philosophy and an estimate of his place among America's great.

Spring Brings New Automobile Colors

Beautiful flowers are a certain sign of spring the world over. And in keeping with this colorful season of the year, four new spring body colors have been added to the wide variety already available in the Ford, Mercury and Lincoln-Zephyr lines. In a field of vividly-hued poppies and holding a huge bouquet of lilies, this attractive motorist has found a perfect setting for her 1940 Ford Deluxe sedan—finished in the new spring color, Garnet, a rich, light maroon shade.

23 Out of Every 100 School Children Have 'TB' Germs

Although only one child in 250 in Los Angeles junior and senior high schools has tuberculosis, 23 out of every 100 have taken the germs which cause the disease into their bodies, and must be followed up in order to prevent actual disease from developing.

This was revealed yesterday in a preliminary report of three years of tuberculosis work in the schools, issued by Herbert I. Sauer, Director of Social Studies of the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association.

The Association in cooperation with the Board of Education, the Parent-Teachers Association, and the WPA, tuberculin tested 50,342 students from December 1936, to December 1939.

"Of this number 11,575 or 23 percent, reacted," said Sauer. "A positive tuberculin test does not necessarily mean that a person has tuberculosis. It means only that the germs of tuberculosis have entered the body and that an X-ray of the chest should be made to determine what damage, if any, the germs have done.

RESTRICT EXERCISE

"X-rays were made of 10,474 students," he said. "In the cases of more than 1,000 students, shadows observed on the X-ray film indicated a need for further X-ray or clinical observation in order to determine whether active tuberculosis was present and to spot it as its first sign if it does develop. During the months that observation of this type continues, the physicians and nurses on the project give advice and instruction to these students regarding rest, restricted exercise, nutrition and proper hygiene. After some six months to a year or more of observation, some cases may be dismissed as non-tuberculous.

"Some other students are not so fortunate," according to Sauer, "because, according to the shadows on the X-ray film, about 200 appear to have the serious reinfection type of tuberculosis. More than 100 of these are active; a few have been dismissed as apparently arrested, and most of the remainder are being examined periodically to determine whether the disease is active.

Tuberculosis and Health Ass'n Contests to Close

Two contests for Negro students, sponsored by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association, close the end of this week, according to an announcement made today.

Full details on both contests may be obtained from Miss Theresa V. Dixon, R. N., at the 28th Street Health Center, or from the Los Angeles Tuberculosis and Health Association, 122 E. 7th street.

STRESS COMMUNITY COOPERATION IN NEGRO HEALTH PROBLEM STUDY

Leading Members of Medical Profession Celebrate National Negro Health Week

Community cooperation in studying the health problems of the Negro and planning for their control is being emphasized this week as leading members of the medical and nursing profession, prominent citizens and social workers unite to celebrate National Negro Health Week, (Mar. 31-Apr. 1).

Programs now are being formulated by representatives from medical, dental and pharmaceutical associations. Community Chest agencies, and other organizations stressing the importance of preventive health education both among young people and adults. The public will be welcomed at all meetings, for which there is no charge.

On Sunday, the 26th annual Negro Health Week will be inaugurated at Independent church, with a service meeting at 11:00 a. m., under the auspices of Community Health Association. Health will be the theme of the sermon by the pastor, Rev. Clayton Russell. An interesting and informative program has been arranged, including Floyd Covington of the Urban League; Dr. Ruth Temple, Community Health Association, as speakers; special music by Dr. Henry McPherson and the choir, directed by Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew; and a reading by James Parker. Youth and other committees of the Community Health Association will be introduced by Miss Helen Dundee. Baxter Scruggs, director of the local Young Men's Christian Association will act as master of ceremonies.

A special health program will be heard over the Gold Hour, at 6:30 p. m., Monday, April 1, Station KGFJ, with local doctors, nurses and health agencies, cooperating with the Community Health Association in presenting national and local problems.

Judge Ben Lindsay will be guest speaker of the Marriage Guidance Association, Sunday, April 7, 2:30 p. m., at the Independent Church of Christ.

During the week a colorful exhibit showing the benefits of good health to the community will be displayed at Community Health Association, 4920 S. Central avenue. Dr. Ruth Temple urges parents to bring their children to see this exhibit, and also to become acquainted with the health education groups which have been established for both children and boys and girls of high school ages at the Association.

HAYS AND THE MOVIES

Will Hays, czar of the motion picture industry, said the other day before producers, distributors and exhibitors in the United States:

"Good pictures are not the spontaneous expression of talent, literature or drama. They must start with the WILL TO MAKE them, the capacity to gather the hundreds of necessary skills that go into their making, the ability to find the required investments, and the courage to risk vast sums on entertainment ideas that may or may not eventually receive public favor."

He continues:

"That's the job of the almost forgotten business man in the industry. It is he who must sift hundreds of ideas before him, who must justify the investments necessary to give great directors the opportunity to express their art and who must see to it that a thousand skills are gathered in a single place for a single coherent effort to amuse, entertain or inspire an audience of more than 80,000,000 WEEKLY in the United States alone."

Hays was making his yearly report as president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America.

The capitalized words in the above are our own. We capped the words because they struck us as meaningful in very significant statements.

The WILL TO MAKE good pictures is the starting point, a point to be remembered by those interested in seeing the Negro actor come of age on the screen.

Movie-making is a gigantic industry as shown by the statement that 80,000,000 Americans go to theatres WEEKLY! Another point to be remembered by those interested in seeing Negro actors and actresses show their great ability.

A HAT FOR A HORSE

Mildred Blount, the GWTW chapeau maker of John Frederick's, has made a hat for Seabiscuit, the 1940 Santa Anita Handicap winner and money-winning champion of turf history.

Said Miss Blount of the Biscuit's Easter bonnet in a broadcast last week: "Yes, I made it. Quite an affair it is. It's of burnt straw, trimmed with field flowers and a red satin streamer. It has holes for the ears, a feather in the center and it turns up in the back."

FEET ON GROUND

Interesting was that column on Hattie McDaniel, written this week by Harry Mines in the L. A. Daily News. And more interesting is the personage around whom it is built.

The current toast of Hollywood has her feet on the "good earth", to say the least, but let Mr. Mines tell you:

"Mammy, like her beaming prototype on the pancake flour box, is a celebrity. To personal friends, studio workers and fellow players, she is referred to as Hattie McDaniel, but the public, which knows best, prefers to call her 'Mammy'. Her performance in 'Gone With the Wind' established this familiarity.

"To say that 290-pound Miss McDaniel currently rides the crest of the wave is putting it mildly. She is the first colored actress to win an academy award. She proudly possesses a long term contract with David Selznick. Most of the studios are bidding for her services. A profitable personal appearance tour throughout the country looms in the immediate future.

"But more important—and this is a personal matter to the actress—Miss McDaniel is gratified because at last Hollywood recognizes her talent. Nine years ago she came to town needing work and money. Now she has more than enough of both.

"'I'm going to keep trying,' she told her sister the morning of her arrival, 'until the picture people hear me'.

"Miss McDaniel accepts her success with levelheaded calm.

"'No sense in a lot of wild talk and plan making,' she said. 'I've worked hard, but everything I've done has been a means to an end. I'm happy to be able to relax a little. But not too much, or for too long. For, now, the going's tougher. They'll be expecting things of me.

"'I'm not fooling myself that opportunities like 'Gone With the Wind' are to be found every day. I'm more than willing to go back to small parts. Playing those are what pays my rent. Did you see me as the comic cook and maid in 'Alice Adams' with Katherine Hepburn? I was only on the screen for a little bit, but what I had counted. Give me the

"'I told my agents that just because I had done a big role in one film I didn't expect, or want my salary to start climbing up. If it got too large, nobody would employ me for the things like 'Alice Adams'. They couldn't afford me.

"'No, sir! I'm keeping my money to what it was. I've been able to put some away in the bank, pay my debts and I'll be owning a home within a short while. I live comfortably. I've been married twice, but I'm single now. My niece stays with me.'

That's THE Hattie McDaniel, beloved by all who know her.

Distinguished Judges Laud 'Best Community' Contest

CHICAGO, Mar. 28. (ANP)— Judges in the national contest closing May 1 to select America's outstanding Negro community are unanimously of the opinion that it should be "a great stimulus to community improvement throughout the nation."

To be eligible for the award, each community group or organization must send in a typewritten digest not exceeding 500 words of its community achievements. These digests must be sent in before May 1 to Dr. M. O. Bousfield, care of International Harvester Company, 180 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill.

According to Walter White, NAACP secretary, "It is a fine thing for a great industrial concern like the International Harvester company to recognize the importance of achievement among Negroes. While it is true that there are many Negroes who, through no fault of their own, but because of discrimination by employers in some labor unions against them, are in dire poverty, we should never lose sight of the fact that there is a considerable number of Negroes who in the face of handicaps are contributing mightily to the economic welfare of themselves, their race and their country."

Local Council of NNC to Send Delegates East

Members of the Los Angeles Council of the National Negro Congress are looking forward to sending delegates to the Third National Meeting of the Negro Congress in Washington.

All organizations and persons who are interested may attend these meetings. Delegates will not be confined to the Los Angeles Council, and any organization that wishes to send a delegate to the National meeting may do so.

Ass't Dist. Atty. Tells Main ssue in Presidential Contest

D'S NOTE: The following is the abridged text of a speech deliv-ed by Francis E. Rivers, assistant district attorney of New York, fore the Union County Progressive League in the Hotel Elizabeth-rteret, Elizabeth, N. J., last Thursday evening.

I wish to state the issues which hink will and should be upper-st with the Negro today in the ght between the Republican rty and Democratic party for Presidency. I think it import-t—most important—that no gro nor white Democrat con-ve this national contest as ving this significance for the gro: bigger and more relief m the New Deal vs. the dole l empty promise of jobs from Republicans. I think it also portant that no Negro nor ite Republican conceive this ional contest as having this nificance for the Negro: has Republican party up to this ministration treated the Negro ter than the Democratic party. The main present day issue is should the Negro accept an rior caste status imposed upon by the New Deal government support that government in hange for its taking care of . To show that this is the is-, I first will explain what I an by saying the New Deal oses an inferior status on the gro.

onsider first the principles of anization of the New Deal. Its job was to create a totali-an public opinion: to make masses of Americans hate the families;"—to make the ma-y of Americans feel that they re the "have-nots," fighting perately against the "haves" veft being crushed—to make industrial, clerical and agri-ural workers feel that they t hate, first big business and r, all business. It was then ght—and successfully -to e the masses feel that nothing mattered as compared with ning this battel over so-called gant vested interests. But than crushing business by ic ostracism—by heavy and taxes—by restrictive regu-y boards and commissions--ncentive was provided for group joining the fight, e.g., the poor, relief, for the far-subsidies; for labor Nation-abor Relations Board, Social urity and Wages and Hour. these bounties were called social program of the New ', and hundreds of thousands val New Dealers were given on the federal payroll to ad-ster this program. Thus the l program of the New Deal lved crushing the vested in-ts on the one hand, and on other hand allegedly redis-uting property and subsidiz-e various groups supporting New Deal en the vast propaganda fac-s of the New Deal so thor-ly moulded public opinion as ake all the groups composing rmy believe that they must et their peculiar group needs at such needs didn't matter til the "social program" of New Deal and the "planned omy" of the New Deal had consummated. This meant the New Dealers including New Deal Negroes considered the fight of the Negro against gation and discrimination be forgotten until the New objectives had been achiev-persons within cities who groaning under the op-ion of corrupt political ma-s must sacrifice protest for sake of hastening the New l Utopia, and unorganized as well as rank and file n men who were exploited me of the arrogant and self-abor leaders must sink their s until the New Deal had its proclaimed war.

is in itself shows the hope-ss of the Negro as part of New Deal. But solution of as sought by the New Deal rs as follows: get the Ne-s out of the way of these thern Congressmen and nern officials as well as pre-ed labor and agricultural rs by creating for the Negro ief economy; by removing the o from productive enterprise providing for him on relief vations. Consider how the Deal does this.

ien the National Labor Re-ns Board was created, its ers must have known that international and local uni-excluded Negroes either by itution, ritual, or convention d that many unions which ot admit Negroes, never sent to employment unless all e members had been previ-hired; these New Dealers must have known that if these prejudiced unions were given by the governme-t the privilege of collective bargaining and the closed shop that it would mean the exclusion of the Negro from much employment as a result of government action. Still the New Dealers passed this legislation and without any clause protecting the Negro against such discrimination. What was the result? Negro unions of railroad workers in the South were ruined when white unions by virtue of the National Labor Relations Board became the exclusive bargaining agency and secured a closed shop.

GRAVE INJUSTICE

Of course this is grave injustice to the Negro. But under the New Deal the Negro can get no public ear for his wrong. To correct it, the labor leaders, and the unions must be criticized, and that would militate against the social program of the New Deal. So when the Republican legislature of New York passed a bill barring discriminating unions from using the State Labor Relations Board it was vetoed by the New Deal governor upon the ground that it would go far toward destroying the essential rights of organized labor. In other words, in the public atmosphere created by the social program of the New Deal the Negro can get no friends. The way in which differentials under the NRA and Wages and Hours law have operated to depress Negro wages below starvation levels and thereby force them to the relief rolls is well known. Then when the PWA erects structures and fails to enforce any regulations for giving Negroes work in building them; when the WPA forces skilled Negro workers to work at unskilled labor and thereby causes them to lose their eligibility for getting jobs in private industry; and when the United States Re-employment Service follows a policy of never sending a Negro to fill a job where it can send a white man—the technique by which the New Deal gets rid of the problem of having its prejudiced leaders conflict with the Negro in private employment is readily seen.

But in its own employment policies the New Deal Administration sets an example which is even more effective to make America consider the Negro not good enough for any work except as a Negro among Negroes. Although in New York and Newark the Republican Administration always had Assistant U. S. Attorneys, the New Deal has always deemed the Negro as not measuring up to such a job: they have kept it "lily-white." In the Federal civil service, the New Deal does not give Negroes dignified appointments—rather it appoints Negro to emergency staffs in a temporary position in a bureau called "colored" and confined in the main to problems of the Negro. According to reliable figures in January 1936, there were 32,325 New Deal employees in Washington, D. C., of whom no more than 500 were Negroes. And consider the Negro employment situation in these important bureaus:

AAA, 1 messenger; Farm Credit Administration, 7 messengers; Federal Housing Administration, 6 messengers; Home Owners Loan Corporation, 1 chauffeur, 1 clerk, 8 laborers; National Labor Relations Board, 1 messenger; Securities Exchange Commission, 4 laborers; Social Security Board, 4 laborers.

Further segregationist activity by the Federal government is witnessed in: segregated CCC camps officered in the main by white officers; Negro regular army regiments changed from combat units to labor units; and creation of residential ghettos for Negroes by: (a) earmarking its low-rent housing projects as "white" or "colored;" (b) where the HOLC acquires title to a house upon a mortgage foreclosure it refuses to sell it to a Negro of located in a white residential area; and (c) the FHA refuses to make mortgage loans to Negroes on houses owned by them in white areas.

Here then is an inferior caste status created for the Negro by the federal government, viz: the Negro is forced out of private employment on to relief rolls; segregated in his work for the federal government—denied honorable military service and residentially segregated, all done by the federal government.

For America this is a highly important situation and for the Negro it is critical. But no agitation is done against this degradation of the Negro. Had it occurred during a Republican Administration, thousands of Negroes as well as whites would have howled in protest. But Negro and white New Dealers make no comment on this government creation of a caste system for the Negro. They think it might imperil the social program of the New Deal; they think they might appear as allies of Republican "plutocrats' if they say one word in criticism of this New Deal mistreatment of the Negro. Instead of admitting or denying the charge, they flaunt the New Deal objectives in a dishonest attempt at counter-charge saying: are you in favor of letting 5 million Negroes be removed from relief aid and thereby starved; are you in favor of CCC camps being closed and thereby 106,000 Negro youths made to rot in idleness; are you in favor of writers' projects being abandoned and thereby our Negro artists denied opportunity—and finally are you in favor of letting 60 families own America and letting everyone else starve while they live lazily in splendor?

But those who say this are not honest: they know that with a Republican Administration, which gives a full-citizen status to the Negro, there will be sufficient aid for the needy. But do they approve or disapprove of the government creating for the Negro an inferior caste status?

This is the inescapable issue of this campaign and Republicans should insist that New Dealers answer this question.

Naturally a Republican has not fully considered this issue until he discusses how the Republican Party stands on this big issue: would it do the same thing if in power—in other words: what alternative does the Republican Party propose as to the relation of the federal government to the Negro?

In the first place, under a Republican administration, the Negro would not have to face a government-created public opinion so single-track-minded as to make recital of injustices to Negroes fall on deaf ears. What the Negroes need from the government more than direct "handouts" are weapons with which to fight. The New Deal gave weapons to Labor when it created a labor-minded public opinion and then by the National Labor Relations Act it made Labor more on an equality with capital. But as we have seen, Labor's gain here was at the expense of the Negro. With a Republican administration dedicated to free enterprise—free expression of opinion, and free from bureaucratic direction of public opinion, the Negro will be able to fight for his cause; he will fight for it and he will get friendly ears and assistance. It is quite significant that all of our militant Negro propaganda organizations developed from Republican influences and none have developed from New Deal influences.

Certainly the Negro must choose—and choice must be made in this year of 1940.

Confident as I am that the Negro's choice will be for full manhood rank, certain as I am that he will never accept the rank of government-ward, I say, then, that what the Negro needs most from the federal government are weapons with which to wage his eternal fight for equality of opportunity: weapons both of favorable public opinion and of specific machinery created by Congress.

A Republican Administration offers some hope of gaining these weapons.

What a party might do must be judged by leading figures in it. In the Republican Party as you know, Thomas E. Dewey, District Attorney of New York County, is candidate for the Republican nomination for President. Some of his opponents charge that he has not been in public life long enough to qualify as President of the United States. There is one answer which we as Negroes, whether Republican or New Deal, must give to that: Mr. Dewey has been in public life long enough to appoint a colored woman and a colored man to the most significant and the highest paid prosecuting posts ever given to Negroes in America. Their work there is as American citizens prosecuting wrongdoers without regard to race or color; their status is not inferior or "colored" but of similar function and nature as any others on the staff of the prosecutor. That is more than can be said for the leader of the New Deal, who, though he has been in public life more than 25 years and President of the United States for more than 7 years, still has not been there long enough to make one significant appointment of a Negro to responsible and non-segregated post.

Because an issue is best revealed and set up in the candidate, it would be, in my opinion, of greatest value to the Negro if a leader like Mr. Dewey were the Republican Party standard-bearer, since he, by his deeds, has symbolized the free and equal citizens status for the Negro.

Shown above are Louis Woodson Curtis, Director of the Los Angeles City School Music Section, and Vierling Kersey, Superintendent of the Los Angeles City Schools. Mr. Curtis is President of the Music Educators National Conferance, and Mr. Kersey is General Chairman of the Convention Committee. Ten thousand public school and college music educators of the United States are now trekking to Los Angeles to participate in the great music festival to convene here from March 30 to April 5, with headquarters at the Biltmore Hotel. Some 20,000 student musicians will participate in the convention. Associate memberships, permitting attendance at sessions, are available in the general public at the low price of two dollars.

McNutt OK's Carnegie's Hospital Plan

Plan Is Same That Was Condemned By Nat'l Medical Ass'n

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Mar. 28. (ANP)—Administrator Paul V. McNutt of the FSA gave his approval to the Rev. Amos H. Carnegie, in a radio interview, of the latter's plan to finance adequate hospital facilities for Negroes through a contribution of a penny a week. This is the same plan that has been condemned by the National Medical association as unworkable.

During the interview on the radio, Rev. Carnegie told McNutt that there are only three public hospitals for Negroes in the nation and that the need for better accomodations is acute. The first hospital to be erected will be at Lynchburg, Va., for which Rev. Carnegie is asking contributions of $10 for members of both races, or an average of a penny a week for 20 years.

Replying to Mr. Carnegie's comment upon the desirability of Negroes taking the initiative to improve their conditions, Mr McNutt said:

"That is the only way you are going to improve your condition. Nobody can improve it for you. You will have to improve it for yourselves. A race, like an individual, must advance by its own efforts. United effort on the part of your people, under wise, intelligent, unselfish, and inspired leadership can greatly improve your condition. I believe that it is a duty which you owe to yourselves. I can assure you that there is no country in the world in which you will find such great encouragement and get so much encouragement as you will in this country."

Woman in Race for Congress Seat

CHICAGO, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Kathryn M. Johnson, Republican candidate for Representative to Congress from the first congressional district, last week was busy with her campaign, the theme of which is "Give a woman a chance to see if she can get something done in Congress." Formerly religious secretary of the New York YWCA, Miss Johnson has been a national speaker for the Republican party. She is co-author of a history of Negro soldiers in the World War.

N. J. Will Not Bar Ballot to Reliefer

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—The New Jersey state legislature will not give favorable consideration to that part of a report recently placed before it by Col. Glover, of the Joint Legislative Committee on Emergency Relief, recommending that all persons who have been on relief rolls for the past three years be declared paupers and denied the right to vote.

This was the announcement made March 16 by State Senator Charles E. Loizeaux, of Plainfield, N. J., in response to a telegram from the NAACP protesting the vicious proposal as a denial of constitutional rights to the state's 200,000 Negroes, many of whom are on relief.

Dewey Aide Hits Mob Evil

EASTON (Md.) Mar. 28—Mrs Eufnice Hunton Carter, aide to District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York, attacked the lynching evil during a speech made here in the heart of the famous Eastern Shore of Maryland, last week when she and ex-Governor Harry E. Nice were guest speakers of the Maryland Colored Republican League. Five hundred voters, representing the counties on the Eastern shore, heard her.

Mrs Carter talked on the subject: "Taking Stock of the Negro in America in 1940." She said: "Seventy-five years after 1865, we still have in the United States lynching, disfranchisement, discrimination by public utilities and tax supported institutions of learning and an undetermined place in the American economic scheme."

"In the face of these things it is impossible to ignore the fact that intelligent political activity is vial to our progress and to our

A. B. George, Ex-Judge, Dies

Was Only Negro Ever Elected a Judge in Chicago

CHICAGO, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Funeral services were held Tuesday for the only Negro ever elected a judge in Chicago, Albert B. George, 65, who died Saturday at Provident hospital from heart ailment aggravated by a toxic goiter. He had been in the hospital only one day, but had suffered from the goiter for several years. Judge George, as the noted lawyer was called even after his judgeship expired, sat on the bench from 1924 to 1930, and was regarded as one of the most brilliant lawyers in the city.

Born in Washington, D. C., George came to Chicago when he was 20 and graduated from Northwestern university law school in 1897. Admitted to the bar the same year, he engaged in the practice of law until his election to the Municipal bench in 1924. Following his tenure as judge, he became a member of the Illinois parole board in 1931, serving for two years.

At the time of his death, George was a member of the trustee board of Provident hospital and a director of the Chicago Urban League. A member of Grace Presbyterian church, for the past 35 years, funeral services were held there Tuesday and attended by prominent citizens of both races.

Surviving are a widow, Maude Roberts George, noted musician, and a son, Albert A. George, a student at Northwestern university.

is vital to our progress and to our of the American citizenry," Mrs Carter pointed out.

Mrs. Carter spent Saturday until Tuesday in Baltimore interviewing various political speakers in the interest of Dewey's candidacy for the Presidency.

State Application for Federal Hospital Aid Should Be Open to Public, Houston Tells Senate Committee

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—States applying for federal aid to their hospitalization programs should make their applications available for public inspection in order that any and all groups have a chance to oppose or be heard before the Government grants the application, Charles H. Houston told the Senate Committee holding hearings Mar. 19 on S-3230, the National Hospital Act.

Houston, who represented the NAACP and more than a score of other national organizations, also urged that a Negro be placed on the National Advisory Hospital Council, which the Act would set up. He also urged that the Act specifically prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, creed, color or religion in training personnel for hospital work, and in the state administration of the hospital program. Other persons who testified at the hearing included: Dr. Dorothy Boulding Ferebee, of the Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority; and Dr. Paul Cornelly, of Howard University Medical School.

Minister to Liberia Is U.S. Visitor

Lester A. Walton Here to Confer State Department

NEW YORK, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Lester A. Walton, United States Minister to Liberia, arrived here Monday from his post in Monrovia where he has lived with his wife and two daughters for the past six years. Here to confer with the State department, the minister is expected to remain in the United States until November.

Minister Walton's post, gaining in importance since the beginning of the European war has been the focus for a number of important diplomatic transactions during his appointment, some of them bearing directly upon relationship of the United States with European countries.

Minister Walton told an ANP reporter that economic conditions in Liberia were improving despite the war, and this fact has been substantiated by the fact that the African republic was among the first countries to pay in full her war debt.

Walton, expected to confer with President Roosevelt within the next few weeks, will probably figure prominently in the forthcoming political campaigns. The minister was met at the pier by Mrs. Walton and their two daughters, who had preceded him.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Mar. 28 (ANP)—Dr. S. Lloyd Coppin, prominent Springfield physician last week began duties as resident physician at Ohio Penitentiary here.

Sues Estate of Ex-Political Boss

CHICAGO, Mar. 28. (ANP)—A $10,000 suit against the estate of the late George F. Harding, white, former Republican National Committeeman from Illinois, was filed last week by Fannie Carroll, 19. Miss Carroll, who is suing under the dramshop act, charges that she was stabbed last November by a patron of a tavern owned by the Harding estate. Harding, who owned blocks of real estate in Negro neighborhoods, for ytars was known as the "boss" os several colored wards.

WHISKY FOUND UNDER SETTING HEN

GREENVILLE (Miss.) Mar. 28. (ANP)—Two searches over the premises of a suspected bootlegger here last week failed to disclose any illegal whiskey, but the third survey, which proved especially penetrating, revealed to officers 14 half pints under a setting hen in the backyard.

A Fighting Champion

Tomorrow night in Manhattan's famed Madison Square Garden, heavyweight champion of the world Joe Louis puts his crown on the block for the 11th time.

Although the wolves are yapping at his heels, the Brown Bomber should still have his title come Saturday morning.

His opponent is Johnny Paychek, of Des Moines, Iowa. An excellent boxer and fair puncher, we have seen the baldish challenger here at the Olympic auditorium. Paychek's followers believe their man will outbox the champion and win the world's championship on points. They point out that Paychek is a plenty smart hombre. They forget apparently that the backers of former lightheavyweight titleholder John Henry Lewis had similar prebattle notions. Louis knocked out his friend in a round.

Setting a precedent that will hardly be approached for many a year to come, the Brown Bomber has defended his title and fought more often than any other heavyweight kingpin in history. He won the bauble in 1937, lifting it from the brow of boxing's "Cinderella Man", James J. Braddock.

Louis fought twice more during that year, decisioning Bob Pastor in 10, and Tommy Farr in 15 rounds. Except for his first tiff of 1940, that with the Chilean, Arturo Godoy, his 7 other opponents have been stiffened. Joe's kayo string ran through 1938 and 1939. In '38 Nathan Mann sniffed resin in three, Harry Thomas in 3, and Max Schmeling in 1. In '39, Lewis went down for keeps in 1, Jack Roper in 1, Tony Galento in 4, and Pastor in 11.

In less than three years, kingpin Louis has had 10 opponents, knocking out 7 of them. This record has caused Alex Sullivan, writing in Liberty magazine this week, to interview six ex-champions Joe has met for their reactions. Practically all agree the current ruler of the heavyweight division roost is a great fighter.

Sullivan himself writes that one reason for Joe's phenomenal success may be ascribed to the fact that he always fights like he is a contender, having great respect for the royal toga he wears so well. He writes, too, that Louis' ability to contract his muscles, causing men who face him to believe he has gotten smaller, is responsible in large measure for his terrific hitting power. Sullivan says that because Joe is possessed with this ability, when he throws punches it appears as though he is exploding.

The National Boxing Association in its quarterly ratings, released last week, has placed Joe's foe of tomorrow night, Paychek, in No. 8 spot in its list of contenders. The No. 1 contender, in the eyes of the NBA, is Arturo Godoy, who displaces Tony Galento, now in No. 2 slot. In order, follow Pastor, Lou Nova, Farr and Max Baer. All but Nova, who has never faced Louis, have been beaten by the champion.

Something to Think About

We were attending the weekly boxing show at the Olympic auditorium last week when, during the Jackie Wilson-Joe Ybarra 10-round main event, an elderly and baldish white fan sitting across the aisle hurled objectionable epithets toward the Negro fighter.

It's not good taste to print the word used here. Suffice it to say it begins with an "n" and starts more unnecessary brawls between the races than we care to enumerate.

At any rate, this particular night, the elderly gentleman was made to feel OUT OF PLACE and by fight fans of HIS OWN COLOR. Surrounded in the main by white fans, the gentleman received disapproving glances which let him know that the expression was unsportsmanlike.

We noted the incident and believe that increasing numbers of sports fans are coming to the realization that remarks calculated to offend a race of people are things of the past. We wondered though, what might have happened if instead of being surrounded by people of his own color he had found himself in the midst of members of the offended race, notwithstanding the fact that at times members of the offended race use the same term among themselves?

All of which brings us to the point: There is no doubt but what the rather general opinion that Negro ball players should be admitted to the major leagues is just, fair and according to the dictates of good sportsmanship. But just how far off that day is depends a great deal upon the attitude of baseball fans themselves. In other words, if the fans want to see the BEST players, regardless of race, color or creed, perform on the diamond club owners will see that they do—and soon!

Thompson Whips Ex-Champ

Polite Stops Gene Mock in 3 Heats in Olympic Semi-Final

"Turkey" Thompson clumbed another rung upthe middleweight ladder toward a world's championship bout last Tuesday night when he hit Teddy Yarosz enough to recevie referee Benny Whitman's decision after 10 rounds of serio-comic fighting.

Yarosz, former middleweight champion of the world, showed little but the ability to duck and dodge "Turkey's" heavy duty artillery. His tactics baffled the "Turk early in the bout but didn't offset the stinging lefts and rights to the body in the latter rounds, many of them hurting the slightly hefty ex-champ.

There was one knockdown, Yarosz hitting the deck in the opening heat for a one-count.

Apparently having little respect for anything Yarosz might show, Thompson spent the evening walking into Yarosz, only to have the latter receive him with open arms--arms that wrapped themselves around those of "Turkey".

Richard "Young" Polite, returning to popular favor, scored an upset win over Gene Mock, former Diamond Belt champion. Polite swarmed all over the promising Mock to score a TKO in 51 seconds of the third round of the scheduled six-round semi-final. Referee Frankie Vann halted the scrap when Gene sustained a badly cut lip.

Four-round results: Johnny Jackson, in the Polite stable, knocked out Miller Fonseca in the first round. Kent Martinez stopped Babe Antunna in four; Ray Navarro and Clyde Alexander and Bobby Spivak and Carl Hall fought to draws.

The card sparkled with action thruout.

JACK JOHNSON, the irrepressible erstwhile world champion, is at it again. "Lil Arthur" will be 62 Sunday and he has offered to bet a suit of clothes that he can outpoint any heavyweight in Milwaukee for four rounds. Needless to say Jack doesn't look quite this spry. The picture was taken during the colorful fighter's hey-dey.

Attention, Professor Quiz!!

Mildred Blount Created Hats for 'Gone With Wind'

Here's one for Professor Quiz. Did you know that a brown-skinned little lady, who tips the scales breathlessly shy of 100 pounds, created some of the hats for famous film, "Gone With the Wind?"

Chances are the professor himself would fall shy of an answer to that one. But enlightenment follows.

Living quietly on the Westside is the lady in question, Miss Mildred Blount of New York. Miss Blount has been here some 8 months, since shortly after her designs were planed West for reproduction into gorgeous headgear for gorgeous Scarlett O'Hara.

The screen credits are given to John Frederics, Beverly Hills and New York, which is as it should be. Because John Frederics is the firm which hires Miss Blount and she gives all credit to them. But news gets about somehow.

THE STORY

The facts are these. Miss Blount was commissioned by her firm (she was employed then at the New York store) . . . to do a collection of period hats for the New York World's Fair. She spent three years doing research into the hat styles of three centuries, the 17th, 18th and 19th. Then she made the display, 87 hats in all, in miniature, from 12 to 13 inches in diameter.

"They weren't displayed at the Fair after all, but on Madison avenue," she explains. There they were seen by Mrs. David O. Selznick, wife of the producer of "Gone With the Wind." She evidently liked them and recommended them to Hollywood. John Frederics got the contract for "Gone With the Wind."

Miss Blount has seen the picture, of course, and Scarlett O'Hara wearing some of her creations. That was quite a moment!

Pittsburghers Visit Hattie McDaniel on 'Maryland' Set

HOLLYWOOD, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Dr. and Mrs. W. Roderick Brown of Pittsburgh, were guests on the set of "Maryland' at 20th Century-Fox last week at the invitation of Hattie McDaniel, who heads a large cast of sepia actors and actresses.

Dr. Brown, who is a member of the staff of the Tuberculosis League hospital and the City Tuberculosis hospital, both of Pittsburgh, has been on the coast for the past two weeks as guest lecturer and clinician for the second annual post graduate symposium. The post graduate course was for local physicians and lecturers and included such prominent names in medical circles as Dr. C. Leon Wilson of Chicago, Dr. Nolan A. Owens, Washington, D. C. Dr. Oma H. Price, New York and Dr. Brown.

Included in the party visiting the studio were Mrs. H. H. Towles and Mrs. Louise Lux. A studio guide took them all over the large studio and then brought them to the huge sound stage where "Maryland" is being filmed. Studio photographers took pictures of the party with leading members of the cast. The Browns, during their stay in Los Angeles were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Towles. They left at the end of the week to attend a similar symposium in St. Louis.

DEFENDS TITLE—Tomorrow night does the dapper heavyweight champion of the world, Joe Louis, Des Moines, Iowa's Johnny Paychek will attempt to prove he's not the bouncing kind when he tangles with Joe in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Bruins Crush Arizona; to Face SCAA

Hal Sinclair Stars in Opening Dual Meet at Westwood

Winning 10 of the 14 events and tieing in another, the UCLA Bruin track team defeated the University of Arizona Wildcats, 81½ points to 50½, in a dual meet last Saturday at Westwood.

With Bill Lacefield, star hurdler and broadjumper, out because of an attack of influenza, Hal Sinclair was the outstanding Bruin point-getter.

Sinclair took both sprints, running the 100 in 10.1 and coming back a few minutes later to reel off the 220 in 21.4. He also anchored the winning relay team.

Tom Bradley ran away with the 440 in the fair time of 49.1. He set his own pace all the way and probably could have shaved another second off his time had he been pushed.

Whether or not the Bruins will prove troublesome to Stanford and USC this season will be known this Saturday on the Bruins' field when they battle the powerful Southern California Athletic association aggregation which boasts a host of former USC stars.

Having recovered from the "flu," the return of Lacefield will strengthen the UCLA team no end for the meet.

NO HOCUS-POCUS

Negroes just don't step into positions like Miss Blount's, but she used no special hocus-pocus to get her job, she says. With the courage and self-confidence which training and ability give, she walked into John Frederics in New York about 10 years ago and asked for a job in the millinery department.

The management was doubtful, she said, of a Negro being permitted to work in harmony with whites, but she asked matter-of-factly to be allowed to make the adjustment herself. She did and reports the greatest possible harmony and friendliness with her fellow workers.

Tripp Leads San Diego to Victory

SAN DIEGO, Mar. 28—Jim Tripp shattered and near-shattered records right and left here Saturday to lead San Diego State to an 87½ to 33½ track and field victory over Occidental college.

Tripp ran the 440 in 49.6 to shatter the old San Diego record of 50.1 set in 1933; won the century in 9.9; and then took the broadjump with a leap of 23 feet, 3⅝ inches.

San Diego won all but two events and tied in another.

IMPROVED ALPHA FIVE THREATENS KAPPA COURT SUPREMACY

52-30 Loss to Kats Last Week Fails to Dampen Spirit of 'Apes' for Frat Finale

Has the Alpha Ape finally grown enough hair on its chest really to deliver? That is the question. The answer will be found in the closing chapter of the Fraternity Basketball series.

Heartened by a moral victory over themselves, (despite the lopsided score which spelled just another Kappa win last Saturday night), Alpha Phi Alpha is threatening to trim the claws of Kappa Alpha Psi when the two meet this Saturday night at Patriotic Hall.

It was a hopped-up Ape, in the first half at least, which threatened revolution in fraternaldom. Routing the Kappa defense, the Apes' own territory resembled the Mannerheim line as they withstood the Red-suited horde. For the proper dramatic punch, the game should have stopped at the half, 15-14, Kappa; instead, it went on disastrously to 52-30, Kappa.

COOPER-COACHED

Schooled in strategem by Ralph Cooper, screen-lover and athlete, (see theatricals), the Apes were a gladsome sight, at the start, to the high-spirited overflow crowd. Cooper had grafted on the old Million Dollar passing attack, and for 20 minutes, it baffled the Kappas. Eventually, however, the Kats perceived the missing link and the game lost all originality.

Said missing link was the pivot position in the pass formation, the spot held down by Father Miles on the MDP squad. Cooper undoubtedly figured he hadn't anyone to fill it, so he left it empty, throwing off the whole chain.

Some one left the cork off the bottle in the last half and the Kappas' Lowell Stewart hopped out. He proceeded to run up 16 points, a total of 18 making him the game's high point man.

Equally spectacular, by dint of all around play, rather than marksmanship, was Alpha Center Leonard McClain. McClain's 7 points tied him with Bill Terry for his team's high point honors, but his generalship and dexterity made him the outstanding man on the floor. Also worthy of notice were Kappas Lewis Love and John Randolph and Alphas Melvin Nickerson and Roy Barton.

A threatened exchange of fisticufsf between Barton, a red pepper, and veteran John Brewer added to the evening's excitement. Those Brewers furnish an annual inspiration to pugilistic display. It is recalled that Brother Al almost ran afoul of Alpha Jack Robinson on the same scene last year.

Robinson, by the way, failed to materialize as a threat to Kappa; as did Bill Lacefield. Both boys are religious in their obedience to UCLA's Conference rules.

The preliminary between Penn Service of Pasadena and Evan's Service Devildogs was the best yet. A hard fought tussle that went absolutely unnoticed by early arrivers, the Devildogs were victors, 18-17.

Detroit 'Policy King' Jailed for Contempt

DETROIT, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Everett Watson, manager of Roscoe Toles, heavyweight, and an alleged policy king, was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $100 for contempt of court Saturday by Circuit Judge Homer Ferguson, the one man grand jury proving charges of collusion between crime and law officers.

Watson, who recently gave up after being arrested in Chicago and fighting extradition, was reported to have refused to answer questions before the grand jury. He was the fourth grand jury witness to be sentenced by Judge Ferguson for contempt.

NEWS VIEWS

I see the sports scribes are picking the winners of the various baseball leagues. This is a form of Spring Fever that puts more gentlemen out on the limb than you can shake an option at. If all the predictions worked out every team in the league would wind up with the blue ribbon; however, there are more "ifs" in baseball than in a gallon of alphabet soup. Most of the lads are tabbing the Cincy Reds in the National League, the Yanks in the American and Seattle in the Coast League--if. There are still a number of games to be played—after the season opens.

U. C. L. A. professor, Frederick Woellner, says he would rather hit a child with an idea than with a club. That depends on the end in view.

Walker, Borican, Thompson, Smith Win in Chicago Relays

CHICAGO, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Mel Walker, John Borican, Ed Smith and Herbert Thompson won their events in the fourth Chicago relays at the International amphitheatre before 10,000 Saturday night, while Jimmy Herbert, world record holder at 600 yards, was crowded out and finished fourth in his specialty behind Roy Cochran of Indiana.

Walker, former Ohio State star, leaped 6 feet 5⅞ inches for a new relay mark. Dave Albritton, teammate of Walker's, tied for second at 6 feet 2 with Jim Smith, Northwestern's football star end. Borican retained his 1000 yard title in 2:14.1, considerably over his record set last year of 2:10.6.

Ed Smith, Wisconsin ace, took all four hurdle title winning the 40 yd. high hurdles in 5.1, the 50 in 6.3, the 60 in 7.4 and the invitation series 50 in 6.3. Herbert Thompson, New Jersey flash, won all three dashes at 40, 50 and 55 yards, in 4.6, 5.4 and 5.8 seconds. Mozelle Ellerbee of Tuskegee was second in the 50.

Duke Stars for UCLA Frosh

Hubert Duke, former Jordan High football and track star, continues to be one of the standouts on the UCLA frosh track and field team.

Last Saturday Duke finished third in the century against Long Beach Junior college's tracksters and won the 220 lows in 24.3.

Against Glendale J. C. Tuesday afternoon at Westwood, Duke broke the tape in the 100 in 10.1 and skimmed over the 220 lows in 24.8.

UCLA frosh, however, lost both meets.

Musicians Cheer Dot Maynor

PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 28. (ANP)—Shirtsleeved members of the noted Philadelphia orchestra who but a few moments before had been frowning at their scores stood up and cheered Friday for Dorothy Maynor, the new 29-year old soprano.

Miss Maynor came to rehearsal keyed up for her first appearance with the orchestra. When she appeared, Conductor Eugene Ormandy waved his baton. The players came to attention. With hands clasped under her chin, she began a Mozart aria, then "Depuis de Jour" from the opera "Louise."

She sang effortlessly, without gestures. When she stopped, there was a brief interlude of silence, then as spontaneous an ovation as has ever been rendered in the Academy of Music. Miss Maynor, surprised, turned toward Ormandy nervously. He clasped her hand, turned to an acquaintance and declared:

"Shes marvelous. She's one of the greatest singers I've ever heard."

ting Our Own Horn

r the past three weeks, the ornia Eagle has not been able pply demands. Each succeeding the total of printed copies has nted, but apparently to no ese are comforting words, in- for the heart of an editor-- s that warrant some expression atitude to the public that has e them true. But, as much as they d like to believe it, Eagle editors that the paper's current sucis due neither to public friendor loyalty. They know that there t one basis for such conspicuous circulation strides as made by the paper in recent months. The newspaper business is no different from any other. Simply, this journal has been giving its readers what they want--news, red hot and fresh off the griddle. As soon as it fails in this respect, the public will desert and circulation records will knock the floor out of the basement.

For sixty years the Eagle has been plugging away in Los Angeles. During that time, more than a hundred sheets have been born and have died. Some prospered for a brief period, others faded almost from the start. Perhaps the greatest failing in competitive newspapers here has been their lack of ability to hold public faith. Brief periods of exploitation and notoriety have skyrocketted many to instant popularity, but invariably the furore has calmed and the paper floundered.

This problem of 'public faith' is one that has faced and fouled many great metropolitan papers. It is among the intangible citadels of journalism; an art that completely transcends mere news gathering.

But, actually, there is no great difficulty in the process. As in most fundamental things of business and of life, the answer is a hard, simple truth: courage of convictions. No public can demand of its representative newspaper infallibility--it can demand clearness and consistency in an editorial policy. This is not to say that papers should be bound to tradition and previous opinion. Change is the vital essence of progress. However, undue fluctuation of editorial policy is more deadly than stagnation. It involves, first of all, repeated desertion of principles loudly touted and blatantly proclaimed. With each desertion, some group is alienated and public faith as a whole diminished. A twentieth-century reading public is not the emotional child of "the good old days". It will not be convinced on frequent successive occasions that black is white and green yellow. Readers of today know that inconsistency of policy is an indication--almost a flawless one--that somebody, somewhere is being paid-off.

Another fallacy in editorial conduct of many late and lamented local publishers is the slavish attempt to "string along" with public opinion. If the public hates Shaw, "Boo to Shaw!" If the public wants Bowron, "Hooray for Bowron!" If the public is weary with Bowron, "Down with Bowron!" It is a strange fact that the public apparently does not trust its own opinions, for whenever newspapers attempt their close duplication, they are deserted. But, after all, this is a just fate. The paper that has no convictions of its own, that feeds parasitically from the shifting menu of public opinion has no boon of leadership to recommend it.

However, the opposition to popular thought often entails a degree of journalistic courage. It is not always comfortable to stick to one's convictions--indeed, the convictions are not always correct. But it is better to cling to them in their hour of need, for abandonment at this time reflects the worst moral weakness. In the end, the pendulum must continue its operation, and readers will respect the community paper which has maintained its ideals through a period of famine. At least, this has been the experience of an old bird named "The California Eagle".

Incidentally, our 1940 circulation goal is fifty thousand! Why not be one of that number?

Where Are We Drifting Politically?

By CLINTON T. ROSS

Where we are drifting politically must occupy some of your thoughts if you are a voter, with the Presidential election swiftly approaching, with zealous politicians out lumbering to plane down a few good planks to fit the platforms of the two major parties. Never before perhaps, has the political situation loomed up so enigmatically in this speculation on the continuance of the President in office for an unprecedented third term, and with him, the New Deal. Speculation on legislative abolishment of the New Deal, without first definitely deciding upon what is to succeed, it still looks as if the ground is too wet yet to plow. The definite committal for 8 years to the policies of the New Deal will take as much patience and endurance as Harding, Coolidge and Hoover found undoing the Democrat administration of Wilson.

The bi-sexual suffrage, foreign loans and prohibition that slunk in during the Wilson administration proved entirely too much for three Republican administrations to solve. The present situation is worse. We are now chaotic. States rights, the only legitimate claim of the Democratic party to exist at all, has been completely abandoned by the Democrats themselves, and is as dead today as Democratic prohibition. Every one now has declared solidly for a strong national government. Despite the fact that the Solid South originated in States rights and will remain the Solid South regardless of the fact that you can't find an old-fashioned States righter in a dozen southern states, yet no one dares to whisper why the South is still going solid Democrat. This ace in the hole will remain long after any vestige of original Democrat philosophy has passed away. The best that can be said is that it is an old southern custom to vote the Democrat ticket. We know better than anyone how the South adheres to custom and tradition.

Not so stubborn is the Black man who politically has spread out in the last decade farther than wandering Hebrew. One of the potent questions is if he is going to continue to divide, or under some Moses, return to the Republican fold where he began, disappointed as he was to find it definitely a promised land, rather than his own land.

A strong National government looms as the big cornerstone in the coming election, principally because the efforts of not only the national government itself, but of its leading institutions has been devoted for the last decade to substituion of an artificial law to take the place of the natural law of supply and demand. Political wiseacres regardless of party affiliation, are unanimously opposed to the natural law of supply and demand, and it's definitely hard, almost futile, to legislate and administer with justice to all a better law or principle than the natural law of supply and demand. It means on the end of production—government control—and on the end—of consumption,—financing the consumer. And voters, it is infinitely more difficult to finance the consumer, in order to create an artificial demand than it is to finance the producer, to create a controlled supply of production and labor. There is the obvious reason that financing the consumer must be done without security, and to twist the human brain to the point where the government must take the security of the producer to safeguard their loss by financing both the producer and the consumer is apt to bring up the question of political vote-getting, or just plain injustice. It is essentially a national government problem, requiring barrels and barrels of investigations by census takers, administrative boards and bureaus of inquiry before spending Government money without security or reason. It is somewhat muddled by initiative action by states, counties and cities. However, in an intensely modern machine age, where your day laborer requires a neat apartment, gas and electric, with such appliances as electric refrigeration, electric washing machine, radio, and an auto, to even exist, the huge sum of about five dollars per day becomes a minimum wage. The natural law of supply and demand does not dictate such a huge amount per capita, and it is indeed questionable whether the security in the hands of the producer can sustain forever the advances that are being made, after investigation by the national government, to both the producer and consumer. Better financial experts say there is a quirk, that financing the consumer has become laborious and strained and that the national government, admitting certain progress falls away short of getting in as much as they are putting out. The man on the street says in many cases that they are, and the Republicans are speculating that there are more who will say at the polls that they are not, while still others are leaning toward regimentation, on the theory that the whole effort to defeat the law of supply and demand is too cumbersome, expensive and laborious to offset the advantages of modernism. No one seems yet able to declare decisively what the whole outcome is going to be. Any efforts to continue or discontinue the whole proposition of injecting intense civilization into Democracy involves dictatorship in the cloak of Democracy, sustained by the puritancial slogan that the majority rules!

Third Term Issue

From The Chattanooga (Tenn.) Observer.

The question uppermost in the minds of the American people today is—Will President Roosevelt set a new precedent by allowing himself to be nominated and become a candidate for a third term as President of the United States.

There is no written law on the statute books that prohibits any one from running three, four or five times as President of the United States but there is an unwritten law that says two terms as President of the United States are long enough for any one and that unwritten law has been adhered to by every President of the United States from George Washington down to (Franklin) Roosevelt.

George Washington, the first and possibly the most popular President that the nation has known, could have easily been re-nominated and re-elected. The same thing is true of John Adams, Thomas Jefferson and James Monroe, but they chose to adhere strictly to the precedent set by George Washington.

But after one hundred and fifty years of adherence to the unwritten law—we find that a New Deal President who is noted for setting new precedents (for example, changing the Thanksgiving Day date) is apparently willing to set aside the predominating custom as it relates to the Presidency of the United States, to offer himself for re-election.

And why? Does he think that he is the only man throughout the length and breadth of this country that is competent to guide the destiny of the American people? If he does, he is mistaken. Or, has his administration been so outstanding for good that there is a popular demand for his service? That, too, can be answered in the negative.

The misery, deprivation and suffering of millions of Americans who have been unemployed ever since the New Deal administration went into power in 1933 will say, as will millions of others, that there is no popular demand for a continuation of the New Deal administration in this country.

If this New Deal President insists on violating the unwritten law of two terms being long enough for any man in the White House, he should be reprimanded at the ballot box with defeat by the largest majority tha any candidate for President was ever defeated by.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

ONE LITTLE BROWN MAN WHO DID NOT FORGET

LAST WEEK a little brown Hindu shot and killed an Englishman, Sir Michael O'Dwyer, former Lieutenant Governor of Punjab, India. His name is Udham Singh Bawa, and he killed to avenge a wrong suffered 21 years ago.

Back in April, 1919, when Sir Michael was serving as Lieutenant Governor, a pint-sized revolt occurred in the city of Amritsar in Northern India. The arrest of two Nationalist leaders by the British authorities touched off the powder-keg. When the flare was over, several British agents had been killed, a bank plundered, a few Europeans attacked on the streets. A few days later Brigadier General Reginald Dyer was sent with troops, native, to preserve order. He immediately sent out a drum-crier through the streets shouting edict forbidding the assembling of more than three people at a time.

Later, the same day, 5000 peace-loving natives gathered in a large square of the city and passed resolutions condemning the rioting of their Nationalist brothers against their Great White Father, England. Their great White Father's representative, General Dyer however, saw in their act only disobedience to his orders. So he posted 50 (native) Gurkha troopers at all the exits from the square and ordered them to fire into the crowd of men, women and children, until their amunition gave out.

Instead of turning their guns on him — as they should have done — they obeyed and slaughtered their own kinsmen. The official casualty list was 379 killed and 1200 wounded. Its announcement caused General Dyer to remark that "They (the natives) were good targets". The next day Governor Michael O'Dwyer sent the general a message saying, "Your action was correct, I approve." Udham Eingh Bawa who killed Michael O'Dwyer last week, had lot his brother in the Amristar masscre.

THE TRAIL OF VENGANCE

Seven years ago Singh left India on his mission of vengance. Unable to go directly to England, he traveled a roundabout way, through California, thence to Brazil, finally reaching London five years ago. Once arrived, he lived in hermitic seclusion, his sole though the avenging of his brother's death. His opportunity finally came when a lecture on "Afghanistan" was held at Caxton Hall in London last week which Sir Michael O'Dwyer attended.

Sir Michael spoke for 15 minutes during which time he frequently indulged in pungent gibes toward Indian Nationalism. At the close of the meeting Singh shot him twice through the heart. When captured he said placidly "I didn't mean to kill him; I only wanted to protest."

As a matter of course Singh will suffer an assassin's punishment, death. Yet compared with the native Gurkha soldiers who perpetrated the massacre of their own kinsmen at the behest of the Great White Father's representative, he should be rated a Saint and duly canonized.

TAPS SOUNDING ON BRITISH SUPREMACY

This is the Britain who dares to weep over the rape of Finland; who shouts aloud that she will not stop fighting—if she ever gets started—until all small nations are safe from the brutal heel of autocracy. Such breat-beating is enough to make one laugh.

The truth is that Britain is typfied by her Premier, Lord Chamberlain. Nero fiddled while Rome burned, Chamberlain fiddles around with his umbrella diplomacy while Britain drowns in the icy waters of Indecision. Chamberlain is old, rich, hesitant, befuddled. So is the British Empire. He has a horse-and-buggy mind, a fatuous faith in the power of MONEY to accomplish all ends, to purchase Loyalty. Alliances, Friendship, to spread dis-affection and undermine unfriendly governments. Both of them are bowed down, and insulated by age, have failed to realize that THOUGHT is more potent than mere accumulated WEALTH because Thought created Wealth.

The day has arrived however when nations are refusing to be enslaved by mere yokes of gold alone. They have evolved new ideals, new conceptions of Life which they hold dearer than the diamond-studded yoke artful Britain has so long imposed upon their galled shoulders. In short, they have learned that they CAN eyist and thrive without the purple of Britain's strangle-hold upon the money markets and industrial enterprises of the world.

This is the real situation underlying the present European war. Nations have begun to THINK; and Thought is inevitably the prelude to CHANGE.

It is "a consumation devoutly to be wished" that all nations shall speedily learn and practice the intermediate line of justice between the classes and masses of mankind, and thus exemplify in all things the universal equity of Christianity.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Justice is indispensable for the conduct of business.—Cicero.

• LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

My first words should be how thankful I am to God for you and your wonderful work and the EAGLE. No other paper that I know of anywhere would send week after week and month after month their paper to a person who had paid as little as I have, and yet each Monday morning, the first thing I reach for when the mail comes, is the EAGLE, for I know it's there.

Mrs. Bass, please don't think for a moment that this trust and faith in us, and when I say that I mean all Negroes everywhere, will go to waste. For sometime, in the not too distant future, we will realize the great importance of the Negro press.

My prayers go up for you each time I pray. Please find inclosed two dollars, to be applied on my account, and send a statement for whatever the balance is.

May God's blessings always fall abundantly on you and yours.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. V. C. MORRIS

MOTHERS, TAKE NOTICE

Dear Editor:

I would just like to give the mothers a hint. If the parents would go to the school cafeteria managers or whoever is selling candies and cookies at school, they would know how much money some of their children are bringing to school. Of course, it is not all spent at school cafeterias. They stop on the way and buy from other shops. In my six years in the public city school cafeterias, I was able to help several families find out where their children were getting extra spending money.

I must say that all clerks, cafeteria managers and principals are not interested in the child, nor his family that much. All they want is the receipts for the day to be good. Only one who is interested in the upbuilding of the children as good, honest citizens will take the time to take notice, unless some teacher happens to miss money from her purse. Then every child in the school is shaken down, otherwise no attention is paid to the matter.

At some of these Eastside schools, too many girls and boys are allowed off the school grounds at noon recess. It is a shame to stand on the streets and see the number of girls and boys on the Avenue in the beer spots, stores and restaurants where they are selling drinks; to see them eating there and playing the music boxes in these places. They have school cafeterias on the grounds for those who want to buy their lunch, cold drinks or ice cream. The storekeeper has to make a profit and he or she is doing it at the expense of some child.

Where are the school truant officers? They are all whites and don't give a d—— about the Mexican and black child. All they care about is the salary that the taxpayer hands out. I know cases personally that I took up with certain truant officers about race girls and white men, insurance agents. The officer and the principal both said they were interested in the kids only when they were on the school grounds. When it comes to Mexicans and Negroes, parents need to bestir themselves where the lack is and get busy and mend it.

Dear Editor:

In reference to an article in your paper (The Booker T. Washington) postage stamp, I wish to state that the stamp referred to will have its first day of issue at the Tuskegee Institute, Alabama postoffice on Founders Day which is April 7. Since I am closely associated with the group who began the movement for this stamp I am intensely interested in this stamp reception, as you know this is the first time that a Negro has been so honored in the United States and fittingly this stamp is being issued from a postoffice manned by Negroes at a Negro Institution, and the First Stamp issued First Day in the State of Alabama.

All Americans should be interested in securing this token of American tolerance and fair-mindedness in giving honor where honor is due, since Mr. Washington was the first American to really glorify labor and started a new trend in American education, of course it is known that the first day of Issue Covers (stamped envelopes bearing the cancellation at the government designated post office) will become an article of value worth keeping in all stamps (I am a stamp collector) and should be secured if possible. So the Tuskegee Philatelic club, Harold Saunders, secretary, Post Office Box 297, Tuskegee Institute, Ala., has arranged to service engraved covers for 20c each on the first day and in the case of school children, if a self addressed envelope and 12c is sent a cachet will be applied.

Very truly yours,

Dear Editor:

Our League is desirous of having Miss Eetta Moten appear in recital. We heard she would be on the coast this Spring or early Summer, and all efforts to locate her have failed. So knowing how well your paper stays close to things and people of our race who are trying to do things, prompted us to write you to place the proper address on the enclosed envelope and mail for us. Thanking you in advance for this favor, and assuring you and your staff, that to us your paper is our paper since it serves San Diego so well.

Each race of people in its individual growth has roots which produced a characteristic literature. Long before the common people read books they told their tales and sang their ballads. From this background has come the rich heritage of folk and fairy tale, much of which was handed down from the past by word of mouth. There are perhaps, no books in the children's rooms of the Vernon Branch library, 4504 S. Central avenue, or of the Helen Hunt Jackson Branch library, 2330 Naomi avenue, which have given as much sincere joy.

The stories grew out of the experiences of the peasant in relation to his daily work, his hopes and fears. Quite naturally, the tyrant of that day became the giant or witch of the tale told at he fireside, the best of them distinguished by a natural, direct style.

Think of the story of Tom Tit Tot, considered by its collector unequalled among folk tales for its humor and dramatic power; or of Molly Whuppie—that brave, clever child who faced a giant four times, and thereby married off each sister to a prince. Laugh at the robust, natural humor of Gone Is Gone, in which the husband and wife change jobs, and the man finds out that to plough is easier than keeping house. Feel the mysterious suspense that followed The Cat And The Dream Man. Enjoy the beauty of a May evening in the wood where the trees were of jewels, and The Dancing Princesses ran home at dawn, with slippers worn through to the welts. Rejoice in the integrity of that boy Dick Whittington who, with his best friend, a cat, journeyed to London. Faithful to their jobs, they found a fortune.

Whatever the origin, whether the retelling of actual events or the record of vain longings, these tales "reflect the disparities that divide all mankind; the strength, riches, cruelty of those in power, the gentleness and justice of those touched with true humility. In his stories, the peasant becomes the equal of princes and kings, he could defeat beasts and ogres and strike down a thousand devils; however harsh his lot and burdensome his toil, there were compensations awaiting him in his dreams."

It is not only a happy part of the education of the child, but an influence in the development of character to read the folk literature of the race. It is indeed a rich heritage.

• THE WORLD THIS WEEK

Once more springtime is sweeping over California, painting orchards, deserts and valleys with her glowing rainbow-pallette of colors as old Sol rolls up from below the equator and joins with Mother Nature in adorning the earth with gorgeous raiment.

In Southern California, Indian paint brush, desert primrose, owl's clover and the yellow mantle of wild mustard are brightening fields and mountain slopes. Great fertile acres of the San Joaquin and Santa Clara valleys will soon be covered by a sea-foam of white and pink blossoms, and along the coastal hills and valleys from the Big Sur country northward beyond the towering cliffs of Mendocino county, golden poppies, wild iris, and tiger lily are beginning to unfurl bright banners which herald the advent of Spring.

Main-traveled roads and byways will again be thronged with week-end sightseers getting eye-thrilling views of Nature's pageantry. But let none think the arrival of Spring leads only to contemplation. Lands which slumbered through the winter have come to life again, reviving the staccato clatter of lawn-mowers. Amateur gardeners are busily setting out shoots and planting seeds, and with jealous paternal care, fighting off a ferociously hungry army of snails and sow bugs which threaten his defenseless wards.

There's no mistaking it. Spring is in the air, in the fields and the orchards, proclaiming the earth's re-birth!

APRIL 15!

Round One is over! Having just lost his shirt to Uncle Sam, the taxpayer is now prepared, come April 15, to lose his undershirt to the State tax collector.

And it can't be said the majority of the public cares much. More than 90 percent of them pay no taxes directly, while remaining shamefully ignorant of the billions they pay in hidden, indirect taxes.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Astrological knowledge is the key to a full rich life. And the lack of this knowledge oftimes results in disaster and unhappiness.

Life's problems are many, and varied, they seem to tumble over one another in a never ending line thus causing heartaches. A good deal of our troubles and worries could be avoided if we let our lucky stars and guiding planet aid us in making decisions and governing our lives according to the different zodiacal signs.

If you have a difficult problem to solve, and are on the brink of choosing a life's mate, or vocation, it would be wise to refer to your horoscope. Do not let unseen forces stand in your way, or the lack of Astrological knowledge keep you from the love, happiness, and success, that should be a part of your life. Write Prof. Herman today.

B. D.—I left my nephew's bath robe and coat on a bus while traveling last summer. Can you tell what became of them?

Ans.—It appears to me that you have waited a long time to investigate these articles. If you had done so at the time you lost them the bus company might have been able to trace them. I do not vision your getting them back now. A passenger found them, and after no one reported their loss, kept them.

O. W.—I am a reader of the wonderful work you are doing and would like your opinion on this question. When will I leave here?

Ans.—It comes to me that it is your desire to move away from your present surroundings as soon as possible. And there will be an opportunity presented to you within the next 2 months that will enable you to leave.

M. C. M.—It is my wish to marry soon, will I be able to do so?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals your marrying A. R. R the last of this year. You both have lots of things in common which will help you to make a successful marriage.

B. R.—Will I be successful in the plans I have made?

Ans.—If you will notice, good fortune and prosperity evades those who are unwilling to strive for her favors. So if you put your time and energy into your plans they will meet with unexpected success.

J. C. S.—Will I get the job I have applied for, soon?

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal sign, you are to have unusually good luck for the next few months. And one of the things will be your getting a good job. So cheer up, bright and happy days are coming.

M. J.—Am I going to get the job I am applying for? Does the man I love care for me? Will I ever get married?

Ans.—I am very sorry, but only one question is answered in the column, if you RDLU R MHR column. If you will write in for a private reply, I shall be glad to advise you.

B. M.—I am a girl in prison, and have a ten year's sentence to serve I don't have anyone to write to except an uncle, whose whereabouts I don't know. Can you give me any information concerning him?

Ans.—It seems that your uncle if not aware of your present predicament and would certainly write to you if he knew where you are. I suggest that you write to his former address and ask them to forward the letter for you.

L. B. H.—Dear Sir: I am a constant reader of your column and enjoy it very much. You have helped so many people, and I believe you can help me solve my problem. I am a married woman, and my husband has been acting strange lately. Do you think he will change if I go and live where he is working?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, the answer I find is that he is unhappy because he has to be away from you so much. I suggest that you make arrangements to move there as soon as possible. You will be much happier, also.

2: Det. C. W. Fruitt, investigating a "see the woman" call to 1166½ E. Adams, found the "woman" to be Nettie Bealy, 9, of the above address.

Nettie told the detective that while she and her playmates were standing at the corner of Naomi and Adams, listening to a sound truck, a young white man, stopped his grey coupe across the street, license 70M101, and called to Betty Jean Thomas, 13, to get in. When she didn't, he drove away.

3: Mrs. Ivy Henry, 1511 E. 15th street, reported to Newton that on Mar. 25 a white man, driving a '27 or '28 Chevrolet coach, to which she obtained the license, stopped across the street from her home and asked her if she knew anything about the Dorothy Gordon kidnaping case. When she said she didn't, but referred him to the police, he said, "I think I'll turn detective and start working on the case." He drove away, but did not go to Newton street.

4: The following letter was received at Newton street Mar. 23:

"Dear Friend:

I want to help all I can in this case.

But the man you are looking for is not in Los Angeles. He is around San Diego, Calif., and when this letter reaches you all, I will be looking there for him and the little girl.

Yours truly,

Janitor Fires Bullet That Takes Own Life

Forced to lay off from his job as janitor at City Hall because of sickness, McDuffie Sealey, 47, of 1553 E. 54th street, took his own life Monday of last week, shooting himself thru the head.

Mrs. Sarah Sealey, his wife, told Newton Street Detective R. E. Berger that he had been drinking heavily up until the Friday before and that he suffered from kidney trouble and gastritis.

The day before the fatal shooting, Mrs. Sealey said her husband asked her where the gun, a .38 calibre one, was because he wanted it for protection. Monday morning, after she had finished washing, she came in the house and found him lying in a pool of blood.

Removed to the County Morgue, the body was later released to Angelus Funeral Home.

Young Woman Fails in Suicide Try

Leaving a note: "I can't carry on any longer. Please forgive me," Zera Moten, 26, of 230 E. 45th street, made an unsuccessful attempt to take her own life last Saturday night, according to Newon street police.

Heard groaning after she had fallen to the floor of her room by Frances Henderson, of the same address, the latter, noting she had swallowed iodine, gave her two large glasses of milk and called University ambulance.

Taken to Georgia Street Receiving hospital, where physicians said her condition was not serious, Miss Moten told Newton Detectives W. I. Dissinger and J. J. Steffens she was out of work and had no money.

To Push Garner Campaign Here

Political observers stated here last night that the Garner-for-President campaign will be vigorously pushed in California.

Greatest Garner appeal in the State will be to farmer groups—right wing of the State Democratic party. Plans are already underway for monster "support Garner" mass meetings in Fresno and other sections of central California.

Card of Thanks

The family of the late Mrs. Mary Mobley of 926 E. 31st street, wish to thank their many friends who were so kind during their sad hours of bereavement, and for the beautiful floral offerings.

MRS. LA VADA COLEMAN

• POLITICAL POT-PIE

Among our correspondence this week is a touching admonition from Zach Lamar Cobb, Co-Chairman of the California Garner for President Committee, that we "as a friend of Mr. Garner's . . . bring at least five of your friends with you . . . to a mass meeting opening his campaign here Mar. 30 in the auditorium of the California Hotel, at Fresno . . . so that your immediate community will be properly represented."

It is painful to disappoint such tender trust. However, we feel it only fair herewith to announce and to proclaim that the only probable condition under which we might attend this meeting would be as honorary bearer of a stink-bomb—and still, we suspect that competition in this line would render such a device quite unnecessary.

Sorry, friend, no sale.

The Industrial Press Service, an official organ of the National Association of Manufacturers and National Industrial Council, points out in a recent edition that industry "isn't falling for the prospect of 'war profits.'"

The attitude is interesting when one notes the difference from opinions of industrial leaders just before the last fiasco. At that time, general notion was that war gravy was going to flow thick and fast—leaving in its trail a beautiful view of fat purses and new millionaires.

Brought to our attention this week of a nifty little sheet printed by two young men a a government camp for single men at Lawndale, California. One is a Negro and the other a caucasian. It is called "Alandro Park News Briefs.' The miniature journal is fast and witty, really a credit to the two men who create the copy. Typical excerpt: "Why is an SERA check like a cameo? Ans. Both are cut."

Under the chairmanship of veteran Joe Scott, the committee working in behalf of a Buron Fitts testimonial dinner, is making excellent strides. Incidentally, few similar committees in recent years have represented such a fine cross-section of Angelenos. According to a letter to this column from Scott, "The civic-minded citizens of this community wish to convey to Mr. Fitts, on this occasion, their appreciation of his 21-years of public service. Entering the District Attorney's office in 1919 as a young deputy, he steadily worked his way to the top, becoming District Attorney in 1928. The Committee feels that Mr. Fitts has earned the recognition and commendation of the citizens of this country for his devotion to their cause."

There's a good deal of truth in the statement, too".

With Val Verde Park swimming pool completed and ready for dedication and formal opening on May 26, Supervisor Gordon L. McDonough, chief supporter of the project, inaugurated steps this week to construct a nine-hole golf course at the popular play center.

Pause briefly, to note that the swimming hole up there is really the business. It does everything but swim for you.

The Supervisor made his proposal to the Board of Supervisors at this week's meeting, with instruction to the chief administrative officer that such a golf course be included in the next budget for Federal projects sponsored by the County of Los Angeles.

Ample and suitable acreage for construction of a golf course to increase opportunities for "wholesome outdoor activities" at Val Verde are said to be available by recreational officials.

Something to think about is the logical beef of California farmers in their California Progress Review this week. The squawk quotes so:

"Decisions in the big gray city by the Thames are leaving their mark on the sunlit slopes and fields of California's agricultural empire.

"Anxious to save her dwindling United States dollars, the British government last week clamped a tighter padlock on her importing firms. Having already sharply curtailed imports of California's canned and dried fruits, the new order bans importation of some five million dollars worth of oranges yearly.

"But two facts in this issue should not be overlooked. The first is that Britain is required to give cash, not credit, for her purchases in this country. That she should divert as much as possible of that cash into war materials is natural. The second is that California is one of the largest beneficiaries of any state in the Union of Britain's war purchases, as the humming aircraft industry in Southern California well testifies.

"The aircraft worker heartily approves the arrangement. But the California farmer is asking, 'What about me?'

"Is there a remedy for his shrinking markets? Congress might enact legislation limiting the amount of war materials we will sell, thus forcing the Allies to divert part of their funds to agricultural products. A second possible remedy calls for long-overdue legislative action against the many tariff walls and interstate commerce blockades which today limit the market for California agriculture in the United States. A period which finds these markets hit by embargoes, domestic and foreign, is at least no time to make new tariff walls between states as the Patman bill, now before a congressional committee, proposes to do. A measure which seeks to block more efficient and wider distribution stamps itself as definitely out of joint with the times and wide of the mark in answering America's needs.

"At all times, the answer to the decisions made in the big gray city by the Thames can and must be found in the halls of our own Congress." . . . Of course, the pictured pathetic California farmer is the same gent who has perpetrated vicious labor exploitation upon migratory workers. Perhaps his injustices are coming home to roost.

portance. No whole is greater than its weakest part. No city is better than its humblest section. We are poor here because we are victims of unjust economic discrimination--but also because we have not seized full advantage of our business opportunities. We are ill housed because our residential district is viciously restricted--but also because we have not owned our own property. Our cultural standard is low because of our environment--but also because we have not made the best of that environment.

Quarterly Meet at Phillips

Second Quarterly Conference will be held at Phillips Temple CME church with Rev. G. L. Hays, Presiding Elder, in charge of services morning, afternoon and night. Rev. Hays will deliver the sermon at both the 11:00 a.m. and 7:45 p. m. services. In the afternoon at 3:30, Union Quarterly services will be featured by the message being delivered by Rev. W. M. Buck of Santa Monica. All the CME ministers and pastors will be present at this service. The Senior and Gospel Choirs will render fitting music for the occasion. Monday evening business session will be held at the Church. Pastor ad members of Phillips Temple are working hard to make this session of the Quarterly Conference the best in the history of the church.

Promptness of Angelus Makes Hit

From time to time, patrons of the Angelus Funeral Home have written letters, called in by telephone, and other ways expressed their appreciation especially for the promptness with which the Angelus responds to their every need and convenience from the moment the first call is made.

This outstanding feature is one that has made the Angelus the most popular institution of its kind on the Eastside. When they receive a call, the entire staff is immediately available to give the patron every possible consideration and service. If they receive a number of calls within the same day, or even within the same hour, Manager J. H. Hill has developed a rapidly functioning system with ample facilities to give the same prompt attention to all patrons alike, regardless of the number that call the Angelus at the same time.

With a large fleet of Cadillac cars, and a large number of late model emergency cars at their disposal, and attendants trained in courtesy and efficiency, no member of a family has to wait a long time to attend to any of their business, or be taken anywhere necessary.

Besides, there are no "extras" for this important service. Everything for the comfort and convenience of each individual patron is included in just one estimate; and every service, whether large or small, is given the same careful, conscientious, sympathetic attention. Those highly specialized features account for the increasing number of families requesting the services of Angelus Funeral Home each month.

Alexander Honored at Luncheon

Bureau of Power, Light Employes in Tribute to Vet

Titus Alexander, retiring veteran employe of the Bureau of Power and Light, was feted yesterday afternoon at a luncheon sponsored by his section of the great municipal organization.

Held at the exclusive 'Eleda,' Crenshaw at Forty-third, the affair was a heartfelt tribute by colleagues to the well known civic and political leader.

Marking a historic event in local history, a monster banquet is being prepared for tomorrow night by the whole body of the Bureau of Power and Light Employes association in Alexander's honor at Los Angeles' famed Commodore Hotel. The event will be covered by metropolitan papers and is a trailblazer in thus honoring a Negro.

Among occupations planned by Alexander after his retirement are continued historical research, a long time hobby; collection of fossils, and "a lot of fishing." The Westside figure is one of the outstanding experts on Negro history in the nation and possesses a valuable collection of rare books on the subject. He has already willed the bulk of this important library to the Huntington Museum.

John Dockweiler Enters District Attorney Race

John F. Dockweiler, Congressman for six years from the Sixteenth District, this week announced his candidacy for District Attorney of Los Angeles County, following insistent public demand that he make the race in the August 27 primaries. He said

"I have made the decision only after mature consideration and many conferences with various groups that have asked that I permit them to place my name on the ballot, and if it is the will of the voters, I shall be most happy to serve my state and the people of my native county in this non-partisan office.

"If elected, I shall conduct the office in such a manner that every citizen may take pride in it. There shall be no special interests dictating policies of the office.

"Where prosecution is necessary, cases will be prosecuted with honesty, diligence, and unbiased energy. However it will be prosecution—never persecution.

"Civil liberties and civil rights of individuals and organizations shall be respected. The Constitutions of the United States and of California must not be abrogated.

"I shall never forget that public officials must be as keenly interested in rehabilitation of men and women who have paid their debt to society as they should be in seeing to it that lawbreakers are punished. Particularly does this apply to youth of California."

During this years in Congress, Dockweiler, who began the practice of law in Los Angeles in 1922 after graduation from U. S. C., introduced and battled for numerous constructive legislative measures.

A PARADE 33 MILES LONG

A parade of Edison Company stockholders—98,094 strong, marching four abreast—would be thirty-three miles long. It would take such a parade approximately twelve hours to pass a given point. ★ There would be 52,637 men, 42,508 women, and 2,306 children in the parade, representing every kind of occupation—farmers, laborers, clerks, housewives, executives. ★ And it would be a parade of Californians, too, for approximately 80% of the Edison stockholders live in California. It is a Southern California company, owned and operated by Southern Californians.

GLOBE NEWS & GOSSIP

By JAY GOULD

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 28.—Tanforan Race Track had the biggest crowd Saturday of all times. Sam Taylor, the colored boy, and owner of Bachelor Tom came close to grabbing the big pot of gold as his horse came in third.

Bee North formerly of L. A. took an ocean liner to Trinidad and round the West Indian way for six months and gained 22 pounds. On her return she looked through four wardrobe trunks trying to find an outfit large enough to fit her.

It's a puzzling thing how Charley Alexander, Black Dot McGee, Mahall Black and Hobert Saunders keep up with such little rest. They only sleep four months out of a year and spend the other eight playing the hot night spots and different games of chance.

Ethelyne Costello, of Chicago fame, operating a restaurant across the street from the Dunbar Hotel, is one of the real stylers.

Charley Moore, movie star who once had pretty Dolores Battle's photo sitting on his dresser, has discarded the photo, and reconciled with his wife.

Colleen Carter Drake Paree dancer of the Dunbar Hotel, wishes that Bill McGee, the rich Seattle sportsman would hurry and say the word. Yes I will.

SAFEWAY PIONEERS ANOTHER FORWARD STEP!

For years, merchants of Southern California have been selling by "Piece" such items of fresh produce as lettuce, carrots, celery, cauliflower and oranges. Variations of size and weight in these items make comparisons of value only approximate when this method of measurement is used.

Only when the measure is by WEIGHT and set by COUNT can accurate values be ascertained by purchasers of these commodities. Therefore Safeway stores are now pricing and selling by the "Pound" all of the following: Avocados, Grapefruit, Lemons, Oranges, Artichokes, Beets, Carrots, Mustard Greens, Green Onions, Radishes, Spinach, Turnips, Water Cress, Cauliflower, Celery, Lettuce and Romaine. Tops will be removed from carrots, turnips and beets and foliage from cauliflower before weighing.

Every item on our fruit and vegetable stands is thus sold by WEIGHT. We believe that this new plan will meet with your approval, and we ask your cooperation in its practice.

ORANGES 6 lbs. 15c — Sweet, juicy, California navels. All sizes, medium to extra large, at same price.
GRAPEFRUIT lb. 2c — Imperial Valley grown, sweet grapefruit. Filled with juice. Your choice of sizes at this low price.
LEMONS 3 lbs. 10c — Fancy quality, medium to large size. For flavoring or for beverages.
BANANAS FIRM RIPE lb. 5c — Firm, large bananas, control-ripened to a golden yellow. For cooking or eating. Priced low at Safeway.
CARROTS BEETS & TURNIPS lb. 2c — Crisp, fresh, washed root vegetables. Tops removed before weighing. For soups, stews, or for salads.
CELERY CRISP STALKS lb. 5c — Fancy quality, thick type celery. Medium to large size stalks. Crisp, freshly cut.
LETTUCE SOLID HEADS lb. 5c — Good size heads of solid, crisp, freshly-cut lettuce. Excellent for salads. Specially priced at Safeway.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT BUYING PRODUCE BY WEIGHT!

QUESTION: I have been used to buying many fruits and vegetables by the dozen and by the bunch. I don't know how much these units will weigh. How can I order by the pound?

ANSWER: Until you become familiar with weights, continue to order by number if you prefer. Safeway produce men will gladly show you the weight of the quantity you request . . . . with no obligation on your part to buy. Under this method, you can buy just the amount that you need, thereby eliminating waste and expense.

QUESTION: If this plan is so good, why have merchants been selling many items of produce by count?

ANSWER: Selling by piece is merely a trade custom. Many localities have sold cauliflower, carrots, etc., by weight for years. Safeway is convinced that sales by weight are the fairest.

QUESTION: You say this plan makes comparisons easier. Won't it be more difficult than ever to make comparisons now, when some merchants selling by the pound and some by the piece?

ANSWER: We hope that eventually everyone will sell by weight. Even now, all you need do to compare is check the weight of your purchases—wherever you buy and whatever the method of pricing and selling.

QUESTION: I never use the tops of carrots, beets and turnips. Do I have to pay for them when you weigh my purchases?

ANSWER: Certainly not. Tops are removed from these root vegetables before weighing. Foliage is removed off cauliflower before it is weighed, too.

QUESTION: Speaking of root vegetables, how about buying just a carrot or two? I often want just a few of each of several vegetables for cooking soup.

ANSWER: The new plan lends itself admirably to the purchase of vegetables for soups and stews. You buy no more than you need, paying—by weight—for just what you get. If you wish, items of the same price per pound can be mixed and you pay for the total weight.

QUESTION: I feel that I am an expert in the selection of citrus fruits. How can this plan benefit me?

ANSWER: In oranges, lemons and grapefruit, what you really buy is juice. Two oranges of exactly the same size may vary greatly in juice content. This variance is indicated by their comparative weights. When you purchase by weight, you pay for what you actually get. Juicy oranges weigh more, and thus cost more than orange with less juice.

New $100,000 Hall to Be Erected at Simmons Univ.

LOUISVILLE, Mar. 28—Dr. N. B. Lanier, president of Simmons university here has announced that ground will soon be broken for the construction of Wood F. Axton Memorial Hall. A campaign for a building and endowment fund of $100,000 to pay costs of erecting and maintaining the building, began a few months ago, is progressing satisfactorily.

Decision to give Axton's name to the new hall of the University, which is one of the nation's leading schools for the training of Negro ministers, was announced by Dr. Lanier, who said . . .

"It is thought eminently befitting by our group to pay respect and honor ,memorialized in a building to be known as Wood F. Axton Hall, in recognition of a devotion materially expressed, while living, and in his last testament to honor our benefactor, Wood Ficth Axton. He was progressive and ethical in his business practices, broad in his humanitarianism, and he reached a helping hand to Simmons University during many a crisis."

At the time of his death, Woodford F. Axton was president of the Axton-Fisher Tobacco company, whose destinies he guided for many years. It was under his direction that the company launched Twenty Grand cigarettes, which rapidly became the leader in the 10 cent cigarette field. His brother, Edward Axton, is still active in the company.

Axton's interest in Simmons university began many years ago. The school is one of the oldest theological seminaries for the Negro race in the country, founded 66 years ago.

In 1873, the General Association of Colored Baptist of Kentucky, realizing the importance of educating colored youth to act as ministers, leaders and teachers of their race, secured a charter from the State and organized the work of providing their people with the opportunity to receive the higher education so many of them were anxious to secure.

In 1884, the Institution was made a university and its name changed to State University, which name was retained until 1918, when the State University was renamed Simmons University in memory of Dr. William J. Simmons, who served as its president for the 10 year period from 1880 to 1890.

Sky Ravage

By LeROY LAWS

A roof caves in! A life goes out
Tawny flames claw a crimson sky
We live in the midst of death
Rained down from the skies
Brought by swift metal clouds
With bombsights for eyes.
We hear a scream! we hear a prayer
Then we hear men curse
Help that comrade! help that child!
Another shell will burst!
Women pray upon their knees
For the day to break.
A swallow flew from the caves
Another home to make.
Another roar! another cloud
Will leave within its wake
Destruction to make it proud
And widows and orphans not to forsake.

N. Y. Hails New Dance Artist

NEW YORK, Mar. 28—New York is hailing a new dance artist, comely Katherine Dunham, whose new show will be seen three more Sundays in a row at the Windsor theatre on Broadway.

The Dunham show is no ordinary musical revue with leanings to the burlesque side. It purports to trace the history of the Negro dance from Africa, through its South American to its North American variations.

The result is a variety of colorful and fastly-paced sequences.

The program, with an all-Negro cast, opens with primitive rhythms in three groups, followed by a Cuban rumba, a Mexican rumba, a Peruvian number, a Brazilian and a group of West Indian numbers. In the latter, Miss Dunham scores particularly as the "Woman with a Cigar."

Miss Dunham explains that her aim in the unusual dance program is to "attain a status in the dance world that will give the Negro dance student the courage really to study and the reason to do so. And to take our dance out of the burlesque—to make it a more dignified art."

Miss Dunham was graduated in anthropology from the University of Chicago. As a student, she taught dancing. In 1936, she went to the West Indies on a Rosenwald Foundation to study dances of Jamaica, Haiti, Martinique and Trinidad.

Labor Sports League Opens Drive on Jim Crow Baseball

NEW YORK, Mar. 28. (CNA)—The big 1940 push to end discrimination against Negro players in professional baseball is on.

The New York Trade Union Athletic Association this week voted unanimously to launch a petition drive for a million signatures to end the jim-crow practice by the big league clubs.

The campaign to do away with the Jim Crow restrictions reached a new high point last year when managers and players of both of the big leagues attested to the major league calibre of at least 20 Negro stars and said they would be glad to have them on the teams if given permission by the magnates.

One magnate, William Benswanger of the Pittsburgh Pirates promised he would vote in favor of ending Jim Crow if the question came up at the winter meeting of the magnates, but lack of organized pressure kept the question from coming up officially The winter meeting, however, received 50,000 signatures to petitions asking an end of the Jim Crow ban on Negro players. The signatures were collected by Negro and white members of the Young Communist League at the ball parks.

Negro's Contribution to Sports Will Be Big Feature of Summer Exposition in Chicago

CHICAGO, Mar. 28.—What the Negro has contributed to sports in America will be the subject of a special exhibit at the American Negro Exposition, here July 4 through Sept. 2.

Plans for the special Sports Section are being worked out. Complete cooperation from Mike Jacobs' enterprises, rulers of present day boxing: Ring Magazine, boxing publication: the Amateur Athletic Union, colleges and universities as well as private individuals is assured.

The Exposition, national in scopue and expected to attract 2,000,000 visitors of both races during its 60 day duration, has the active support of the state of Hinois which contributed 75,000, and is expected to receive federal aid through a bill introduced in Congress by Arthur W. Mitchell asking anoth-$75,000.

Arrangements are being made to have such internationally famous sports celebrities as Joe Louis, Henry Armstrong, Jesse Owens, John Woodruff, John Borican, Ralph Metcalfe, Jimmy Herbert appear in person periodically.

Milkman Always Prepared For Notes On Doorstep

JUST a scribbled note and if you want an extra quart of milk tomorrow it will be there because one of the simplest operations in the household routine is turning the milk on or off at the doorstep.

Unexpected company arrives to spend the night. No need to stretch the cream, just leave a note. Husband decides without warning on a weekend jaunt, so there will be nobody home till Monday. Just leave a note for the milkman.

Because this is a part of the accepted service of American milk distribution, most people take it as a matter of course. Whatever the penciled note, the distributor's route man deposits the specified bottles. It would be a different story in other parts of the world, says the Dairy Industry Foundation. Along comes a local holiday or festival and you first know of it because the milk hasn't been delivered. Armed with a container you go foraging for milk. If lucky, you get a quart of doubtful sanitary history.

Otherwise, you take your coffee—and the remainder of the holiday—black, with more chicory than cheer. What do you do in this country? When it's time for breakfast, you are not disappointed. Why should a mere blizzard stop the milkman?

The more you think about it, the more you are inclined to accept the daily milk bottle on the doorstep as a symbol of civilized convenience impossible under antiquated methods in countries where dog carts, open cans and other laggard devices are employed.

Widespread daily U. S. milk consumption is probably due to dependability of doorstep distribution. Americans can't resist such services, and who's to blame them?

V. S.—Wednesday night my ex-boy friend came to my house about 1:30 A.M. I carried him home and put him to bed. He accused me of beating him up. Who did it?

Ans.: After you left, he got up and got into some more mischief . . . then the fun really began. He should be thankful that he is alive. Advise him to leave off his liquor.

E. L.—Please tell me what's wrong. I am married to a swell man whom I thought I dearly loved but I have met another man and started going out with him. He tells me he doesn't have a wife and I am beginning to love this man so much that my life with my husband is miserable. Does he mean all he says?

Ans.: All but the marrying part . . . he wouldn't have you for a wife. You suit his purpose nicely as a sweetheart but he doesn't want the responsibility of a wife, a family, and a home. Personally, I think you are giving your husband a pretty dirty deal and that before you are through you are going to have to pay the penalty for your foolish actions. Before you get into serious trouble, my advice is to break off with this other fellow.

A. B. S.—I raise pet rabbits and at the present time I find it hard to sell them. Please tell me if I should get rid of them or what to do?

Ans.: If you are raising your rabbits for money . . . get rid of them for the way you are situated you just can't ever hope to make a dime off them. However, if you are raising them for fun . . . keep them. You can break even handling them but don't expect to make any profits. If you will write me privately I have some important news for you.

W. L. C.—I read your column an awful lot and I'd like to ask you a question. I am a fat girl and naturally all fat girls want to get slender. Well, sometimes I want to get thin and other times I don't. Boys don't entirely ignore me but most of them don't like fat girls and I would so like to have just one boy friend. Tell me if I will get thinner please? I don't mind being fat but there is so much I miss out on.

Ans.: Heck, you're not too fat . . . just too young. You will find when you get a little older that most fellows like their girls on the plump side (I do). However, getting down to the cause of your trouble . . . I believe you could take a lot more exercise than you do and another thing quit reaching for a "second helping" at the table. You can't hope to get thin as long as you continue to guzzle groceries.

FISH CHALLENGES ROOSEVELT TO "SPEAK UP"

ROOSEVELT CHALLENGED BY FISH TO DECLARE STAND ON ANTI-MOB BILL

N. Y. Solon Issues Challenge During Colloquy With Rep. Arthur Mitchell

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 28.—Congressman Hamilton Fish of New York, in a recent running colloquy with Congressman Arthur W. Mitchell of Illinois, in the House of Representatives, challenged President Roosevelt to declare his stand on the Anti-Lynching Bill now pending in the Senate.

The challenge came when Mitchell, only colored Democrat in Congress, was eulogizing the New Deal and Roosevelt. The New York Congressman inquired of Mitchell where the President stands on the Anti-Lynching Bill. Mitchell could not enlighten him.

"We know," said Fish, "where the President of the United States stands on all racial and religious questions in foreign lands, but we should like to know where he stands on enacting an Anti-Lynching Bill at the present time in the United States of America. He has been strangely silent about that, a matter which vitally affects the security of some 13,000,000 colored people in America.

"One word from the White House," he said, "and that bill would come flying through the Senate and be enacted into law. Day after day we hear about President Roosevelt's views affecting foreign lands, but when it comes to making democracy safe in America and safe for 13,000,000 colored people, he is strangely silent. The White House continues to be as silent as a tomb when the colored people ask for an endorsement of the Gavagan-Fish Anti-Lynching Bill."

UNEMPLOYMENT

With reference to Mitchell's statistics regarding employment of Negroes under the New Deal, the New York Congressman asked if it is not true that a far larger number of colored persons remain unemployed, after 7 years of the New Deal, in proportion to population than any other group in America and if it is not true that the colored people have suffered more from the New Deal because of their [illegible] than any other single group.

Entering the [illegible] Congressman John C. Schafer of Wisconsin, also propounded a question or two. He pointed out that Mitchell had "most dramatically the virtues of the New Deal as they affect the people of the United States and race in America."

"I wanted to ask you," he continued, "whether or not it is not a fact that below the Mason and Dixon Line, which is a complete control of the New Deal, they drive the colored people away from the polls and will not even let them vote?"

Fish asked Mitchell if it is not a fact that few, if any, colored men in America have been appointed to high official offices in the Southern States, and if not a colored man have been appointed to important offices in States North of the Mason and Dixie Line. "Under Republican administrations," he said, "my colored people did receive important appointments at Washington, even to the South as well as in the North."

The New York Congressman wanted Mitchell to put in the Congressional Record the number of colored persons holding important jobs in the different agencies and bureaucracies of the Government.

When Mitchell confessed he was unable to answer the questions put to him, Fish charged that the New Deal has made abundant promises to the colored people but about all they had received is more abundant debts, defects, and unemployment.

"The New Deal for 7 lean years," he continued, "has failed to give them permanent jobs and the only way I know of for them to once again become employed at the American standard of wages and living is through the election of a Republican President. The gentleman from Illinois has made a speech about employment among the colored people and yet does not know how many are unemployed. That is the most important political and economic issue confronting his group."

Oxley Addresses Social Security Representatives

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Mar. 28—Speaking at Lee House, before the First Annual Conference of Employment Representatives of the Social Security Board from 12 Regional offices scattered throughout the Nation, Lieut. Lawrence A. Oxley of the Social Security Board staff, presented the results of a survey of the availability of services to Negro applicants by the United States Employment Service, and pointed out certain definite lacks or needs in this field as revealed by the study.

Lieut. Oxley's presentation included comparative Negro population and relief figures, and a statistical sample of applications and placements by States and larger urban centers with indicated racial and major occupational breakdowns.

The survey revealed that there was urgent need for the development of an awareness on the part of Social Security personnel relative to the needs of the Negro group, and that there was also indicated necessity for a revision of Employment Security field visiting techniques if the Negro worker is to be exposed increasingly to jobs on a broader occupational base.

NOTE TO THE LADIES

Girls, this leap year business is no joke.

Procrastinating women, undecided about bagging an unwary male, had better make up their minds soon. The competition for men has been growing keener year by year, and it's going to get worse.

A clear-cut surplus of women in this country is in prospect. This cheerless news comes from one of the nation's largest and most reputable fact-finding organizations, and since that organization would always rather tell good news than bad, the ladies will have to accept it as the truth.

What's the cause of this surplus? Simply the fact that American women are proving themselves so much healthier than men. In every decade of life from the cradle to the rocking chair, fewer females die than males. This trend has been in evidence during every year of the present century from 1900 to 1937, the latest year on which evidence is available. The inevitable result is a surplus of women in

WHITE MAN ACCUSED OF ATTACK BY WOMAN TO GO TO TRIAL ON COUNTS

White Man to Be Tried in Superior Court for Asserted Mistreatment of Mrs. Berry

Charged with kidnaping, robbery, violation of the Penal Code, and assault to commit rape, 26-year old Roy Venoy McGaha, white, will be tried in Superior Court for asserted mistreatment of Mrs. Katherine Berry, 24, of Pasadena on the night of Mar. 6.

At the preliminary hearing before Justice of Peace William E. Fox, the victim, who has been in Pasadena only a little less than two months visiting her aunts, testified that she had been forced into McGaha's car with the threat that he would shoot her if she didn't comply.

As they drove along she jumped out, but he stopped the car, caught her and beat her. Driving to a deserted spot in the Monterey Hills, he subjected her to various indignities, repeatedly threatening to kill her, she said. He even lighted a fire in the seat of a stripped automobil, declaring he would hurl her into it "so she couldn't tell".

She also testified that he robbed her of her coat and three dollars.

The victim managed to escape to a service station on returning to Pasadena and had the attendant summon police while McGaha was eating in a restaurant.

Dr. Paul Osiek of the Emergency Hospital staff, testified to examining the woman on the night of Mar. 6 following her bestial attack, stating that he treated her for a fractured nose, fracture of the left arm at the shoulder, and contusions and abrasions of the face.

At the conclusion of the hearing, McGaha's bail remained at $50,000. If convicted, McGaha will face the death penalty.

Nationwide Response to Stamp Issue

Plans for Fete Move Rapidly to Climax, Tuskegee Head Says

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE (Ala.) Mar. 28—Plans for the nationwide observance of the issue of the Booker T. Washington stamp moved forward rapidly to conclusion here today as Dr. F. D. Patterson, president, Tuskegee Institute announced spontaneous public response to the Booker T. Washington Stamp celebration. The famed Negro educator founded Tuskegee Institute in 1881.

"The participation of distinguished personages from all walks of life, joining us in friendship and goodwill as we pause at this historic milestone of Negro progress in America, is a dramatic source of inspiration not only to Tuskegee Institute, but to every one of our people," Dr. Patterson declared.

At the same time Tuskegee's third president made public a partial list of 500 members of the National Committee of Patrons under whose auspices the celebration will take place. It is expected to number more than 1000.

The honorary chairman of the Committee is Hon. Charles Evans Hughes, Chief Justice of the United States. Honorary Vice Chairmen include Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, Governor of Massachusetts; Hon. Frank M. Dixon, Governor of Alabama and Dr. Robert R. Moton, President Emeritus of the college. The National Chairman of the Committee is Dr. William Jay Schieffelin of New York City, Chairman of the Board of Trustees.

The celebration will close on April 7 during ceremonies in the great Chapel of the college when Postmaster General James A. Farley will deliver the Founder's Day Address before distinguished invited guests. The Board of Trustees and student body during a 45-minute national radio broadcast. The famed Tuskegee Institute Choir of 100 voices, Paul Robeson, Roland Hayes and other artists will be heard from various cities singing "Go Tribute to the former slave and "Pharaoh's Moses of His Race," because "He lifted the Veil of Ignorance from his People and Pointed the Way to Progress through Education and Industry."

Concurrently with the Tuskegee ceremonies, a series of public meetings are being organized in churches and public audi-tum from coast to coast where other national personalities are being invited to speak. During these meetings, the assembled persons may listen to the broadcast from Tuskegee and other cities.

Meanwhile H. S. Chamberlain, Stamps Division, Post Office Department, here making arrangements to handle the avalanche of "First Day" envelopes which has been arriving at the Tuskegee Institute Post Office in mailbag loads, declared that he expected the first U. S. Stamp honoring a Negro to break all records in the 10-cent denomination for first days sales. The previous record is held by the Mark Twain 10-cent stamp recently issued at Hannibal, Missouri, when 150,492 envelopes and 270,872 stamps were sold.

The Tuskegee Institute Post Office, situated on the college campus, is staffed entirely by Tuskegee graduates. Postmaster Richard H. Harris who graduated during the Founders administration, said today that every state and 14 foreign countries were already represented and that the volume exceeds that received at any other Post Office in advance of the first day of issue, which in the case of the Booker T. Washington stamp is April 7.

Twenty-five additional postal clerks will be appointed by the Postmaster and college authorities have been made available a special building for the task of cancelling the "First Day" envelopes. At least 5000 stamp collectors and visitors are expected to be present on Founder's Day.

"No event in our time has so touched the hearts of all Negro Americans who have entered the spirit and purpose of the celebration with reverence, and gratitude to the American people who today honor their great leader, educator and benefactor," Dr. Patterson said.

"The celebration will be, above all, a source of inspiration to today's Negro youth to emulate Tuskegee's Founder who, overto a place of national usefulness without precedent in our history.

"As a boy he slept under the wooden sidewalks of Richmond, Virginia. He worked in a salt furnace and a coal mine. He was a house servant.

"Booker T. Washington walked 500 miles to Hampton Institute, Virginia to go to school. There he worked his way as janitor. Consumed with a passionate desire for service and knowledge, he was at last appointed instructor. He rose to become its most distinguished graduate.

"He started Tuskegee Institute in an old, disused, leaking church, teaching 30 pupils. With dauntless courage and indomitable perseverance, he envisioned an institution which would meet the urgent needs of the masses of his people throughout the South. Since then Tuskegee Institute has brought more than 55 million dollars into the state of Alabama.

"Today Tuskegee's towers rise above 2300 acres of park and farmland. The leaking church has grown into 132 modern buildings. The educational philosophy which Booker T. Washington developed has spread to four continents. He said, 'You shall prosper in proportion as you learn to dignify and glorify labor and put brains and skill into the common occupations of life.'

Recognition of his contributions to American education came from Harvard, which conferred the degree of A. M. on him and Dart-

Victorville Services Impressive

VICTORVILLE, Mar. 28.—The second annual Easter Sunrise services held here last Sunday were even more impressive and beautiful than last year. Approximately 2000 persons came from all over the state to attend the service, held on the slope of Cathode Peak, a mile sign mountain, at the top of which worshippers could see a gilded cross.

The Rev. Caston D. Russell, pastor of the Independent church of Los Angeles, conducted the half hour service, from 5:30 to 6. His renowned choir of 60 voices, directed by Mrs. A. C. Burrow, sang stirringly with William Gillespie as featured soloist.

Worshippers came from surrounding ranches, riding horseback in Western fashion. Some camped at the foot of the mountain, built fires and ate breakfast. Others took advantage of the facilities of Murray's Dude Ranch, sponsor of the service, breakfasted and spent the day.

Cathode Peak overlooks the Ranch, the finest of its kind owned by Negroes in the country. Proprietors are Mr. and Mrs. Nolie Murray, Angelenos. The Ranch is located five miles outside Victorville.

The service was presented by the Murrays with the cooperation of the business people of Victorville, through the Victorville Chamber of Commerce, and the surrounding dude ranches.

Hold Rites for Florida Realtor

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 28. (ANP)—Rites were held here last week for D. A. Dorsey, prominent realtor who died following a short stay in a hospital. Dorsey, who attained great wealth during the Florida boom when Miami was being developed, for many years was thought to be a millionaire. He survived the building collapse and the depression without great losses, according to his friends. At the time of his death, Dorsey was a member of the board of directors of the Afro-American Life Insurance company.

● Turning Back the Pages of Pasadena's Past

By REV. WM. PRINCE

Some 54 years ago three of u brothers came to Los Angeles t live with our father. I lived i the small City of Los Angeles fo one year. The population then was just about 30 or 40 thousand. The residential district began at 41st street, south. The plaza was just about the center of the city. All banks and main hotels, court house and post office, were in that part of the city.

No electric cars, we used cable cars and horsedrawn cars. There were just a few small buildings on Fort street, which is now our great Broadway.

But I am asked to write about Pasadena and not Los Angeles. I came to Pasadena in 1886 when it was a small village. There were neither paved streets nor sidewalks; neither gas nor electricity. Streets were lighted by old fashioned lamps. Colorado street and Fair Oaks avenue was the center. On one corner was a frame hotel; the other a public hall frame building. The third corner was an orange grove where horses were hitched.

Our city was not incorporated until about 1900. Our peace officers consisted of a city marshal and his assistants, I. N. Mundell and J. R. Slater.

There were two colored families living in Pasadena: Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Wilson, who lived near the corner of Lincoln and Orange Grove avenues; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holmes, who lived on South Vernon avenue. Only one member of the Wilson family is now living, Charles Wilson of Watts. Three members of the Holmes family, Mrs. Mentor and Mrs. Martha Harris of East 20th street, Los Angeles, and William Holmes of Watts, are living; which makes me the oldest Negro resident of Pasadena.

My brother, Frank, came a few months after I did. I secured a job in a restaurant and my brother worked as a coachman. After leaving those jobs, we both got jobs in the banks, which we are still holding.

In the early 90's our people began to come to Pasadena. The first families came from Texas; some from Oklahmoa and other states. Most of the Negro population is from Georgia, and the total ppoulation is said to be about 5000 now. Seventy per cent of the families are buying or living in their own homes.

We have three doctors, one dentist, two lawyers, one grocery store, one drug store, the Garner Music Center, four real estate agents, one office of the Golden State Insurance Co., four beauty parlors, 7 restaurants and lunch counters, five barber shops, four cleaning and dyeing shops, one florist, two shoe shops, two billiard halls, four caterers, two auto mechanics, two filling stations, 10 or 12 transfer and truck men, one of the finest funeral parlors in the country. Watch us as we continue to grow.

Jefferson High Follows Grads

Thomas Jefferson High school keeps watchful over its fledgelings at UCLA, according to a statement released today.

Principal Dickinson will journey to Westwood hills this morning to confer with former Jeffersonians now matriculating at the State university. Outside an exchange of pleasantries, interviews with the lads and lassies will serve to correlate high school work with that the boys and girls have found necessary for Bruin frosh.

Indications are that most urgent need of incoming Uclans is a thorough grounding in high school English.

IT PAYS TO CACKLE!

Scientifically, chicken eggs are no better than duck eggs. But the everage person won't buy them at any price. If chicken eggs were selling for a dollar a dozen, the average housewife wouldn't buy duck eggs at 10 cents per dozen.

Why?

The difference is due to advertising.

The duck, when she lays an egg, waddles off in silence and with her head hanging low.

The hen, with head lifted high, comes off the nest cackling. And the old rooster sticks out his chest and crows about it!

It pays to advertise. (See J. W. Porter of the Pasadena Supplement of The California Eagle, or telephone SYcamore 3-1665.)

Try This Orange Lemon Marmalade

By BETTY BARCLAY

This Orange Lemon Marmalade is just the thing to restock pantry shelves as the summer's jams and jellies run low. Slice very thin 2 unpeeled lemons and 4 unpeeled medium-sized oranges. Measure the sliced fruit and add three times as much water. Mark water line with pencil on inside of kettle. Boil 45 minutes. Replace liquid boiled away with water to pencil mark.

Add 1¼ cups sugar for each cups of cooked fruit mixture. Cook in 2-cup lots in a large kettle, boiling vigorously until syrup gives a jelly test of thick, reluctant drop from side of spoon (12 to 11 minutes). Now add 2 tablespoons lemon juice. Boil again for about 1 minute and make a second jelly test. Pour into sterilized glasses. Cover with paraffin when cold.

Before pouring into glasses, it is well to cool marmalade 5 minutes, stirring frequently to prevent floating fruit. California Navel oranges are best for this marmalade, being firm-meated, clean-skinned and easy to slice, because seedless. In February and March they are at just the right state of ripeness for fine marmalade.

Among the early winners in the unusual used car contest now being conducted by all Southern California Ford dealers were Mrs. Edith M. Andrew, of the San Fernando Valley, and Mrs. E. T. Gamage, of Santa Paula, shown above. Mrs. Andrew, the contest's first feminine winner, happily displayed her $100 check to the photographer. Every 24 hours during March, Ford dealers give some used car purchaser $100, regardless of the make or price of car purchased. Each day's winner is selected on the basis of the best completion of a simple sentence.

HOODED KLAN MARCHES THROUGH DOWNTOWN L. A.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE

PRICE 5c | TWO SECTIONS Section A | LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY APRIL 4, 1940 | VOL. 60 — NO. 51

INVITED TO WORLD'S FAIR

Full season invitation to the California Eagle was this week extended by the New York World's Fair, Inc. The EAGLE is the only local community newspaper so recognized.

Last summer EAGLE reporters covered the Fair for California readers, taking active part in the large press confab conducted by Grover Whalen on the Fair grounds to devise ways and means of obtaining adequate coverage of the multitudinous exhibits.

on the sidewalk

by c. a. b.

THIS WEEK Ku Klux Klanners marched from the City Hall of Los Angeles throughout the downtown section in full face of police authorities.

Such a statement is an astounding blow to those citizens of the community who had believed Southern California to be outside the area bounded by the Mason-Dixon line. Those of us who have fought the battle against intolerance here over the years had deemed our victory won with regards to this vicious organization. If we were mistaken, very well; the battle will be started all over again.

Banners carried by Los Angeles Ku Kluxers denounced communism. At the moment, communism is a very unpopular governmental theory. That is the only reaason it was sought out for attack by the Klan. Ever since its inception, this body has traded upon current mass prejudices in order to establish political domination — domination for the sole and single sake of graft. Make no mistake about it, the Klan is not even an honest enemy of democracy; it is simply the vilest of political machines.

Several years ago, The California EAGLE had it out with the Los Angeles Klan. We challenged it, and we licked it. And we'll do it again.

On one occasion, Ku Kluxers threatened my life and attempted to make good that threat. It was at the time when the EAGLE plant was at 9th and Central; many of you old-timers will remember that location. Mr. Bass, late editor, had gone out one evening to attend a lodge meeting or some organizational confab, and I was left alone in the shop. At that time, I had not acquired a good deal of the poundage to which lately I have become attached.

I was a little woman, all alone in the print shop with no tangible protection. About dusk, a strange crowd of white men began to gather outside the plate glass windows at the front of the shop. They started mumbling, and soon yelled pointed threats at "that nigger woman". I was terribly frightened, but had presence of mind enough to get out an old revolver (I have never shot a gun in my life).

I laid the ancient weapon upon a desk that faced the window and sat down with it in front of me. The demonstrations out front continued. I picked up the gun and pretended to examine the mechanism. My tormentors—more than a score of large men—were soon gone with the wind. That was the last threat we received from the Klan, and our constant campaign soon wiped out the organization locally.

Frankly, I did not think the rejuvenation of the Klan possible. Naively I believed that America had outgrown such obvious frauds. Also, I had implicit faith in the Los Angeles Police Department to deal swiftly and effectively with the organization. Evidently I was very wrong.

Not only was the Klan unmolested by police authorities, but its parade was started FROM THE FOOT OF CITY HALL.

To all those who pay lip service to the cause of civil liberty, the rebirth of the Klan should be a shattering blow—a development to be resisted with the full might and courage of democratic belief. Something has got to be done in this case; and, believe me, it will be done.

MRS. FAY Allen pointed out this week to the Los Angeles Board of Education that no Negro school teachers have been placed in Westside Los Angeles. The ignition of TNT could not have produced a louder explosion.

Louis Travers, assistant superintendent in charge of personnel, denied the accusation heatedly, adding, "It is true, however, that we have assigned colored teachers to schools where the principals were not in favor of the appointments, but once the ice was broken these same principals endorsed the idea".

Superintendent of Schools Vierling Kersey declared that no teacher—regardless of race—was ever refused work when their turn on the eligible list was reached.

However, the most unique comment was rendered by board member Roy J. Becker, who exclaimed, "Mrs. Allen is trying to crucify her own people!" His reasoning was to the effect that Negro school teachers would not care to accept positions in schools in the western section because of the "inevitable criticism" which he said would be leveled against them.

Upshot of the whole matter was that no action was taken on Mrs. Allen's proposal.

Since the Board of Education and other school powers evidently have decreed that colored instructors must not teach out of the Eastside, a good many Negroes are beginning to wonder why there isn't more adequate race representation in those institutions which are predominantly colored.

It is reasoned that on a basis of population proportion school teaching staffs at Jefferson, Jordan, Lafayette and McKinley Junior High schools, 20th street, Nevin avenue, 49th street, Wadsworth, Holmes avenue, and oth-

NAACP Here Reaches Drive Goal

Greatest Drive in History Closes Under Beavers

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is $2,000.00 richer today as a result of the greatest membership drive in the history of the Los Angeles branch.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, at a meeting Sunday afternoon in Hamilton Methodist church, members, officials and workers in the campaign, called "Citizens' Honor Roll for Democracy", reported $2,000 and a corresponding number of memberships.

Six weeks ago, the executive board of the local branch, of which attorney Thomas L. Griffith jr. is president, set that amount as a campaign goal and named Geo. A. Beavers jr., Golden State Mutual Life executive and prominent civic and church worker, as general chairman.

Chairman Beavers immediately organized workers in the drive, a "football" contest being the modus operandi to stimulate interest. Mrs. A. Hill, active thruout the State in club, political and civic circles, headed the "Kenny Washington All-Star" division, and A. J. "Kelly" Williams, also an executive of the Golden State, was named as leader of the "Fred Douglass Warrior" division. Both divisions in the "football" contest were broken into teams and three trophies were offered by Conner-Johnson mortuary, Angelus Funeral home, and Golden State Mutual Life to go to the leading division, team and individual at conclusion of the drive.

A gridiron graph, made by McKinney, was used to show progress of the divisions down the "field". Reporting $398.32, Mrs. Hill's All-Stars won the division trophy; Dr. H. Claude Hudson-Irene Bradford, with $290.00, copped team honors, and Williams took the individual trophy with $232.22 to his credit.

Kenny Washington, great UCLA football star, was an honored guest and saw the division named for him take the "ball" over for the "touchdown".

Expressing his appreciation to President Griffith for the support and encouragement given him during the drive, chairman Beavers this week issued the fol-

IN APPRECIATION of her "sympathetic interest" in minorities, as evidenced by her action in the Marian Anderson-GAR incident, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the president, was serenaded by two quartets at the Beverly Hills home of her son, James, on Monday. The group posed afterward for the above picture.

Members of the double quartets are Bessie Guy and Josephine Cooper, sopranos; Naomi Farr and Diette Gross, altos; Arthur Walker and Finis Moore, tenors; Ernest Baskette and Edward Boyd, basses.

Mrs. Roosevelt was here to lecture on the Modern Forum series at the Philharmonic auditorium.

CITIZENS HIT FAILURE OF POLICE TO HALT PARADE OF KLANSMEN

Parade Begins on Steps of City Hall; Was Part of Nation-wide Exhibition

Shock quivered through Negro Los Angeles this week as news spread that Ku Klux Klansmen marched Saturday night from the steps of City Hall throughout the downtown section. Failure of police to halt the parade of Kluxers was severely lashed by prominent leaders.

Twenty hooded members of the Los Angeles Klan No. 1 marched through downtown streets handing out handbills denouncing communism.

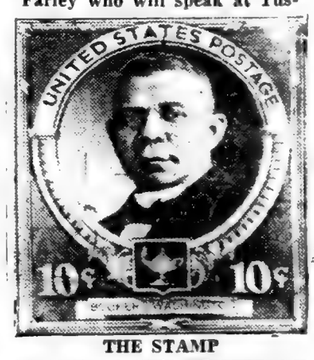
Starting from the steps of City Hall the Klansmen marched down Spring to First street and then over to Broadway and down as far as 8th street. Recovering the territory, they proceeded over to Hill street and up to Fifth, turning up Broadway again and back to City Hall.

The procession lasted over two hours, and the original force was joined by several plainclothes Klansmen. At no point were they halted by police or questioned.

Los Angeles' Klan demonstration was only part of a monster nation-wide exhibition planned by Klan central headquarters in the deep South.

Surprise was expressed in most quarters that police took no action to discourage the parade. Department officials explained that it was not necessary to obtain a parade permit, since there were assertedly less than 30 marchers. Violent protests are expected from civil liberties groups and private citizens.

Rebirth of the Klan has been heralded for more than two years, but Saturday's demonstration was the first blatant indication of active local participation. Measures to halt the growth of the intolerance organization are at present under consideration by civic groups.



It is expected that reverberations of the Klan promenade will echo in the City Council, Supervisors' offices and State capital.

kegee Sunday, the first date of issue of these stamps. His speech will be broadcast from coast to coast and will be heard in Los Angeles at 2 p. m.

The Booker T. Washington stamp will go on sale in Los Angeles on April 8. Elaborate preparations have been made for early sales of the stamps. The Philatelic Division receipts for March in Los Angeles were nearly $8000 and with the Educator Series, the Pony Express and the Pan-American issues for April, heavier receipts are anticipated.

While Mrs. Briggs was instructor in education in Columbia university, Dr. Washington visited her classes.

Rev. Collins Seeks Bishop's Post in Detroit

Under the leadership of George Garner, famed singer, mammoth testimonial services were conducted Sunday evening at 8th and Towne AME church, as the congregation sent pastor H. Mansfield Collins to the Detroit denominational convention.

Rev. Collins is considered an outstanding candidate for the bishopric in the AME connection this year. A close contender at the last conference, it is believed Collins will sweep the field at the current sessions.

Attended by a tremendous audience, despite the downpour, Sunday's services were spectacularly successful.

During the prelate's absence, Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, nationally known orator and scholar, will fill the First AME pulpit. He was the dynamic speaker of the evening Sunday.

ELECTROCUTED FOR KILLING WHITE MAN

COLUMBIA (S. C.) April 4. (ANP)—Press Bibbs, 20, smoking a cigaret until he was strapped in the electric chair, was executed at the state prison Friday morning for the shotgun slaying of J. Lewis Leslie, white storekeeper, in the Fall of 1938.

Negro Congress Wins Rights in Tourist Camp

WASHINGTON, April 4. (CNA)—A signal victory over Jim Crowism was registered by the National Negro Congress here this week with the announcement that a long standing rule of the federal government prohibiting Negro tourists from securing accomodations at the government-controlled Washington Tourist Camp had been abolished.

John P. Davis, national secretary of the Congress, made the announcement after a conference last Saturday with the First Assistant Secretary of the Interior, Ebert K. Burlew.

The camp is operated by the Welfare and Recreational Association under a concession from the federal government. It is a modern camp with facilities for 500 tourists.

Davis pointed out that the Washington Council of the National Negro Congress recently made an exhaustive study of federal recreational facilities from which Negroes are barred. It followed this up with repeated protests to the National Park Service of the Interior Department. Two weeks ago in a letter to the Secretary of the Interior, Congress officials threatened legal action if an immediate change was not made. The result was an extensive order of Secretary Ickes opening the camp to all tourists regardless of race on the basis of first come first served.

Stores Picketed in West Oakland

OAKLAND, April 4. (CNA)—The fight for jobs for Negroes was launched here this week on a mass scale when about 100 Negro and white people became a mass picket line in front of Leko's Market, West Oakland. This market, leaders of the job movement pointed out, makes a large profit from Negro patrons.

The proprietor of another market, Rumley's Market, claimed his was family operated. Pickets withdrawn from this market have been placed around the De Luxe cafe.

The Citizens Committee has indicated a determination to prosecute this campaign to conclusion. Chairman is the Rev. H. T. S. Johnson, pastor of Taylor Memorial church; with Miss Esterline Williams, young civic leader, secretary.

Picketing has been peaceful in all cases. Police have on several occasions, seized placards carried by pickets.

According to a survey recently made by the Community Party branch in West Oakland, there are some 30 white business establishments within a radius of about six blocks in the Negro community. These firms have a large Negro patronage, yet do not employ any Negro help.

JULIAN SAILS FOR FINLAND, REPORT

Defense Wants Cop Tried for Boy's Torture in State

ATLANTA, April 4. (ANP)—Attorneys of W. F. Sutherland, city detective who was recently indicted by a federal grand jury on three counts in the alleged torturing of a Negro boy, Quintar South, were successful in having the officer's trial postponed until June. The defense attorneys filed a demurrer insisting that the United States court has no jurisdiction in the torture case, and that if the suspended police officer were to be tried, the case should be held in a state court.

As a result of postponement of the federal case, Judge Garland Watkins of the juvenile court announced that Quintar South's trial on the charge or stealing a basketball from Clark University in February will also be held up until the United States court has disposed of its case against Sutherland. The juvenile judge refused to make any statement of the necessity of his action, but it is clear that any decision by the juvenile court, if handed down first, would tend to influence the proceedings of the federal trial against the detective.

In agreeing to the delay that was proposed by defense counsel, Albert Arent, department of justice prosecutor from Washington, declared that the "case is in a new field and extremely important."

TO DETERMINE RESPONSIBILITY

"The department of justice's civil liberties section is trying to determine to what extent persons exercising official authority may be held criminally responsible for depriving persons of free speech, free press, freedom of assembly, freedom from brutality, and all the other civil liberties protected against state infringement by the 14th amendment," the federal prosecutor explained.

Sutherland's attorneys are expected to hold the view that "if there is any truth to the torture charge against the officer, he was not acting in an official capacity at the time, but as an individual, since the state regulations call for no such actions on the part of its agents."

5 Postal Employes Lose Case Against Riding Academy

A sensational interpretation of the Civil Code, announced last Saturday, lost for five young U. S. postal employes a case against a Griffith Park Riding academy, which had denied them service.

Ruled against by three appellate court judges were Tillman B. Thomas, Adele Matthews, Ethel Carter, Earl Lewis, and Muriel Brewer. The five were suing the DuBrock Riding academy for refusal, on grounds of color, to rent them horses in an incident which occurred last July. They were represented by David Williams, attorney.

Declaring that a riding academy is not required to permit use of its facilities by Negroes, Presiding Judge Hartley Shaw, Judges Edward T. Bishop, and B. Ray Schauer handed down a decision which denied to the quintet damages, amounting to $100 each.

Basis of the decision was that the riding academy was not one of the places especially mentioned in the Civil Code, which specifically mentions "restaurants, soft drink parlors and other places of public amusement".

"The only act which occurs there is renting horses and

Gordon Kidnap Clues Prove Unimportant

No important new clues were reported by police this week, in their search for Dorothy Gordon, kidnaped a month ago tomorrow by a white man, believed to be a sex fiend.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Gordon, 1438 E. 22nd St., Dorothy, 9-year old Ascot Grammar school student, was lured into the white man's car at 16th and Hooper avenue on Mar. 5.

Rewards offered for the return or location of the girl, capture and conviction of the kidnaper this week totaled $1650. Largest item in the total, $1,000, was offered by Governor Culbert L. Olson, for the State.

500 Women Wanted for Tea at Elks' Hall Sunday

Five hundred women are wanted by the Civil Liberties committee of Daughter Elks to attend a monster tea Sunday at the Elks' auditorium.

Goal of the get-together of Eastside mothers is a campaign to improve home training of local youth in order to insure against repetition of the tragic Dorothy Gordon kidnaping. Proper instruction in conduct for young children would remove possibility of such cases leaders believe.

It is also pointed out that behavior of young people at public dances recently has given the Eastside a vicious reputation throughout the city. Methods of improving these conditions will be proposed and discussed.

All mothers and all women of the community are urged to attend.

3 MEN EXECUTED IN ALABAMA

MONTGOMERY (Ala.) April 4. (ANP)—Three prisoners, two convicted of murder and one for rape, were electrocuted here at Kilby prison shortly after midnight Friday. Two others, also scheduled to die, got 30 and 60-day reprieves from Gov. Dixon, who refused to interfere in the other cases.

Signatures of more than 300 men and women executives and coworkers, were inscribed.

W. P. Whitesides, representing the body, presented Titus with the tools of his hobby: a complete fishing outfit from landing net to camera.

Alexander responded: "I thank you for this generous and genuine expression of your sincere regard. Tonight blazes another trail on the march of progressive thought, liberal interpretation, tolerance in action by the greatest organization in the nation owned and operated by and for the people. This is but a symbol for Americanism. I am grateful. I have seen dark hours in my life, and I have seen darkness gradually disappearing and the light gradually increasing. One by one I have seen obstacles removed, errors corrected, prejudices softened, proscriptions relinquished and my people advancing in all the elements that make up the sum of general welfare. We have high mountains in California. My life has been a climb out of deep valleys . . . out of rugged canyons. I view the future with hope. I am grateful. I thank you."

Following is a song written by Helen Hodges, Bureau of Power and Light employe, which was sung for Mr. Alexander at the banquet.

TITUS ALEXANDER

Titus Alexander is the Guest we honor here tonight,
Through the years he's won our praise by
Always fighting for the Right.

One day Titus went out fishing
And he said he'd catch a whale,
But the only fish he caught he Brought home in his dinner pail.

One night Titus dreamed he died
It scared him so he's frightened yet,
He knew it wasn't Heaven' cause
Republicans were all he met.

So to you, our good friend Titus,
We all sing this little song.
May you know great happiness and
Health and joy your whole life long.

As a field study in writing her thesis, Mrs. Gleason visited every public library for Negroes in the thirteen Southern States which have separate libraries for Negroes.

On Jan. 15, Mrs. Gleason became the librarian at Talladega College, Talladega, Alabama. The Talladega library is both a college library and a public library, rendering considerable public library service to the Negroes of Talladega County.

U. S. HOSPITALS FOR MASSES

to be reported out of a subcommittee in the very future is a particularly imt piece of legislation. I se the Senators feel that ir legislation is important, ndoubtedly it is, but this eems doubly significant be- of its immediate effect on asses of people.

the Wagner-George bill to priate $10,000,000 to prfor the erection and equip- of federal hospitals in ecoally depressed areas and in sections. If properly amende National Medical Associathe Health Project of Alpha a Alpha sorority, Negro leaders and organizations in general, feel that passage of this bill will mean a lot to the great masses of Negroes.

For that reason, Dr. Dorothy Ferebee, national basileus of the AKA's, Dr. Carl G. Roberts of the National Medical association, and Dr. Paul Cornely, professor at Howard university medical school, have been especially persistent for the past two weeks in presenting to this Senatorial subcommittee the facts on Negro Health. The facts, they have argued before the senators, portrays a critical state of affairs, both as regards its effect on the Negro, as an individual race, and on the Nation as a whole. As Dr. Roberts stated in an eloquent appeal for passage of the bill, "epidemics started in the alleys, end on the boulevards."

The proposed amendments, ask that the federal hospitals be made available to all persons regardless of race, sex, creed or religion; that provisions be made to train and instruct the hospital personnel similarly without discrimination.

These would-be amendments hit at two conditions, which are especially prevalent in the South, and even rather widespread in the North: first, the barring of the Negro sick from public hospitals; second, the refusal of public hospitals to train Negro doctors or permit them use of their facilities.

AKA PROJECT

Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority has a health project in Mississippi, on which it has spent $13,000 in the past five years. So, Dr. Ferebee knew what she was talking about when she told the Senate committee that there are only 65 hospitals beds for Mississippi's one million Negroes, or one bed for each 1000, (in contrast to one bed for each 110 Mississippi whites); that there is only one hospital for each 107,000 Mississippi Negroes, and one for each 19,000 whites; that more than 11,000 Mississippi Negroes die from tuberculosis each year and that there are only 2,000 hospital beds for Negroes in the entire South.

Dr. Roberts went a bit further. He claimed that statistics show there are only 7000 hospital beds available for the entire U. S. Negro population. All three witnesses cited cases in which Negroes met agonizing and untimely death through lack of hospital care. They told of the difficulties encountered by Negro physicians in the South, and also in the North, where almost as often they are denied use of hospital facilities. They presented startling facts, culled from medical statistics, showing the disparity between Negro and white health, some of which are as follows:

Out of 100,000 Negroes born alive, 8,732 as compared to 6,232 whites, die the first year of life; 1,513 Negroes as compared to 931 white in the second year; 718 Negro and 283 white in the 21st year.

There is one white physician for every 728 whites, one Negro for every 2,076. Tuberculosis is the second greatest killer, taking five out of every 2000, as compared to one white out of every 2000. Heart and kidney diseases are the greatest killers of Negros, but they are often attributable to nothing more easily remedied than an abcessed tooth.

All of this was cited by the medicos not to infer that the Negro is more susceptible to disease as disease, but that his low economic standard is to blame for his susceptibility, and that his poverty makes him more dependent on public health facilities.

Seeks Places on Project for Tradesmen

Openings on Long Beach Project Is Covington's Aim

The Los Angeles Urban League announced today that Executive Director Floyd C. Covington had spent several days this week in "intensive conference and correspondence" in an effort to obtain openings for Negro building tradesmen on the Carmalitas Housing project in Long Beach.

In conference with the Director of the County Housing Authority, it was pointed out that the "prima facie" clause in all government housing projects was set in to guarantee that no discrimination would occur on any housing project.

NO BUILDING TRADESMEN

The Long Beach Building Tradesmen's Union stated that there arc very few Negroes living in Long Beach and none in the Building Tradesmen's Union there.

Covington indicated that there was an available supply of building tradesmen in Los Angeles who would be willing to accept employment and join the union as well. He said that the combined cooperation of community agencies would have to be mobilized to make available employment for Negro tradesmen in various county and city housing projects.

All persons interested should contact the League office at once.

L. A. Ry. Tells Cost of 'Rush Hour' Equipment

"More than half of our street cars, representing an investment of nearly $6,000,000, are in use less than 25 hours a week."

This was the impressive statement made this week by the Los Angeles Railway regarding the tremendous surplus equipment necessary to provide proper transportation for Los Angeles during morning and evening rush hours.

It was pointed out that the layman seldom realizes that the railway must place practically double the number of cars on the lines during these few hours of each day to take care of the passengers going to and returning from work. This means that 51% or more, of the total number of street cars are in revenue producing use only during the rush periods.

Further than this, Los Angeles Railway officials said, all of this extra equipment must be kept in perfect running order. Shops and equipment for their maintenance, storage facilities and men to keep them in mechanical trim must be provided for these streetcars whose total average running time amounts to no more han 52 days a year.

Negro Democrat Leaves New Deal

Hobson R. Reynolds (right), Philadelphia Negro Democratic member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, is shown at Republican Headquarters in Washington telling John Hamilton, Chairman Republican National Committee, and Dr. Emmett J. Scott, Republican advisor on Negro Affairs at Republican Headquarters, that the New Deal has failed the Negro. Mr. Reynolds said that "like thousands of other colored persons, I was lured into support of the New Deal hoping the Negro people would fare better; but the New Deal has failed my people and now I have decided the best interests of the Negro can be served through the election of a Republican President." He said he was casting his lot with "the awakened, liberal and progressive leadership of the Republican organization." The Philadelphia legislator is head of the Civil Liberties Committee of the Colored Elks of America and was author of a law providing civil liberties for Negroes in Pennsylvania.

SCOTT DISCUSSES GLENN FRANK PROGRAM GROUP AND THE NEGRO

Interests of Negro Citizens Carefully Guarded in Chapter Recommendations

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—The parallelism of our present-day social system in America, as it affects whites and blacks, is responsible for much confusion of thought when race relations are discussed. This confusion is as evident in the thinking of the Negro group as in the white group.

On one hand, the Negro group is to be found protesting against proscription of every kind which ignores equality of citizenship and fundamental civil and political rights. The group insists, and quite properly, that laws shall be enforced without regard to "race, creed, or color", as is so often and so eloquently declaimed.

There is insistence that the Negro group "is a part of the body politic", and is not to be thought of, or legislated for, as a group separate and apart from other citizens of the republic. Integration into all of the main streams of American life, and the enjoyment of common benefits are the watchword.

THE PARADOX OF RACE RELATIONS

On the other hand, paradoxical as it may seem, the impact of racial prejudices in America forces the Negro group at times to insist upon legislation and actions of a specialized character, including planks in the platforms of political parties directly affecting them.

A recent instance of this contradictory attitude is reflected in comments upon the report of the Glenn Frank Program committee.

This writer, following the meeting of the Republican National committee, last month, called attention to the chapter on "Discrimination Between Groups of Citizens", as it referred so specifically to the Negro group, with the comment that many of the "various recommendations of the program committee affect and include the Negro as A PART OF THE BODY POLITIC".

Erroneously, there has been publication in some quarters to the effect that the report, containing approximately 30,000 words devoted only one chapter of 357 words to "the economic problems of the Negro"; and that the program committee had expurgated all recommendations regarding the Negro group, except and as referred to in the chapter mentioned.

FALSE IMPRESSION CREATED

While not intended, probably, to mislead or misrepresent, many of the statements made have given a false impression in light of the real facts.

Practically every chapter in the report is based upon factual studies of a group of experts. The findings and recommendations of these experts are to be found in the programs recommended by the program committee including agriculture, labor, business and fiscal and social programs.

For instance, there is in the report a thorough-going discussion of the security and welfare of the industrial workers of the United States who depend upon the sustained prosperity of the national economy as a whole.

It is stated that, without the expansion of the nation's enterprise, full employment, higher real wages, and progressively better working conditions cannot be realized. Labor policy must, therefore, the report stated, be considered in relation to the forward and backward movement of the nation's enterprise and the policies governing the distribution of its fruits.

In view of the effort which has been made in some quarters to prevent Negroes from working under the leadership of their own choosing, and to bargain collectively with management, the recommendation of the committee is that "a right so basic should be guarded by law". The flagrant discriminations of organized labor, in a great many instances, forcing Negro workers to accept an imposed white and unsympathetic leadership, make this action most imperative.

THE RIGHT TO LABOR WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION

Also, in the discussion of amending the National Labor Relations Act for the purpose of securing maximum job benefits to American workers and to American enterprise, 9 changes are suggested. All of these 9 changes are of importance to Negro workers and particularly numbers 8 and 9: "(8) To penalize unfair practices by whomever committed; and (9) to see to it that no union, which becomes an exclusive bargaining agency, discriminates against the employment of workers on GROUNDS OF RACE, RELIGION, OR BY UNDUE FINANCIAL REQUIREMENTS, on the principle that neither organized labor nor organized industry should be able to impose restraints upon freedom of employment which government itself is forbidden by the constitution to impose".

It is thus to be seen that the interests of Negro workers are not to be overlooked, for their interests are very definitely bound up with the interests of their fellow-laborers. This cited instance is one of those in which the Negro group is discussed from the standpoint of being "a member of the body politic" instead of as a separate group.

GOP Women Hear Noted Leader

At a luncheon given at the Wilshire Bowl on Friday, Mar. 29, over 600 women heard the opinions of Mrs. Paul Henry of Seattle, leader and an assistant to Miss Marion Martin of Republican women, when she urged them in "Togetherness."

Mrs. Henry said that women resented dictatorship, clothed with a lot of flowery promises and that women could set an example in government as they have in the home. That any home is dependent on a firm foundation.

The speaker also urged the people in general to consider their government with more interest and be more sincere in their selections, rather than lean toward the "pleasing personality" side. She also went on to state that the "political alphabetical football" has had a tendency to break the morale of the people—by feeding them, and then herding them to the polls.

"The future of the youth depends not upon youth itself, but upon us to build the future for youth; and not youth for the future," said the speaker. "Our aim should be to arm youth so well that it will be a strong defense for any undesirable invading agency. This can be accomplished through teaching of patience and self-reliance."

Mrs. Henry said that the twelve women selected to attend the National Convention were the sales force from California to sell "Republicanism."

To Rename Hotel for GOP Confab

When 500 members of the California Republican Assembly descend on Hollywood next April 19, 20, and 21 for their state-wide convention, they will find a hotel has been renamed for them.

The Roosevelt hotel will be the "Teddy" Roosevelt for the Republican event, as the marquee and signs on famous Hollywood boulevard will proclaim.

Plans for the 8th annual convention of the volunteer Republican organization were nearly complete here today, with advance reservations indicating attendance from every corner of the State.

Interest in the convention was spurred by announcement that Thomas E. Dewey, crusading district attorney of New York and candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, will be principal guest and speaker on Saturday night, April 20.

He is to speak in Hollywood bowl, which seats 20,000.

800,000 WPA Slash Planned for Spring

WASHINGTON, April 4. (CNA)—Works Projects officials announced this week that WPA rolls would be slashed one-third by June 30. The dismissal which will mean a chopping of 800,000 persons will reduce the work relief personnel from 2,300,000 to 1,500,000.

Added misery haunted the jobless this week as several states again chopped into the aid given the needy. An additional slash of 10 per cent in California's relief appropriation brought that state's total relief cuts to 70 per cent during the past year. At the same time the state abolished the supplementary aid previously given low-paid WPA workers.

In Michigan plans have been made to reduce relief cases from the present 18,000 to 14,000 in spite of "the need for increased relief to prevent hunger, starvation and destitution," according to several social service agencies. The Department of Agriculture recently stated that the present Michigan budget of $40 a month per family was 25 per cent below the minimum necessary for maintaining health.

Two-Thirds of U. S. Lives on Less Than $825 a Year

WASHINGTON, April 4. (CNA)—A condition of widespread poverty affecting a majority of the nation's population was disclosed this week in a four-year government report which revealed that two-thirds of all American families lived on an average of $69 a month in 1935 and 1936.

The survey, made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the Bureau of Home Economics and the WPA, included detailed reports of income, spending and living standards of 300,000 Negro and white families, representing a cross-section of 126,000,000 persons.

There were 4,000,000 relief families constituting 14 per cent of the country's population who had an average income of only $312 a year. This figure was far below the $1200 per year which economists estimate is necessary for a family of four to maintain a decent living standard.

Another 8,000,000 families comprising between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000, persons about 42 per cent of the nation, averaged $750 a year or less than $50 a month; while 7,000,000 families lived on incomes of about $100 a month.

The report showed that 4,200,000 of these families bought only 6 per cent of the food consumed in the country, and that families receiving $312 spent as low as $1 per person per week for food.

Commenting on the survey, Milo Perkins, president of the FSCC, stated:

"If every family receiving less than $100 a month could be raised to that level expenditures for food would increase by $1,900,000,000 a year and the national food bill would be 14 per cent larger."

He estimated that food expenditures by the group now receiving less than $100 a month would be increased by 21 per cent, and that this would boost the income of farmers by $1,000,000,000 a year.

• ASHFORD RAMBLES AGAIN

By EMMETT ASHFORD

A band of lean and hungry "Apes" (Alphas., starved of a basketball victory for nigh onto eight moons, and with their mouths watering for same, made another futile attempt last Sat. p. m. to attack the vaunted Kappa huntsmen who repulsed them 43-33, and chased them back to their cubby holes with a blast of buckshot arrears--a gentle reminder that next year's attack will meet the same fate.

Drooling at the mouth at the prospect of giving his brood a taste of the delectable viande- victory, Coach Ralph Cooper concluded his pre-game strategy, which included a week of secret practice, by posing in front of the grandstand with his hands clasped behind in an effort to keep the wind from hitting a reported hole in the shiny seat of his britches.

Albeit that Messrs. McClain, Nickerson and Lacefield performed nobly for the Alpha cause, Francis Garland, William Love and John Randolph rose to even greater heights for the Kappas.

What government employee is telling friends that he is residing with his father, while amateur sleuths say that if it's currently popular for "fathers" to wear dresses, then the yarn is true?

Rather than bore you with the usual line of straight stuff, we'll conclude early due to our inability to steer the noggin in the proper channels, what with all of this blankety blank school work, homework and night work.

Edward Boyd to Appear in Recital

By The Music Editor

The Spring season brings to Los Angeles interesting variety in musical circles, notable among which will be the recital of Edward Boyd, well known bass-baritone.

Boyd, born in Riverside, Calif., has won considerable distinction for a young man. The rich depth of his voice and the precise delicacy of understanding interpretation combine to make him an outstanding musician. Numerous appearances in recitals, motion pictures and with the Riverside Opera company have provided him with the poise and finish to match his splendid voice.

Brahms, Beethoven, Verdi, Schubert, Tschaikowshy, and Hall Johnson are composers to be represented on the Boyd program. Leo Mueller, former conductor of the Volksoper in Vienna and the German Opera in Prague, will be at the piano.

This event is sponsored by Mme. Florence Lee Haltzman, Hall Johnosn and Mrs. Edmund Locke, and will be held at the Assistance League Playhouse, 1367 N. St. Andrews place, Tuesday evening, April 9. Tickets are on sale at the So. Calif. Music company and all agencies, and the Theatre Box Office, H. O. 1970.
MME. M. T. OUTLEY
PRESENTS SACRED CANTATA

On the evening of Good Friday, a near capacity house assembled to hear DuBois "Seven Last Words of Christ", as presented by Mme. Mozelle Te Outley, chorister of Second Baptist church senior choir.

The choir was costumed in colorful robes, as were the ushers, thus brightening the solemn aura of Holy Week. Guest soloists were Messrs. Finis Moore, William Singleston and Jester Hairston, tenor, baritone and bass, respectively.

Outstanding performance of the evening was that of Luvenia Harper Nash, organist of Second Baptist, in the discriptive music after the seventh word. The most pleasing solos were those of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Waites, tenor and soprano, who are members of the choir. Chorus numbers were amazingly devoid of interpretation and clarity in lyrics. Mme. Outley has presented better offerings.

Boosters to Give Washington Fete

Dr. Charles S. Morris, II, professor of English and Director of Publicity at Tennessee State college, now on leave, will be the speaker at Second Baptist church, tomorrow evening at 8:00 p. m., in commemoration of the birthday of Booker T. Washington. Attorney Edwin Jefferson will act as master of ceremonies, Mrs. Mozelle Te Outley and her chorus will be presented, also an octette group, an outstanding soloist and a chorus of about 35 voices, as well as a number from the Los Angeles Tuskegee club. There will be a reserved section for all clubs in the city.

Silver Leaf Club

Social night with the Silver Leaf club, and oh, what a night, was Friday, Mar. 29. Mrs. Carrie Bowie was hostess. Proud and fortunate are we to have such a fascinating hostess and member. Business was finished quickly, that time might be spent in socializing. However, we did not neglect our plans for our formal to be presented on June 29. We are of the opinion that it will be unique, you'll agree too after that Saturday night. Our guests of the evening were Mmes. Francita Glover, Mrs. Sadell Thompson and Babinue. A delicious repast was enjoyed by all. Irene Manning is reporter.

COOPERATIVE ENDEAVOR FOR THE ATTAINMENT OF COMMUNITY HEALTH

Because of National Negro Health Week, it is very appropriate to take these thoughts from Dr. Roscoe C. Brown.

"An apt definition of civilization is Cooperation. And, since a virile and progressive civilization is so largely dependent upon the good health, long life, and productive endeavor of the people who constitute it in families, homes, states and nations, the object for this year's health week: 'Cooperative Endeavor for the Attainment of Community Health is well chosen.

Cooperative Endeavor for the "Beginning with the year 1935, National Negro Health Week observance, emphasis has been placed upon important institutions and individuals, namely, "The Family and Home" (1935); "The Child and the School" (1936); "The Health Agency" (1937); "The Family Doctor" (1938); and "The Citizen" (1939).

"Hence, in the appeal for cooperative action for the improvement of the health of the community, not only the units specified in the recent series of annual Health Week objective, but also the many other components of the community life are included. Perhaps in no other field of endeavor is the interest and action of all people, single and corporate, so necessary to the attainment of the maximum good for the community in which they live and for the state and nation of which they are citizens.

"Cooperation implies interdependence. "Am I my brother's keeper?" has been civilization's greatest challenge throughout the many centuries; and as the democratic way of living becomes more desirable as the right way, and more evident as the safe way, of preserving and transmitting the precious possession of wisdom and welfare, neglect of any rightful beneficiary hazards all others. Truly, "none is safe as long as any is in danger."

"The procession of mankind from superstitious beliefs and practices, through the dark ages of ignorance and helplessness, which witnessed his affliction before the advent of medical science and public hygiene, to this brighter era of abundant aid and assurance in the cure and prevention of ills and preservation of health and life, has been a tortous trail. Now, that science, social service, education, civics and economics have straightened, illuminated, and fortified the path of human progress, the responsibility for articulation of these gains for the general human welfare abides in the intelligent, energetic, and collective action of all of the people, for whom these arts and sciences were developed.

"The first requirement for cooperation is knowledge! people must know the facts of the problem which is presented and of the program which they are asked to support. The second is community of interest; they must be aware of the mutual hazards of welfare inherent in the locality where daily duties and diversions expose each and all to the common denominator of their existence. The third is the ability willingly to serve; each individual and organization, according to its talents and facilities, must render in good and faithful performance the share of help which the need determines and loyalty demands.

Translated into cooperative endeavor for the attainment of community health, these requirements are no less significant or urgent. Certainly there must be accurate information on the causes and consequences of disease, and the benefits of hygienic living in a wholesome environment. "Give light unto the feet of the people and they will find their way." Then, there must be the feeling of neighborliness, not in the sense of being near unto someone in physical residence, but in the larger meaning of mutual welfare. The lack of sanitation and the prevalence of communicable diseases will be considered the potential enemy of all. The promotion of cleanliness and orderliness, support of the ordinances of the Health Department, participation in the auxiliary activities of the voluntary health agency, and the exercise of civic consciousness will be appreciated as the salutary functions of organized society. Thus, is community interest inspired and directed into the unselfish channel of democratic progress.

GOLDEN WEST BRIDGE NOTES

By ELLIS L. VEIL

Again we remind you of our master point certificate play tomorrow night, Friday. May we have 9 or more tables?

Tickets are now on sale for the Contract Bridge club's big Charity Tournament, to be held Saturday, April 13, at the Masonic hall. Net receipts are to go to the NAACP and the Outdoor Life and Health association.

In a letter, addressed to "My Teachers", Mr. Culbertson says he wishes that we would make it clear that every Culbertson bid is in the Gold book. He mentions a few flagrant derivations from the Culbertson system. These are his exact words to every certified Culbertson teacher:

"An artificial opening one club bid, which is unconditionally foreing, is used to show strength from between three and a half to five honor honor tricks with a one diamond artificial response to show weakness. This is not only a wholly superficial convention, but definitely a bad one.

"Another bad convention that is used in some localities, especially among second-rate players, is never to open the bidding with a four-card major suit.

"This convention is a misapplication of the principle of preparedness and has nothing whatever in its favor. I assure you that without exception, the ranking experts of the country, all do bid four-card major suits whenever the hand calls for such a bid. As a matter of fact, often, in order to avoid a "reverse" bid, the four-card major suit must be bid even in preference to a lower ranking five-card suit.

"Some players use a two-club (artificial) response to an opening. One no trump bid to show a worthless hand. Such response, like the above conventions, is not 'Culbertson' and not recommended by me. The best way to show weakness is by passing.

"I have often been asked whether I have included in the Culbertson system a convention, according to which a one no trump response to an opening one club bid shows strength. Although I have adopted no such convention, the inferences are that the responding hand probably does hold more than minimum strength required for a one no trump response. Since a one-over-one response is almost always preferable to one no trump response, the responder probably holds four clubs with a 4-3-3-3 distribution. It would have been better for him to pass. We may assume that his hand contained at least one and a half honor tricks and possibly a little more."

"Signed: Cordially,

"Elv Culbertson."

The headman has spoken, so govern yourselves accordingly.

Numbers by the Lauretta Butler Kiddies and the Nash Dance Studio children, were an interesting feature of the program.

Economical Delicacies

By BETTY BARCLAY

It is not necessary to prepare an elaborate or expensive dish in order to present your family or your guests with something that may rightly be termed a "delicacy."

Some of the most attractive and healthful delicacies imaginable may be served regularly by those who must at all times practice economy. The illustration shows a dish of tomatoes stuffed with Lima beans. The only ingredients called for are tomatoes, lettuce, dried Lima beans and a little mayonnaise dressing — yet the result is not only a "delicacy" but a very healthful well-balanced delicacy at that. Lima beans are one of our most important protein foods and stand at the top of the list of popular foods so far as percentage of alkalinity is concerned.

Here is the simple recipe, followed by another that you will find equally desirable:

Tomatoes Stuffed With Limas

Peel tomatoes, remove centers and fill with cooked, dried Limas mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Place on lettuce, cover top with mayonnaise dressing and place a row of cooked Limas around the tomato.

Limas With Sausage

1 medium-sized onion
1 cup cooked, dried Limas
1 cup tomatoes
½ teaspoon chili
½ teaspoon salt

Fry onion and sausage until well done. Add other ingredients and simmer for 30 minutes.

Mrs. Mable Gray, president of the Five and Over club called the senior bodyq to order, then presented the League, formed at the suggestion of Rev. Maybel Oliver of the Sunlit Way Truth Center.

Rev. Oliver greeted the juniors and won their pledge to devote their young womanhood to decency, clean morals and the performance of works of charity whenever and wherever needed. Bishop Sara Butler officiated during the installation exercises assisted by Rev. Oliver. Mrs. Billie McFarland, advisor to the junior leaguers, joined President Gray, and others in the reception line to greet the officers.

The 10th Birthday celebration of the Interdenominational Ministers' Wives Council, held at the home of the president, Mrs. Florence Harris, was indeed a very beautiful affair.

The house was decorated with sweetpeas, the Council flower, and Easter lilies. Members of the council were attired in varied colored hostess coats.

Mrs. Blanche Carter poured tea and Mrs. Carrie Austin served dainty refreshments.

"Who is Who in the Council" was the unique way the members of the Council were presented to the many guests present.

Soloists for the afternoon were Mmes. Marie Overstreet Jackson, Lucille Williams, Eujetta A. Ross and Annie E. Seldon.

The next meeting will be in Santa Monica Wednesday, with Mrs. Blanche Carter at 1907-20th street. Mrs. A. E. Seldon, reporter.

At Wesley Methodist church, 8th and San Julian streets, services last Sunday were a source of great inspiration. At the morning hour the pastor, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw, preached a sermon on "Christian Growth". Sunday morning the pastor will speak from the subject "Loneliness". The evening worship will be a union service with Hamilton Methodist church at Wesley. Rev. S. M. Beane will be the speaker and the Hamilton choir will sing. Episcopalians Announce Piano Recital By Bishop Father H. R. Moore, vicar of St. Philips' Episcopal church, 7th and Stanford, has announced very unusual event to take place next Thursday evening at St. John's Parish House, 515 W. 37th street at 8:15. It is a piano recital by a Bishop.

Many people know of "Glamer" and Desert" priests, of the association in Hollywood of Joe Penner and Hal Raynor, the latter an Episcopal priest, of clergymen who are at the same time ministers, geologists, physicians, lawyers and etc., but few have heard a bishop in a piano recital.

The Rt. Rev. Robert B. Gooden, D. D., is assistant bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles; headmaster of the Harvard School for Boys, a student of the great masters of music and an accomplished musician.

"On Tuesday, he will combine, for the benefit of St. Philip's church, his personal charm and graciousness with his ability as a pianist in a program heavy enough to win the applause of the best critics, and light enough to inspire those of us who are lovers but not students of music," stated Father Moore.

Bishop Gooden will confirm a class and preach this Sunday, at St. Philip's church at 8 p. m. The class was instructed, and will be presented by Father Moore. Members of the class are as follows:

BAPTIST MINISTERS HEAR DR. CHISM

Dr. A. W. T. Chism, "called" recently to Mt. Zion Baptist church, Omaha, Nebr., was speaker at the weekly meeting Tuesday of the Baptist Ministers' union at Second Baptist church. Twelve members made reports with 52 additions.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH PLANS TO MOVE

The Christian church, 14th and Birch streets, will move soon to a more central location, it was announced today. Since the resignation of Elder A. W. Jacobs, after a 17year pastorate, pastor of the church has been Elder C. B. Torrance. Services are held in the usual order.

CENTRAL BAPTIST TO PRESENT MUSICAL

Complimentary to Prof. Claud Pitts, the Central Baptist church, Rev. L. B. Brown, pastor, is presenting a grand musical next Wednesday, April 10, at 8 p. m. A reception is planned to follow the concert.

In presenting Rossini's "Stabat Mater" Easter Sunday evening, the Wesley Methodist choir, under the direction of NORTON E. DENNIS, above, was in the very best of form.

Mesdames Josephine Cooper, soprano, and Willie Mays, contralto, exhibited trained voices, well suited to the florid music. Their duet, "Power Eternal," was especially distinctive. Messrs. Andrew Green, Jester Harriston, Todd Roark, Charles Williams and Carl Yaeger, proved to be singers capable of handling Rossini's brilliant score, according to critics.

'The Visitor' Ends Three Years on Air

Rounding out three years of continuous broadcasting, "The Visitor," a program presented by the Angelus Funeral Home for the sick and shut-in over KFOX every Sunday morning from 10:15 to 10:45, continues one of the most popular of sacred programs.

GLOBE NEWS & GOSSIP

By JAY GOULD

Tanforan race track fans had a chance to see the mudders run by the judges at long prices.

Jockey Jack Westrope, who has been asked to take a rest from riding at Tanforan by the three top stewards, may decide to draw his suit against Tanforan Jockey Club.

Marques Neal of Seattle and Roy Gardner of Stockton were quoted as saying, "We would rather have a smart woman broke than to have a 'Boob Woman' with money, as the latter believes everything that is told to her, especially if it is told often enough."

Buddy White, race track fan who went to the races 100 days in California, handling good money during the afternoon, always came back to the city broke. So Boss Garnett, Benny Ayres, and Ernest Marshall bundled him on the train for Vancouver saying, "I'd rather not have nothing no time, than have something for just a little while."

Steve Brodie, of race track fame now in Los Angeles waiting a decision on a bus accident which he expects to get a fat check from, has been bankrolled several times by his friends who think his case is a cinch.

The gent who is decking the arm of the adorable Marjorie Johnson, one of the top lovelies in Louise Brook's Dunbar Hotel restaurant, is a clean cut, young, steady railroad employe.

Mabel Ramsey Rowe says thanks to the press and is extremely obliged for all the nice things said about her Douglass Hotel down San Diego way. She is doing a nice job and never felt better in her exciting career.

Redhead Alice Keyes and Nettie Parks say they are not worried over getting mail regularly from their boy friends as they know they are carrying on with the act.

'FRISCO FLASHES

The Brown Sisters, Thelma, Melba and Velma, closed a very successful engagement at the Embassy (ofay spot) in 'Frisco, and also a split week at the Roosevelt in Oakland and are now on the way South. Good luck, girls.

Saunders King and his combo opened at Mrs. Jack's Tavern doing big business as Saunders is very well liked.

Walter Green, Ira Grant, Aggie Geary, "Baby" Ed Smith and George Wilson can be seen daily at Tanforan, betting like a million.

Chester Marant of Town Club fame has a brand new lovely '40 Dodge and a sizeable bankroll. Look out for the wolves, Chet.

Fay Hollis, that very congenial waitress at the Town Club, still smiles 24-hours a day, and Ilene Glass is still No. 1 in J. D.'s life, and don't forget it.

Carl Harris of Monterey is venturing out in new fields. He is seeking a venture in Vallejo. Good luck, Carl.

Ace Adams is as quiet as a churchmouse these days. I wonder why. Can he be short of cash? If so, call J. Gould.

Ione Dorsey and Madeline Holmes sipping mixed drinks at Jack's Tavern looking very Spanish and pretty.

Octavia Sumner, burlesque showgal ex-wife of Clocker Tom of race track fame who wears her photo in his watch charm locket.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown, rare nite spot figures, seen at the Club Alabam t'other nite in 'Frisco racking 'em back and mingling with the fans.

Marie Williams of Oakland cashed her usual bets at Tanforan the other day.

The writes of this column has taken over the "Sutter House" at 1951 Sutter street in 'Frisco. Heat, hot and cold water in all rooms which are $4.00 and $5.00 per week, formerly Helen's Guest House.

Correction from last week: Grace Lewis and Elenore Calhoun were out with Sam Thompson instead of Almeta Fields, racking 'em back at the nite spots until closing time.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Green can be seen romancing on each side of the Bay Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Reese, a charming couple, and Mrs. Frances Staten, can be seen ankling in and out of the late spots and sipping choice drinks.

Mr. Love, manager for Mrs. Lena Jackson of Jack's Tavern and Chester Teel and Eugene Allen, mixologists, have increased the business 50% in the last few weeks.

Lester Mapp is back in the big money as he is the boss of the Bay Meadows' Smoke Shop.

Edna Ross is holding the pilot spot on the bandstand with Vernon Alley, bass; Barfield, tenor sax, and Wilbur Baranco, piano at the Club Alabam.

Boots Mayfield, en route to Seattle, has good prospects and may come back with a million (maybe).

Vernon Alley, sepia office holder of the Hot Music Society club, and Saunders King, who rendered the charming selection, "Charmoine," were the highlights of the evening at the Jam Session of the Society at the Little Switzerland. The only sepia visitors were the Brown Sisters, Jay Blakey, Bill Marsten and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Varieste.

Jim Roberts, Fred Pugh and Chet of the Town Club are going over big in 'Frisco.

Frank Scott, ex-Tillie Brady, Bob Moore and Peggy Bell, decided to have a fine chicken breakfast at 4 a. m. t'other day, so the foursome knocked themselves out completely.

Bernard Baguire has asked all young Negroes between the ages of 21 and 39, eligible to join the Young Republican Club, to do so as an endeavor will be made to create jobs for the race in City and County positions. Those seeking to join (without fee,) are required to meet at 2581 Post street, the second Tuesday in April.

J. C. Sweeney is having a tough break but playing hard.

Speck Clarke, formerly of Jack's Tavern, is still in the ailing room at the San Francisco hospital.

At Murray's Dude Ranch at Victorville, California, latest visitors are Helene Walker and Kay Gaylor.

Bessie Jones can be seen circulating with her husband, Floyd on each side of the bay, enjoying the land of sunshine and flowers and doing the late spots.

For any information, write or wire Jay Gould, New Sutter Hotel, 1951 Sutter street, San Francisco.

El Centro Takes Active Part in Health Week Observance

EL CENTRO, (By W.A. Payne)—Citizens of this community are taking an active part in the observance of National Negro Health Week. Contributing organizations this year are: Douglass and Washington schools; the Parent-Teachers' association; the University club; Beta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha; the County and City Health depts.; the health units of Salton Sea Lodge of Elks and Phyllis Wheatley Temple of Daughter Elks; and the churches of East El Centro. Mayor Gordon Scriven issued a proclamation ushering in the local observance and called upon all citizens to participate.

Health sermons were preached last Sunday. At the Second Baptist church, the Beta Chapter of AKA assisted in the program. Soror Elizabeth McGee presided and presented as the speaker Soror Mary L. Phillips. Miss Phillips presented, in a well prepared address, the part her sorority is playing in the health program and also stressed the value to be gained by a year round local program. Her address was warmly received. Monday morning the first of a series of assemblies was conducted in the Douglass high school auditorium. Dr. Warren Fox, county health officer presented an address dealing with community problems and solutions. During his 10 year service he has done much to improve conditions in the County.

The Parent-Teachers' Association assisted in the program Tuesday afternoon in the Washington school auditorium. Prof. L. J. Stewart, science teacher, will be the speaker. For several years citizens of this community have taken seriously the health program and the gains have been many.

CENSUS TAKERS

Rev. A. C. Austin, Mrs. I. N. Whitten, and Mr. A. E. Washington have been appointed census enumerators. Mrs. Whitten and Washington will take the census in East El Centro and Rev. A. C. Austin will have the territory of East Brawley. These persons were appointed following a very thorough examination during the past week.

Spring politics claim the attention of the entire city. The selection of city officers involves a number of problems. A hasty survey shows the Negro vote evenly divided on candidates. Leaders in East El Centro are working to secure a united front. Gains have been made because of solidarity of action. A united vote may prove a deciding factor in the election April 9. The surprise of the campaign is the definite stand being taken by the younger citizens. They are rallying their forces in a very business-like way. There was a large attendance at the mass meeting last Tuesday evening.

Junior College students had charge of the weekly assembly last Friday afternoon. Their program was a very well conducted Fashion Show. Modeling of street clothes, bathing outfits, sports clothes, evening gowns, etc., kept the assembly in a continuous state of expectancy.

Salton Sea Lodge of Elks presented the Bill Crosby orchestra in entertainment last Monday evening in the lodge room. Visitors from all valley towns, Yuma, San Diego, Riverside, and Los Angeles enjoyed the festivities.

Chaperoned by Misses Feralyn Lewis, Mary L. Phillips and Mrs. Emily Besana, 30 Washington Junior Girl Reserves participated in the County meet held with the Jasper School Saturday. The Washington girls conducted the opening and closing ceremonies in a very impressive manner. Miss Margaret Prince was the accompanist for the entire meeting.

CIVIC LEADER DEAD

Mrs. Beatrice Wesson, well known and active in religious, civic and fraternal circles, died last Thursday after a short illness. Funeral services were conducted in the Second Baptist church. Her pastor, Rev. I. N. Whitten, preached the funeral sermon and conducted the services. He was assisted by Rev. C. H. Hampton of San Diego and Dr. J. L. Caston of Los Angeles, both former pastors of the deceased. Ritualistic services were conducted by the Heroines of Jericho and the Court of Calanthe.

Mrs. Beatrice Wesson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Dixon, was born in Nashville, Arkansas.

When a girl she showed those principles which have characterized her whole life, consequently she joined the church when quite young and since then has been a consistent, active Christian.

June 9, 1920, she was married to Squire Wesson. In 1924 they moved to El Centro.

Immediately upon her arrival in El Centro she united with the Second Baptist church. While active in all departments, she served most in the Sunday School and especially in the Beginners' Department where she taught and was superintendent. She served as deaconess. During the past four years she served as treasurer of the church, a position that her late father held during his service here.

Not only was she active in the religious life of the community but she also contributed to the civic and fraternal life of the community. She was a member of and served as president of the Women's Civic and Improvement club. She was a member of the Heroines of Jericho and at the time of her passing was Worthy Counsellor of the Court of Calanthe.

She is survived by her husband, Squire Wesson; her mother, Mrs. Polly Dixon; sisters, Mesdames Essie McGee, Jessie Craig, Birdie Lee Bynum; Hazel Graham, and Miss Ouida Dixon; two brothers, Ardmore Dixon and X. O. Dixon.

Mrs. Birdie Lee Bynum of Kansas City, Mo.; Mr. James Moore of Phoenix Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. Herbery Beasley of San Diego were among those attending the Wesson obsequies.

Johnson's Chapel AME church and the Second Baptist church are conducting a 14-day evangelistic meeting.

Last Saturday afternoon, little Fleeta Blackburn, two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn, was struck by a car driven by the West Riverside Mail Carrier. Her condition is yet very serious.

During the past week, the evangelist, Miss Marjorie L. Casson and singer Miss Liska J. Moss, have been carrying on revival services in Santa Ana. Last Friday evening, they closed services with the pantomine "The Old Rugged Cross," with Misses Nellie Lockhart, Lottie Williams, Laura and Ida Harris, Frances Williams, Loreena Russell, who sang a solo, and Mrs. Edna Williams, organist. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Harris, Rev. W. R. Rutledge, pastor of Allen Chapel; Hershal Mitchell and Mrs. Arthur Williams, all of Riverside, attended.

Last rites were held Saturday afternoon at Second Baptist church for Mr. Arnie E. Baker, Rev. Wm. Thomas, officiating. Solos were sung by Mrs. Cecil Jones and Mrs. Edna Williams. He was a resident of this city for 11 years and the husband of Mary E. Gordon, who was the daughter of the late Sterling Gordon. He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and three children, Nancy Mae, Joellen, Mary Lee; and a sister, Mrs. Mary Crosby of L. A. Also a host of in-laws in L. A., San Bernardino and Pasadena. He will be greatly missed in the community as he was the caretaker of Lincoln Park.

Willie Smith Wants Royalties

NEW YORK, April 4.—Action has been filed here in behalf of Willie Smith, "The Lion", Harlem song writer, demanding $50,000 in royalties allegedly due him from the song, "Stop! It's Wonderful". Smith is also seeking a temporary injunction to restrain Larry Sper Inc., Clay Boland, and Bickley Reichner, the defendants from further use of the song.

The complaint alleges that Smith's "musical signature" was filched from him by the persons named in his injunction and used as the basis for "Stop! It's Wonderful". The song has become one of the 10 most popular songs on the market.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—Funeral services were held here last week for Mrs. Pearl C. Getts, grand worthy matron of the Grand Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star of the District of Columbia, who died at Freedmen's hospital following an operation.

Drawing attention to such artists as Paul Robeson, Marian Anderson, Richard Wright and others, Garfield said. "The Negro certainly has something very definite to offer to American culture".

While the Negro may be restricted in a larger sense in the theatre and the movies, he can still give expression to the needs of the people through the community theatre, Garfield remarked in a short talk.

WPA LIBRARY SERVICE PROJECTS TACKLE PROBLEM OF DIXIE READERS

Reports from 8 States Show Projects Bring Books to Thousands of Negro Citizens

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—An intensive drive to overcome the acute shortage of library service and facilities for Negro citizens in southern states is being conducted by the Works Projects Administration. Current reports from 8 states show that WPA library service projects are bringing books to many thousands who would not otherwise be able to obtain them.

Some idea of the inadequate provision made for Negro readers in the South is given by the findings of the Advisory Committee on Education. This body, appointed by President Roosevelt, found that during 1935 only 94 out of a total of 509 public libraries in 13 southern states served Negroes. Over one-half of the libraries with services and facilities available to Negroes were located in four states: West Virginia, Kentucky, Texas, and North Carolina. The combined Negro population of these four states constituted only 24 percent of the total for all of the 13 southern states. Nearly one-fifth of all libraries available were remote from the main centers of Negro population.

REPORTS

Current reports on WPA library service come from Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas, and Virginia.

Arkansas reports that WPA library service is being provided for 7,091 Negroes in that state. Six hundred and thirteen are registered borrowers.

While Louisiana mentions no specific figures, it reports that WPA library service projects there "attempt to serve the Negro population generally".

Mississippi reports that thousands of Negroes are being helped by WPA library service.

WPA library service in North Carolina has made 7,336 books available for adult Negro citizens and more than 13,200 books for children. The total population served is 41,791, of which there are over 3,500 registered adult borrowers and 5,062 registered juvenile borrowers. North Carolina also has 7 library rooms set aside for adult Negroes, and 21 libraries for children. Two county library systems are reported.

UNIT IN BOLEY

Oklahoma reports a WPA library unit in the town of Boley. This is a Negro community of some 800 population. The WPA is also responsible for a new library building constructed to house its library service in Boley.

South Carolina reports that the WPA is operating a county library system for Negro citizens in Lancaster county. Besides serving adults, this system delivers books to all Negro schools in the county. A total of 6,519 books were circulated in 1939.

Texas reports that WPA library service projects there have 4,992 registered borrowers and serve a total population of 8,145 readers.

In Virginia, the Appomattox County school reports that WPA workers are assisting in circulating a collection of 6,000 volumes to Negro schools throughout the county.

By thus extending library service to Negroes in the South, the WPA is carrying on the work begun 10 years ago by the Julius Rosenwald Fund. Library service for Negroes was made available by this fund in 11 counties of 7 southern states during a five-year period beginning in 1929.

Citizens Plan to Aid Crippled Children

A group of representative citizens met Tuesday afternoon in the 12th Street branch of the YWCA to map plans incident to tackling what they termed one angle of the health problem that has been too long neglected. The group in round table discussion probed into the matter of aiding the problem of crippled children and physically handicapped peoples.

During the meet it was brought to light that in the Eastside area alone, there are existent hundreds of unreorted cases involving children who are orthopedic problems. The meeting was called by Jewell Oliver, who presided, and was principally addressed by Warren E. Griffith, executive secretary of the California Society for Crippled Children, who stressed the importance of launching such a society for this area.

Miss Ida Katheryn Waltz, widely known orthopedic authority, in her talk presented a clear cut picture of the problem prevalent among children and grownups. She pointed to the frightful fact that infantile paralysis had upon scores of uncounted cases here in this area alone. It was disclosed during the talk of Miss Waltz, that of the 85 cases of infantile paralysis reported from the Warm Springs, Ga. headquarters, only three were of Negroes.

Among those who responded to Mr. Oliver's invitation to sit in on the initial confab were: Dr. Ruth Temple, Ruby M. Smith, Frederick M. Roberts, Floyd C. Covington, Harold Scott and Lawrence F. LaMar.

State Upholds Right of Negro to Vote in N. C.

GREENVILLE (N. C.) April 4. (ANP)—Election officials who have in the past refused to register Negro voters must from now on place the names of colored citizens who meet all the qualifications on registration lists, W. A. Lucas of Wilson, chairman of the state board of elections, Friday, told county election officials and chairman of Democratic county executive committees assembled for a conference on new election laws.

The question of the Negro vote, which was given by several state legislators as their reason for opposing a mandatory new state registration law, was raised at the conference. Lucas left no doubt as to the law or the attitude of the state toward its complete enforcement.

However, the matter of Negro registration is of concern mainly in the state's smaller communities. In Raleigh and Durham they are already registered in sizeable numbers.

D. business without the loss of a single penny.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Here's a report from the Collision Prevention Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department on the cost of traffic collisions which should arrest the eye.

We read so often of our mounting traffic toll that these tragic stories have become commonplace. However, every traffic crash means an actual dollars and cents loss to every citizen. We all feel it in increased insurance rates, damage repair, added car costs, increased hospital maintenance and in a thousand other ways.

A mere quotation of figures, the bureau points out, doesn't mean much to the average citizen. However, expressed in other terms, the astronomical figures, which represent the annual cost of traffic collisions, become more understandable. The cost of last year's traffic collisions, reports the bureau, was enough to buy every family in Los Angeles a $2,500 home on a $500 lot and fill it with $1,000 worth of furnishings.

There would be enough money left over to build a five million dollar library, a 10 million dollar university and a five million dollar hospital. And enough to set aside a sum sufficient to pay for all time the salaries of 100 librarians, 100 professors and 500 nurses.

There would still be enough left to set up a permanent fund so that every child in Los Angeles between the ages of six and 15 could have a free two-weeks vacation at a summer camp every year from now on.

Even after all this spending there would be enough money left to set up a fund to pay the salaries of, equip and maintain forever a force of 1,000 traffic officers.

Now, despite all these deductions from the total cost of last year's traffic collisions, there would STILL be enough left to build Boulder Dam and pay for all the electricity used, both commercially and domestically, in the entire City of Los Angeles for a period of 15 years.

That is what our traffic collisions cost each year.

The Collision Prevention Bureau suggests it's time that citizens DID something about it.

WE'D LIKE TO SEE:

Property owners from 12th and Central, south to Slauson, on Central, do something about the appearance of stores, junk yards, hotels, rooming houses, business houses, fences and billboards.

Why not a clean-up and paint-up campaign to remedy this run-down condition. A casual drive from 12th to Slauson would convince the most unbelieving that Central Ave. is in dire need of help, help from the people whose property it runs through.

There are signs and posters in some places that have been up for years, having served their purpose, and now a reminder of the condition which allows them to remain.

New buildings are brightening up the "40's" (4000 blocks). They show what cleaning and painting up can do for the street, mention of which denotes Negro.

POOR SPELLERS

Mr. George C. Anderson, editor of The Gary (Ind. American, captions an editorial of recent date: "Graduates Are Poor Spellers".

"We have often called attention to the fact, says Mr. Anderson, "that the average high school graduate's knowledge of the English language, as indicated by that which we have seen in writing, would not do credit to a pupil in the sixth grade."

Saying he has often wondered why this is so, Editor Anderson credits Mr. Eustace Gay of The Philadelphia (Pa.) Tribune, with supplying the answer.

Said Mr. Gay: "I am told, whenever I am bold enough to ask one of them the reason, that one need not know how to spell in order to make money."

Mr. Anderson continues: "Perhaps the persons who so naively informed the writer that 'one need not know how to spell in order to make money' actually believed it. Just where they got the idea is a mystery, for on every hand we read of executives complaining about the woeful inability of so-called graduates to handle the English language, and spelling is one of the biggest causes for their complaints. In discussing qualifications for employment, a large western manufacturer told a group of vocational advisors that 'it is surprising how little your graduates know about the use of the one tool they have constant use for—the English language'."

Concluding his editorial, Mr. Anderson states: "It has been our observation that poor spellers who should not be poor spellers exhibit an equal amount of inefficiency in everything else they do. Just as the writer avers, the three R's are still basic, and thoroughness in them is a requisite for real education.

"At this time, when attention is being centered upon the 'guide right' movement, and similar movements, the organizations sponsoring them could do their youthful charges a great service by devoting some time to a study of their deficiencies, and the leak that causes them. The possession of a high school certificate or a college degree does not necessarily mean that the holder is 'qualified'."

WPSC State Council Meets at 'Y'

State Council of the Women's Political Study club, met at the YWCA on Thursday, Mar. 28, with Mrs. Betty Hill, executive secretary, presiding.

Much enthusiasm was shown by the women when it was reported that several of the members of the organization were being placed in the present census-taking project.

A report from the educational chairman, Mrs. Neoshum Tatum, was very interesting when she spoke of visits to various schools, among them, Cornell Welfare school; here though the children are of the sub-normal type, they seemed to realize their condition and were trying hard to adjust themselves. Mrs. Tatum also spoke of the congeniality and the efforts put forth by the faculty to aid these children to rehabilitate themselves.

Mrs. Tatum also reported that the condition at Belmont had been cleared up. Seemingly there had been a misunderstanding between the principal of that school and some of the students. Much interest and enthusiasm has been shown by the various presidents in carrying on their different activities in an effort to meet their financial budgets.

All units are preparing for the observation of Negro Health Week to be held the second week in April.

WASHINGTON TAKES PLACE AMONG GREAT AMERICAN EDUCATORS

45-Minute Radio Broadcast to Mark Final Ceremonies of Educator's Stamp Festivities

TUSKEGEE INST., Ala., April 4. (ANP)—Booker T. Washington, who walked 500 miles to school at Hampton institute, will be honored Sunday as no other Negro in history. He will take his place as one of America's foremost educators.

At 10:00 a. m., CST, Postmaster General James A. Farley will stand before the Tuskegee Institute Post Office to sell the first Booker T. Washington postage stamp in the presence of many dignitaries, the board of trustees of the college which Booker T. Washington founded, and an estimated 10,000 stamp collectors and visitors.

After visiting the many buildings of the famed educational center and lunching with the nationally known personalities who will be present, Farley will proceed to the institute's chapel where he will participate in a 45 minute radio broadcast marking the final ceremonies of the Booker T. Washington Stamp celebration.

Speaking into an NBC microphone, he will recall the life and contributions to America of the first Negro to be honored on a United States postage stamp. The program begins at 3.15 p. m. E. S. T. over the blue network of the National Broadcasting company.

HAYES TO SING

Also appearing on the program will be the world famous Tuskegee Institute choir of 100 voices under the direction of William L. Dawson, eminent conductor-composer; Dr. F. D. Patterson, Tuskegee's president; Dr. William Jay Schieffelin, chairman of the board of trustees and national chairman of the national committee of patrons of the celebration, and Roland Hayes, internationally known concert artist who will make his first radio appearance in a long and brilliant career.

Hayes, who will be heard from radio station WBZ, Boston, will introduce for the first time on the air a song based on a poem by Langston Hughes set to music by Reginald Boardman. It is titled "Alabama Earth". The choir will render "Seeking For a City", and "Everytime I Feel That Spirit." The postmaster general will be introduced by Dr. Schieffelin.

Thirty minutes after this program the assemblage will listen to "The Pursuit of Happiness," beginning at 4:30 p. m. E. S. T. over the Columbia network during which Booker T. Washington's life will be dramatized. For this program Langston Hughes was commissioned by the Columbia Broadcasting system to write an original script based on Dr. Washington's autobiography, "Up From Slavery." The title roll will be played by Rex Ingram, "De Lawd," of "The Green Pastures" fame.

This is the first time that two nationwide radio networks have turned over their facilities to honor any Negro personality during the same afternoon.

Concurrently with the two radio programs a series of public meetings will be held in churches and public auditoriums from coast to coast where other national personalities will gather to honor Tuskegee's founder.

As last minute preparations were rushed at Tuskegee this week, interest centered on Ingram and his portrayal of the Booker T. Washington role. Reached at his New York apartment, the actor said:

"I regard Booker T. Washington as the greatest Negro who ever lived. Talking into a CBS microphone next Sunday my humble voice will be raised to praise his name. It will be heard from Broadway to Alaska.

"Preparing to do full justice to the role I have conferred at length with Mrs. Nettie Washington here in New York. I have spent hours in the library studying his famous personality. I hope to make this the outstanding radio performance of my career."

Priest Tells Leadership Needs

O'Dwyer Is Post-Easter Speaker at Avalon Church

BY LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

Thursday marked a new day in the annals of Los Angeles churches. It served as an appropriate time in which to usher in a new approach to solution of the vexsome economic and social problems affecting American masses, and the widespread challenge to church leaders.

These problems were eloquently related by speakers attending the annual post-Easter dinner in the banquet hall of Avalon Christian church. The meeting was presided over by L. Virgil Williams. The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas JP. O'Dwyer, head of the Archiocesan charities and Catholic hospitals, was the principal speaker.

Rev. O'Dwyer, who is one of the best known members of the Catholic priesthood here, is regarded as an expert on American Negro problems. Several years ago, as head of the Catholic charities, he built at 16th and Essex streets a social center to serve the needs of the community. The center proved to be ahead of its time. The Catholic prelate, is a director of the local Urban League, and a member of the national body.

HITS COMMUNISM

Keynote of the evening was sounded by Rev. O'Dwyer when he pointed out the danger confronting the church today, contained in the veiled challenge hurled by subversive groups and agencies, as to its fitness for leadership. Considerable stress was laid on that challenge in the economic field. Communism was brought into the open, as the principal force bidding for leadership of the masses, and which to gain its ends, is sparing no means of belittling the church and dividing the American peoples into hopeless classes.

Rev. Baxter C. Duke, pastor of Avalon church, spoke on the subject of church leadership in the economic, social and public affairs, as well as those of religion and morals.

Mrs. Zelma Watson Duke, wife of the pastor, gave a word picture of immediate problems which affect the progress of the community. The speaker highlighted her talk with a description of Avalon Christian church, which contains besides the church proper, 42 rooms which are utilized to make it an institutional church open every day of the week.

Ben, Ellison, employed in special assignment work of a county-wide scope for the Los Angeles Co-ordinating council, spoke on juvenile delinquency and urged a closer cooperation of the church people with law enforcement bodies. Former assemblyman Frederick M. Roberts, presented the legislative point of view on problems of housing, lighting, etc, Robert Strauther, insurance man, pointed to a need of responsible Publication of a book of poems, "Essence of Good Perfume," by Nellie V. Conner, above, local businesswoman, was announced today by Ivan Deach, Jr., Publisher.

An internationally known poet, Mrs. Conner is also secretary of Conner-Johnson Co., Morticians. She is socially prominent.

In announcing the book, the publisher said:

"The author of these verses has a true poetic soul. They are genuine expressions of real emotion. Many are very fine . . . ."

A limited number of the volumes will be printed, it was announced.

Rasmussen Makes Move for Large Eastside Playground

In a statement this week to the California Eagle Councilman Rasmussen revealed that he is making every effort toward the ultimate establishment of a community playground in the area East of Main street.

The Councilman has secured the active cooperation and support of the Playground Commission to the extent that members of the commission made a personal tour of inspection of the area involved and were well satisfied that there is a definite need for a community playground in the section lying generally between Main street, Central, Vernon avenues and Jefferson boulevard.

The first step will be to obtain a suitable site, Councilman Rasmussen said. This can be accomplished in one of several ways. The City owns considerable property scattered in various parts of its 450 square mile area, which it would be willing to exchange for property in the above mentioned portion of the 7th district.

Consequently, if there are any property owners in the district who would care to trade their homes or vacant lots for city-owned property elsewhere, the Councilman urgently requests such people to communicate with his office.

There is also the possibility that some public spirited citizens might wish to donate a suitable site to the city. This has frequently been done. Of the 52 local playgrounds, only 2 have been purchased outright from current annula tax funds. If, through cooperation of residents of the area, a site can be obtained in either of the above mentioned methods the Playground Department will provide the necessary funds with which to develop and equip such a site.

It must be clearly understood at this time that the Playground Commission is unable, because of lack of funds, to purchase a site outright.

Councilman Rasmussen expressed the earnest hope that the citizens of the community will render their whole-hearted support to the project and cooperate with him in locating a suitable site.

REX INGRAM and Langston Hughes, above, will share honors on Columbia's "Pursuit of Happiness" broadcast Sunday afternoon. Hughes has written a radio drama, based on the classic Booker T. Washington autobiography, "Up from Slavery", in which Ingram will play the leading role. Sunday will be celebrated by Tuskegee Institute as Founder's Day. Booker T. Washington, who established the famous school in 1881, will be honored by the issuance on that day of a 10-cent stamp in the "Famous American" series.

S. F. Boy, 13, to Study Radio Thru CBS

Boy Scout Given Free Course By Columbia Station

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4—Most unusual might be termed the accomplishment of Charles Simpson, 13-year old Boy Scout of Troop 99, San Francisco. Charles was one of 20 boys selected to be given free of charge, a complete course in radio supervision and broadcast technique by KSFO, San Francisco's Columbia outlet.

Upon completion of the course, each boy will be placed by the Columbia network in one of their stations throughout the United States. Each boy represents the finest his troop had to offer, having been judged on intelligence, initiative and all-around ability.

This contest, co-sponsored by radio station KSFO and the executive scout body of San Francisco, and whole-heartedly supported by the city of San Francisco, is the outgrowth of a campaign to secure a better educational and vocational set-up for modern day youth.

In pursuing his course in radio supervision and broadcast technique, young Simpson will have only to report daily to his instruction class and show an interest and a desire to learn. All financial assistance has been provided for by the sponsors.

To Dr. Wiley M. Fowler, scoutmaster of Troop 99, the only Negro troop in San Francisco, goes much of the credit for Simpson's success as he personally assisted him in preparing for the contest.

Simpson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson of San Francisco.

Use Name of "Inkspots"; Sued

NEW YORK, April 4—Gale Inc., theatrical booking and management agency, is bringing suit against a quartet, which allegedly used the name 'Inkspots" and posed as the original Inkspots, who have won wide fame for their singing.

The asserted duplicity was discovered when Moe Gale, head of Gale Inc., attempted to book the real Inkspots in New Orleans and upped prices from 10 cents to $1.15.

Ethel Waters Mauls Bryant

NEW YORK, April 4.—A very realistic scene occurred in "Mamba's Daughters" here last week when Ethel Waters, the star, in her fight with Willie Bryant, mauled him so vigorously that she tore a ligament and burst a blood vessel in his left arm.

The injury necessitated a physician's attention.

This is the second time Miss

WILLIE BRYANT . . mauled

Waters' stage fights with Bryant have proved so realistic. During the first New York run of the play, he was knocked unconscious during one of the battle scenes.

The play returned to Broadway two weeks ago after a successful road showing. It will close for good within the fortnight, it was announced.

'Chicken Charlie' Dead in U. S. Capital

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4.—One of the best known figures among theatrical folk, Charles Roman, known as "Chicken Charlie", died here after a brief illness. Roman was the owner of Charlie's Chicken Shack, located near the Howard theatre, for years a familiar eating place of actors and actresses who played at the Howard.

Roman was a close friend of many noted band leaders, particularly Duke Ellington, Cab Calloway, Louis Armstrong, Fats Waller, Count Basie, and Claude Hopkins.

He started the Chicken Shack during his college days at Howard university, and after leaving Howard medical school, devoted all his time to it. Funeral services were held Friday.

LYNCH, Ky., April 4.—Several thousand Negro and white coal miners of District 19 of the United Mine Workers of America this week elected the Rev. T. J. McMillen as their representative to the Third National Negro Congress.

Marian Anderson Concert to Benefit 4 National Groups

NEW YORK, April 4—Despite the fact that she is completing the heaviest New York season schedule of her career, Marian Anderson will give a concert at Carnegie Hall, May 26, for the benefit of four Negro national organizations.

Proceeds from the concert, except for the actual cost of promoting the affair, will be divided equally among: National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Division of Colored Work, National Council of the YMCA; National Urban League, and International Committee on African Affairs.

Announcement of the concert, which will be Miss Anderson's fifth and final recital in her New York series, was made by Hubert T. Delaney, New York Commissioner and the singer's legal representative. The concert was arranged by Delaney and S. Hurok, manager of the artist, following a conference with Miss Anderson last month.

GIVES REASON

Last year, Miss Anderson gave over all the boxes to these four organizations at one of her concerts. This year, Delaney said, she felt that the whole problem of social service and citizenship rights for Negroes in America needs to be focused on the minds of all the citizens of the country, now that democracy itself is on trial as never before. That is why she has made it plain that despite her heavy schedule, she wants to make this definite contribution to the work of helping in the fight to extend the full freedom of citizenship rights to her people.

At a dinner held at the Gilt Edge Dining Room, Thursday evening in honor of the noted singer, representatives of the four groups expressed their gratitude to Miss Anderson and her manager, S. Hurok, for this evidence of their deep interest in the work of their agencies.

Ticket prices will run from $1.10 to $3.30.

Divine Workers Tour South

SAN ANTONIO, April 4.—A unit of Father Divine workers, which originated in Oakland, Calif., is on tour of the South and appeared here last week.

The movement, of which Father Divine, self-styled God is the head, has millions of followers in the North but has made little headway in the South. For that reason, the unit, composed of Father Emmanuel David, Miss Sun Ray, Miss Annette Peters and Miss Faithful John, will tour through Texas, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida.

GUNNAR TAMILA

THERE lived in Los Angeles, a Finn named Gunnar Tamila who was born in Helsinki.

Mr. Tamila, like many another Finn, was a fast walker and runner. He could travel like the wind. So it was a surprise to his boss when it was found that Mr. Tamila was only making eight calls a day when he should be making fifteen.

Mr. Tamila said he could explain. "In Finland I have no trouble," he said "There I make twenty calls each day but here it is so far. I try to walk—too many people. I try to drive—no place to park."

"Listen, Gunnar," said his boss. "I will give you some valuable advice. Ride the street cars and buses. Then you won't have to worry about people or traffic."

Mr. Tamila said he'd never thought of that and bet his boss a dollar that he could make twenty-five calls the next day.

Louis Runs Out of "White Hopes"

When heavyweight champion of the world Joe Louis cashed his Paychek the other night in little less than four minutes he started something.

Boxing observers admit now that there is a dearth of "white hopes" and have started beating the tom-toms for other "brown hopes".

Johnny Whiters, Detroit colored battler, seems to be in line for first call. Whiters decisioned Lee Savold of Des Moines, Iowa, last week. Savold, before his engagement with Whiters, was looked upon as a possible Louis foe. But that's out, now that he lost to Whiters.

Another Negro heavyweight liked by fight followers is Lem Franklin, former Cleveland Golden Gloves and international champion.

It's the observers' consensus that Louis ought to give some of the boys of his own race a chance for gold and glory. They could do no worse than some of the so-called "white hopes" and the fans might see a real fight for a change.

World Basketball Champions

The Harlem Globe Trotters are the world's professional basketball champions! They defeated George Halas' Chicago Bruins, 31 to 29, before 6500 spectators in Chicago's Madison Street armory to win top pro honors.

To reach the finals, the Globe Trotters defeated the famous New York Rens, nosing them out by one point. The Bruins and the Globe Trotters survived competition between 14 teams. With five minutes to play in their setto, the Bruins led 29-21. And then the Globe Trotters got hot, as Time says: "with a blitzkrieg of crazy passing and shooting, the dipsy-doo Globe Trotters bombarded the baskets, won the game (31 to 29), the title and $1,800 first prize money".

Although named the Harlem Globe Trotters, this team plays mainly in the midwest and northwest and is composed mainly of young players from the Chicago area. Inman Jackson, star stunt man of the team, is 37, and a substitute. Their title win was the 130th out of 132 games this season and the 1840th since the team was organized by Abe Saperstein 13 years ago. The Trotters travel by bus, cover 35,000 miles a year and attract 350,000 spectators.

Whiters Decisions Savold; Wants Crack at King Joe

ST. LOUIS, April 4. (ANP)—Lee Savold of Des Moines, Ia., who so impressed New York in recent appearances that he was looked upon as a "white hope" to win the heavyweight crown, dropped out of the championship picture Thursday night when he lost a 10-round decision to Johnny Whiters, Detroit colored battler, at the auditorium.

Savold, following the match in which there were no knockdowns, said that Whiters was "the greatest colored heavyweight." Asked if that included Joe Louis, Savold evaded the question and countered with "Whiters can punch with both hands. If you let him get outside of you and swing with his right, he'd knock your brains out. He's very hard to fight and is rootin' all the time."

Whiters, according to his manager, has never been knocked out or on the floor although he suffered a technical kayo at the hands of Tiger Jack Fox. He says he wants to fight Louis for the crown.

Savold, less than a year ago, was knocked out in three rounds by Lem Franklin, former Cleveland Golden Gloves and international champion.

2 Whites Held for Serving 'Mickey Finns' to Harlemite

Ohio Commissio Plans for Expo

NEW YORK, April 4. (CNA)—Harlem citizens took action this week to stop the practice of giving "Mickey Finns" (a poisonous substance put in drinks to produce illness) to Negroes who defy the color ban in Broadway restaurants.

Evidence of five Harlemites in court caused Magistrate Rothenberg to hold Peter Francis, white bartender in Havana-Madrid restaurant, for the grand jury on a charge of assault by use of a "Mickey Finn." Leo Orta, white steward in the same place, was held for Special Sessions. He is accused of violating Section 5.4 of the Penal Code, forbidding racial discrimination.

Testimony revealed that the five complainants asked for a table at the restaurant on the night of Feb. 22. Told to wait, they waited a long time, finally stepping to the bar for a drink.

Soon after, Miss Marian Jordan and Earl Dancer were taken violently ill and rushed to Polyclinic hospital. Dancer was ill for several days. Others in the party were: John Dancer, a brother of Earl, W. A. Saunders and Miss Hyacinth Curtis.

Magistrate Rothenberg said the evidence established a prima facie case against Orta on the discrimination charge and dismissed Francis in the "Mickey Finn" assault case.

Brooks, Polite, Jackson Top 'Graduation Night' Fight Bill

Matchmaker Jimmy Murray inaugurates "graduation night" at the Olympic next Tuesday, winners of the five six-round bouts eligible for 10-round contracts for main events at the auditorium in the near future.

Strictly action is promised when Johnny Jackson, sensational New Orleans middleweight who kayoed Miller Fonseca in a round last week, ties into Big Boy Hogue, white, in the top six-rounder.

Richard Polite, who stopped Gene Mock in his last bout, will cross rights with Elmer Lewis, white. Apparently named for a great general, Ulysses Simpson Grant Harris, will attempt to out-general Chief Crazy Horse. Jimmy Brooks, mustached New Orleans welter, will trade socks with Carlos Miranda, Mexican. Al Smith is paired with Carmen Georgino, both white, in the first six-heater.

The opening four-rounder offers Eddie Rivers with Clarence Thomas.

Tuesday night at the Olympic, "Professor" George Latka again conducted classes. This time Baby Arizmendi, veteran Mexican lightweight, was the willing and apt pupil, losing 8 rounds, getting an even break in the other two. The "professor" smothered the Baby's attack before said offensive could get underway. So effective were the "professor's" defensive tactics, Arizmendi seldom landed a clean blow. On the other hand, Latka, who teaches boxing at Santa Clara university, used short rights to keep Arizmendi's head bouncing up and down, not unlike a cork in a turbulent sea.

Occasionally the "professor" crossed a right or left-hooked his opponent to prove to the 6500 present that his pupil was just that—a pupil.

Charley Randolph wasted no time in raising Latka's right duke at the end of the 10th canto.

Billy Latka, George's middleweight brother, TKO'ed William Metcalf. Eddie "Rochester" Anderson's importation from Chicago. Referee Frank Holborrow stopped the fight at the end of the third when he decided that a cut over Mecalf's eye was too bad to allow the bout to continue.

Dixie Is Nuts Over Virginia Union Quint

10 Miracle Men Topple N. C. State, Set Off Fireworks

RICHMOND (Va.) April 4. (By Simeon Booker, Jr., for ANP)—The jumping jive fellows at Virginia Union university are really turning ole Virginny upside down these days. Ever since Coach Henry Hucles gave his 10 miracle men basketball suits, the fighting Panthers have been knocking out new records. The climax came when the boys toppled an elongated North Carolina State Eagles team, southeastern champs, before 1000 persons at Norfolk recently.

Paul Decker, Norfolk's white sports authority, commented after the game, "Union has the finest team I have ever seen in Tidewater." Tommy Scott, director of athletics at William and Mary college, praised, "I'm pretty sure they could lick anything in the Southern conference (white)."

To put the matter at white heat, Jimmie Howard, star of the North Carolina Tarheels, Southern conference champs, explained, "The Panthers could whip my mates by more than 25 points."

Abe Goldblatt, Virginia Pilot sports writer, scribbled, "Last year in a post-season game, Union whipped Long Island U. After viewing last night's game, it's easy to see how they accomplished the feat."

In his column, W. N. Cox wrote, "Union has the fastest club in this district in passing and afoot, are the cleverest court coverers and best sportsmen, and have tremendous energy, being able to finish the whirlwind dance scarcely winded."

Four round results: Kent Martinez shaded Clyde Alexander; Eddie Stanley stopped Marty Gomez in four; Harry Azanoff kayoed Hal Flannigan in three; and Pancho Ramirez decisioned Ted Newsome in the opener.

Kappas Win Frat Series; Top Alphas

Alpha's Leonard McClain Called "Player of Series"

Demonstrating conclusively that they have a corner on the Fraternal Brawn, Kappa Alpha Psi's basketball quintet brought the four-game inter-frat series to a rousing close last Saturday night, walloping Alpha Phi Alpha 41-33.

Scoring honors were shared equally by Kappa center Francis Garland and forward Lowell Stewart, at 13 points each. Alpha center Leonard McClain wasn't far behind, with 11 digits, and Kappa guard John Randolph came in close, with 9.

According to statistics, the Kappas won all three games played by them during the series. With Napoleonic dispatch, they polished off Omega Psi Phi, 57-30; Alpha, 41-25 and 41-33. (Of course, they got licked two times running by the fast-breaking Oakland YMCA team, but that's a horse of another color.)

Runner-up for season honors was Alpha, which flopped dismally across the finish line after staging a couple of heartening spurts earlier in the race. The Apes took Omega in the second game of the series, and put up considerable, if intermittent, "woof" during scraps with the Kats.

The booby went to Omega, which, at that, fared better than most on the comeback trail, and may prove something of a threat in years to come . . . that is, when the progeny of present players has matured sufficiently to withstand initiation.

ON A LIMB

Fully aware that a limb is a perilous perch, this reporter, nevertheless, crawls out on one to nominate as the best player of the series, Alpha pivot man Leonard McClain. McClain played the most professional ball of the season.

Second choice is Kappa forward Stewart; third, Garland; fourth, Alpha guard Bill Terry; and fifth, Omega guard Lloyd Courtney.

Honorable mention goes to Kappas John Randolph and Louis Love, and Alphas Marshall Lewis and Melvin Nickerson.

The highest accolade of all, however, should go to the fans, who appeared in ever increasing numbers, glory and enthusiasm, each and every game night. When the going was worse, they were a special source of comfort, their gorgeous apparel offsetting whatever frowziness the players exhibited . . . two more Kappa blitzkriegs and the fans would have appeared in backless evening gowns, rhinestones and tails!

In conclusion, although we contribute scores of stellar athletes to local schools and colleges every year whose exploits help to pay off the mortgage," an annual five-game basketball series is about all we can do ourselves toward commercializing our talent and perhaps starting a fund, to erect a building to mortgage, to pay off!

Kappas Open Guide Right Celebration

Louis Kayos Paychek in 10th Defense of Crown

NEW YORK, April 4.—Belting out Johnny Paychek of Des Moines, Iowa, in 44 seconds of the second round, world's heavyweight champion Joe Louis is looking for greener pastures in the fistic firmament this week.

Obviously afraid of the champion, Paychek didn't land a blow on Louis that had the earmarks of being the real thing. Joe put him on the canvas three times in the first round and just when he was set for the "kill" the bell rang. Paychek took counts of 9 all three times.

In the second heat Louis hit Paychek with a right that fairly lifted him into the air. When Johnny fell referee Arthur 4Donovan didn't bother about counting above "six".

His 10th defense of the crown he won from Jim Braddock in 1937, it was one of Joe's easiest fights (?). He didn't even work up a sweat.

UCLA LOSES MEET TO SCAA; MAY UPSET BEARS HERE AT COLISEUM

Tom Bradley Shines in Relay on Westwood Oval; Sinclair and Lacefield Get Points

By J. CULLEN FENTRESS

Brother UCLA Bruin meets Brother California Bear in a conference track meet at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon and, off his performance last Saturday against the Southern California Athletic association Brer Bruin is out to bag the meet, the first of the season.

Although they went down 77 19-20 to 53 1-20 before SCAA coach Harry Trotter's Uclans tied their foes in the number of first places won, splitting 14 evenly and tieing in another. UCLA actually lost to the powerful all-star squad on second and third places.

The most outstanding performance of the day out on the Westwood oval was that registered by big Tom Bradley who ran a great anchor lap in the relay in which he came from behind to nose out Cliff Bourland, white, ineligible Trojan sophomore. Bradley also won the quartermile in 49s flat.

Hal Sinclair, UCLA's star dash man, proved the workhorse of the team. He placed second behind Payton Jordan, white, last year's USC track captain, in a 9.6s "100" and a 21.4s "220". Jordan was assisted by an 8-mile an hour tail wind. Sinclair then ran a lap on the winning relay team.

In spite of a bruised heel which kept him out of the broadjump, Bill Lacefield showed enough stuff to easily capture the 120-yard high sticks in 15.1.

Admittedly weak in the distance events, UCLA stands a good chance of winning its duel meet with California.

With Sinclair in both dashes, Lacefield, Pat Turner and John Schilling, both white, in the broadjump, Bradley in the 440, Captain Carl McBain, white, in the lows, and Lacefield in the highs; Clark Shaughnessy jr., white, in the javelin, and Jim Edinger, white, in the pole vault, the Uclans may pile up enough firsts to offset their weakness in the weight and distance events. Their Schilling, Paul Shoaff and Jack Blaikie, all white, may take high jump honors, too.

CIF Sports Sked Revealed

According to a release from Seth F. Van Patten, commissioner of athletics, the following events are scheduled in the California Interscholastic Federation, southern section:

The Brea-Olinda relays, postponed from April 2 to April 16 on account of a wet field.

The 26th Russell Cup track meet will be held at Carpinteria Saturday, starting at 9:30 a. m. Thirty schools and 600 athletes will take part.

And Saturday also, the class "C" tennis championship tournament will be played on the Montebello High school courts, starting at 8:30 a. m.

With all games scheduled for 3:00 p. m., the baseball teams of South Pasadena, Pasadena and El Monte play Montebello, Covina and Monrovia respectively at the latter schools on April 9.

MOST VALUABLE

FRANCIS GARLAND, Los Angeles City College center, who has been named on the all-conference team of the Metropolitan League by a vote of coaches and sportswriters. He was the only man to receive the maximum 51 points. The most valuable man award also went to Garland with a total of 50 votes.

I see Jimmy Cromwell, our Minister to Canada, is still having trouble with that speech he made. Seems a lot of people thought he was too much in favor of the Allies. When people's emotions are stirred up as they are now, it's hard to say anything without causing friction somewhere along the line; and the man who does the least talking has the fewest regrets, when you get to a point where you have to explain what you meant by your last remark, you're heading straight for trouble-which is just about what I meant by my last remark.

A Penn State College Prof. claims many car drivers are mentally unbalanced. That's one nut the efficiency experts haven't been able to eliminate.

When in doubt what liquor you should serve your guests, come to Harry Morgan. I take a personal interest in the problems of my customers and will gladly give suggestions on the correct use of wines, liquors. I carry nationally advertised brands-meet lowest prices. A few more women are illiterate than men among the foreign born, and a few more men than women among the Negroes.

"Occupations—Out of every 100 persons in the United States, about 30 are in manufacturing, 22 in farming, 13 in some form of trade. There are about 160,000 preachers, 80,000 dentists, 200,000 lawyers, 165,000 doctors, 1,200,000 teachers."

THE CENSUS-TAKER KNOCKS

"Who's that knocking at my door?"

Probably the census-taker, for on Monday, April 1, the government in serious fashion took up the game of "Knock-knock!" with a field force of questioners two-thirds the size of the United States' standing army. They confront the mammoth job of rounding up all the essential facts about you and 132 million other citizens, and gathering in this data from 33 million dwellings and 7 million farms—by midnight of April 30!

Time was when the chief purpose of the national nose-counting was simply to determine how many representatives a state was entitled to. In consequence, everyone was anxious to be counted. Now that this is no longer the sole purpose of the census, people have shown themselves correspondingly less anxious to encounter the census-taker.

But despite the hullabaloo in Congress over certain questions —most of the questions were in the 1930 census, but it's a rare politician who can remember 10 years back!—the facts gained by the census will be of general benefit. The information will provide business and government with a more accurate index to purchasing power, general living standards, a more clear-cut picture of unemployment and inter-state migration. It will enable all who pay taxes—and who doesn't?—to gauge the size and needs of state, local and national government services of all types. For industry, it will yield clues to hitherto overlooked communities where new plants and payrolls could profitably be established.

"MINE DOESN'T COUNT"

Meet the most important person of 1940—Mr. or Mrs. Voter!

Ultimate arbiter of the fate of America's presidential aspirants, they are being wooed as never before. But you don't see Mr. and Mrs. Voter in the headlines. They leave the anxious scramble for front-pages to the presidency-seekers, well-knowing that their ballots will write the answer--the final answer-in giant type across the front-pages of all newspapers in the land on the fateful day next November.

Mr. and Mrs. Average Citizen hold the ultimate reins of power not only because they have the right to vote, but because they USE that right! When they fail to use it, when they trot out the jaded excuse, "What difference can my vote make?", they reveal themselves as poor citizens, woefully short of memory. For it should be no secret to them that the right to vote did not fall from heaven like manna. The privilege they so blandly ignore was won for them through centuries of bloodshed, war, and revolution which progressively secured for the common man an ever greater share of control in the government under which he lives. To maintain his voice in his government, the citizen must vote!

LET'S CLEAN UP NOW!

With incoming tourist tides already rising, it's only a question of weeks until it reaches full peak.

In less than two months the San Francisco World's Fair will unfurl its banners on Treasure Island to usher in its second year.

Throughout the State, California will again be serving up to millions of recreation-seekers the unparalleled fare of its outdoor wonderland.

But this isn't all of California which will be on view to our great host of out-of-state guests. Don't think these visitors won't observe our cities, homes, and yards! Wherefore we say, let's clean up now! Let's tackle with plenty of elbow grease those Spring-cleaning chores of sprucing up yards, removing unsightly rubbish heaps from backlots, and making our homes and community as ship-shape and attractive as possible.

THREE MILLION IS THE LIMIT

Presidential aspirants, desperately seeking to fatten their campaign funds, will appreciate the optimism of the new clause written into the Hatch (No politics) bill the other day. It forbids national committees of political parties to spend more than $3 million in any one campaign. All they have to worry about now is getting the $3 million!

"The Curse of a Nation"

By RALPH MATTHEWS, from The Baltimore Afro-American.

We were afraid something like this would happen—we mean, that the success of "Gone With the Wind," financial and otherwise, would give rise to a series of pictures based on the struggle between the North and the South.

That is exactly what has happened, and already Hollywood is busy making plans to revive "The Birth of a Nation."

If ever the public should get up on its hind legs and rebel against the trash that Hollywood has been ramming down our unprotesting throats in the name of entertainment, now is the time.

No film caused more racial strife and rancor during the last quarter century than "The Birth of a Nation," as a silent picture, and only the arrival of the talkies relegated this evil and vicious race-baiting propoganda to the grave of antiquated relics.

But so keen is the appetites of the descendants of the defenders of the lost cause, and so anxious are witless Yankees to sop up the maudlin sentiment of the Old South, that this atrocity has been rigged with sound effects and like an ugly ghost is now stalking the earth rattling its chains of intolerance in the ears of a people who would forget that human slavery once held America in its grimy grip.

STOP THIS CYCLE

With the cash registers clanging to the tune of profits from "Gone With the Wind," another hate-provoking epic, it is not surprising that the greedy eyes of cinema moguls have turned again to the "Birth of a Nation" and plan to revive it on a grander and more colossal scale. Hollywood moves in cycles, but this is one cycle that MUST be broken, now.

This is more than a racial question; it is a matter of grave national concern, and the white guardians of the Ship of State should appreciate the danger.

With half the world on fire with national and racial hatreds, this is no time to reopen old sores at home.

With the great powers of Europe threatened from without by international gangsterism, based on the myth of racial superiority, America will be doing a grave injustice to its national unity to flood the motion picture screens of the nation with themes glorifying the advocates of disunion and draping the leaders of rebellion in heroic garb.

With the world already crushed under the heel of Nazism, Fascism, Communism and Imperialism, with human rights disregarded, civil liberties denied, with autocracy rampant and personal freedom over-ridden and crushed by the mailed fist of dictatorship with the aid of secret police and vicious systems of espionage, this is no time for America to invite these monsters within our gates by making gladiators out of cowardly night riders, vigilantes and Ku Kluxers, as is done in "The Birth of a Nation."

Let us view these things in their proper perspective, in their relationship to the nation as a whole.

The leaders of the South were not American heroes but rebels and enemies of the United States just as was Germany an enemy in 1918.

Abraham Lincoln was not only the liberator of the slaves, but the symbol of a unified nation of forty-eight States, one and indivisible—of the people, by the people and for the people. Any section or part of our body politic which refuses to accept him as such and reverence the things for which he stood are as much an enemy of our nation as any foreign agent or alien who seeks to overthrow our government. Such subversive activities should be stamped out.

TALE OF THREE CITIES

America has long permitted the tail to wag the dog by allowing certain cities to rule the nation. Once New York with its Wall Street went wild and plunged us into a depression. Chicago once took over dominance, and under the Capones, the Dillingers and others, spread a reign of terror over us by gangsterism.

Now Hollywood, with its greed and control over the minds of our youth, is dragging us toward another national catastrophe of sectional hatred and discord.

This new threat must be headed off now. We must not have a tale of three cities. We must prevent a revival of "The Birth of a Nation" by letting Hollywood know that we consider it "The Curse of a Nation."

Write to Will Hayes, Hollywood, California, today. If you cannot write a letter, simply cut out this editorial and send him this. Let him know that twelve million colored citizens are interested in the preservation of America as a unified nation if the Hollywood ex-coat and suiters aren't.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

Finley Wilson's Elk Leadership Challenged—A rebellion against the rule of J. Finley Wilson which was recently sustained by a decision of the Federal court of Virginia, may culminate in the setting up of a new Grand Lodge, according to national newspaper reports.

The rebellion was led by Jerry Gilliam, exalted ruler of the Norfolk organization, now known as the Eureka Lodge, Modern Elks. The Lodge is well-heeled, owning a $50,000.00 Elk's home at Norfolk. It comprises a three-story building with offices, reading rooms, billiard parlors, club rooms, a kitchen and dining room on the 2nd floor accomodating 300 people, a main lodge room and ladies parlor, and a fully equipped Boy's Club for Junior Modern Elks on the 3rd floor. The Lodge also maintains a spacious summer garden which is very popular.

Exalted Ruler Gillian claims that since his lodge has been established as an independent organization, he has received letters from various influential Elk lodges in different parts of the country, asking advice as to how they can successfully break away from Finley Wilson's organization.

The Dawn Of A New Objective —In his remarks to a reporter, Gilliam made a statement that may presage the dawn of a New Outlook, the enshrining of more worthy objectives, not only in the Elk's lodges but in other Negro fraternal organizations.

"In conducting our successful fight against Finley Wilson's dictatorship," Gilliam said: "We feel that we have paid for the emancipation of Negro fraternity members from the CURSE OF MERE GLAMOUR. We feel that there should be more to our organization than just a Good Time, Parades, and expensive entertainments. We feel that the Elks should fight for the Improvement and Benefit of our Race, instead of merely passing Resolutions and talking about it. Therefore, we have welcomed the communications from other Elk groups who are tired of Finley Wilson." In support of his statement, Gilliam outlined some of the community activities of Eureka Lodge during last year, in which more than 3000 under-privileged children were carried to the City Beach, and scores of baskets distributed to needy families at Christmas-time.

Negro Better Business Week—An organization called the Phi Beta fraternity is sponsoring a drive for Bigger and Better Business in Negro Enterprises. This is a worthy cause and should be given the unqualified support of all Race men and women. At 11 o'clock Sunday morning, April 14, a "Bigger and Better Business" sermon will be preached at Second Baptist church; on April 15, at 8 p. m., a round-table discussion in the assembly room of the Golden State Insurance Company, and a banquet on the 16th, time to be announced later. There will also be a grand parade staged at some time during the week. More power to the young men and women who are giving their time and energy to this constructive program.

Election Year Tactics—The recent revelations by the German press concerning the alleged diplomatic skullduggery practiced by our two prominent ambassadors, Bullitt and Kennedy, will probably be taken with a POUND of salt by people who Think. The documents from which the alleged information were gleaned, were supposed to have been taken from the Polish archives fully six months ago.

Why this release, at the precise moment when fevered Presidential aspirants are whooping it up in a dozen States, and the GOP elephant is trying heroically to raise its hindquarters off the cold, cold ground, is indeed passing strange. Does the snout of the aged elephant reach over into German diplomatic channels, and has it deposited a golden egg therein? I wonder.

• The Philosophy of Pigmentation

From the book, "Bare Hands and Stone Walls" by CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL.

This month marks the second reincarnation for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and it seems highly fitting to use this illuminating chapter from Mr. Charles Edward Russell's book, "Bare Hands and Stone Walls," entitled "The Philosophy of Pigmentation."

Every Washingtonian should know something of Mr. Russell: he is now living there and still very active in the cause of the Negro, still a very vigorous personality and ever crusading for human rights.

He was born in Davenport, Ia., September 25, 1860 and a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy, 1881. Mr. Russell received the degree of LL.D. from Howard University in 1923. During his career as journalist with the New York and Chicago papers, he was variously, critic, city editor, managing editor, publisher and investigator of corruption and monopoly in industrialism. Mr. Russell's skill as a biographer was recognized when he was awarded the Pulitzer Prize in 1927 for his American Orchestra And Theodore Thomas.

Mr. Russell's efforts in behalf of the Negro are definite, constructive and unceasing. Nine years ago, Mr. Russell organized the Inter-Racial Committee of the District of Columbia for the purpose of looking up individual cases of discrimination. Mr. Russel, with the unanimous support of the Inter-Racial Committee, has long and arduously worked for the passing of the Civil Rights Bill for the District of Columbia. He has published and distributed to members of Congress and to the citizens of the District of Columbia, the following pamphlets: 1. The Color Line in the Public Schools of the District, 2. No Negro May Apply, 3. Police Brutality and other pamphlets.

In Mr. Russell's autobiography, "Bare Hands and Stone Walls, (p. 229) he is concerned about the vote for the Negro in the South. "In defiance of that Constitution we pretend to adore, in the South we exclude Negroes from the ballot. The ostensible excuse we give for this lawlessness is that they are low and ignorant and would be unable to use the franchise intelligently. Then to make sure that they shall continue in ignorance we scant their educational facilities by granting them only a meagre and wholly disproportionate share of the public school fund. If we allowed them to vote they would be able to obtain their share of this fund. So we refuse to allow them to vote, that we may refuse to allow them to be educated, that we may say they are ignorant and unfit to vote. And all this because we are still keeping alive the passions of a war that came to an end almost 70 years ago."

Over three decades ago in 1908, at the meeting of the Republican Club in New York there was a speaker who eclipsed all the rest in oratory, in research and knowledge, truly of unusual mental equipment. A graduate of two great universities in America and of Heidelberg in Germany. A noted scholar, a winner of honors abroad, and a man to mark and be glad to know.

Yet this man, Dr. W. E. B. Dubois, an American Negro, "ostensibly because of his PIGMENTATION is hated for a trifle of coloring matter beyond his control, hated and spat upon, even in the North, plenteously hated. If he should be accused of the violation of any law he could not have the least assurance of justice, no matter how innocent; he might not be able even to obtain counsel. This man might not be able to assert even his barest rights".

"He might be counted as a citizen of a southern state and yet, by a flaunted lawlessness, have nothing but the name of citizenship. Although a resident, he would not be allowed to vote. The organic law of the nation would be trampled upon to deprive him of the rights that law guaranteed him. His soul would be wrung with deliberate brutalities at the hands of persons without a tenth of his learning, accomplishments or character."

"If he were to visit the capital of his proud native land, the city supposed to give tone and example to the rest, he would have great difficulty to discover a hotel that would allow him to lodge under its roof, a restaurant where he could be fed, or if he should fall ill, a hospital where he could be treated. If he should search out such a hospital, he would find himself an object of no courtesy and scant attention, and when spoken to always by his first name, not with the use of the title ordinary among civilized people."

All this comes about for two reasons. First, the Negro was once a slave; he still typifies, therefore, to the immature mind, labor in its lowest form. The Anglo-Saxon cannot rid his blood of that old taint of snobbery. The Negro being connected by tradition with this lowest form of labor he constitutes in our society the lowest caste. Also, the Negro in America is the victim of the sentiment of a Lost Cause, and the other sentiment of sectional pride. It was for him that the rebellion failed and in spirit the typical southerner has never accepted that failure."

"Here was a white man in America who had long thought about the national disgrace of lynching and its causes. Thus, William English Walling went to Springfield, Illinois, immediately after lynching and investigated the crime. Coming away, he had a thought of a great national organization of fair-minded whites and intelligent blacks that should throw some form of shield between the Negro and his oppressor. He came on straight to New York and to persons that he thought might be sympathetic offered the outline of his conception."

So Mr. Walling, Mr. Russell, Mrs. Mary W. Ovington, Mr. Henry Moskowitz, Dr. S. Wise, Miss Leonora O'Reilly and Mr. Oswald G. Villard talked informally about the possibilities of creating some organization that might contend against the racial madness that possessed the North only a little less than the South. This group was later joined by John E. Milholland, an unceasing worker for the Cause.

"The whole thing seemed comically futile. This stone wall was of the granite of prejudice, clamped with steel bars of an accepted tradition. Men and women—what could their bare hands achieve except bruises and derision? Preposterous to think of it. The undismayed Walling could see nothing absurd in the proposal. Patiently he sketched his plan, sketched it many times, that day and other days. Mr. Walling went about New York City talking of his dream, indefatigable, restless, pouring forth a tide of nervous energy that put the rest of us to shame.

"At first we felt in a position to issue a call for a national conference. It was held (with many misgivings) and brought out a response that astonished us. We heard from unexepected lips burning protests against the national iniquity and out of that conference emerged the NAACP, the most efficient instrument for racial justice ever devised, attaining to more than 100,000 members, organized in every state in the union, and having a notable record in serving the ends of justice. Scores of innocent men it has saved from hanging, other scores it has released from prison; it has carried to the Supreme Court of the nation and won there its steady protests against the insane persecution of men whose offense was PIGMENTATION; it has battled everywhere for tolerance, opportunity and equality. It has blocked repeated and lawless attempts to segregate Negroes; it has defeated for office men that stood for race persecution; it has been of inestimable value to the whole colored citizenry. For all this the basic credit is due to MR. WALLING, who conceived and founded the association."

"In the first 23 years of its existence it has not done all that we hoped it might do, for the stone wall of this prejudice was too strong, the jungle instinct of race hatred too deeply rooted. But it has made a notable beginning. Slowly the race conditions in America, bad as they are, tend to be better. Slowly is growing among enlightened southerners a perception of the high cost of hatred and the obligations of the common humanity; and looking upon the progress already made, one can take heart and believe that some day America will cleanse the flag from the dark blotch that race persecution has flung upon it."

"One reason for such faith is that on this matter all science points one way. It has already demonstrated that there is no such thing among the children of the earth as a real division into races. For peoples dwelling in certain regions or under certain conditions of sunlight, air and soil, tend to develop certain physical characteristics or tints, but this has nothing to do with their essential traits or capabilities. Taking them by and large, men are the same regardless of COMPLEXION, SHAPE OF NOSE OR CURL OF HAIR. The only real differences among them are differences of OPPORTUNITY.

AMERICAN CITIZEN

Dear Editor:

I often purchase the California Eagle and enjoy the reading matter very much. Your paper is most enjoyable and educational reading.

As one American Citizen to another, I would like to express my deep and sincere love to the American Negro of these United States and all others of your race.

In my early childhood my fondest memories are of the sweet motherly colored lady who so lovingly cared for me when I lost my own dear mother. Since reaching maturity, especially the last few years, I constantly and conscientiously have taken up the cause of the beloved colored people in regards to their rights to Equality which they so richly deserve.

I am deeply grateful that God so endowed me with the intelligence to love my fellow-man, regardless of race, creed or color. I uphold this belief to the best of my ability.

Just recently I have written several articles in behalf of the colored people, one just recently submitted to a very popular magazine published weekly. It is my earnest desire that these efforts on my part will do much to cement good will between our two peoples.

Enclosed you will find a poem composed by this humble writer. I would feel greatly honored if you find it worthy of publication in the California Eagle. Please accept it with my compliments. I have tried to put in verse what comes straight from my heart.

Sincerely,
TAITA SAWYER

APPLIED ASTROLOGY

Last week, you were given a glimpse of Astrogolical power and its beneficial knowledge. This week, I offer an example. This is just one of hundreds of letters received every week, from a young woman, whose parents are trying to map out her life for her. She says, "I am 26 years old, and in love with a man 30 years of age. My parents feel that I should marry another gentleman, 50 years of age, because he is financially able to take care of me. I do not feel that I should marry someone that I do not love. What is your advice?"

My suggestion to this young lady is for her to marry the young man she loves. Their Zodiacal signs are favorable and they have much in common. The older man and this young woman are worlds apart in every respect, consequently, their married life would be very unhappy.

If you have a problem similar to this, or, any other problem that you wish advice on, write Prof. Herman, who is schooled in the Science of Psychology and Astrology.

E. L. B.—I have been reading about your good works every week in the California Eagle, and think your advice is just grand. Would you please tell me whether I will get my old job back or not?

Ans—According to your lucky stars and guiding planet, you will get your former job back. Work has been slack; that is why there was a long delay. Look for a notice within the next few days.

G. H. B.—Can you give me any information concerning my mother's sister?

Ans.—It seems that you have been trying to locate her for some time. She is living in the State of Florida, and if you will write to the missing persons bureau in Jacksonville, Florida, they will be able to trace her and give you accurate information as to her whereabouts.

L. W. S.—What about my boy friend?

Ans.—Probing into this matter I find that you are a married woman and you really love your husband. But due to some misunderstanding you are not together. Since you are definitely more interested in your husband, why not be frank with your friend and tell him that there is a possibility that you and your husband will soon be together again, and let him find someone else.

M. F. C.—Could we ever get anything out of our father's property?

Ans.—This property appears to have decreased in value to the extent that there would be very little to be divided among your family. However, if you have this investigated now, before the taxes become due again, the little that will come from the property will no doubt help out a great deal.

V. F. F.—Does W. G. love me as much as he says? Will I marry him soon. Will I see my father soon?

Ans.—Only one question is answered in the column, but if you will write in for a private reply I shall be glad to advise you according to your lucky stars and guiding planet.

A. O. Y.—I have heard of your wonderful works and the help you are giving so many people, so I am writing to you for advice. Will I ever get married?

Ans.—My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals you as a very talented young woman. You have personality and charm. But you lack self-confidence, when you meet someone you like you fail to leave the proper impression with them. There are books you may obtain from the library and clubs you may join that will enable you to find the companionship you desire. And within the next year, I vision marriage for you.

W. F. W. O.—I lost my watch a few days ago. Can you tell me whether I will find it or not?

Ans.—Concentrating upon your question, the answer I find is that you were visiting a friend and you are wondering whether you lost the watch on your way home or in their house. But the clasp was loose, and it dropped off your wrist on your way home. I do not vision your getting it back.

E. B.—Why is it my husband doesn't wish me to visit this woman?

Ans.—It seems that your husband knows that this woman is a troublesome person, and feels that she would only bring trouble into his home. I advise you to do as he asks.

Let's Get Together

BY TAITIA SAWYER

Taken from the jungle's beauty
Forced to slavery and hard duty
Bewildered, wondering, made to learn
And while learning, often burned;
Loving, laughing, crying, dying
Starting over with Freedom's buying;
The rhythm in your bodies showing
And your wholesome faces glowing;
Onward, onward, upward, upward . . .
Striving daily for a chance,
Sweating, toiling, always trying
For the right to equal glance;
It's wrong for us to feel superior
And that your our Brethren are inferior.
Daily, daily, you're coming nearer
And your efforts are growing clearer,
Now your day is come and then
You can prove your equal to all Men
Let our white hands hold your black ones
And all God's Children be One Kingdom
'Nor let our hands from your's be severed,
Keep them clasped . . . Now and Forever.
We all are equal, All must be Free
LET'S GET TOGETHER, WE, THEE!

A Tribute to Edward Markham

BY LEROY LAWS

Into the dark hall of death
Another great soul has passed.
He knew not, where went his breath,
Nor why he left this earth,
But kept an appointment made with God.
On his hour of birth.

Like all of us he learned to crawl,
And then soon learned to walk.
He gained a knowledge of earthly things,
Of which he loved to talk.
Went fishing down by the shores,
Frightened girls with snakes,
Had his daily boyhood chores,
Or not a man he'd make.

Like every man, a task to quell
During his visit here on earth,
The task he chose, he did it well,
To pay God for his worth.
He chose writing to explore,
And that he did so well,
He rocked human souls from shore to shore,
From Heaven to the depths of Hell.

He wrote what he saw, not fiction,
To open the eyes of a humble soul,
And guide it from eviction,
And to make it forever free
From that yoke of oppression.
To last down through posterity.

er local institutions could stand a substantial influx of colored teachers and executive officers. In some quarters it is also hinted that Negro representation in custodial, carpentering, gardening and similar fields could be enlarged

A highly specific complaint is the student counseling department at Thomas Jefferson High school. It is claimed that students frequently are railroaded into courses unsuited for them and that proper attention is not given individual problems. An arbitrary rule of supposed colored vocational opportunities, limited to traditional occupations, is said to have been enforced.

I HAD the pleasure of speaking before the Junior and Senior Business Women's Club of Ontario in the Community Center at Riverside Tuesday morning and evening. It was the first time a Negro had appeared before this group.

The women are intelligent, progressive Americans. It is in their type of leadership that the destiny of the nation finds its greatest hope. They are attempting to look America's problems in the face, to meet them fairly and without prejudice. The spirit of freedom is safe in their keeping.

• POLITICAL POT-PIE

The civic testimonial luncheon planned for the Hon. Buron Fitts, district attorney of the county of Los Angeles, is being whipped into fine shape. Leaders from all strata of the city's diversified population are cooperating in support of the affair.

Councilman Carl Rasmussen and a Mr. Long of the Housing Authority for Los Angeles, were welcome visitors at the regular monthly meeting of Hiawatha Temple, IBPOEW, Monday evening.

Upon arrival at the hall, Daughter Ruler Agnes Beal suspended the regular order of business and presented the two officials. In their expressions to the Daughter Elks both Councilman Rasmussen and Mr. Long assured them that every effort was being made to rush the housing projects, especially where they are greatly needed.

The two gentlemen had come in answer to an invitation extended by the Civil Liberties committee of the order. At the behest of the daughter ruler, Mrs. C. A. Bass responded.

Over 600 Republican women attended a luncheon at the Wilshire Bowl on Friday honoring Mrs. Paul Henry, of Seattle, assistant to Marian Martin, chairman of the National Federation of Republican Women, in Washington.

In a spirited address on the issues facing Republican women in 1940, youthful and attractive Mrs. Henry declared that peace, security and employment were the chief concern of G. O. P. women. She rapped subversive forces that have crept into the ranks of government through the present Democratic administration and deplored the "Boring from within" tactics of Communists among outh organizations of the nataion. Mrs. Edith Van De Water, national committeewoman, acted as mistress of ceremonies. About 125 colored women were present. The luncheon was under theh auspices of Pro-American, Young Republicans, Republican Study Clubs, California Republican Assembly and other organized groups representing a united front of GOP.

The Tenth Annual Women's Civic Conference will meet Thursday, April 4, on the campus of the University of Southern California.

This hard hitting organization sets a high example for similar bodies. Before these ladies set out to "take sides" on any national problem, they first investigate it thoroughly. In place of the usual convention nip-ups of alleged civic groups, this organization has set before itself a rigourous schedule of study and research during meetings.

Avenue Branch of West Pico Offers Home Furnishings

Los Angeles celebrates Home Furnishings Week with bargains that astound and astonish!

Leading the local parade is the busy Central Avenue branch of the West Pico Furniture company. Coupled with general value superiority, the "store of the go-getters" has brought forth a new and sensational community service.

Through special, exclusive arrangement with leading real estate brokers, West Pico now has access to the finest vacancy listings. Homemakers who are employed out of town or who haven't the time to shop for homes can bring their problem to West Pico for complete solution. Because of its thorough knowledge of vacancy prospects, the organization is in a position to suit buyer to bargain with amazing speed and accuracy. You can have your home both found and furnished with no personal effort on your part—and with a sure faith in the PROVED ABILITY of West Pico furnishing experts.

Under the leadership of brilliant young Juan Ray, the Central avenue West Pico branch, only completely managed Negro furnishing establishment west of Chicago, has made tremendous strides in genuine community service since it opened only a few months ago.

Workers in all departments of the store are fully trained, equipped with knowledge of and experience in their field.

As a particular highlight of the current Home Furnishings Week, Ray has received a shipment of two carloads of General Electric refrigerators. The beautiful boxes can be purchased on credit from West Pcio at the rate of ONE DOLLAR per week.

Pledged to principles of real community service, the homemaker's guide of West Pico is non-obligatory and entails no "ifs, buts and ands". If you're having trouble in locating the home to suit your personality, give West Pico a ring—and yourself a rest.

Florida Convict Near Death in Escape Try

CONVICT, BEING TAKEN TO FLORIDA, NEAR DEATH AFTER ESCAPE TRY

Tried to Overpower State Officers En Route to Florida from Folsom Prison

SAN ANTONIO, April 4.—A 33-year old convict, who was being transported from Folsom prison, Sacramento, Calif., to Florida State prison, is near death in a local hospital of bullet wounds sustained in an attempted escape.

With two other convicts, Ira Stafford, 30, and H. F. Davis, white, Henry White, alias Leonard Jones, tried to overpower Florida State officers Monday night on the Castroville road about 18 miles of San Antonio.

White had started the break when he obtained a razor blade and cut the leather straps to which the men's handcuffs were strapped. At a signal from the white man, the trio threw their handcuffed hands over the heads of the officers as they rode along and attempted to choke them.

Stafford escaped into the brush. White was shot, the bullet paralyzing him. Davis surrendered. Stafford's freedom was shortlived, however. He was captured shortly before noon the following day on a nearby farm, the owner of which had sighted him and informed the police.

White had been convicted of grand larceny in 1932 and had escaped from a Florida road camp in 1935. He was arrested in Imperial county, Calif. for another offense and sentenced to one-year-to-life. He entered Folsom in 1936 and was granted a parole so that he might be released to Florida officials and serve out a term there.

Stafford had been given a 20-year sentence in Florida for burglary in 1934. He escaped in 1938 and was arrested in Los Angeles on March 2 on a burglary charge, which was dismissed with his being turned over to Florida officials.

The white prisoner, Davis, had also escaped from a Florida road camp, in 1936, after serving part of a grand larceny sentence. In 1937 he was convicted in California of forgery and committed to Folsom for a one-to-14-years sentence. He also was paroled to Florida police.

Roosevelt Okays Housing Project Loan Contract

Notification of President Franklin D. Roosevelt's approval of a loan contract for the "Aliso Village" low-rent public housing project amounting to $3,132,000 was received today by Nicola Giulii, chairman of the local housing authority.

The project formerly known as the "Utah Street" project, will when completed provide safe, sanitary, and comfortable living quarters for 800 families of low incomes, who now live in substandard dwellings.

Pointing to steps now being taken by the Los Angeles City Authority in clearing up legal technicalities standing in the way of three other similar projects the chairman said, that $3,534,000 had been set aside for the San Vicente Village, Pueblo del Rio, and Rancho San Pedro developments.

"San Vicente Village" in West Los Angeles will house 200 families; "Pueblo del Rio" in the Central Avenue district 400, and "Rancho San Pedro" at the harbor will proidve quarters for another 296 families.

● SCATTERGOOD NOTES

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. A. G. Burt, secretary of the Scattergood association, in the death of her husband.

Clarice Thompson and Mary Alice Bonty are making fine progress in Group 4.

The Boy Scouts, under Scout master Paul Ridley, are making a fine record.

The Junior High and College groups are having interesting meetings on Monday nights. John Way spoke recently on the Migrant situation, and David Kirk on the refugees.

Duke to Address Sunday Eve Club

"Our Jitterbug Generation" is the alluring message which Rev. Baxter Duke will deliver to the Pasadena Sunday Evening club this Sunday. Rev. Duke was elected by the club as one of the fifteen most outstanding Negroes of Southern California for the yea 1939. It was felt by the club that his contribution in the field of religion is a monument to the rac

The club will meet at 5:30 promptly at the Scott Methodist church, located at 55 Mary street in Pasadena. Miss Alice Dean will be hostess for the day. Tea will be served.

CIO Outlines Aim to Protect Negro

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4. (CNA)—Particular attention to special problems of Negro wage-earners will be a guiding principle of the organizing drive which the CIO has launched in California, according to Revels Cayton, Negro vice president of the Industrial Union Council of this city.

"We intend to carry out the program outlined by John L. Lewis in his statement to the Negro press several weeks ago," Cayton said. "He said that a man's color should have nothing to do with his chance to earn a decent living, and that the principles of ganizations were in keeping with the Congress of Industrial Orthis idea. Well, that's our idea out here in the West, too."

NEW RESTAURANT TO OPEN IN PASADENA

The Cottage Dining Room, operated by Mrs. Clarence Mills, will be Pasadena's newest restaurant, opening after May 1 at the present location of the Father Divine Dining room, Valley street and Pasadena avenue.

Man Decides Own Fate

Amos Smith, who had pleaded guilty to committing a statutory offense against a minor girl, pronounced sentence upon himself and two fellow defendants Monday morning in Judge Frank Collier's Pasadena court.

Asked by Judge Collier what sentence he would give if their positions were reversed, Collier said, "If I was you, I'd give me probation."

The justice concurred, placing Smith and Irus Cleveland on probation for three years. The third defendant, Carl Divens, must serve one year of his three years probation because of a previous police record.

Swing out April 6th, Second Floor Elks, at the Carver Club Fashion in Swing.

Lincoln Ave. Baptist

Sunday evening marked the close of the successful rally of the Lincoln Avenue Baptist church.

"Mountain Top Experiences with Jesus" was the subject of the morning sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. R. F. Hockenhull.

The afternoon was spent in a social way. Refreshments were served and an impromptu program was rendered. A continuation of the morning sermon was preached in the evening. At this service, Rev. Hughes of Los Angeles worshipped with us.

Everyone is welcome to our services.

West Virginia Solons Want Lynch Law

Disagree With Gov. Holt; Tell Senator Need for U. S. Law

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 4. (ANP)—Members of the state legislature want a federal anti-lynching law and object to the stand by the governor of the state, Homer A. Holt, according to a letter sent Sen. McKellar of Tennessee on Friday signed by J. Bulh Shahan, state senator, and John W. Bosworth, state representative.

The communication was addressed to McKellar because as an opponent of anti-lynching legislation, he wrote to governors of all southern states getting their reaction on the bill now pending in the senate and released their reactions to the nation's press. It follows in part:

"A letter, made public this week, written to you by Gov. Homer A. Holt of this state in which opposition to the anti-lynching bill was expressed, has been brought to our attention . . .

"Gov. Holt's letter voices only the sentiment of a conservative and an aristocratic minority . . .

"In his letter to you, Gov. Holt asserts that from statistics he has anti-lynching sentiment has almost solved the problem.

PEOPLE TO RULE

"If public sentiment, as the governor mentions, has very nearly solved the problem, why should he express opposition to the enactment of this measure which would simply crystalize into law the known will of the public? In a democracy the will of the people should rule.

"As representatives in both branches of the legislature, we desire to advise you that the people of West Virginia believe in democratic rule and the forceful backing up by statute of the inherent will of the public. We believe that the mere fact that public sentiment has almost solved the problem is undeniable proof of the need for a national law to prohibit this form of irrational mob rule. Lynching has no part in modern civilization and should be excluded by legal mandate.

"Gov. Holt further states that his particular interest in the bill relates 'to the general proposition of the unnecessary extension of federal power'. He would endeavor to hide his opposition to the anti-lynching bill under the guise of the encroachment of federal power. He sets forth the fact that West Virginia already has an anti-lynching law to bolster his argument against the national measure as it would relate to the state. The fact that West Virginia has an anti-lynching law justifies and makes advisable a national law. The governor's argument is therefore without foundation because there is no extension of federal power as relates to West Virginia."

SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY GETS FUNERAL HOME

FRESNO, April 4—San Joaquin Valley's first Negro funeral home was formally opened on Easter Sunday. It is the Valley Funeral home, located at 1701 E street, and is owned by Wm. Henry Harris, formerly of Los Angeles.

Plant for '40 Fair

Hundreds of gardeners are engaged in replanting the famed gardens of Treasure Island, in anticipation of the opening of the 1940 season of the Golden Gate International Exposition, May 25. The scene is in the Court of Reflections, with the Triumphal Arch in the background.

Community Baptist

In spite of the pouring rain of last Sunday, the morning services of the Community Baptist church, corner of Hammond and Fair Oaks, were fairly well attended.

In the afternoon a group of young college and older women under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Coleman, gave the pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross." This pageant was sponsored by the Woman's Senior Missionary Society with Mrs. G. V. Edwards, president. Many persons were present, representing the various women's missionary societies of the city.

The Woman's Missionary Society has completed plans to be host to the Federation of Woman's Missionary and Aid Societies of Pasadena. This group of white women represent forty or more Protestant churches of this city. The coming meeting is the most important meeting of the year. The annual election of officers will take place. Reports have come in that many of the leading pastors of the city will attend.

The pastor, Rev. J. W. Coleman, announces that the church office phone will be installed within the next few weeks and the church employment bureau and all other community activities will begin in full force. Lucille Fairfax is reporter.

Calvary CME

Rev. C. Keller of the Presbyterian Church of Los Angeles delivered a most inspiring message on "Love" at Calvary CME church, corner Kirkwood and Glorietta streets, last Sunday.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Mae Rose Johnson was the speaker. Her theme was, "The Future of the Young Negro through spiritual development."

The Missionary Society sponsored Mrs. Edward of Glorietta Street and Mrs. Moore of Morton Avenue in the evening service. The former spoke on "A Cure for the Inconsistent Christian," and the latter spoke on "The Christian's attitude toward Missions."

CREATIVE WRITING

Students of Pasadena Junior college are trying to equip themselves with the proper subject matter to speak intelligently on any subject. One of the courses offered is "Creative Writing." It helps one to write poems, essays and compositions, based on individual thought.

A student of this class states, "Creative Writing is an outlet for self expression." Here is a poem by a student of this class.

Eagle Editor Speaks in Riverside

Mrs. Bass Heard at Community Settlement House

Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, EAGLE editor, was speaker at the Community Settlement House in Riverside Tuesday. In the morning, Mrs. Bass lectured to a group of representatives of 30 clubs on Frederick Douglass, Negro journalist-abolitionist, and his newspaper, "The North Star." In the evening, she discussed Negro newspapers in general to a group of 90 or more, including professional folk, school teachers and business women from Ontario and surrounding towns.

Following the morning lecture Mrs. Bass and Evelyn Blaine who accompanied her, were taken on a tour of the grounds and buildings of the settlement house consisting of a large recreational hall, sewing room, display room, two offices, prenatal clinic, baby clinic, day nursery workshop, second hand store shower houses and a transient house. There is also a spacious park and playground. The House is owned by the city of Riverside and is under the supervision of Miss Hansome.

Mrs. Bass and Miss Blaine were guests of Mrs. Riley and Mrs. Alves at luncheon and of Frank Tillie of Tillie's Mortuary on a sightseeing tour. Accompanied by Mrs. Beverly, the party visited Fairmont Park, the Sherman Educational Institute for Indian children, Mt. Roubidoux, San Bernardino, Casa Blanca and the Hog Ranch.

Dinner preceded the evening lecture and was followed by a musical program. Participants were: Harvey Edwards and Mr. Stratton, Misses Theodora Dawson and Frances Williams, accompanied by Mrs. Lucille Stratton.

Mrs. Bass and Miss Blaine were presented with bags of fruit from the sunken garden of Mr. and Mrs. Alves.

● TURNING BACK PAGES OF PASADENA'S PAST

PASADENA'S FIRST CHURCH

The First AME church, the oldest church in Pasadena, was organized in 1888 by the Rev. J. R. McClain, who was sent to Pasadena from Kansas. The church began in the home of Mr. Silas Carnahan who lived at the foot of Raymond Hill opposite Columbus Street. Those present at the organization were: Mr. Lee, Mr. Albert Muse, Mrs. Sadie Wright, Miss Mamie Wright, Mrs. James Coleman, Mrs. Cora Campbell and Mrs. L. Martin.

Mr. Lee was the first Superintendent of the Sunday School.

The little church was moved around from place to place from the old opera house on South Raymond, to the old city hall which was located at the present site of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

We finally bought a lot on Kirkwood near Mountain. We had a big ground-breaking and cornerstone laying. Mr. J. J. Neimore was one of the principal speakers. He was the editor of the Southern California Guide, now the California Eagle. It was a big day, but that was as far as we went. We never built on that lot. The lot was finally sold to a Mr. Claphan and we bought a lot on North Fair Oaks just above Villa street. A cow barn was purchased and moved on the lot. A nice little church was made out of it. The only flaw came on warm days. Then, we could hardly stay inside because it has been used as a cow barn. However, we worshipped here for several years. The Reverends Freeman, Hubard, Steele, Herring, Nelson and Tillman were the pastors.

In 1910, Rev. Tillman built the first unit of our present church. Rev. Tillman pastored three years and was succeeded by the Rev. Taylor.

Rev. Dyette followed Rev. Taylor, then Rev. J. H. Lewis from Georgia was sent to us. While here, he was elected president of Morris Brown University. Rev. Wm. Prince was selected by the Presiding Elder to take charge of the church until Rev. Cooper came. After about two years, Rev. Cooper exchanged places with Rev. J. M. Brown of San Francisco.

Rev. Brown, nationally known as a church builder, enlarged the main church building and added the annex with 25 rooms for all departments of the church. New pews were put in, a pipe organ was purchased and a parsonage was bought. The majority of the money for these additions was raised before Rev. Brown left to take charge of the church in Denver, Colo.

Our present pastor was preceeded by Rev. A. R. Dobbin who served us for seven years. Rev. Dames came to us from St. Louis. The congregation is well pleased with their new pastor, Rev. Dames is a young man and very progressive. He is putting over a fine program and the members are cooperating with him.

We will tell you more next week about our Pasadena churches.

Barkley Asked to Set Date for Taking Up Lynch Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 4—Now that the senate judiciary committee has reported the anti-lynching bill favorably, Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, majority leader, is being asked to set a date when the bill will come up in the senate for debate and action.

Supporters of the bill were urged by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to take the following steps:

(1) Write Senator Alben W. Barkley, Senate Office building, Washington, D. C., urging him to set a date when the anti-lynching bill will be considered.

(2) Write to senators from their states urging them to work to bring the anti-lynching bill to a vote and to vote for it; also urge them to vote for cloture (limitation of debate) if a filibuster should develop against the bill.

(3) Get as many individuals and organizations as possible to write senators urging that the anti-lynching bill be passed. Form letters, form telegrams, and printed postcards are not very effective. Letters should be individually written to have the most weight.

The NAACP also has issued an appeal for funds to help carry on the fight, pointing out that the bill now has the best chance of passing in the long history of the fight for this type of legislation.

HITS SULLIVAN

Before leaving for Washington Thursday to organize the political forces working for passage of the bill, Walter White, executive secretary of the NAACP, termed a recent column written by Mark Sullivan, New York Herald Tribune columnist, the "last stand of a confirmed reactionary, a stand based on the deliberate distortion of facts, and calculated to do considerable harm to democratic goodwill, because of the author's prominence".

Sullivan had said in his column, dated Mar. 28, that lynching has been diminishing for the past 70 years and declared the anti-lynching fight was being pursued without sincerity by both major parties in order to snare the Negro vote.

Senator Tom Connally, of Texas, who led the filibuster against the bill in the special session of Congress in 1937 and in the regular session in 1938, announced that passage of the bill would be "resisted to the utmost".

The eminent crusading minister, Dr. Bob Shuler, of the Trinity Methodist church of Los Angeles will deliver the sermon at 3:00 p. m. His record of service to Los Angeles is of great repute. A men's chorus will furnish the music and the soul stirring Gospel Team of Noel and Anderson will furnish several Gospel selections.

The grand climax to the day will the service honoring the issuance of the Booker T. Washington Postal stamp by the U. S. government. Mr. Fred Sutherland, postmaster of Pasadena and Rev. Mr. William Stoard, the chorister of Scott Methodist church, will direct the special Men's Day Chorus.

Echols Must Take Care of Fees

Because of a judge's oversight, Carl Echols, 39-year old Pasadena writer, must return to court to be officially ordered to take care of hospital and medical fees, incurred by the victim of an automobile accident, for which he was held responsible.

In sentencing Echols to three years probation and strict abstinence from alcoholic liquors, Judge Frank Collier overlooked the necessity of ordering Echols to make restitution to the victim.

Echols was convicted of running down a white woman on Christmas night.

Live at peace with all men, but be sure to hold your ballot and your pocketbook in your hand. Vote right. And spend your money where you can work.

The records of the United States census show that the Negro came to Pasadena with some of its earliest settlers. The City was incorporated in 1886. In the census of 1890, 75 of the 4882 residents were Negroes. In the years since 1890, the Negro population has increased from 1.5 per cent to between 4 per cent and 5 per cent in, 1939 as shown in the following statistics taken from the United States Census reports.

1890: Total population of Pasadena, 4882, Negro population, 75, percentage Negro, 1.5; 1920: total population of Pasadena, 45,354, Negro population, 1094, percentage Negro, 2.4; 1930: total population of Pasadena, 76,086, Negro population, 3015, percentage Negro, 4.0; 1939: total population of Pasadena, 85,920, Negro population, 4026, percentage Negro, 4.68.

The 1939 estimate is from the City Planning Commission.

No doubt the 1940 census will show the Pasadena Race population to be about 6000.

Political Pot Begins to Boil

Pasadena's Political Pot is beginning to boil now that registration of citizens desiring to participate in the May 7 election is complete. With the presidential primary election only about a month away, local political chiefs have issued their "first call."

This primary will be of unusual interest to Race citizens who affiliate with the Democratic party, since it gives them opportunity to express their disapproval or approval of Garner-pledged delegates.

The 11th Congressional district, which includes Pasadena, will have opportunity to vote for the Liberal-Democratic Party slate pledged to Lt. Gov. Ellis Patterson. This delegation is pledged to vote for Mr. Patterson on the first ballot at the Chicago convention, as a "favorite son" gesture. The Patterson slate delegates of the 11th district are Oliver Thornton of North Hollywood, publisher of a Los Angeles poliical paper; and Herbert K. Sorrell of Burbank, business manager of a Hollywood labor union.

John C. Packard, Pasadena attorney and Elmer Lore, assemblyman of North Hollywood, are booked to represent Franklin D. Roosevelt third-term advocates, according to reports.

The Republican delegation is scheduled to be uninstructed.

equipment'", the decision said. "Conceding that the riding of saddle horses may afford amusement, the complaint does not allege that any riding is or can be done at the defendant's place.

"Applying the rule of these cases here, we think the place maintained by the defendants is merely one of the general class of business places which the public is invited to patronize, but which is excluded from the category of 'places of public amusements'."

In two previous decisions, Municipal Court Judge Hames Pope ruled in favor of the plaintiffs. A month later Municipal Court Judge May Leahy handed down a decision against the five.

Attorney Williams said he may appeal to the State supreme court.

IT PAYS TO CACKLE!
Scientifically, chicken eggs are no better than duck eggs. But the average person won't buy them at any price. If chicken eggs were selling for a dollar a dozen, the average housewife wouldn't buy duck eggs at 10 cents per dozen.
Why?
The difference is due to advertising.
The duck, when she lays an egg, waddles off in silence and with her head hanging low.
The hen, with head lifted high, comes off the nest cackling. And the old rooster sticks out his chest and crows about it!
It pays to advertise. (See J. W. Porter, our Pasadena representative of The California Eagle, or telephone SYcamore 3-1665.)

• LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

Two outstanding books of timely interest are "Handbook of the War" by John C. DeWilde, and "Inside Europe," 1940 War Edition, by John Gunther. John Gunther's inside stories of trouble in the world are well known, especially since the crisis of last September when he broadcast daily from Europe. "Inside Europe: 1940 War Edition," is a completely new and thoroughly revised edition and may the last revision of this famous book. The author feels that events are marching in a direction where a completely new approach must be made to reporting them. "Inside Europe" is informative and as unbiased as any book you will find, and it is practically "must" reading for the well-informed person.

John de Wilde's "Handbook of the War" is a text which should be in the hands of every thinking person. This exceptional collection of background material on the present European situation is just what has been needed to bring all relevant data under one cover. It takes up the geographical implications inherent in the crisis and the way in which the belligerents stack up against one another in men and materials. How Germany jumped the gun in promising an aerial war of fierce intensity which has so far failed to materialize is explained .The economic front and the weapon of blockade are carefully looked at from all sides, and the new and deadly weapon of propaganda is given a good deal of space. Best thing about this splendid book is the fact that it is well illustrated with maps and charts showing the relative strengths of various nations in all fields.

There are also several new books of general, if not such timely interest. The library has just received a copy of the play "John Henry," by Roark Bradford. It includes words and music built around the legend of John Henry, which was produced especially for its star, the great Paul Robeson.

Jones, Ruth S.—"Practical Preparation for Beauty Culture." This useful handbook takes up all phases of beauty culture work, as well as giving the preparation necessary for teachers of beauty culture work and for those wishing to act as managers of beauty shops.

"Children of God" by Vardis Fisher is a magnificent American epic telling the story of the Mormon elders' decision to carve an empire out of the Utah desert, and of the amazing mass migration which led to the founding of Salt Lake City.

If You Are Delaying in Revamping Your Insurance, Read

A former bought a big mantle clock one of the kind that strikes the hours and half hours.

One night he was awakened by the striking of the clock. Something had gone wrong with the mechanism, and the chime, instead of stopping at the usual 12, kept right on sounding. The farmer counted the strokes up to 52. Then he awakened his wife, "Mary", he shouted, "get up! It's later than I've ever known it to be before."

IF YOU ARE GOING TO RECEIVE A PENSION . . .

You are in a fortunate position, for you can do so much more in the way of really giving yourself a good income in you later years than can the average man. Count on this pension income for the bread and butter, and than use LIFE INSURANCE to furnish the jam and jelly. And remember that, in the meantime, this insurance plan will protect your family if you don't live long enough to receive your pension.

ACCIDENT AND HEALTH, NNIW DRIVES CHALLENGE AGENTS TO NAT'L RECORDS

Significant Statistics Show Reasons For Insuring

Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company agents, with hundreds of others throughout the nation, will don "OS" buttons this month for the annual Accident and Health insurance drive sponsored by the National Accident and Health Review from April 22 to 27.

In May, agents will don another button bearing the likeness of a pilot on duty. For P. P. Creuzot, president of the National Negro Insurance Association, has proclaimed May 6 to 11 as National Negro Insurance Week.

Interesting statistics are significantly displayed in both buttons and are designed to convince men and women of all classes that the need for insurance is real; that spring offers an unusual opportunity for insuring or revamping the life and disability insurance protection program. In the first instance, the button signifies that sixty-eight (68) persons in the United States get hurt or laid up by sickness every minute--seventeen (17) by accident, fifty-one (51) by sickness.

The pilot buttons which will be donned by agents of the forty-two member companies of the National Negro Insurance Association are designed to bring home to all persons contacted the place that the Negro life insurance companies hold in the economic advancement of America's largest minority group.

During the drives, George A. Beavers, Jr., vice president-director of agencies of Golden State Mutual, will be in Chicago helping Assistant Director of Agencies R. W. Smith to increase the business in the Illinois district.

$25,000,000 Goal of NNIW Campaign

A total new business of not less than $25,000,000 and a total industrial debut of $25,000,000 is the goal set for the National Negro Insurance Week Campaign from May 6 to 11th by its president, P. P. Cruzot.

In making the proclamation from his office at 2107 Dryades Street, New Orleans, La., Dr. Cruzot urged the cooperation of every insurance company in the country in making this drive the most outstanding in the history of the association. F. A. Young, agency director of the Louisiana Industrial Life Insurance Company is chairman of the committee.

Reports on the outcome of the campaign will be made at the annual convention which will be held in Baltimore, Md., June 25-28. Last year, Golden State Mutual led the nation in per capita ordinary production, averaging over $3,000 per agent.

Golden State Mutual To Observe Booker T. Washington Stamp Issuance

Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company will observe the issuance of the United States Post Office stamp commemorating Booker T. Washington with the mailing of a specially designed page circular from Tuskegee on April 7.

On that day, Postmaster General James A. Farley will deliver the commemorative address and sell the first issue of the ten-cent denomination stamp in the Tuskegee post office. To encourage sale of the stamps, Tuskegee officials have invited various businesses and institutions to cooperate by sending materials to be mailed from Tuskegee on that day.

Golden State has designed a page circular featuring the picture of Booker T. Washington from an original photograph and a facsimile of his handwriting on the occasion of penning the famous words, "Success is all the sweeter because of struggle."

President's Message Cites New Business Increase

1939 was unanimously passed at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors in the home office at Los Angeles on March 4.

Dividends Paid Bring Total to Million Mark

One Million Dollars paid to policyholders and beneficiaries since organization! That is the justly proud claim of Golden State Mutual since Mar. 1, 1940 when the payment of dividends brought the total amount paid in claims and dividends to over a million dollars.

With the end of 1939, the total paid to policyholders reached $988,626.68 and on March 1, according to records in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, interest to holders of "Refunding Certificates" and "Certificates of Advancement" mounted to $26,723.93.

Golden State Mutual entered its fifteenth year with assets of $437,714.32 and is assured of assets, as well as income, exceeding a half million dollars in 1940.

In commenting on these evidences of sound growth, Company officials were one in agreeing "We must thank again and again the loyal policyholders who have made it so. Golden State Mutual pledges itself anew to serve as an institution of personal protection, home protection and employment."

Introducing: Golden State Jobs Not Generally Known

Everyone takes for granted that any institutional business of appreciable size will employ a certain number of clerks, secretaries, and stenographers . . . and Golden State Mutual employs scores of them in the home office and in branch offices. However, there are a number of behind the scenes employees--a lot of jobs created by continuous growth--that neither our policyholders nor the general public knows about.

So much comment was received in presenting our printing department in January with the calendar story, that we thought readers would like to know about other jobs not generally known.

Above is pictured one of the very important parts of the mechanical department--the photostat department which has been much enlarged since this picture was taken a year ago.

The young lady at the left is shown placing copy in position to be photographed by the photostat machine . . . while the young lady at the right is tending the dryer, another process in the photostat department. Here photographs are made of applications for insurance and other important documents that must be preserved.

READ LETTERS FROM OUR POLICYHOLDERS ON PAGES 2 and 4

POLICYHOLDERS HAVE INTEREST IN CAMPAIGNS

The policyholders of our Company are intensely interested in the two big campaigns, National Accident and Health Insurance Week and National Negro Insurance Week. Every policyholder has his favorite agent. Naturally he is interested in seeing his favorite rise above the masses and achieve national distinction and honor.

Because of this interest, most policyholders will be expected to do all that they can in the way of getting new prospects and helping agents to produce business.

It is a noteworthy fact that in giving such cooperation policyholders render a distinct service to their relatives and friends whom they persuade to secure Golden State service. This is very aptly illustrated by a recent experience which, no doubt, is just one of many cases.

It has just come to our attention that one of our policyholders, who was persuaded by a friend to take a policy in the National Black Cat Day Drive in January of last year, was injured in an automobile accident. The policy which she had taken as result of the efforts of a friend to help her agent furnished the only money that was available to help care for the expenses of medical care made necessary by the serious and prolonged disability.

Such experiences bring to the fore the tremendous good that is done by policyholders when they persuade their relatives and friends to secure Golden State policies. It is not merely good for the agent in the drive, it is good for the Company, it is good for the race.

The following lines by John Wesley give advice well worthy of adoption by Golden State policyholders:

Do all the good you can,
By all the means you can,
In all the ways you can,
In all the places you can,
At all the times you can,
To all the people you can,
As long as ever you can.

G. A. BEAVERS, Jr., Vice President

NATIONAL NEGRO HEALTH WEEK STRESSES PREVENTION

The twenty-sixth annual observance of National Negro Health week from March 31 to April 6 is stressing the value of prevention in its campaign for better national health.

Outstanding among the agencies taking a leading part in the program which was initiated by Booker T. Washington is the National Medical Association under its president, Dr. A. W. Dumas.

Emphasis is being put on the value of vacination, regular periodic medical examinations and attention to vital organs. Heart disease, pneumonia, tuberculosis and syphilis are listed as the diseases that are taking the greatest toll of our citizens.

The importance of proper diets, rest and relaxation from the strain of everyday life have been shown in a number of cases and doctors everywhere, insurance companies, and welfare societies are actively participating in concentrating the attention of the masses on health. See your doctor!

Directors Annual Meeting

President William Nickerson, Jr., in his annual message to policyholders, released on the same day, briefly recapitulated events of the year citing the new business increase as marking the first time life insurance written had increased over one million dollars in one year.

Mr. Nickerson contrasted the income of $487,262.03 for 1939 against $34,131.60 in 1925 to show the extent to which the Company has steadily grown since its organization fifteen years ago.

The executive also pointed out: "There was more than two million dollars' new insurance written in 1939 by your Company. The entire amount of insurance in force was $5,780,891.17." Increase in surplus funds from $66,088.31 in 1938 to $108,194.01 in 1939, Mr. Nickerson stated, and added that reserves on life policies for protection of policyholders had increased to $290,717.00.

COMPANY INVESTMENTS NOTED

Attention was called to the fact that bonds and stocks total $233,360.24. "This represents more than 50% of Company assets," the report continued. "Naturally, all these securities are interest-bearing. In connection with our bond investments," said Mr. Nickerson, "it is the policy of your Company to invest only in Grade "A" bonds and—as far as possible—when it can be done to advantage, invest in "AA' and "AAA" bonds. As for real estate investment, it may be well to inform you that every loan made on real estate must be supported by an appraisal

Bolin, Peters Top Early '40 Visitors

Although there have been no special days set aside for visitors from any of the districts during the first quarter of 1940, a goodly number of visitors have found their way to the Golden State Mutual office, most of them prominent out-of-towners.

Judge Jane Bolin of New York City, first and only Negro woman judge in the country, with her husband, Ralph E. Mizelle, assistant solicitor general of Washington, D. C., were among the top ranking guests of the quarter. The very attractive lady judge and her husband were guests of Secretary-Treasurer Norman O. Houston on the home office tour.

Probably the guest that will be longest remembered is Cortez W. Peters, who visited the Golden State Mutual home office on March 2, and gave an hour's demonstration on the typewriter. Mr. Peters holds the officially recognized title of runner-up to the world's fastest typist which place he won in the national contest in 1937. Although there has been no contest since that time, Mr. Peters has broken and surpassed the world record of 137 words per minute many times. He was persuaded to visit the home office by Miss Ruby McKnight, energetic clerk.

No less prominent visitors have included Laurence C. Jones, principal of the Piney Woods School, Mississippi and Dr. C. Leon Wilson of Chicago, who recently contributed to the medical institute sponsored by the Los Angeles Tuberculosis Association. Walter J. Sullivan, Commander of Hollywood Post No. 43 of the American Legion, also visited and toured the Golden State plant.

Other visitors included a group of Adult Teachers of Santa Monica, with Mrs. Fay Allen of the L. A. School Board and Harry Mercer who brought the group in the interest of furthering the race relations program of the various school systems and social agencies. May Jacques, Perry Parks, Nina Beal, E. C. Rogers and Elizabeth Anderson of Los Angeles; Curtis Burke, Long Beach; W. H. Rutherford, Portland; Alice M. Hunter, Kansas City; Charles A. Burris, Detroit, and G. Faustina of Chicago were also visitors.

partment. You will observe we have increased our lending on real estate (properly appraised by the State) by more than $20,000 during the year."

In conclusion, Mr. Nickerson thanked policyholders for cooperating and reminded them that "Cooperative contributions in the way of premiums paid are busy dollars not only in building up a future security for you, but rendering services and furnishing mortgage money for many of your homes, to say nothing of furnishing employment for young men and women of today and

CHICAGO WIDOW PRAISES FUNERAL BENEFIT POLICY

Dear Sirs:

I wish to thank you and express my appreciation for the prompt and courteous manner in which you honored my recent claim for the death of my husband, Bennie Washington, who died on December 23, last.

The worry and anxiety usually attendant upon the death of a loved one were immeasurably lessened because of the manner in which settlement is provided for under the terms of your Funeral Benefit Policy. The recognition given my husband's insurance policy in your Company by my undertaker, Mr. Ray, and the Chicago Burr Oak Cemetery Association, when I was making arrangements for the interment was heartening. It saved the cost of financing the funeral expenses, as is so often necessary, pending settlement of a claim.

It is indeed gratifying that we have within the Race such institutions as yours to whom the Negro may look for protection with assurance that it will be forthcoming in his darkest hour.

I am extremely proud that I am also a Golden State policyholder and I do not hesitate to recommend your policies to my friends.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. Lillian Washington,

Chicago, Illinois

Your policyholders,
Mr. and Mrs. William Boatwright

AGENCY CORNER

Sees Insurance Career As Educational Experience

BY NOLAN PAYTON

Insurance selling is the greatest educational experience that I have had. There is no doubt that if a vote was taken among other agents of Golden State Mutual, particularly among those who have had the advantage of other occupations, the consensus would agree with this statement.

Nolan Payton

Golden State Mutual offers to the young Negro the most advantageous outlet for knowledge and experience gained in school, colleges and everyday living than any other institution in the State of California.

Let us examine the opportunities that make the great institution of life insurance one of the most educational occupations a young man can undertake. First, the Golden State learns to become the friend of everyone with whom he comes in contact. At first, attempting to "make friends with everyone" seems a bit artificial, but as time goes on, he becomes more sincere and really enjoys meeting new friends. This is a tremendous task and calls forth all the assets and resources of the entire personality. If a high school or college could only equip the young man with a sympathetic understanding of other people and give a broad cultural and spiritual outlook, that alone would make it of great value!

Life insurance selling discloses to the salesman the amazing drama of life. It is one of the few real educational pursuits that one can follow while earning a substantial income. It gives one an opportunity to help cure the most neglected ill of our underprivileged group--financial insecurity.

The minds of the thousands of Negroes in Los Angeles and other cities are the work-shop and laboratory of the Golden State agent. He uses all of his skill and adroitness to find a solution to very definite problems. He has an opportunity to render to the most needy people the best service.

Where could a better education be obtained than in daily experiences with cosmopolitan populations? What job could offer the same compensation and, at the same time, give one such a composite picture of life? We, as Golden State agents, exchange ideas and clash with all classes of people. We see and hear the tale of the doctors, the lawyers, the janitor, the cook, the baker, the relief worker, and listen to the widow and her weeping. We learn to know them, respect them, pity . . . and admire them. From this great human spectacle, we add to our daily experience. We learn to live with, judge and respect others' opinions.

We have said above that life is an amazing drama. Life in-

At The Chicago Observation Post

By O. M. ROBINSON

Nineteen hectic yet fruitful months have expired since Golden State's Chicago debut. The time has passed quickly and left vivid impressions behind. Many have been exposed to the tests of service, courage, and endurance. A few have fallen in the battle, the others carry the banner of Golden State Mutual to higher heights.

With these nineteen months of valuable experience added to the ever-growing assets of the company, the Chicago agency force has responded to the general's command: "Forward, march!" In every way, Chicago has joined the Golden State Mutual happy family.

Because of a continuous upward trend, both in the solicitation and writing of new business, it has become necessary to re-organize debits in terms of restricted areas. The agent is better able to economize and more wisely utilize his time, thus releasing himself to better serve the needs of his policyholders.

Golden State Mutual's policy of considering paramount the interests and needs of its policyholders and promptness and willingness to settle all valid claims has made it an easy task for the Chicago agent to cultivate good will and contribute to upbuilding the Company's policy.

The achievements of the Chicago staff may be traced, in a large measure, to the wide variety of contracts designed to meet the needs of every person. Too, the flexibility of certain contracts enables the representative to better serve his clientele and earn a liberal compensation.

The growth of Golden State's business in Illinois indicates the many positions of responsibility and trust to be created, thus continuing to contribute to the general betterment, advancement and improvement of the community. To the writer, this seems to further indicate that our Negro insurance companies are ready and anxious to expand. Such expansion, however, depends upon the rapidity with which man power can be developed for leadership and responsibility.

In observing the present personnel of Golden State one very significant point may be noted. Since its inception and through the years of its growth and development, there still remains at its helm those men who first conceived the organization. Encouragingly and interestingly enough, each of these men has come up through the ranks.

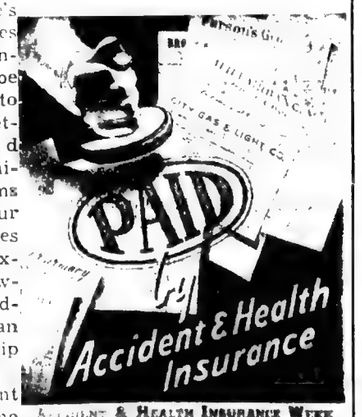
Golden State marches on and Chicago continues, a huge responsive market, asking only that its unlimited resources be tapped.

Clubs and other organizations interested in sponsoring contestants in the National Negro Insurance Association essay contest may get literature and posters by calling at or writing the Golden State Mutual home office, a branch office, or by asking any field

Ed Ford, Houston Pillow Out in Front for Convention Trip in June

Last September, Golden State Mutual Life made an offer to agents wishing to attend the National Negro Insurance Association Convention in June in Baltimore, 1940.

Records to date show that Edward Ford and Houston Pillow are leading contenders for that trip with eight other men having what might be called a chance to make it.



Others in the running include Marshall Reed, Jr., J. F. Curry, N. Payton, W. W. Hayman, H. Gibson, C. Reid, C. D. Saunders and Roy Spencer.

SUPERINTENDENTS HAVE CHANCE

The contest also included superintendents, offering the trip to the superintendent whose staff shows the highest amount of increase in combined debit above a minimum of $500. Superintendent Milton Alleyene of Los Angeles District Number Ten is leading with a staff increase to date of $479.53.

For the largest district increase over a minimum of $1000, the supervisor is offered the trip. A. J. Williams, supervisor, the Los Angeles District seems likely to make the trip with an increase to date of $1075.71.

Superintendent C. D. Jolly of San Diego is featuring a speaker from the community at agency staff meetings in order to cement the fine relationship existing between them. Recent speakers have been Presiding Elder C. A. Harris of the A. M. E. Church and D. V. Allen, president, Race Relations Society.

CALIFORNIA EAGLE

on the sidewalk

BY C. A. B.

LOS ANGELES, in tradition, background and present behavior is a queer overgrown and still fast growing metropolis.

It sleeps late on matters that should awaken its early and keen interest. But when finally stirred, its sense of duty is sharpened by delay and it swings into action with great force.

In spite of the fact that Eastern newspapers are brimful of protests against the revival of the Ku Klux Klan, a race and religion baiting organization that covers its face and hides its hand, Los Angeles has been sluggish in reacting to the demonstration of Klansmen throughout the downtown section Saturday before last. But now things are happening fast.

Monday the Civil Liberties Committee of Hiawatha Temple protested the action of city officials in permitting the Klan to parade.

Parallels in the development of intolerant organizations throughout the world are remarkably similar. Most fertile ground for their birth and growth is a community of lazy democracy. Public indifference allowed the Fascist party in Italy and the Nazi party in Germany to grow into their present venomous power. No less symbolic is the strong English fascist organization which more and more is proving a prime war hazard to our English cousins.

The price of indifference in any community threatened with intolerance is dissention and bloodshed. Bloodshed? That seems an extreme statement to be made in connection with our own metropolitan Los Angeles. But, do not believe it. First examine the history of the Klan.

No later than last summer, Klansmen struck central New Jersey, in an area once defended by the Father of His Country--certainly as "cultivated" as our own city. Kluxers rode out of Camden, N. J., to a small outlying farm, stripped a Negro man and woman of all their clothes, beat them unmercifully. What was their crime? They were potato pickers. Suppose we substituted the words "grape", cotton" or "orange"--would the Klan threat be brought home to us more forcefully.

Los Angeles must awake and awake RIGHT NOW. No citizen is sure of his civil liberties until the last fiery cross is destroyed and the last white hood tucked away in mothballs.

I was not so much disturbed by what was happening on the scene as I was with what must be going on behind it. This is Monday afternoon's impression, gained when I visited Judge Stanley W. Sutton's Court, Dept. 39.

For the first time in my life I realized that America should be at war, not in Europe but here at home. At war to save the American home and hold intact the American family.

The numbers of young defendants are appalling; the proportion of them of the Negro race even more shocking. In most cases, it was easy to perceive that the real crime and the real criminal is poverty. Judge Sutton, a kindly and sympathetic listener, asked a young Negro on trial for robbing a Westside grocery store why he had committed the crime. The lad replied that he was graduating from High School in June and that he needed money to pay for his towel fees and other school obligations. Without paying these bills he would be unable to graduate. So he committed a crime and became an enemy of society.

Many years ago I read a book written by a famous Indian authority. Among his comments was this statement, "There is no thievery among Indian boys and girls. It just never enters their mind, since they have everything to be desired." The implication is an important one, I think; for it reveals crime as a purely economic problem.

In a simple Indian society, every need of the younger people was satisfied in its natural order. None had more than his neighbor; there was nothing to envy next door. In a system of such uncompromising economic equality, crime was unknown.

But in our modern "civilized" mode of living, affairs are conducted much differently. Some young people are so liberally inundated with currency of the land that their minds and backbones are drowned in the process. Others are left high and dry to die of thirst—or commit a crime.

Perhaps it ISN'T as simple as that, but this, at least, is the general principle. The proportion of economic "high and drys" among colored people is the direct cause of large numbers of youthful "criminals" of the group who face courts daily. It is a great problem and a sad one. The destiny of Negro youth depends to a large measure upon its solution.

Mad Attack Staggered 2 Cities

Trial Date of Man Who Assaulted Woman Set May 2

Roy Venoy McGaha, perpetrator of one of the most sensational crimes in Pasadena history, entered a "not guilty by reason of insanity" plea when he was arraigned in Superior court Monday morning on charges of kidnaping for purpose of robbery, robbery, assault to commit rape, and violation of section 288a of the Penal Code (unnatural crime).

McGaha staggered Los Angeles and the Crown City several weeks ago when he was seized after a fiendish attack upon a 25-year old Negro woman, Mrs. Katherine Berry, 426 South Oak Knoll avenue, visiting here from New York.

SET TRIAL DATE

May 2 was set as trial date. A jury will be called in.

Attorney William W. Larsen, representing McGaha, served notice that he will attempt to prove that the young man was temporarily insane when he allegedly committed the heinous crimes on the night of Mar. 6.

Conviction on the kidnaping charge, if he were proved sane, would probably net 26-year old McGaha the death penalty.

After the arraignment, Judge Frank C. Collier appointed Drs. Victor Parkin, Grover Bailey and Edwin Wayte, psychiatrists, to examine McGaha before the trial.

Attorney Larsen announced that two other alienists have been appointed to examine McGaha in department 41 of the Superior court where he faces bad check charges.

CRIME STORY

After seeing her in a Pasadena grocery store, it is alleged that McGaha forced Mrs. Berry into his car, parked in an adjacent lot and threatened her life. Driving into lonely hill country, the man repeatedly terrorized his victim, according to statements.

At one point, it is held that he threatened to "burn her alive" in a fire built in the back seat of a deserted automobile. Having carried her to a secluded spot, McGaha brutally attacked the woman, afterwards robbing her, it is said.

Mrs. Berry escaped her tormentor when he went into a roadside cafe to buy some coffee. Police found the woman in terror huddled behind the safe of a nearby gas station. McGaha was promptly seized and arrested. Subsequent police investigations apparently upheld the woman's story.

DR CHARLOTTE HAWKINS BROWN, president and founder of Palmer Memorial Institute, Sedalia, N. C., the only finishing school for Negro children of the teen age in the U. S., who recently gave a sparkling address on the "Wings Over Jordan" program over the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Addie Baker Sues Mate for Divorce

Charging her husband, Arthur L. Baker, with cruelty, Addie St. John Baker, formerly an operator of a large and well appointed beauty parlor on Central avenue, and popular in society circles both here in Los Angeles and her former home in Oakland, sued for divorce last week.

In her complaint Mrs. Baker declines any alimony and requests that her husband pay attorney fees only. Baker is and has been for sometime an employe of Bullock's Department store. The parties were married in June 1931 and resided on E. 54th street.

EARL DANCER, one time stage producer and theatrical manager, is pressing a suit in the New York courts against a Broadway restaurant, accused of giving "Mickey Finns" to Negroes who persist in asking to be served. Dancer claims that he and a companion, Miss Marian Jordan, became ill and were rushed to the hospital after they had been served at the bar of the restaurant. "Mickey Finn" is a common name for a poisonous substance served in a drink, court attaches said.

Citizens Honor District Attorney Buron Fitts

Hailed by leaders from all walks of life in a monster testimonial banquet yesterday at the Biltmore Bowl was Los Angeles county District Attorney Buron Fitts.

The affair, regarded as the official opening gun in Fitts' fourth campaign for the position he now holds, was eminently successful.

More than 1000 citizens jampacked the swank banquet hall to pay homage to the great legal mind who has guided L. A. county to its coveted positions as one of the most crime free similar sized and populated counties in the nation.

Among prominent Negro representatives present were Mrs. Charlotta A. Baass, EAGLE editor; Mrs. Faustina Johnson and Mrs. Betty Hill.

A feature of the program was the presentation to Fitts of a huge cake surmounted by orchids which required the services of two Boy Scouts to convey to the speakers' table.

Joseph Scott, prominent Los Angeles attorney, opened the program, and the invocation was rendered by Fitts' pastor, the Rev. Haven Davis, of Monrovia Presbyterian church.

Speakers on the program included Bernard Brennan, president of the California State Brotherhood; Mrs. Martha Decker, past national chaplain frrom the eAmerican Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass; Howard Jones, U. S. C. football coach; County Assessor John R. Quinn; Paul Vallee, past president of the California Bar; McIntyre Farries, of country counsel's office; Miss Mary E. Foy, well-known clubwoman; and Gracie Allen, radio star.

With witty Ken Murray acting as master of ceremonies, part of the lively program was broadcast.

Civil Liberties Committee Makes Bow

Displaying an energetic interest in community problems, the Civil Liberties committee of Hiawatha Temple No. 91, IBPOEW, made its bow to the public last Sunday. The occasion was a well attended Mother's Tea, sparked by an open discussion of social and civic problems.

The committee is pledged to militant activity in behalf of the Eastside, the community's youth in particular. A program is planned which will embrace vocational opportunity for youth, education, sanitation, moral and physical well being and protection. Among speeific conditions which the committee is anxious to remedy is the faulty lighting of Eastside streets.

Mrs. Edna Elgin, acting as mistress of ceremonies, led the discussion. Participants included: L. V. Williams, Exalted Ruler Giles of the J. B. Bass Lodge, Madame Florence Cole Talbert, Mrs. Evelyn Foster, Miss Fay Jackson, Frederick M. Roberts, Mrs. Fostina Johnson, Mrs. Mable Gray, Mrs. C. A. Bass.

Goddess of Justice Can't Make Up Mind About Man

The Goddess of Justice can't make up her mind about William McKinley Causey who murdered a man and shot two women in a Pasadena domestic brawl 10 years ago.

Since the tragedy, Causey has been solemnly proclaimed by the State insane, sane, and finally insane again.

On Aug. 23, 1930, Causey shot Harold Mason, Myrtle Reeves and Mrs. Gertrude Causey, his estranged wife. Mason died from his wounds two days later.

More than a week after the shooting, a police search for the guilty party culminated in the discovery of Causey hiding under a house at 132 West Claremore street where he had been squeezed ever since the crime.

Upshot of the following trial was the man's incarceration at the Mendocine State hospital.

Pasadena police were informed Monday that Causey had been released from the hospital as sane and was scheduled to go to trial Tuesday in department 43 of the Superior court for the murder of a decade ago. Plea was to be temporary insanity at the time of the crime.

Late Tuesday, officials were told that Judge Charles H. Fricke, who heard the case without a jury, acquitted Causey of the murder on the ground that he was insane when it was committed and had ordered him confined in ward 110 of the General hospital until the Lunacy commission disposes of the case.

So, after 10 years, Causey finds himself in the same spot he was in Sept. 2, 1930.

Postmaster Mary Briggs Says Washington 'Hero of Peace'

As part of the nation-wide tribute to Booker T. Washington, founder of Tuskegee Institute, on the occasion of the commemorative stamp issue in the Famous American Series, Mrs. Mary D. Briggs, Los Angeles postmaster, was the principal speaker Sunday afternoon on a program under the auspices of the Los Angeles Tuskegee club.

Addressing a large audience in the auditorium of Avalon Christian church, 43rd street and Avalon boulevard, Mrs. Briggs emphaszied the fact that in face of present world conditions it is fitting that this government should honor its heroes of peace.

Personally acquainted with the noted educator during her days as an instructor in vocations at Columbia university, the postmaster told how four of Tuskegee's first graddates received higher vocational training in her classes.

Of Dr. Washington, she remarked about his humble manner, his honesty with large sums of money, his integrity and farsightedness.

General chairman of the local celebration, which also included observance of founder's day at the famous southern school, was L. G. Robinson, beloved civic and business figure. President of the Los Angeles Tuskegee club is Mrs. Martha E. Williams who acted as mistress of ceremonies.

Taking part on the program were chairman Robinson who spoke on "The Meaning and Significance of the Occasion"; Dr. Leonard Stovall, president of the Outdoor Life and Health association; Mrs. Fay Allen, member of the Board of Education; Assemblyman Augustus F. Hawkins, and Mrs. A. R. Mosley who introduced past presidents of the local Tuskegee club.

The Avalon Senior choir, under the able direction of Mrs. Zelma Watson Duke, wife of the pastor, Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, rendered music for the occasion. Solos were sung by Berniece Desdunes and Mrs. Duke.

A song, "Tuskegee's Washington", words and music for which were written by Alberta Lillian Simms, was sung by the audience following the address of Postmaster Briggs.

Illinois Solon Slain on Eve of Election

Precinct Captain, Disgruntled, Shoots, Stabs Man Fatally

CHICAGO, April 11. (ANP)—On the eve of the Illinois primary elections held Tuesday, A. Andrew Torrence, 36, state representative from the first district in Chicago, was shot and stabbed fatally in his office at Republican Second Ward headquarters in the Binga Arcade building by Cornelius Woodward, 54, a disgruntled precinct captain.

According to witnesses, Woodward called on Torrence at noon Monday on what seemed routine business. Going into the legislator's private office, the precinct captain locked the door from the inside. A few minutes later, voices rose in argument and Woodward was heard to shout,

"You caused me to lose my job!"

"No, no, no," Torrence answered almost immediately there came the sound of three shots. Before those in the outside office could break down the door, the assailant slashed Torrence across the forehead with a knife and made his exit through another door.

ADMITS CRIME

According to police, Woodward readily admitted the attack. Mrs. Edith Gibson, Torrence's secretary, said the assailant had been a school janitor for 18 months prior to last June and believed Torrence was responsible for his loss of the job.

Torrence was finishing out his first term as a state representative and was seeking renomination in Tuesday's primary elections.

Comparatively little is known of Torrence's past life as he was considered secretive even by close friends. He was understood to have been born in the Virgin Islands and to have attended the University of Chicago where he received a Phi Beta Key. He had practiced law in Chicago for several years and was recognized as one of the city's most brilliant young attorneys.

YOUNGSTERS IN MUSIC CONFAB

Among 20,000 music students participating in the Music Educators' National Conference Biennial convention, held here last week, approximately 50 Negro youngsters of all ages were present.

Appearing in various phases of the convention, the colored children were distributed thruout the several types of presentations. There were representatives of Los Angeles, Manual Arts, Jefferson, Polytechnic, Jordan High schools, many grammar schools, and UCLA.

Barkley Has Association in Dark

Association Makes Public Letter to Majority Leader

NEW YORK, April 11. —Since last November, Senator Alben Barkley (D) of Kentucky, Senate majority leader, has refused to commit himself on the anti-lynching bill or to hold a conference to discuss this legislation either with the NAACP or with Senator Robert F. Wagner, sponsors of the bill.

This information was revealed today by the NAACP as the organization made public a letter to Barkley regardnig his failure to set a date for calling the bill up for debate despite the fact that the Senate Judiciary Committee has voted the bill out, and the legislation is now on the Senate Calendar.

The NAACP sent the letter to the Senate Majority Leader, following publication of a reported interview on the anti-lynching bill which appeared in the New York Hearld-Tribune April 1. The report of the Tribune's Washington correspondent gave the following version of Barkley's reply to a question on the bill:

"Asked when the controversal anti-lynching bill would come up, Senator Barkley avoided the question with a laughing counterquestion to his interrogator."

Pointing out that reports coming out of Washington all point to the fact that every effort will be made to have Congress adjourn without acting on the bill, the NAACP letter, which was signed by Walter White, executive secretary of the Association, said in part:

"Such articles as these are causing very great concern and resentment. Wherever I go I am asked the question--and this is asked also of my associates--'Do you really believe the Majority Leader and most of the other Democratic Senators are sincere in their efforts to obtain a vote on the anti-lynching bill?

"When I have sought to assure them that there are Senators on both sides of the aisle who are sincere in their support of the bill I have been asked what definite assurances I have from you as Majority Leader that every possible effort will be made to obtain a vote at this session of the Congress. Obviously, I am unable to answer this question. I have had to tell inquirers that though I have been trying since last November to talk with you, I have not succeeded, nor has Senator Wagner been successful in arranging a conference or getting any commitment from you."

Liberty Building-Loan Doubles Value of Money

Money begets money!

That's an old saying, but it's true.

If your money is invested properly, it will earn money.

A lot, however, depends on choice of the investment company which will do you the most good.

In some communities, it may be such-and-such a building and loan company, or bank, but in the Negro colony of the state of California, it's the Liberty!

Liberty Building-Loan gives you double the value for your money.

First--it pays four percent on your money—

Second--It loans and invests in your community and neighborhood, which brings double returns to you.

All investments in Liberty are insured up to $5000 by a government agency.

Beavers Honored By Local NAACP Prexy, Members

George A. Beavers jr., conductor of the most successful NAACP membership campaign in local history, was feted Tuesday evening in the beautiful Wall street residence of NAACP prexy Thomas L. Griffith jr.

The well known Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company executive was hailed widely for the expert conduct of the 1940 campaign which netted the local NAACP branch a total of $2,000.

With charming Mrs. Portia Grifith adorning the role of hostess, Tuesday evening's function was conceded to be one of the season's standouts. After dinner, short tesetimonial addresses were given by campaign workers.

In response Beavers voiced appreciation "for splendid cooperation of all those who took part in the drive, and particularly am I grateful for the wholehearted support of the press".

Pointing out that publicity is a necessity for such an organization, he continued, "It would be a good thing for the organization if it were made possible to exercise some plan whereby monthly activities might be brought to the public eye more forcefully. It pays to advertise".

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith chose to honor Beavers so soon after the campaign because the energetic insurance executive had planned an important journey to the midwest. He left last night for Chicago to be gone one month.

Toastmaster for the evening was Baxter Scruggs, executive secretary of the YMCA, while musical numbers were rendered by D. Scott, banjo artist, under the wing of Clarence Muse.

Among guests present were L. G. Robinson, H. C. Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Muse, A. Duckette, Mrs. Comfort, Rev. S. M. Beane, Clarence S. Smith, Floyd C. Covington, Mrs. Alice Cunningham, Mrs. Zella Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cullen Fentress, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly J. Williams, C. E. Two health pictures were shown the pupils Friday morning during the assembly in Washington school. The activities of health week this year were really the culmination of an entire year's program. The work of the public school, the service of the County department of health, and the state and city clinics have kept before the citizens of the community continually the matter of better living. The statement of the public school nurse was to the effect that the testing of high school students during the past month had shown unusual gains and a fine healthy student body.

The several assemblies and public programs were very much enlivened by the musical numbers arranged for by Mrs. Ruth McGregor of the department of music. Among the musical renditions given were programs by the Violin Choir directed by Mrs. Lucille Culberson; vocal and piano selections by Misses Leonora Costello and Marilyn Ingle; selections by the Central Junior College Trio and an accordion number; dance numbers and musical selections by a group of Washington School pupils; readings by Miss Ruth Acty and vocal solos by Mr. James Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Culberson.

Scientists have estimated that approximately 40 per cent of the high school students and 80 per cent of the adults tested will show positive reactions. Scott Discusses the Negro's Challenge to America

BY EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON (D. C. April 11—Democracy in America is on trial. Every politician, every statesman, whether governor, member of Congress, or other official, whether of high or low degree, knows that something is wrong in America when the most elementary rights of democracy are ignored, and groups of American citizens, with basic rights under the Federal Constitution, are treated as subject peoples and denied those opportunities and that freedom and human happiness they have a right to expect.

This "new society" of America was founded to assure freedom from tyranny of every kind, political as well as religious; and, also, to provide that free endeavor for the development of those qualities which make for full-rounded citizenship, unhindered by overt acts of oppression or repression.

VICTIMS OF REPRESSION NORTH AND SOUTH

And yet these principles, these objectives of the democratic process are set at naught openly, flagrantly and boastfully in that section of the country which boasts a population of nearly 9,000,000 colored men and women and children; while in the North and other portions of the country, the remaining 3,000,000 and more are, in the main, the victims of a restricted tolerance, more or less oblivious of their presence except politically.

If democracy, the practice of self-government, is in truth and in fact "a covenant of free men to respect the rights and liberties of their fellows," as President Roosevelt has declared, failure of that concept in America must be conceded, for we live in a country with "some men up and many men down," an all-too-large proportion of these latter being members of the largest minority group in the United States, the Negro group, who suffer mainly because our social system condones a restrictive process based on race and color.

In that section, the South, where the majority of the Negro group is compelled to live, the Democratic Party, now in national political power, as it is also in control of Southern State governments, has sought, through the centuries, and even in this more progressive and enlightened day, to debase the manhood and citizenship and break the morale of that group by laws which disfranchise them and restrict their educational, their cultural and their economic life.

The Democratic Party claims it is the author of the democratic concept in America. Its governors, its senators, its congressmen swear to uphold the provisions of the Constitution of the United States. They prate of the freedom of man and glibly orate about the banners of freedom, and yet, by their actions and performances, forswear the very principles they affect to love and revere.

This hypocrisy is a tradition accepted and laughed at, and for what purpose: to keep in subjection a citizenship group whose greatest fault is an aspiration, a desire to enjoy the rights and privileges granted them by their citizenship, and that "equal protection under law," whose words carved across the front facade of the Supreme Court of the United States; and that their contributions to making this country great be weighed in the balances over against bigotry, intolerance, racial prejudices, oppression.

CONDITIONS THAT MUST BE CHANGED

These conditions cannot continue. They must be changed. The Negro himself can largely contribute to this end. He must accept the obligations and responsibilities of his citizenship. He must help to mitigate the factors which give expert exercises for his mistreatment, and he must militantly seek to educate public opinion, North and South, to a realization of the fact that democracy is dying in America because of the cancers growing at the vitals of a body politic which complacently accepts these injustices.

Best of all, knowing the potency of the ballot in those sections where the untrammeled privilege is his, he should, and he must, set his face against that Democratic Party which subjects his kinsmen in the South to a place of subordination.

Banquet Honors Man Responsible for Stamp

PHILADELPHIA, April 11—The man who is directly responsible for the issue of a United States Post Office stamp bearing the face of Booker T. Washington, was honored at a testimonial banquet here last week. He is 83-year old Major R. R. Wright, ex-slave and president of the Citizens' and Southern Bank and Trust co.

Major Wright told the banqueters that he approached President and Mrs. Roosevelt on the matter 7 years ago after examining stamp files to see if a stamp bearing a Negro's face had ever been issued. He found none had.

"I was told that no such stamp had ever been issued or applied for."

Major Wright is also president of the National Negro Bankers' association.

If Manhole Cover Noises Annoy You, Tell City

Citizens who are annoyed by the noise of motor vehicles passing over old type manhole covers for the sewers and storm drains are assured that the condition will be promptly remedied if complaints are registered with the City, according to the announcement by the Board of Public Works.

Workmen from the engineering bureau will eliminate the noise by placing silencer gaskets between the loose manhole cover and its seat.

All communications should be addressed to the City engineer, Los Angeles City Hall, or telephone Michigan 5211, station 761. Specific location of the manhole should be given, describing it to be in the intersection of two streets or in front of a certain house number.

All manhole covers installed by the City in recent years are of a type that lock and do not make noise when shaken by motor traffic, but many of the old type are in service and in need of repair, the Board stated.

NEW YORK, April 11—The right of Negro workers to employment on the Brooklyn Manhattan Transit system, is assured when the City of New York takes over the line, together with the Interborough Rapid Transit line in a unification program, the NAACP announced today.

Full assurance of the integration of Negro workers in the transit systems was given to the NAACP by Mayor LaGuardia.

"We Must Have Faith"

Our news mentor, the Denver Post, gives a stirring account of an experience of a San Luis valley stockman, and farmer who pleaded guilty to shooting ducks after hunting hours. It is related that a game warden, in effecting the arrest of the stockman, pulled a gun, and handcuffed the farmer.

From the sublime to the ridiculous, as we are told, that there are places in these United States when one may shoot, and the Sheriff, or Warden will embrace you. Ducks need no Anti-lynch bill for protection. Fish, birds, animals and insects may provoke special protection, so have faith, Negroes, your turn will come next.

Roosevelt Hails Objectives of National Negro Congress

WASHINGTON, (D.C.), April 11.—In a letter to A. Phillip Randolph, president of the National Negro Congress, President Franklin D. Roosevelt hailed the forthcoming Third National Negro Congress to be held here in the United States Department of Labor Auditorium April 23-28.

The text of the President's letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Randolph:

"It gives me pleasure to send greetings to another great and representative gathering of Negro citizens at the Third National Negro Congress. This is a time in the history of the world and in the history of our own nation when the wisdom of the whole people is more than ever needed if common problems are to be solved.

"Because of confusion and unrest it is now more than ever important that the place of a minority group in a democracy not be obscured by ignorance and prejudice. It is important that members of a minority group consider together their special problems in order that these problems may find expression for the benefit of all. It is of even greater importance that the whole people consider with open and sympathetic mind these problems of the minority in order that the processes of democracy may work to bring about their solution. For it is obvious that the political, social and economic well-being of the whole people depends upon the achievement of that well-being for all sections of the population regardless of color, creed or geography.

Average Shelter Rental Revealed

WASHINGTON, (D.C.), April 11.—Average monthly shelter rentals of approximately the same amount paid for living quarters in slum areas in the same communities have been established for the 15,878 homes in the first 41 USHA-aided projects for which rents have been approved under the United States Housing Authority slum-clearance program.

The average monthly shelter rental is $13.93 per home in these 41 projects, located in 26 communities in 12 states. This figure according to Nathan Straus, U. S. H. A. Administrator, is about $1.50 per month less than the median shelter rental the same tenants were paying for substandard housing in the same localities.

Ivan Johnson May Enter Race for Assemblyman

Probability of a ding-dong battle for assemblyman from the 62nd district loomed this week with the admission by Attorney Ivan J. Johnson, III, that he may enter the race for the Republican nomination. Johnson said that he had been approached by numerous groups within the past few weeks and is giving the matter "serious consideration."

• Golden West Bridge Ass'n Notes

BY ELLIS L. VEIL

Our master point certificate play Friday, April 5, was a grand success. Twenty-eight players took part in our third monthly rating play. There is no stopping Louise Roan and Millie Hopkins and J. D. Dunn and Dr. A. L. Wallace, who for the second time in a row were winners. This is the third win for J. D. Dunn.

But some of the city's best players have failed to take part in our plays. Felton Boyd, Blanche Woods, Bill Jones, Officer Coleman, are a few of the many I am thinking of.

Again we remind you of the Contract Bridge club's big charity tournament, Saturday night, April 13, at the Masonic.

We are also asking you to take out a subscription to the EAGLE the West's greatest Weekly, which makes possible this communion between bridge players.

Next Sunday, the Paramount club of San Diego will invade our city for a return match with the GWBA. They are determined to get revenge for the trouncing they were given in their own city by GWBA.

Board Number 10 in the last play gave all the players a good laugh, except A. L. Gross, who held the West hand. Playing at table five, he heard the East-West players at table six bid and make a small slam in hearts. He said to his partner, "We must not miss bidding six when we get to that table and play that board." He didn't know that the board moved when he moved. Following is the hand: East dealer, both sides vulnerable. Our hero was sitting West:

North
KQ102

West	East
S. A8654	S. J73
H. A3	H. J10942
D. AKJ86	D. 107
C. J	C. 1073

South
S. 9
H. Q87
D. Q943
C. KQ865

I don't know how he arrived at the final contract but I know he could not be stopped until he had reached six diamonds double. When the last card was played, he found that the opponents had turned seven tricks. The moral is, don't try to remember the boards that you happen to overhear. You might make the same mistake our hero did.

Marquisettes Club

The last meeting of Les Marquisettes Social club was held Wednesday, April 3, at the home of Miss Elnora Henry, treasurer and business manager of the club. The very successful dance that Le Marquisettes gave on Mar. 29, was the chief topic of discussion.

Next meeting of the club was held at the home of Miss Vivian Gossett on Wednesday, April 10. Juanita Ferguson, reporter.

Hattie McDaniel Entertains With Buffet Dinner

Sunday evening Miss Hattie McDaniel entertained a group of friends at her Westside home with an informal midnight buffet dinner. Preceding the dinner, guests enjoyed an impromptu program with Ernest Whitman as master of ceremonies. Guests contributing to the delightful hour were: Pepper Neely, Lillian Randolph, Lynwood Young and the hostess, Miss McDaniel. Melba Hanna presided at the piano and Ernest Whitman also sang "Road to Mandalay" and "Old Man River" as a part of his contribution to the excellent program.

During the evening guests availed themselves of the privileges of reading many messages of congratulations that came to Miss McDaniel after she had won the Academy Award. Topping all the massages however was a huge telegram that almost reached the ceiling of the actress' dining room. The huge message was from Washington, D. C. and bears the signatures of 5000 fans who saw "Gone With the Wind" at the capitol city. The message reads:

"Your Washington admirers take this opportunity to compliment you on your brilliant performance in "Gone With the Wind." Your unforgettable portrayal is a monument to which we pay homage. We predict it will go down as one of the finest roles of all times."

Guests for the evening included Misses Mildred E. Blount, Mae Muse, Blanche B. Powers, Ollie Green; Messrs and Mesdames George Garner, Ernest Whitman, Loren Miller, Bobby Johnson, Willie Covan, James Gooch; Mesdames Sam McDaniel, Etta (Goof) McDaniel, Melba Hanna, Anita Brown, Madame Sul-Te-Wan, Ruby Berkley Goodwin, Mildred McDowell, Mabel Henderick, Mabel Hansen and Messrs Andrew Jackson, James H. Garrott, Charles Butler, Jesse Graves, Irvin Smith, Lynwood Young, Eduard Boyd, Ben Carter, Henry Washington and Pepper Neely.

• ASHFORD RAMBLES AGAIN

By EMMETT ASHFORD

In an effort to forestall any addition whatsoever to the alarming amount of thieves, robbers, cut-throats, "hustlers" "PI's", women of ill repute and psuedo movie stars and bogus bunko ment, etc., the noble Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity is this week celebrating their annual Guide Right Week. . . purpose of movement is the assisting and counseling of high school lads and lassies in regards to their future and chosen fields. . .

KAPPA TEA

The customary Proclamation Tea in the Elk's Patio last Sun. aft., brought forth the cream of the local high school intelligentsia. . . and with such devestating beauties as Bernice Eblon, Dr. Lois Evans, Charlotte Hartsfield, Willa Gene Ashford acting as hostesses, there is destined to be a mad scramble for the portals of the local universities, come next Sept. . . Sharp coeds heightened the affair which was interspersed with a well balanced program given by various high school luminaries. . . to say nothing of the " gambalorious quantities" of sherbert punch. . . . and the impromptu ball staged at the conclusion of the program. . .

Remainder of the Guide Right program for the week arranged by William "Six" Sharp chmn., includes the DECLAMATION CONTEST Friday night at Avalon Christian church at which time, high school Demosthenes will beat on their chops in an effort to haul away the booty for their respective institutions. . the COUNSELING PERIOD at the YMCA Sat. eve. from -8, during which time professional men and women will personally counsel all high school students. . . Finale for the week is the Guide Right Service at 11 A. M. Sun. morn at Independent. . . A note to the young bucks who kept quizzing us on the identity of the hostesses at the tea—they will be at the Declamation contest along with many others.

MOVIE SWINDLE

Speaking of psuedo movie stars and bogus bunko men brings to mind the story of that young married couple that blew into town about a year ago from San Francisco, from whence a hasty exit was made for various and sundry reasons at the time. . Subsequent domestic work here failed because employers said work was hindered by the presence of lead quantities where they shouldn't be. . . Some four months ago she turns up a movie star of a half-baked quickie, which caused no end of eyebrow raising among the femmes. . . The latest to trickle in is the report from the Bay city that this same couple under the guise of representing a certain Negro syndicate—she, the star and he the secretary, allegedly took money from a family recently under the pretense of getting daughter of said family into the films via asserted talent contest. . . the jig was tripped up by one citizen who penned Sacramento on validity of stock which was about as bogus as "the non-labor sect" on the corner of 42nd and Central.

ANOTHER BROTHER GONE

Our good friend Bill Beverly, who has been doing quite well; last Sun., slipped and fell—into the sea of matrimony along with the lovely Anna Rosa Broyles. . . Colorful ceremony at Eighth and Towne topped by gigantic reception. . . When told to embrace his bride Bill substituted a light peck on the cheek, which was probably due to nervousness, as we know he is capable of much better. . . remember when we suddenly lost our voice when supposed to say, "I do"

SPORTS IN NUTSHELL

Times in last Saturday's track gathering between the Bruins and the SCAA were padded some two seconds on the 440, 880 and mile according to reliable information the two squads meet again this Saturday at the Coliseum. . . pee wee George Weinberg, actually clocked in 49.2 that day figures to give Troy's Upton a race in the quarter.

L. A. City College's spike contingent sent Long Beach J. C. home on the short end of the stick last Sat. aft. . . Dusky Zenas Butler starred for the Beach lads copping both barrier races; has done 24.7 in the lows. . . Sam Lankford, off to a bad start in the 100,sped the furlong in 22 flat; discounting the curve, it's all same 21 flat. . . Saul Lankford has dropped track in favor of his health and studies. . . Big Sammy Lee heaved the shot 41ft 7 in for his second first in as many weeks. . . Smooth jumping Joe Dow sailed 22ft 8in for a second in the broadjump, to best the ailing McCoy who was also trailed Butler in the lows and placed in the highjump. . .

Saturday afternoon, Station K's baseball nine makes their first real debut against the darndest bunch of sandlot players ever to hit this coast, namely, Fleming's Dynamiters, with such heardheads as Richard Echols, Joe Fillmore, Herbert Jenkins, Renfro, et al, they're really potent. . . everything they play, they constitute a menace to the passing traffic outside the park due to the amount of home runs hit by them . . .

A ragged and nondescript softball nine under the nom de plume Dispatchers, lucked upon an 8-7 victory over the vaunted Postoffice Giants last Fri. at Ross Snyder, where due to the upset, much money changed hands and woof at the Postoffice that eve, was terrific. . .

Lance Balthazar and Bill Woods, local P. O clerks have purchased a light 24 ft. cruiser in which they plan to lay that jibe. . . the craft is anchored at Long Beach.

The Social Whirl...

by Lillian Johnson

Eighth and Towne church was the setting Sunday afternoon when Miss Anna Rosa Broyles, daughter of Attorney and Mrs. M. H. Broyles, became the bride of William Beverly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Beverly of this city, in a very impressive ceremony.

The bride-elect wore white lace and net, princess style and a beautiful halo of pearls. She was given in marriage by her father. She carried a lovely bouquet of gardenias. The matron of honor was Mrs. Agnes Storey, who was attired in yellow marquisette, princess style. The maids of honor was Miss Edith Jones, Mrs. Mildred Shores and Mrs. Marjorie Seltenberg, who were attired in green marquisette and carried bouquets of mixed spring flowers. Ring bearer was Master Thomas L. Griffith, III. The flower girl was little Arline Storey. Ushers were Maurice Page, Louis Harris and Henry Seltenberg. The Rev. H Mansfield Collins officiated.

A very gay time was had Saturday evening when the Richard Nelsons entertained their daughter, Rena, with a surprise birthday party at their lovely home on E. 46th street. Among the younger social set, we noted Dorothy and Ellen Johnson, Nancy Bolch, Stanley Loupe, June Stevenson, William Shaw, Marguerite Klye, Teddy Loupe, Gloria Russell, Robert Klye, James Lee, Lois Stockton, James Williams, Sara Lumpkin, Wesley Russell, Dorothy Nobles, Charles Earles, Arthur Bickers, Almeter Nicholson, Jesse Nicholson, Marie Starks, Curtis Herbert, Cornelia Lumpkin, Don Woods, Nelsee Mitchen, Theodore Lumpkin, Roberta Cobles, Donald Thomas, Thelma Feurye, Henry Wiley, Bernice Dandridge, Robert Dandridge, Kenta Jordon, Eddie Ross, Thomas Glasco, Sylvester Davis, Charles Linsley, Berry Barnum, Wallace DeCuir, Allen Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant. Marcia Wylie Weds Clarence G. Thompson

In a lovely Catholic ceremony, Miss Marcia Juanita Wylie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shannon S. Wylie, was married Sunday, Mar. 31, at St. Odilias' church to Clarence Gilmore Thompson, son of Mrs. Lena Thompson.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Daisy Hall Goodlow sang Charles Wakefield Cadman's "At Dawning," accompanied at the organ by Miss Dorothy Jefferson.

To the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, the bridal party entered. The bride's sister, Mrs. Elwood Sidney Hamlin, formerly Miss Beverly Ann Wylie, a recent bride, was matron of honor. She was charming in pink organdy, with satin embroidered roses, and carried a shower bouquet of blue delphiniums and pink carnations.

Amie Smith Is Buffet Dinner Hostess

Last Sunday afternoon the spacious and pretentious home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Holt, at 838 E. 28th street, was the setting for a swanky mid-afternoon buffet-dinner party. Miss Amie L. Smith, the hostess to the party honoring 24 guests, chose the height of the Easter season for the occasion.

The home, beautifully appointed for the party, was gaily reflective of the happy season. The atmosphere was ultra swank. A delicious seven-course dinner was served the guests, who dined in buffet style. This method afforded wonderful opportunity for informal talk that had the effect of putting everyone at ease.

Among the guests who responded to Miss Smith's warm invitation, were Rev. and Mrs. H. Randolph Moore, rector of St. Phillips P. E. church; Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Prather, Nat Cole, Jo Ira Stevenson and P. O. Holt; Mesdames Reginald Harangue, Julia Minnes, Horace Bradford, Isabelle Paterson and LaVenia Bryant and Miss Josephine Cooper, Messrs. Frederick Clarke, Albert E. Duncan, Edward Singleton, Earl White, Lawrence F. LaMar and Mr. Lee. During the afternoon, an impromptu program of entertainment was offered which featured the hostess in a stellar vocal solo role. Nat Cole favored with a piano solo and screen actor Frederick Clark responded with delightful brief snatches of dramatic impersonations.

Prizes at the various games were won by both Rev. Moore and his charming wife. Mrs. Peterson is a visitor here from Boston, Mass., and Mrs. Bryant, a visitor from Chicago, Ill. Both are houseguests of Mrs. Horace Bradford of 847 E. 25th street.

SURPRISE PARTY FETES STUDENT ON BIRTHDAY

It was indeed a very pleasant "surprise" that greeted Fisher Evans, popular L. A. City college student last Thursday, the occasion being the celebration of his 21st birthday. A cleverly appointed party had been arranged in young Evans' honor at the home of Mrs. A. Melanson, 1154½ E. 23rd street by Mrs. Rose Alexander.

So cleverly did the hostess and invited guests conceal the fact from the honoree that he was unaware of the role he played in the affair until the party was half over. Among guests who attended the party were Messrs. and Mmes. Maxie Floyd, Sam Rawlins, Andrew Armstrong, G. E. Banks; Mmes. F. E. Moore, Edna Lewis, A. B. Allen; Misses Jeanne Lewis, Josephine Cantu, A. Melanson; Messrs. Charles Evans, Reese H. Lewis, Lorenzo Johnson, Johnnie M. Evans and Lorenzo Ross.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" This question is the subject of the Lesson Sermon to Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from Isaiah. "The Lord is our judge, the Lord is our lawgiver, the Lord is our king; he will save us."

One of the Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon includes these verses from Luke: "And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, saying Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not. And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.'

The Lesson-Sermon includes also these statements from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Divine Truth, Life, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, to prove what God is and what He does for man.... He proved by his deed that Christian Science destroys sickness, sin, and death."

Baptist Prelate, 87-Yrs. Old, Dies

NEWARK (N. J.) Apr. 11—Rev. H. H. Mitchell, 87-year old Baptist clergyman, died Sunday morning after a short illness.

Pleasant Hill Observes the Resurrection

Dr. A. Wendell Ross, pastor Pleasant Hill Baptist church, announces the church will observe the Resurrection of Jesus Christ, Sunday, April 14. Services at Pleasant Hill begin with early Sunrise Prayer Meeting and continue with special program of the Sunday School, the 11 a. m. hour, afternoon hour and the closing services at 7:30 p. m.

This congregation has accepted April 14, which is the second Sunday, as the permanent day of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. After careful study, we find that the Resurrection cannot be controlled by the full moon on or after March 21. Dr. Nicholas Buhul Wagman of the Planet Staff Narrator, makes this observation, that if Resurrection is to be controlled by the full moon, it would make it come as early as March 22nd and as late as April 25. Dr. Wagman says that some advocate stabilizing by setting the second Sunday in April as the permanent memorial of Resurrection.

We also notice that Dr. Lloyd Warlay, Superintendent of New Haven District of New Haven, Conn., of the Methodist Churches, has proclaimed April 14 as the Resurrection for 72 churches in his district. Dr. Warlay says why not in 1940 have two Easters. Let us plan to have an Easter without commercial benefit.

The people of Pleasant Hill are trying to forget the Easter in that we lay aside the full moon idea and all of the pagan observances, such as the rabbit and colored eggs. We are emphasizing the Resurrection of Jesus Christ as the Hope of all Humanity.

Friday, Apr. 12, a three-hour service of the Cross, midnight at High noon from 12 o'clock to 3 p. m. The Seven Last Words will be the guide of the service. The first word, "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do," will be given by Dr. J. W. Clay, followed by a solo by Sis. E. E. Cooper. The second word, "Woman, behold they Son, behold they Mother." solo by Bro. D. V. Stewart. The third word, "Today thy shall be with me in Paradise," will be given by Bro. L. Walters; solo, Miss Viola Holland. Fourth word, "My God, My God, why hast thou forsaken me." The fifth word, "I Thirst," will be given by Bro. Roy Woody; solo, Sis. M. G. Gaitor. The sixth word, "It is finished." will be given by Bro. D. C. Fowler; solo, M. Booker. The seventh word, "Father, into Thy hand I commend My Spirit," will be given by Bro. W. Gaitor; solo, Sis. L. M. Wilson.

Our Sunday service will be outstanding in every way, with very fine programs of the Resurrection as the theme. The public is cordially invited to come and enjoy the day. If you cannot come during the day, be sure to see and hear the Cantata of the Living Christ at 7:30 p. m.

Famous Chicago Singers on Angelus Broadcast Sunday

Knowles and Anderson, the gospel singing duo from Chicago that has captivated large Los Angeles audiences for the past six months, will be guests of the regular Sunday morning broadcast sponsored by Angelus Funeral Home for the sick and shut-in next Sunday morning over KFOX, from 10:15 to 10:45.

The favorite singers will be heard with the popular senior choir of People's Independent Church of Christ, directed by Mrs. A. C. Bilbrew. The broadcast originates in the main auditorium of the church at 18th and Paloma. Before returning to their home in Chicago next month, Knowles and Anderson will be presented in a special sacred concert at Independent, the date of which will be announced later.

Rev. Clayton D. Russell as "The Visitor," will give his usual consoling message to those who are unable to attend church. Since its beginning nearly three years ago by the Angelus Funeral Home as one of its community services, the program has become one of the most popular on the Pacific Coast.

ATTORNEY CRISPUS WRIGHT, Los Angeles' youngest lawyer, has been asked to address the student body of UCLA on April 19. His topic will be, "What Negro Youth Thinks of the Present War." Rev. Large Crowds Attend CCC Fete at Camp Minnewawa

It will cost the people of California thousands of dollars in tax money if all these petitions should get enough signers to put them on the ballot and necessitate a special election.

For the most part they are being circulated by persons who have some personal grudge or who are being paid by special interests and should not be taken seriously by our people.

We are extending a cordial invitation to all those who are interested in the District Welfare to turn out for the "breakfast" to be held at Calvary Baptist church, Sunday morning at 8:30 (35c per plate). Councilman Harley Knox will be the guest speaker.

Delmar R. Long is president and Dudley M. Spencer, executive manager, Community Betterment Breakfast club, San Diego county.

SAN DIEGO, (By Mrs. E. B. Wesley)—A large crowd attended the 7th anniversary celebration of the CCC's Sunday at Camp Minnewawa, near here. Athletic exhibitions, boxing, wrestling, gymnastics and softball featured the day's program. Minnewawa's softball team defeated the San Diego city league team, 9-4.

Educational and Road projects were on display in the Educational building. Several boys gave demonstrations of the use of powder in road building.

The program was climaxed by a Retreat Ceremony performed by members of the company. Two enrollees received elementary certificates and two received high school diplomas for work completed in the camp. James O. Whaley, educational adviser, presented certificates to five honor students.

Dr. N. C. King, Los Angeles city health clinician, presented an award of five dollars to Enrollee Otis D. Allen, who maintained an average of A with perfect attendance.

Lieut. Joseph C. Toy is company commander.

Bell, who will remain in the city until April 16, will confer with officers and members of Union Pacific and Southern Pacific dining car unions regarding the hearings before the Wages and Hours board to establish the inclusion of dining car workers in the provisions of the 40 cents per hour minimum wage set by the Wages-Hours Act.

Also slated for discussion is the application of the master contract, a model agreement for dining car unions drafted by the joint council to working conditions of dining car employes on the U. P. and S. P. lines.

A series of meetings will be held at union headquarters, 1158 E. 12th street.

Drop Manslaughter Charge Against Young Car-washer

With only a battery charge remaining before his name is cleared, Wesley Sinclair, 25, of 1607 E. 42nd street, heard a charge of manslaughter dismissed last week by Municipal Judge Leroy Dawson in division two.

The latter charge grew out of the death Mar. 26 of elderly Malcolm A. Neal, white, of 1509 Fair Oaks, South Pasadena. Earlier, on Mar. 6, Neal, who had sold a steam-cleaning plant to Sinclair, a car-washer, and Alyin Brown, 859 E. 28th street, his partner, and the defendant had engaged in an altercation over the performance of the plant. The pair operate a wash-rack at 7786 Santa Monica boulevard.

Sinclair assertedly struck Neal twice with his right fist. Six days later, Neal signed a complaint against Sinclair in Beverly Hills justice court, charging the latter with battery.

Subsequenly Neal died, apparently as a result of the blows. Sinclair then was held in the county jail on suspicion of manslaughter.

Arraigned before Judge Wilbur Curtis in division four, preliminary hearing saw Sinclair's counsel, attorney Ernest Bess, white, motion for a dismissal at the conclusion of the testimony on grounds that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a superior court trial.

Deputy District Attorney Hollepeter represented the People.

In view of the manslaughter charge, and prior to the preliminary hearing, Attorney Bess secured a continuance of the hearing on the battery count before Judge Cecil D. Holland in the Beverly Hills Justice Court, until June 4.

AN OPEN STATEMENT BY HATTIE McDANIEL

There is an old adage which says, "Never apologize—your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe it anyway." The same may be said of any explanation one wishes to make, but I feel that some statement should be given to the public concerning several incidents reported to have happened at the annual banquet of the Motion Picture Academy of Sciences and Arts.

A few weeks ago, an eastern paper carried a feature article describing the dinner and the presentations. The writer stated that Miss Leigh kissed me, that Mr. David O. Selznick kissed my hand. Now comes a recent article in Silhouette saying the same thing but adding that Mr. Clark Gable shook my hand. None of these people mentioned have said anything to me about these articles and the following statements are made to clarify certain erroneous statements that have gone out.

Never have I been treated more graciously in my life than the night of the Academy Award dinner. I was given a thunderous applause both upon entering and when the presentation of the award was made. Both Miss Leigh and Mr. Selznick rushed forward with a throng of others to shake my hand and congratulate me, but MISS LEIGH DID NOT KISS ME, NOR DID MR. SELZNICK KISS MY HAND Mr. Gable was not even present at the banquet, so he couldn't have shaken hands with me.

Since my escort and I were the only two Negroes present and the only accounts of these incidences have been made in Negro papers, I do not want anyone to think that we have been responsible for their circulation. Neither writer contacted me for my personal statement and while I appreciate what they have done and know that there was no malicious intent behind it, yet, in fairness to the people who have been so considerate of me, and because I believe that honesty is the best policy, I make this statement.

When the California Youth Legislature meets for its third annual State Convention tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday, the Southside Youth Coordinating committee, an organization composed of some 20 representatives of young people's clubs on the Southside, plans to have 100 delegates or more to discuss and formulate plans to solve many problems which confront them, the committee announced today.

The "job" of the convention is divided into three discussion groups: Peace, Economic Security and Well-Being for Urban and Rural Youth, and Extension of Democracy.

Officiating in the convention as representatives from the Southside will be Percy Williams, as chairman of the round table on the problem of "Democracy for Minority Groups", and Wendell Green, chairman of the round table concerning housing.

Sheriff Biscailuz has offered the cooperation of his office, as has Chief of Police Hohmann. The Sheriff's Boys' band will march, and it is hoped that bands of various local Legion posts will follow suit.

Churches that have so far pledged their cooperation are Second Baptist, Independent church, Phillips' Temple CME, Lincoln Memorial Congregational, St. Adelia's and the Avalon Christian church.

Ross Snyder, South Park and Compton playgrounds will be represented, as will the YMCA, YWCA, Boy Scouts, city schools and public libraries. The parade will march south from 28th and Central, starting at 10 a. m., and a baseball field day will be held immediately following.

Parade Will Open Youth Week Fete

Opening event of Youth Week celebrations in this community will be staged by the Southeast Coordinating council which is sponsoring a gigantic youth parade on Saturday morning, April 27.

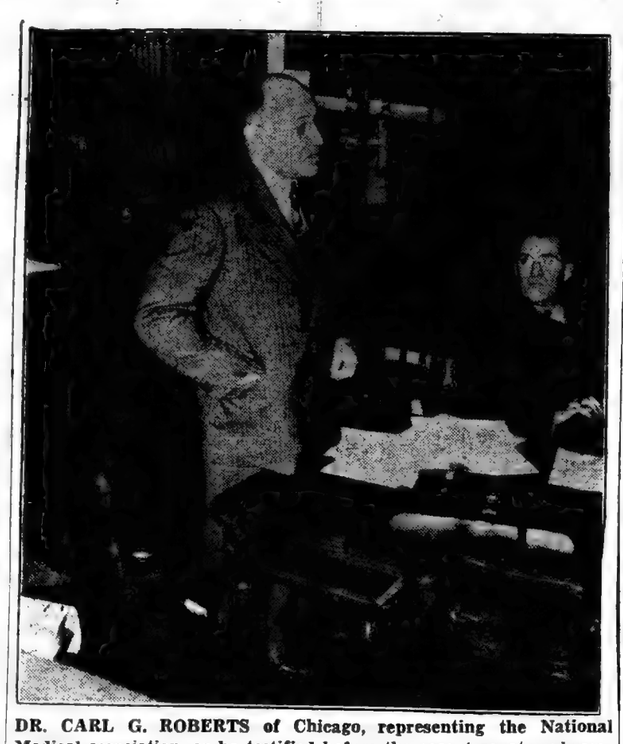
MEMORIES

There we were in the pastor's study during morning services. And why were we there, instead of out with the rest of the congregation? Because over KECA of NBC's "Red" network at approximately 12:15 p. m. there was coming from Tuskegee Institute an inspiring program.

The occasion was two-fold: Celebration of the day many years ago when Booker T. Washington founded the famous school and the appearance of the stamp bearing his likeness in the famous American series.

Both observances received adequate attention in the nation's press but as we were listening we could not help but feel that their spirit would have been brought closer to home had the churches of the nation suspended services so that the broadcast might have been brought directly to the congregations.

The address of Postmaster General James A. Farley was a sermon in itself. His subject, "Booker T. Washington", held all of the material for arresting the attention and holding it.



The singing of the famed Tuskegee Institute choir, under the direction of William L. Dawson, had the quality of genuineness not usually heard. The voices blended magnificently.

Had the time of the broadcast been definitely known here, we believe more people would have tuned in. First, and published, reports had it that the airing would be heard at 2 p. m. Sunday. The information naturally led interested listeners to believe they would have ample time to tune in following church services.

As we listened our imagination traveled the thousands of miles to the Tuskegee campus with ease. As the postmaster general referred to the imposing Washington monument and the hallowed grounds and as the announcer described the scenery to be viewed as he looked out the chapel windows across the grave of the great educator, we were again at Tuskegee, a school we left over 10 years ago.

We couldn't help but feel a little proud of the fact that we had been privileged to attend an institution, the brain child of a man whose work is deemed so vital and necessary to the progress of mankind.

And, at the same time, we felt the responsibility in which every student is cloaked as he comes out from those portals.

DR. CARL G. ROBERTS of Chicago, representing the National Medical association, as he testified before the resent senate subcommittee hearing on the Wagner Halth bill in Washington. It was brought out that the Negro needs greatly increased medical and hospital facilities, since there are only 7,000 hospital beds available throughout the nation for 13,000,000 Negroes, and the Wagner bill needs strong provisions preventing discrimination against colored doctors and citizens.

Local Urban League Stresses 'Youth and Jobs' Campaign

The Urban League of Los Angeles has been conducting very stimulating programs under the direction of the Junior Urban League department, in observance of the 8th Vocational Opportunity campaign, with special emphasis on "Youth and Jobs."

The interview and play material was originated and developed in the youth department, under the leadership of Miss Gaynelle Cole, Miss Mildred Stevens, Mr. Leroy Hurt and the expanded youth committee, assisted on the production and direction by the executive director, Floyd C. Covington.

All efforts are being expended now for the big youth mass meeting to be held at Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith, on Sunday, April 14, at 3 p. m. with "Youth and Jobs" as the theme. All young people are especially commissioned to attend, and the meeting is, of course, open to the public. Among the youth artists to appear will be Carl Yaeger, baritone, Pauline Wilkerson, soprano; Georgana Brown, contralto; the Mayfield Brothers, quartet; and many others. Among the adult sponsors will be Mrs. Fay E. Allen, Dr. Ruth Temple, Mr. Albert Baumann, and Mrs. Floyd C. Covington. Don't miss this special youth mass meeting or you will continue to regret it the rest of your days. This meeting is especially planned to make a practical approach toward the solution of the very difficult vovational guidance, placement, and employment problems of all youth, but most specifically Negro youth.

Mrs. Jesse Wilson, Committee of Management Member, Attends National YWCA Parley in East

Mrs. Jesse R. Wilson, member of the Committee of Management of the 12th Street Branch YWCA is attending the National Convention of the YWCA, at Atlantic City this week, April 10-16. Mrs. Wilson is ably fitted to represent the Branch since she has served as chairman of the Girl Reserve Advisers for several years and has been active as Camp Counselor in the Los Angeles and Denver YWCA camps. She will attend the Girl Reserve Section meetings at the Convention, and will visit branches in other parts of the country en route to Los Angeles.

Willis Ward Named in Complaint

Complaint Filed With NLRB Against Ford Motor Co.

DETROIT, April 11—Willis Ward, one of the greatest athlete's in the history of the University of Michigan, was named in a complaint filed with the National Labor Relations board here against the Ford Motor co.

The complaint alleged that Ward, who is a member of the personnel department at Fords', a co-worker and the head of the Wayne County District asso., had forced the discharge of three workers because of affiliation with the Democratic party. The complaint asked that a hearing into the charges be held by the Board.

The three discharged workers are: Eugene Turner, employed 12 years by the automobile company; Willis Bradford, 17 years with the company, and William Armstrong, 11 years.

They said that Ward, his coworker Donald Marshall, and the politician James Peyton, "coerced members of the Negro race into joining the Wayne County Voters District association," and that the organization is "operated and maintained for the purpose of counter-acting labor organizational influence among Negro employes of the Ford Motor co., and unless one is a member, he stands a slim chance of working or being hired by the Ford Motor co."

SCIENTIST CARVER ILL, UNABLE TO ATTEND WASHINGTON STAMP FETE

Confined Because of Heart Ailment, He Cites Educator's Life as Model of Success

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, April 11. (ANP)—"Study the problem. Reach a decision. When you are sure you are right, go ahead regardless of popular sentiment or public opinion," advised Dr. George Washington Carver, noted scientist, in a talk on the life of Booker T. Washington last week. "This was the secret of the great educator's success," he said.

Dr. Carver, 76, talking to a group of newspaper men, compared Booker T. Washington's formula for success with formulas used by Abraham Lincoln, President Theodore Roosevelt, Henry Ford and other outstanding men. Showing eagerness to talk about this "most respected personality," the aged scientist continued:

"Booker T. Washington established Tuskegee Institute to solve a tremendous and urgent problem. He undertook to raise the cultural and economic level of the ignorant, poverty-stricken Negro masses of his day. They looked on his work as the badge of slavery; wished the children to learn Latin and Greek, but Tuskegee's founder knew he had the answer and he faced the future fearlessly, succeeding against overwhelming odds."

Dr. Carver deplored the fact that he was not able to attend the Booker T. Washington stamp celebration in the school chapel here Sunday. His physician had ordered him to remain in his apartment on the campus because of a heart ailment. "I may join Dr. Washington at any time," he said.

Returning to his topic, he repeated the educator"s axiom: "You shall prosper in proportion fy labor, and put brains and skill as you learn to dignify and glorilabor and put brains and skill into the common occupations of life."

Concluding, the venerable scientist observed: "Washington was an idealist. Yet his common sense and sagacity were uncanny. His judgment in all situations was intuitive. But it was wased on a vast knowledge of human nature, for he himself, was educated in life's school of hard knocks. With all he was a great soul in whom no bitterness could abide. He lived with malice toward none, with charity for all."

Study Needs of Chest Budget

Study of 88 Community Chest agencies' budget needs has been begun by nearly 199 volunteers, leading men and women in business and the professions, according to announcement just made by Frank N. Rush, president of the Los Angeles Welfare Federation, which operates the Chest.

This lay participation is one of the many measures taken to observe safeguarding the community investment in the Chest for the proper and most efficient expenditure of funds for welfare and relief services, Rush said.

In order that thorough consideration may be giyen to each agency's services and financial requirements, the group has been divided into 16 sub-committees. A comprehensive picture of the city's entire welfare program will be obtained in the study of descriptions of non-Chest agencies, government departments, and trends in social problems.

Upon the various sub-committees' recommendations to the general budget committee and the board of directors of the Federation, allottment of available Chest funds will be made.

Fields of service of agencies' to be covered include: family welfare and preservation of homes; homes for aged; institutional visitation and work with adult offenders; sailors and homeless men services; special relief and adult services; employment and counselling agencies, on which committee Floyd P. Covington will act in an advisory capacity; child care, institutional and non-institutional; day nurseries; maternity homes; hospital in-patient care; clinic care and health education; sanatoria and preventoria; social settlements and community houses; group work agencies; housing units; special administration and miscellaneous agencies.

Working with the committees will be many other volunteers, experts in insurance, taxation, building maintenance and nutrition, as advisors.

Washington Kin Buys First Stamp

Postmaster General Farley Sells It to Gloria Washington

TUSKEGEE, April 11.—Unprecedented tribute to an American Negro was presented from Tuskegee Institute here Sunday in the celebration marking the issue of the Booker T. Washington commemoraive stamp.

From the hands of Postmaster General James A. Farley, who also delivered the commemorative address over a nationwide hook-up, the first United States postage stamp to bear the face of a Negro was sold to Dr. Washington's granddaughter, 13-year old Gloria Washington. The stamp, 10-cents in denomination, was one of 35 issued in the Famous Americans series.

Concurrently with the celebration, observance of the 84th birthday of the renowned character, was held. The observance was deferred two days to combine with the stamp jubilee. Dr. Washington was born April 5, at Hales Ford, Va.

Forty-five minutes of the inspiring program were broadcast over the National Broadcasting company's coast to coast hook-up. The program presented the 100-voice Tuskegee Institute choir, singing Negro spirituals, arranged by the director, William L. Dawson, who is head of the Institute's music department. The choir scored especially in the rendition of the immortal "Deep River" by Burleigh.

PATTERSON SPEAKS

Dr. Frederick D. Patterson, third president of Tuskgee Institute, was the first speaker. In a short, fluent address, the educator pointed out that the educational philosophy of Dr. Washington is still in practice at the Institute 59 years after its founding. Dr. Patterson was named president in 1935, succeeding Dr. Robert R. Moten, at Dr. Moten's own request that the reins of the school be placed in younger hands.

Roland Hayes, internationally renowned tenor, made his radio debut on the program, singing from Boston a new song, "Alabama Earth," with words by Langston Hughes and music by Reginald Boardman.

Pastmaster General Farley was introduced by Dr. William Jay Schiefflin, chairman of the board of trustees and national chairman of the committee of patrons of the celebration.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTE

Farley's address was almost a half hour long. Entitled simply, tained a sincere, eloquent tribute to the ex-slave who became the leader of 10,000,000 Negroes and is today the guardian-angel of 13,000,000.

Highlights of the postmaster's address follow:

"The 'Tuskegee Idea' itself is a heroic monument. From the mind of one man it grew into a school and then into a method of education which is a modern ideal. Not only for the people of his race has it brought hope, but it has brought hope for all people who labor to make their existence more securely a part of the society within which they live.

"That a Negro, in the social and emotional turmoil of Southern Reconstruction, could establish a teaching institution which from the outset has consistently been educating the Negro for is in itself a model for the further advancement of the race. Washington built from the ground up. He believed in the dignity of labor, the persuasiveness of the deed.

"The aim of this School—from Booker T. Washington to President Patterson, inclusive—has been not only to make mechanics and farmers out of men but to make men out of farmers and mechanics. The record of service, of responsible citizenship which the American Negro has compiled, stems very largely from the influence of this training of mind, heart and muscle which several generations of your leaders have acquired here. Washington, himself, is the perfect example of building a man for character and educating him for service.

"I cannot help comparing Tuskegee with educational institutions where the classroom and the world outside are as separate as night and day. In our educational system today the fact has been too often forgotten that this nation was fashioned with men's hands, the frontier was rolled back with the sweat of men's brows and their working together in a common cause. There is a quality inherently wholesome in your methods; something practical and vital to the continued rolling back of the frontiers of ignorance and oppression. There is something distinctively American in Tuskegee's determination that you will make a better world.'

"Booker T. Washington's place in history as fountain-head of the era of Negro development has been chronicled and eulogized many times. He has been called the Negro Moses. Certainly this earnest "Mr. B. T." raised his people from the depths of the wilderness and into the sight of their Promised Land. With his doctrine of economic advancement and independent efficiency, he organized and gave direction to the forward movement of his race. He utilized its native optimism and energy. Above all, he gave his race a firm self-respect upon which to build its towers of the future.

"Washingtons' equally great service lay in his interpretation of his people to the white men. Until racial oppression and strife were done away with, neither race could benefit from the help of the other.

"I prefer to remember Washington as an honest man—courteous, far-seeing, loving man and nature to the point where he could never bring himself to hate. He was a thinker, a builder, a counselor, a philosopher of humanity, and a good citizen, all in one. In the larger sense he was an American statesman."

Smith in an article entitled "Protecting the Negro Seaman," tells of the growth of the National Maritime Union and of the struggle to free the shipping business of certain discriminatory practices which for years had worked against the interests of Negro seamen.

Episcopal Church Head Appoints Field Worker

RALEIGH (N. C.) April 11—"I believe that I can best serve my people by helping them to realize and accept the Christian way of life," said Mrs. Fannie Pitt Gross, in accepting her appointment by the Rt. Rev. Henry St. George Tucker, Presiding Bishop and therefore head of the whole Episcopal Church, as national field worker on the staff of the Woman's Auxiliary of that church.

Impressive Services Held in Booker Washington's Honor

Impressive services were conducted Friday evening at the Second Baptist church in memory of Booker T. Washington. Presented by the active Second Baptist Booster Club, the program was the fourth annual Washington memorial.

Speaker of the evening was Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, who traced Washington's life and interpreted the great educator's philosophy.

Defending Washington's "Let down your bucket where you are," speech, Morris rendered a graphic description of southern conditions fifty years ago. As he heralded the growth of Tuskegee Institute from a small backwoods school into an international educational leader, the speaker paid tribute to the leadership and the vision of Washington.

Morris pointed out that the Washington system of manual education has become today a vital factor in schooling administration all over the world.

President of the Los Angeles Tuskegee Club Mrs. Martha E. Williams spoke briefly on the current national Washington stamp celebration. She reminded listeners that the stamps, of ten cent denomination, go on sale throughout the nation this week.

Josephine Webster Cooper, of Philadelphia, was triumphant in a rendition of "The Italian Street Song". Aided by the well known Second Baptist choral organization, under the direction of Mme. Mozelle T. Outley, Miss Cooper was given a sweeping ovation at the conclusion of her number. The eastern song bird recently sang before Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt at the Hollywood home of her son, James Roosevelt. Fertile quality and brilliant technique combined to make Miss Copper's appearance a noteworthy addition to the program.

"Our Father in Heaven" was presented by the Booster Choral Group, with Septimus Silas directing. "The Voice in the Old Village Choir" was given tender treatment by Mme. Outley's Choir earlier in the evening.

Atty. Edwin L. Jefferson was Master of Ceremonies. Vassie D. Reese, president of the Boosters, delivered a welcome address, and Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass brought Greetings from the Community. Speaker Morris was presented by Clarence T. Tucker, prexy of the National Anti-Prejudice League.

Tell Changes at Lafayette Adult Evening School

At Lafayette Adult Evening school, there have been some changes that may interest prospective students, it was announced today.

Brennan Thomas has returned in charge of the class in electricity and radio, and will be glad to greet his former students and others, Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

William Lewless, will have the arts and crafts class formerly taught by Mrs. Bailey, Tuesday and Thursday evenings. Members of this class will continue the work already begun, and may also take up other work, such as thin metal, leather and clay modeling.

Also, on the same evenings the cooking class, just recently organized is taking up additional work. Last week they conducted a food sale, netting a nice sum with which to purchase supplies for the class. Mrs. Harris, the instructor, is a woman of practical training and wide experience.

CIVIL SERVICE

Tuesday and Thursday evenings Vernon Ford's class in civil service training is developing an increasing interest in that work. This is a good opportunity for all who wish to prepare for examinations for civil service positions.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings there is a very interesting group in voice training at the first period and a class in chorus music at the second, taught by Leon Rice.

There is also a good active class on these evening, under the instruction of Mrs. Irene Gifford, in which men and women interested in public speaking and dramatics have a good chance to develop their talent in the art of speaking in public. This is a fine opportunity for club leaders or other group officers or members to better prepare themselves for their parts.

Mrs. Esther Wolfe has a practical class in power sewing meeting Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Students furnish their own materials, but instruction is free and lays a foundation for a job.

SCOTLANDVILLE, La., April 11. (ANP)—Dr. Felton G. Clark has just returned from Wisconsin where he went to receive from his collegiate Alma Mater the highest tangible symbol of scholarship in American academic circles, the Phi Beta Kappa Key. The coveted honor came to the Southern university president 2 months after a previous distinction, when the college alumni magazine, "The Alumnus" featured a full story of his life and accomplishments.

Boys' Home Inspected By Citizens

Various organizations, churches, civic and religious leaders, and public officials as well as the general public, thronged through the well appointed building and spacious grounds of the Boys' Home on E. 50th street last Sunday afternoon at the first annual "open house" and inspection of the Home.

The building has been newly painted and decorated for the occasion, the work being contributed by Dewitte Taylor, painting and decorating contractor. It was pointed out to the visitors that Mr. Taylor had been assisted with the interior decorating by some of the older boys, which is part of the training program of the Home.

The institution, opened last summer under the sponsorship of People's Independent Church of Christ, is a community project to provide a well appointed and Christian home for homeless boys of the race, and for those whose parents or guardians wish to place them in an environment that will develop youths into useful citizens.

Meeting state, city and county requirements, the Home is under the general supervision of Rev. Clayton D. Russell. Since it depends upon the community for support, contributions are always welcome, and may be sent either to the Home at 915 E. 50th street, or to the church at 18th and Paloma.

Americans Are Funny People

Looking over papers close to the scene of the bout for reactions on the Joe Louis-Johnny Paychek shindig, we ran across the following written by Ed Harris, sports editor of The Philadelphia Tribune. Under the caption, "Lonely Louis", Harris writes:

"To paraphrase Mark Twain's comment on the weather, everyone talks about Joe Louis but no one does anything about him.

"The two-round victory the Bomber inflicted on John Paychek of the Des Moines Paycheks Friday night, one round less than your correspondent expected, has again brought the subject of Joe Louis to the tongues of the masses.

"To those of us of sepia hue the matter gives cause only for extreme jubilation, judicious shaking of the head in admiration and casual 'I told you so's' to all those who might have been unbelievers.

"But in the general and broader sense we Americans are funny people. We like change, we like new thrills, something unique to dazzle the optics; and it's beginning to itch a lot of the sporting fraternity that Joe has been around so long.

"Not that they have anything against the Brown Bomber. Not a thing, it's just that they'd like to see someone new on the horizon.

"By now we know all there is to know about Joseph Louis Barrow. It's our very definite knowledge that in nine-tenths of his fights Mr. Louis is going to belt the daylights out of his opponents; he is going to dispose of them in short order.

"In the remaining one-tenth he is going to be puzzled by some antics on the part of his ring-mate and end up by deciding that it's no use hurting yourself trying to hurt somebody else. These are the times that he wins his matches by decisions.

"Then having felt the pain of ridicule and the 'We knew he was a bum' stories, Mr. Louis will come back and take on those same opponents and dispose of them as he did the first.

"Thus we have the whole routine of Mr. Louis' fighting life. There is nothing new about it. It moves like clockwork, and like the great car of Juggernaut rolls inexorably over all that lays before it.

"So now they talk about Joe Louis. They dissect him, cut him to pieces, carefully study each tendon, each muscle, each cell. In the end they decide that Mr. Louis is a sucker for this punch, he can't think, he's easily confused. Yet Mr. Louis continues to fight and defeat his opposition in the longest and most consistent title defense any heavyweight champion of modern times has engaged in.

"This approach to the matter having failed it is decided that someday someone will come along and beat Louis. This surprises no one as it is one of Mother Nature's little fancies to have a superior to anything somewhere in this world. We know that age and inactivity will cut down the life of any athlete and that in time all men will meet their masters.

"Yet this does not solve the problem now perplexing the sporting world. Mere wishing does not create the champion who will succeed the taciturn Joe. He's somewhere but where will he come from and when?

"There is still another hope. That someday Joe will walk into a sucker punch from the hands of some palooka and thus end his reign. But is it the answer? The champion will surely have first call on the return match and if the new crown-wearer does not rate his new title, the championship will surely revert to the beetled brow of Mr Louis. It is an axiom of the ring that when you step into the four ropes anything can happen. So the problem is still unsolved.

"And from the looks of things it is going to be unsolved for some time to come.

"Facing Louis are only two opponents of any comparative standing, Tony Galento and Arturo Godoy. Rabelaisian Tony's chief claim to fame is that he once knocked the champ to the canvas. The mere mention of this feat is enough to make the most anti-Louis fan cry with joy and forget about all that happened when Joe got up and went to work on Tony. However, the result is in the record books if you want to look it up.

"The other gentleman of note is Arturo Godoy and, Heaven knows, his claims rest on some mighty thin foundations. Only because he stayed 15 rounds is Godoy credited to any right to call himself challenger.

"It's a sad commentary on the state of white pugilism that its best contenders have only these slim claims to fame to force their way to the championship. One a broken-down hack, full of beer and words and the other an emotional clown. These two men are the best that can be put up to succeed one of the fightingest champions in ring history.

"Is it any wonder that the best the sporting world can do is boo the champion and make snide remarks, all of which have no effect whatsoever on Louis ability?

"But then this is the American Way, not directed towards Louis because he is a Negro, but because he has been there too long.

"We like change in this country."

Noble Sissle Finishes Book Manuscript; to Come Here

NEW YORK, April 11. (ANP)—Noble Sissle, orchestra leader who for more than a year has held forth in the Billy Rose "Diamond Horseshoe" on Broadway, announces the completion of a manuscript for his book which he has been preparing for more than three years.

The book will be in the nature of his experiences in America and Europe during the World War, on the stage and a director of his band. The book will be illustrated with exclusive photographs, and will go to the publishers immediately.

Sissle received the final decree for his divorce from his former wife, Harriet Sissle, Feb. 10. Following his New York stay, the well known director will make an extended road tour, which will include Hollywood.

Sissle and Blake, Miller and "Bill" Vodery, also have in preparation of a new show the music of which, and the story, promise to excel the gloriest glorified days of "Shuffle Along."

YOUNG WRITER WINS PRAISE OF CRITIC

NEW YORK, April 11. (ANP)—Enthusiastic approval for "Of Human Miseries," a collection of four short stories and one play by Osceola A. Dawson, young writer, was evident here this week when Miss June West, widely known literary critic, expressed her praise of the book soon to be published by the Pegasus Publishing company.

DID YOU KNOW—A black West Indian, Colonel De M. Mortenol, commanded the air defense of Paris during the World War with American aviators under him.

Joe Louis to Make Second Movie Here

DETROIT, April 11.—Joe Louis will make a second movie, co-manager John Roxborough announced following the champion's arrival here last week for a visit with his family.

The film will be made in California, Roxborough said, and is scheduled to begin May 1 and continue through the following 18 days.

WILL REST HERE

Louis will rest at his mother's home here during the rest of April. Roxborough said he was not acquainted with the plot of the picture, but expressed the belief it would be similar to the picture Louis made in 1938, "Spirit of Youth."

There is a possibility that Louis will fight again in June, Roxborough said. This depends on whether Mike Jacobs is able to secure a suitable opponent.

Louis bore no mark of his encounter with Johnny Paychek Mar. 29 in New York's Madison Square Gardens.

Baptiste Likes U. of Michigan

DETROIT, Apr. 11.—Joe Baptiste, national AAU high hurdle record holder will enter the Univ of Michigan next Fall according to word received here last week from Tucson, Ariz.

Baptiste, who toured Europe with an American track team last summer, will be graduated from Tucson high school in June.

CINDERPATH ARTISTS —9 track veterans at Lincoln university, Jefferson City, Mo., are seen here warming up on the school cinder track immediately after the mild weather set in recently. Coach Kemp has strengthened his warriors to the extent this year that he suffers weaknesses largely in only the middle and long distance events. The Tigers opened their season April 5 in their second annual meet with Butler university. They are scheduled to enter the Tuskegee relays, Kansas U. relays, Drake relays, and the Midwest Conference meet at Wilberforce in May. The Kempmen appear at Prairie View this weekend.

Jackson Nods Hogue and Polite Wins

Crouch Will Meet Joe Ybarra Next Tuesday at Olympic

In the top spot on a card which bristled with action Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium Johnny Jackson of New Orleans, uncorked a right hand to the head in the fourth round which shook up Big Boy Hogue, white, and went on to win referee Abe Roth's six-round decision.

The card, made up of an opening four-rounder and five six-rounders, was declared one of the best in recent months.

Winner of six straight fights in this State, five by one-round knockouts, Jackson was made to appear off form by Hogue until he landed the long right in the fourth. Hogue, in fact, was leading on points up to that heat. Using holding and hitting tactics, the white boy was apparently on his way to victory.

Babe Hernandez ran into one of Al Smith's steaming punches in the fifth heat and was counted out. Smith, white, was on the floor in the first but his body attack got underway in the fourth, the Mexican youth hitting the deck four times. Both boys were so tired the latter rounds were in "slow motion".

POLITE WINS

"General" Ulysses S. Grant Harris was scheduled to hold a pow-wow with Chief Crazy Horse (Frankie Martin), Mexican, but Larry Cisneros, white, of Denver, had to substitute, doing a pretty job in doing so. Taking four rounds, Cisneros used a one-two to the head effectively to get referee Mushy Callahan's verdict.

Richard Polite, another New Orleans lad, was too fast and shifty for Elmer Lewis, white, taking all six stanzas. Buzzing around Lewis like a swarm of bees, Polite hit Lewis at will and appeared near a kayo win at several stages of the lop-sided match.

Carlos Miranda, Mexican, was too dang-donged good for Jimmy Brooks of the New Orleans brigade. On the floor twice in the first round, Brooks was no match for his harder-punching ambidexterous opponent. Jimmy, however, did sport a nifty left hand to take two rounds and make the bout fairly close.

In the opener, a four-rounder, Eddie Rivers, Mexican, easily decisioned Clarence Thomas.

Next week at the Olympic, Georgie Crouch meets Joe Ybarra, white, of Oakland. Crouch hopes to regain his prestige, dimmed somewhat in his recent fights with George Latka, Santa Clara university boxing professor, at the expense of the man who fought 10 bristling cantos with Jackie Wilson a couple of weeks ago.

• BRIDGE POINTS

By M. L. MILLIGAN

"'Tis Knowledge to Know what you Know is true."

The following is in answer to week before last's questions.

1. Economy in bids.—getting and giving all possible information without jeopardizing its actual value; invented by Eli Culbertson; rating, no demerits; 25 point credit for correct answer.

2. Any opening bid is a captain bid and should be relinquished to a superior response with a corporal rebid, providing you hold nothing above maximum H. T. expectancy, 15 point demerit, 50 point credit.

3. Any free 5 N. T. bid by either partner when N. T. has not been mentioned in the normal stages of bidding, nor as a conventional response to any of the following artificial bids: 4 N. T. and asking bids. Should be applied when 12 playing tricks have been accounted for and the 13th depends on not losing a trump trick. 100 point credit, 100 point demerit.

4. When the deck has been dealt to the four positions, count of the honor tricks in the four hands will usually show 8½, which means 8 tricks are turned with honors and the remaining 4½ with low cards. This rule is the measuring rod by which you determine the trick taking value of the combined hands and ferret out the values held by the opposing bids. 75 point credit, 50 point demerit.

5. The following honor trick in the combined hands will usually turn, the following number of tricks: 4 to 4½ equal 1 odd; 5 to 5½ equal 2 odd, 6 equal 4 odd.

Anything over the above is either a border-line slam or slam zone. The rule use is self-explanatory. 25 point credit, no demerit.

6. The rule of 2-3 govern trick, taking expectancy in partner hand. Vul 2 tricks, not Vul 3. If partner has had a chance to bid and did not, the above expectancy is depreciated by one trick in each instance. 25 point credit.

Massey Plays 'Lincoln' at Biltmore

On Monday at the Biltmore theatre, the Playwrights' Company (Maxwell Anderson, S. N. Behrman, Sidney Howard, Elmer Rice and Robert E. Sherwood) present Raymond Massey, in person, in Robert E. Sherwood's Pulitzer Prize Play of 1939, "Abe Lincoln in Illinois." The engagement is for two weeks only, with matinees on Wednesday and Saturdays.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is unquestionably the most important drama of many years. It is not only the theatre at its very best but it also reflects the true spirit of American democracy. Leaders from every walk of life have said that it is an inspired play that should be seen by every person in the country.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is in three acts and 12 scenes and has to do with the life of the Great Emancipator from his youth in New Salem, Illinois in the 1830's until Feb. 11, 1861, when, as the elected President of the United States, he leaves Springfield for the White House.

GREAT AMERICAN PLAY

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is generally conceded to be "The Great American Play" while Mr. Massey in the title role, gives a performance that would, regardless of previous record as a star, entitle him to the highest tribute for fine acting it would be possible to pay. He is first seen as an awkward, gangling boy, with gloomy forebodings of tragedy, seeking learning and listening for his hopes and fears to the kindly frontier schoolmaster, Mentor Graham. From there with intensity, pathos and humor, carries on in a graphic, stimulating, thoroughly impressive and dignified portrayal of the Great American until at the end he is seen boarding the train for Washington, bidding goodbye to his friends and neighbors with a touching expression of faith in the future of democracy.

Whiters Is After Go With Louis

DETROIT, Apr. 11.—Johnny Whiters, local heavyweight who defeated Lee Savold, Des Moines heavyweight contender in St. Louis Mar. 28, is anxious for a shot at Joe Louis, his manager said here this week.

Harry L. Johnson, Whiter's manager, who returned home this week, said his protege is in excellent shape and is in the market to fight any heavyweight in the country, including the champion.

In his sixth fight, Whiters gave Savold a good lacing in 10 rds. At the end of the fight Savold said Whiters was the "greatest colored heavyweight". Asked if that included Louis, he evaded the question and countered with, "Whiters can punch with both hands." The two have been rematched for April 18 in St. Louis.

HAL SINCLAIR WINS 2 DASHES BUT BRUINS BOW TO BIG BROTHERS

Uclans Take One of Worst Beatings in Track and Field, Lose 92 to 39

Given a chance by experts to battle the California Bear track squad tooth and nail in their conference dual meet last Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum, UCLA's Bruins bogged down completely and with but one exception failed to show a consistent performer.

That was Hal Sinclair who won both dashes as he pleased. Not even pressed, he won the century in 10 flat, the 220 in 21.6 with yards separating himself and California's Pickarts, white, who placed second in both events.

The Bruins took one of their worst beatings, California sweeping 10 events, the Uclans winning but three and tieing for first in two others. Total points: Bears, 92; Bruins, 39.

BRADLEY OUT

Powerfully built Tom Bradley, a certain five-point winner for Coach Harry Trotter's Bruins in the 440, was forced to withdraw from the meet because of a pulled muscle. And Bill Lacefield, star broadjumper, although he won that event at 24'3", did no better than third in the 120-yard high sticks, an event in which he was supposed to click. A bruised heel has slowed him up.

Woodrow Wilson Strode's meet mark in the shotput was bettered when Herb Michael, white, tossed the ball 50'10¼". Strode's record was 51'5¾".

Leonard Spencer, one of California's distance stars, set the pace in the mile run and finished a bang-up second to teammate McIntyre, white, who ran the distance in 4:25.5.

This Saturday the Bruins will probably be duck soup off their performance Saturday for the powerful Stanford Indians at Palo Alto.

Seek Another Kenny at UCLA

Answering the coach's call were 40 candidates for varsity jobs with the 1940 Bruins. In the group were lettermen, candidates up from the frosh, and junior college transfers.

Conspicuous by their absence were Jackie Robinson and Ray Bartlett, flashy backs, both of whom are playing baseball.

NEWS VIEWS

By HARRY MORGAN

..Sumner Welles has returned from Europe and given his secret report to only Mr. Roosevelt and Sec'y of State Hull. It's fairly safe to guess that his full report was about as cheerful as that of a weather forecaster in the midst of a flood. We probably won't know the details of his message for several decades--for often diplomats, like children, are "seen, but not heard". I don't think it will do the newspapermen much good to pump this Welles--for he is about as talkative as a clam with a severe case of laryngitis. Anyway, we know he's home.

The Louis-Paycheck fight is rated as the worst mismatch in history--probably they were both concentrating on the same thing -- a paycheck.

If you want a good brand of liquor at reasonable prices the man to see is Harry Morgan. I carry nationally advertised brands and know the liquor I recommend is the best value that money can buy. So don't "wonder" about whiskey-- go to the House of Morgan today. 2729 Central Ave.

Anti-Semitic demonstrations by the Klan in Mattituck, N. Y., and Roselle, N. Numerous tie-ups between the Klan and leading figures in the German-American Bund are cited to counter the hooded order's claim to a monopoly of Americanism.

In the South, the articles declares, much of the Klan's energy is devoted to trying to keep Negroes from registering and voting and mill workers from joining unions. Investigation shows, however, that a new generation of Negroes is arising which proceeds with QUIET COURAGE IN THE FACE OF INTIMIDATION. On the labor front floggings of organizers having failed to halt unionization; Klan strategy, it is claimed, "has turned more to boring from within union locals for the purpose of disruption." The official Klan paper is quoted to support the charge that the Klan is voluntarily engaging in espionage on behalf of non-union industrialists.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has five times unsuccessfully appealed to the Dies Committee to investigate Klan violence, the article states.

It is such hard-hitting investigation as that embodied in this magazine and those similar to it that finally will duplicate the feat of the New York World which dealt the Klan a mortal blow two decades ago. There is no weapon more devastating in a pitched battle with the Ku Klux Klan than the simple use of TRUTH.

Pursuit of Happiness

Radio listeners of the Columbia Broadcasting System heard a dramatization of the life of Booker T. Washington Sunday afternoon on the program called "Pursuit of Happiness," a special presentation of the Radio chain.

It is recalled that this fine airing, which has become part of the Sunday Habit of millions of Americans, debutted not long ago with the guest star appearance of Paul Robeson.

More than any other type interracial activity, such programs are the cement which is most likely to mold the opposing American races into solid unity. The greatest enemy that a job-seeking Negro youth must face is no bitter, pointed prejudice which he has learned to hate violently; but a psychological habit of our "white brothers" that has been inspired by years of "Uncle Tom" propaganda from the ether waves, the motion-picture screen and the printed page, a sort of ingrown notion that there is something tremendously ludicrous and unnatural in spectacle of an educated Negro. This is the kind of thing which is most difficult to fight, since the enemy is only an elusive figment of preconception.

Whether conscious of the process or not, the average white employer, when confronted with a colored jobseeker, calls forth the disjointed memories of scores of comic movie performances, ridiculous radio skits and "darky stories."

The effort of the Columbia system to dignify the Negro is a worthy, if overdue development. It is particularly gratifying to note that Columbia presents this program out of its own pocket; there can be no hinted "mercenary motive" in this fine effort at interracial fair-play.

Why California?

By VANCE HUNTER MARCHBANKS, Captain, U. S. Army Retired

When my time for retirement from the army arrived, my mind began to wonder where I should go to spend the evening of my life. I wanted to go where it's quiet, yet not so quiet as to make the surroundings spookey and meloncholy too. Yet, not noisy enough to make one jittery. Not cold enough to freeze, even in the winter season, and not hot enough to fry an egg on the side-walk in the summer time. Naturally my thoughts turned to California where the climate is as near perfect, and the people are as amiable, prosperous and happy as any I know.

Some are sore because ham and eggs do not grow on trees like oranges, and grape fruit, but people are like that every where. If we are satisfied we will stagenate and eventually retrograde into idleness. Weeds will choke out useful vegitation. Our paved streets and highways would soon be filled with chuckholes, our buildings would decay and our bridges become unsafe. Some form of "ism" would creep into our systemm of government, and destroy the foundation of our government, like termite destroys the foundation of buildings from within.

We have to guard against envy and possible aggression from without, dissatisfaction, selfishness, greed, jealousy, intolerance, and ignorance from within. So called civilized peoples and they are highly civilized according to the definition of the word, are at each other's throat. Reason and Christianity are dead in many places on this globe. Here in the United States, among highly civilized Christian people, certain rights and privileges are denied American citizens on account of their race.

President Roosevelt said in his message to the Congress on the State of the Nation, January 3, 1940; "We must as a united people keep ablaze on this continent the flame of human liberty of reason, of democracy, of fair play, as living things to be preserved for the better world that is to come."--I wonder sometimes if it would not be expedient to use some of these human liberties now. I would so much like to see the time come when a person could apply for a job, or ask for accomodataion without being asked "What is your Nationality, race or religion etc." I sincerely hope all the rights and privileges guaranteed by the Constitution will not be preserved and placed in the cellar until after I have passed away.

We enjoy many privileges ofcourse ,and we are thankful, but there are so many that we should enjoy that we don't. For example, if a person wants to enlist in the Army or Navy the first thing they want to know is to what race does the applicant belong, and if he belongs to a certain race they tell him there are no vacancies for him. Notwithstanding he meets every requirement except he is a member of the wrong race. This it seems to me is the most sordid custom with which colored Americans have to contend.

We have to fight from the cradle to the grave for our very existance. I never pick up a paper or magazine in which I do not see where some one is fighting for the rights of this and that. A few days ago I was reading a small paper published by the V. F. W., and I noticed an article saying: "We will continue to fight for more liberal benefits for those men handicapped with disabilities recognized by the federal government as war-incurred."

The American Legion, a powerful militant organization, is continually fighting for more liberal benefits for the disabled World War Veteran and striving to help their widows and orphans in various ways. The NA ACP has fought for many years against discrimination in these United States. I have heard some of the very people it fights for criticize this organization for being so persistant. Some say it agitates too much. I have had a little experience in war, and I do not remember of ever reaching a single objective without fighting. Persistency enriched by education, courtesy and consideration for others is indeed a powerful weapon.

Our people are making wonderful strides in education, and efficiency. Thousands are finishing high schools and colleges every year. Many are highly qualified to do a good job along their lines if they could find a place. And, many well qualified boys and girls fail to get immediate employment because they are not sufficiently persistent. The world will give us no more than we demand. If we demand our respectful rights, we usually get them. If we demand our political rights by the intelligent use of the ballot, we generally get them, but if we do not demand anything, nobody thinks we want any thing. We should, of course base our demands on facts and not sentiment; on reason not rashness, and I believe we will get some where.

Civilization has caused man to stand straight and look toward Heaven, worship God and believe in man. It has also taught him to watch as well as pray, prepare for living as well as for dying. Civilization has taught man to look ahead. If a person desires to change his abode he would make some inquiry as to what to expect where he is going. When I decided to move out here I happened to be living in Washington, D. C. I therefore, secured some information from the Census Bureau about the population of the colored people in these parts and what those who live here are doing, and the following is some of the information I found:, viz.

In 1850 the Negro population was ---------- 962
1860 ---------- 4,086
1870 ---------- 4,272
1880 ---------- 6,018
1890 ---------- 11,322
1900 ---------- 11,045
1910 ---------- 21,645
1920 ---------- 38,763
1930 ---------- 81,048

During the fifty years 1880 to 1930, the Negro population of California increased by 74,967 or slightly more than 123% and nearly 16% of the total Negro population was 50 years of age and over. Negroes constituted 1.4% of the total population.

During the migration from the Southern States, 1920 to 1930, the Negro population increased by 109% and they now live in 57 of the 58 counties constituting the State.

Nearly 79% of the Negroes living in California were born in other states, about 52% of whom were born in the following states in order named: Texas, Louisiana, Georgia, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Missouri, and Arkansas. Less than 3,000 Negroes who were born in Californiaa, migrated to other states, principally to Illinois and New York.

About 87% of California Negroes live in the urban centers, and in 1930 there were 7 cities and urban places in which there were 1,000 or more Negro inhabitants.

There is an excess of Negro females over males, the ration being 100 women to 98 men.

The census of 1930 showed about 31% of the Negro populainto 15 years of age and over was single 58% married and the remainder either widowed or divorced.

The number of Negro children under 5 years of age per 1,000 females 15 to 44 years of age decreased from 327 in 1900 to 226 in 1930, or by 101 per 1000 women.

In 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, there were more Negro deaths than births in California. Perhaps this was due to people coming out to California for their health.

School attendance data shows that 97.1% of the children 7 to 13 years old attended school in 1930. Of those 14 and 15 years old, 96.5% attended school. Children 16 and 17 years old registered an 80.4% school attendance, while 27% of those 18 to 20 years of age attended school.

Only 2.6% of the California Negroes were reported as illiterate or unable to read and write. This is a greater percentage than in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri and Michigan, but a smaller percentage than was reported by New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

In 1930, Negroes occupied 22,595 homes in California, and owned 8,283 or 36.7% as compared with 3,523 owned homes in 1920. In other words Negro home ownership increased by 135.1% between 1920 and 1930 as compared with 109.1% increase in population during the same ten year period. Home ownership exceeds the population increase.

The median rental paid by Negroes for non-farm homes was $25.43, which was above that of 36 other states, and higher than the mediam rental paid by Negroes in Washington and Oregon.

In the professional service California was overloaded in 1930 with 267 Clergymen as compared with 38 dentists, 35 lawyers, 67 physicians and 104 trained nurses. The average number of Negroes was 304 per Clergyman, 2,133 per dentist. 2,316 per lawyer, 1,210 per physician and 779 per trained nurse.

At the last U. S. Census of rental business in 1935 Negroes owned 431 stores, and the proprietors reported total sales amounting to $1,551,000. They had 300 employees to whom they paid $195,000. They also had 967 service establishments -- barber shops, beauty parlors, funeral directors, shoe repairers, etc. who reported receipts of $932,000, and paid $152,000 to 305 employees.

In 1930 there were 424 Negro farm operators in California, 210 of whom were owners of 15,860 acres. The owned land and building has a value of $1,427,725, and owned implements and machinery at $813,446. Negroes operated farms in 36 of the 58 counties.

There are approximately 65,000 Negroes of voting age in California. In 1936 Roosevelt had a plurality of 930,405 and in 1938 Senator Downey won out by 246,074 votes. From a Congressional standpoint the Negro vote is important in the following counties: Alameda, Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Sacramento, San Bernardino and San Francisco. It will be safe to assume that the Negro population in 1940 will increase 50,000, since it did increase 42,000 between 1920 and 1930. I think it will be safe to say we will have at least 131,000 colored people in the state by the end of 1940.

I have tried to explain to you my reason for selecting the state of California as a place to live. Of course your churches, theatres, and parks were also considered. I think they are the most beautiful in the U. S. and the best of all one can purchase a ticket and sit any place in a theatre without being questioned as to nationality, race or religion.

FREE SCHOOLS

In ruling that it is illegal for any public school in California to charge pupils a fee for the use of any equipment, material or facility in connection with school courses, Attorney General Warren has eliminated one problem and raised another. He has reaffirmed America's basic thesis that her public schools must be free, with their facilities as readily available to the poor man's son as to the rich man's Heretofore, students of high schools and junior colleges have been paying special fees for the use of laboratory equipment, musical instruments, the purchase of gym suits, and many items of similar nature. All these payments are now declared to be illegal. Since students cannot pay such costs out of their own purses any longer, the funds must come out of the State's own pocket. To taxpaying parents this simply transfers the bill from one pocket to the other. To the other taxpayers, it means a direct boost in taxation—unless the Legislature takes early steps to amend the law.

THIRD PARTY THREAT

In declaring he'll start a third party of his own unless the Democrats select a presidential candidate and formulate a platform agreeable to him, John L. Lewis, CIO chieftain, is following an old tradition—but an eminently unsuccessful one. Though individualists to the core, Americans have hewed close to the two-party system throughout their long political history. Whenever third party movements have made their bid for support—as with the Populists, Progressives and Socialists—the nearly universal American reaction has been, "Three's a crowd!" Curiously enough, among those often considered as being docile, easily led, and un-individualistic, such as the German people, parties hae sprouted up and multiplied like a ten days' wonder. In Germany's post-war republic, more than fifty parties clamored for public support. Needless to say, these innumerable parties proved calamitous to the nation's welfare in time of of the 1929-33 crisis, and left it divided, incapable of united action in the face of the one, large, well-organized party that Germany could boast of—the National Socialist party. At any rate, John L. Lewis' third-party threat will cause no great alarm. In America's party system, three is definitely an unlucky number.

FREEDOM AND THE COURTS

Freedom of the press is a birthright of the American Constitution, but for all that, it is never secure against attack. Having rebuked a judge for dismissing an extortion charge against a state representative, a St. Louis newspaper was fined $2000 for contempt last week, the inference being that a jurist is above reproach, or if newspapers think otherwise, that they ought to maintain a stony silence. In an eloquent retort, Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the paper, replied to the contempt action in these words, "If a newspaper is to be gagged by being haled into court to answer a charge of contempt whenever a judge has felt the sting of editorial criticism, that means the end of the power of the press to tell the people about the failures and evils of their courts. That means the end of the freedom of the press!"

Wright's "Native Son"

A Review By REV. A. WAYMAN WARD, Condensed from The Chicago Bee.

To say that "Native Son" has been selected as a Book-of-the-month, and to note its phenonenal sale, is to stamp it at once as a contribution to the literature of America that challenges attention and thought.

Certainly Mr. Wright is to be congratulated, both for his literary ability, and for his having crashed, as it were, the closely selected group of writers able to gain recognition of the critics who determine what is praiseworthy in these days.

The story of "Native Son" is the account of a Negro boy, spoiled by circumstance, touched by the experience of a reform school, and turned to hateful viciousness by his reactions against life, that particular kind of life he lived in poverty and want in a big city, after being suddenly brought into it from rural life in a southern state. He spent his time in idleness, either being beguiled by lurid movies of sex and adventure or in plottings and executions of small crimes.

Having ceased to dream of becoming a "Somebody" or of achieving something worthwhile, he plans his first robbery of a white business firm, but is changed from the course, both by a strange freak of cowardice and a job with a white philanthropist as his chauffeur. Touched by new circumstances in his new job, and in a proffered friendship with a Commmunist young white man he reacts in a way that leads to the unintentional smothering of his employer's daughter, his burning of her body in the family furnace to hide evidence of her disappearance.

Then follow quickly his confession to his own girl friend, a kidnap alibi to get money, his stoic watching of the discovery of the white girl's bones and ashes, his flight, his sordid rape and murder of his girl friend to keep his secret hidden, his capture, trial and condemnation to the electric chair, in spite of a brilliant plea by a Communistic Jewish lawyer for life imprisonment instead of death, because this boy acted as he did in revolt against circumstances of his environment over which he had no control.

Two questions arise with regard to the book. First, what is its possible value? Second, why is it chosen as a book-of-the-month.

Our modern age seems to delight in the sordid, obscene and sadistic, whether in conversation, literature, movies or even living. The book will satisfy this craving for those who seek to be ultra modern in this respect. Yet one can truly wonder if such portrayal either for youth or for adults adds anything of value to real cultural or character building.

Like boys listening to "Gang Busters" and reading of crime as spread over all our daily papers, do so with a mind to discover and improve upon the mistakes of the criminals who are apprehended, so may one have the temptation to try the acts of "Native Son", with an improved finesse that will guarantee escape from detection and payment for crime. It is questionable whether cultured individuals can read the story without feeling the power of suggested acts affecting their attitudes toward others.

The brilliant plea of a white communist, with every logical presentation of the viciousness of the victim's environment, and his apparent helplessness to overcome it, did not seem to make a single impression on the Judge, who represents the dominance of the law and the popular rule, nor a single bit of merciful consideration from the populace that stood ready to take the law into its own hands.

One wonders what the effect of the book may be upon those not sworn to uphold the dignity of law and human worth. One wonders what the effect of the book upon the many, many already seeped in prejudice, or in the greed of the age that produces and maintains the environment. One wonders if too much glamor is not thrown round one who himself is out of harmony with his own family, almost his own gang, and is almost purely non-social. Bigger Thomas, like many of all races, is, perhaps a son of the soil, just as is a dandelion on a fair lawn or a poisonous weed in a lovely garden.

As to the question of the book being selected as a book-of-the-month. It is a close study of a human mind, almost dehumanised It is valuable as treatise on a diseased mind. One critic states that it is definitely not a propaganda book. Well, that depends on who is the judge of propaganda. One question is asked in the book that may prove interesting in this matter. The philanthropist's daughter is overly interested to know how Negroes "live".

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

L. A. Councilmen Remember "Forgotten Men"—Every once in a while, just about the time when we reach the conclusion that the world has gone to the Devil, that Selfishness, Graft, Skullduggery, Double-dealing, are the Order of the day, up crops some shining example of Un-Selfishness, of thoughtfulness for the plight of others to make us conclude that after all, thing ain't so bad.

Three L. A. Councilmen, Arthur Briggs, P. Christensen and Evans Lewis led and won a fight in the City Council last week for the restoration of wage-cuts to 130 city hall janitors. In arguing for the raise they contended that these humble public servants were certainly entitled to a decent wage—$147.50 per month—that if necessary, some higher salaried officials should be cut off to meet the added expense. Such men as these lend dignity to, and build up confidence in Municipal officialdom, and should be favorably remembered by Mr. Average Voter at election time.

A Gentleman Cop—There is a Negro officer on the Central Avenue beat embracing the environs of Jefferson to Vernon, or thereabouts, who is a credit to the Police Department and to his Race. His name is Coleman. Tall, erect, cool-eyed, fearless yet courteous, he instantly commands respect, not simply because of his uniform, but also because of the way he carries himself. This writer has known officer Coleman quite well for a number of years. During the frenized days of the Bootlegging era, I often made mental note of the fact that Officer Coleman was one cop whom I never observed Breaking The Law—ballyhooing in bootleg joints, hanging around lottery dumps—when off duty. This fact always enhanced my respect for him.

I remember having been the agent in a business deal once wherein this officer lost some Hard U. S. Cash. To his credit however, I must say that once I made it clear to him that his money was duly forfeited by Law, I never heard a single "Beef" from him from that day on. Nor did his manner or bearing toward me thereafter evince the slightest rancor. Without exception, in any walk of Life, one soon finds out that the Man Or Woman who can "Take It" when it is their time, is always more thoughtful, more reasonable, more able to see the other person's side of a question than the Welcher, who knows only how to "Dish It Out."

An officer of this caliber is an asset to any group or Police Department, and should be given the solid support of law-abiding citizens of the community. We sincerely hope that he will remain on his present beat and continue to enforce the law without fear or favor, as he has always done.

Negro Doctors Make Nation's Top-Flight Magazine—Last week's edition of "TIME," the most brilliantly edited magazine in the USA—despite its bizarre misuse of the English language—carried the photos and a brief review of three outstanding Negro physicians who are devoting their lives to the cause of Negro Health. Their names are, Dr. Frederick Douglass Stubbs of Philadelphia, Dr. John B. West, and Skull Surgeon Louis Thompkins Wright, both of Harlem, N. Y. City.

Stubbs is rated as the foremost Negro lung surgeon in the USA. A graduate of Dartmouth and Harvard Medical School, he spends most of his time at dingy Frederick Douglass hospital in Philadelphia, looking after a ward of impoverished patients in advanced stages of tuberculosis. The hospital is in straits financially, patients are poorly fed and nurses sometimes go unpaid inasmuch as the State grant for this hundred-bed hospital is only $4500.00 per year. But it is the ONLY hospital in the entire USA where Negro doctors can learn rib-surgery for collapsing the lungs, so Race-loving Dr. Stubbs is putting up an heroic fight to keep its doors open.

Dr. John B. West is head of the Central Harlem Health Center. In the last three years, he and his staff of 200 have X-rayed 250,000 people, have lowered the infant mortality rate from 100 per thousand, to 52, and the maternity mortality rate from 18, to 5 per thousand. Dr. Louis Thompkins Wright, former Skull Surgeon and Director of Harlem Hospital, is another brilliant colored physician. At present he is recuperating from a break-down, in a tuberculosis sanitarium. He is considered by many as being the outstanding Negro physician in the United States. All three of these gifted men are to be commended for devoting the greater portion of their lives to the betterment of Negro Health.

Scientific Study of Your Personal Problems

FREE: Your question will be answered in this column ONLY when a clipping of this feature is enclosed with your QUESTION, YOUR FULL NAME, BIRTHDATE and CORRECT ADDRESS. For private reply, send 25 cents in coin and stamped envelope for my ASTROLOGY READING and receive by return mail my FREE OPINIONS on any THREE QUESTIONS. Address all communications to PROF. HERMAN, the ASTROLOGER, care of THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE, 4075 So. Central Ave., Los Angeles, California.

The finer achievements in life are motivated by personal desire. Ambition is inherent in everyone, and needs only to be developed into something worthwhile. A lofty desire achieved, is a monument to which one can look with pride and satisfaction. Dispite past disappointments, heart-aches and physical drawbacks one knows that his life has been successful.

However, this trait can be dangerous if misused. When ambition becomes an obsession, oftimes it is detrimental to one's future welfare and the general good of others. That is one of the reasons why the higher type of ambition should be developed and cultivated.

Perhaps you have an ambition, but do not know just how to go about achieving it. Permit Prof. Herman to assist you in obtaining your goal. Problems may be solved by sending for your persononal horoscope, including any three questions.

A. S. F.—Dear Prof. Herman, I am so elated. I just have to drop you a few lines and ask you just one question. This man that I have met appeals to me and I want to know whether he would make a good companion?

Ans.—This is no oubt in my mind that this young man would make you a food husband, and he will bring some of the sunshine and happiness you so much deserve, into your life.

R. J. H.—I'm so alone, is there no one at all for me? My life ceases to be a happy one, and I don't feel like going on. What do the stars and planets reveal for me in the future.

Ans.—Your lucky stars and guiding planets reveal that 1940 has more to offer you than any other year of your life. There seems to be more happiness awaiting you and it will come to you through the aid of a friend of the opposite sex. I shall be glad to advise you further if you will write in for a private reply.

B. L.—I have been knocked on my job, since I have been away and I want to know whether the woman I worked for will help me as she promised?

Ans.—It seems to me that although certain individuals have tried to turn this woman against you, they have not been successful, and if you go to her and talk the matter over, she will be glad to go through with the deal.

A. McC.—When will I meet my true mate? It seems like I never will find him.

Ans.—According to your Zodiacal sign you are destined to meet the man of your dreams within the next three months. You will know that he is your ideal by his manner and appearance. He will make you very happy, and you will not regret the time that has elapsed.

M. F.—Can you give me any information concerning my money that was lost?

Ans.—Concentrating upon this question the answer I find is that you lost the $10.00 while on a shopping tour. But you never missed it until you had reached home. When you took some money out of your purse to pay a bill, it accidentally slipped out. You should make it a rule to be more careful in the future.

F. O.—A certain man and I have been secretly in love with each other for quite a while. I love this man, but do not intend to mistreat my husband for him. Is my husband suspicious of this man?

Ans.—Probing into this affair it seems that you will have to choose between the two men. It is not fair to expect your husband to stand idly by and let you carry on an affair with another man and not do something about it. Yes, he is suspicious as you have given yourself away at various times. If you really love this other man, be frank with your husband and give him the opportunity to find someone that will return his love.

L. C.—What became of my watch?

Ans.—The answer I find in regards to your question is that you left your watch lying around carelessly from time to time and a little boy that comes to your home quite often saw it. He took the watch and sold it to a friend of his. You must be more careful with your valuable jewelry, as children are apt to pick up things that are attractive. I am very sorry that you had to wait for your answer in the column, but there are hundreds of questions ahead, because the space is limited.

EDITORIALS
Seen Through the Eagle's Eye

Are We Indifferent, Indurate or Indolent?

Last January 7 a notable Union Emancipation Proclamation Celebration was held at Scotts Methodist Church. A lot of grand addresses were made that afternoon and evening. It was a representative gathering. Everybody had a good time, apparently. But the meeting was a "flop", as the boys would say.

It was not the fault of those that led out or spoke at this gathering that it didn't accomplish what it should. They did the best they could. But if the meeting had been a success we would be able, after three months, to see some progress toward obtaining the objectives presented at that meeting.

The trouble in Pasadena is with the masses and not with the leaders. The trouble is with you and me. We have been sitting on the sidelines INDIFFERENT to the efforts of those who have been trying to make this a better place to live in and to open up more economic opportunities.

We have become INDURATE to the situations in Pasadena. We became hardened through indifference. Consequently we pay little attention to community endeavors put forth to improve conditions. We are apathetic to the work of the NAACP or else extremely critical. Certain churches put forth efforts on a broad community basis to cut down juvenile delinquency or to assist folk in the use of their increased leisure time, and we want to know whether they are Presbyterian, Holy Roller, Baptist or Catholic.

Delinquency, unemployment, inadequate housing, unequal representation in public offices and other civic evils that attack the Negro are not Methodist, Episcopalian, Adventist or Congregational.

RUSTICS?

Pasadena will remain rustic and sectional and "small town" as long as this exclusiveness of sect and group is allowed to keep us from working for community good. But worse than being known as rustics will be the sad realization that while we have eyed each other as to sect or affiliation we have been deprived of our jobs, we have been forced into hovels and ghettos, and our children will call us INDOLENT.

Was it laziness that kept us from doing anything about the conditions which were brought to our attention at the meeting on January 7?

At that meeting, "What the Negro in Pasadena Expects," was the subject of the panel discussion. We all learned some things the Negro had a right to expect. And we also learned of many things which he had a right to expect but didn't have.

The fact was emphasized that there is no Race school teacher in Pasadena's school system. As usual a lot of talk was expended, but nothing was done about the situation. Three months have passed--how many more will pass before something is done to correct this gross neglect?

NO TEACHERS

Are we indifferent, indurant or indolent to the fact that there are four elementary schools located in or near the residential areas where most of the Race lives? Large numbers of Race children attend these schools. Unlike many other cities of similar population ratios, Pasadena does not employ a single Race teacher. If Pasadenans are good enough to teach in Los Angeles, they ought to be good enough to find employment in Pasadena.

As stated last week in these columns: "Five per cent of the population ought to have at least one per cent of the jobs in some lines of public service." With a population of 5000, it is time for the masses—us common folk—to start doing something about the situations which exist here in Pasadena. We have waited for the "leaders" long enough, it is time for the masses to move forward and require that the "leaders" lead.

And again: "Live at peace with all men, but be sure to hold your ballot and your pocketbook in your hand. Vote right. And spend your money where you can work."

Why is it that Pasadena is so far behind in the following respects?

Pasadena does not have a single Race policeman.

Pasadena does not even have a Race janitor in the City Hall.

Pasadena does not have a Race man on the detective force.

Pasadena does not have a Race public school teacher.

And Etc.

Is this due to indifference, indurateness or indolence?

NEGRO HEALTH

Since Negro Health Week has passed and very little attention was paid to it by most of our churches and organizations, it would seem that we should plan to give particular attention to Pasadena Health Days, May 1 to 12.

Programs, sermons and lectures by our doctors, dentists and nurses should be presented during this time.

While Negro health is quite good in Pasadena, there is still room for improvement. In the matter of infectious diseases, we contract just about the proportion that our numbers would lead us to expect. Good health is a

Pasadena Postmaster Is Booker Washington Speaker

As guest speaker in the evening worship services at the Scott Methodist church Sunday, April 7, Postmaster Fred G. Sutherland of Pasadena traced the development of the postal service from its beginning in early ancient times in southern Europe to the present day.

In keeping with the theme of the day, "Men to Watch God's Mountains," Sutherland spoke in honor of Booker T. Washington, in commemoration of whom a special postage stamp has been issued.

The pastmaster's closing remarks were of special significance. He stated that the postal employes were not just cogs in the machine, but were public servants with a desire to extend the most efficient service to all. After recalling the passage from the Holy Bible in which Christ is likened unto a shepherd, Sutherland stated that while not comparing himself to Christ in anyway, his ambition was, that as postmaster, his association with the employes under his direction would be patterned after the example set by the Good Shepherd.

Postmaster FRED G. SUTHERLAND, who, in an address marked by sincerity, last Sunday evening, lauded the work of Booker T. Washington in commemoration of the issuance of Booker T. commemoration stamp. Postmaster Sutherland's administration has been characterized by fairness and impartiality. He has the wholehearted support of the postal employes.

'Unnamed Sin' Sermon Topic

"The Unnamed Sin" is the subject of the sermon that Rev. Owen A. Troy will present next Saturday morning at the Sunset Avenue SDA church, corner of Sunset Ave. and Pepper street. The Sabbath services of this church have a greatly increased attendance of members and visitors.

Great interest is being manifested in the coming concert by the Bilbrew Male Quartet and James Miller, Pasadena tenor, which will be given in the church auditorium, Sunday evening, April 21. Group leaders are active in obtaining patrons for the concert who will contribute either a dollar or fifty cents. They report unusually good success.

The reports presented at the monthly business meeting of the church showed continued progress and a decided improvement in the financial condition of the church.

Educational moving pictures will be shown at the church Saturday evening under the auspices of the Combined Choirs. A silver offering will be taken for new music. The showing will begin at 7:45 p. m.

'Chinese Mail' Service Hits Snag

"Chinese Mail" service between San Bernardino and Pasadena was interrupted last Saturday when the Pasadena vice detail nabbed Mrs. Dorothy Mae Spikes of 274 Camden street when she assertedly made a delivery of the "mail."

Officers reported that they found a large number of lottery tickets in her car, in addition to equipment for marking the lotteries. Other equipment and tickets were confiscated from her store at 266 Camden, police said.

Mrs. Spikes is asserted to sell the tickets through local agents and then daily send the tickets to San Bernardino where they were turned in for the drawings. If local gamblers "hit the Chinaman," the money would be brought to Pasadena at night.

Jonas A. Davis, white, and three other men were arrested for having lottery tickets in their possession and released on bail. Mrs. Spikes' bail was $50.

Here Is Way to Prepare Your Copy

Contributors to This Section Get Good Copy Key

(Cut this out and use it in preparing articles for the Pasadena Supplement).

The reason some church, club or society news is not published is because it is not properly prepared. Poorly and hastily written matter which can hardly be read by the editors and which is submitted at the last minute cannot be given the same consideration that typewritten matter which is handed in early.

The following suggestions may be of assistance:

1. Unlike a sermon, or the novel, a short story or drama, the climax of a news story must appear at the beginning. The details follow. If copy must be cut to fit the space available in the paper, the most important items are thus preserved.

2. Do not use editorial comment in news copy. One's personal opinions do not belong in news. Tell what happened or what is planned. State the facts clearly and in simple language that everyone can understand. Use short sentences. Take out unnecessary words. Be absolutely accurate as to names, dates, places, spelling and all other details. Be impersonal and fair. Beware of controversies.

3. Furnish clean, typewritten copy, double-spaced, with generous margins. (With so many young people studying typing in school today, organiations should have no trouble in getting their news typed.)

4. Write your name, address and telephone number on the upper left-hand corner of the page. The editor may wish to call you for additional information.

5. Never include captions for your stories. These are written by the expert copyreader of the newspaper. Therefore, you can see the importance of having the most important item in your news story stand out at the beginning so as to attract his attention.

6. In determining the "lead" in a news story, it is well to keep in mind six words or questions: What? When? Where? Who? Why? and How? (Five W's and and H.) For example:

"What" becomes most important when the facts speak out for themselves, as "three men killed," "fire burns cripple," "First Church launches campaign."

"When" takes the lead if the time of the accident or event is unusual, as: "on Christmas Eve" (stranger freezes to death), "Easter morning" (crowds overflow churches), "on mother's birthday" (son gives new hymn books).

"Where" assumes precedence if the place is different, as: "bank robed on university campus," "groom deserts bride at altar," "man shoots self at ball park."

"Who" is first if it is: Ford, Hoover, the president, the mayor, the pastor or a leading person in your church or society.

"Why" considers the motive, as: "girl takes poison to avoid, etc," "bank cashier disappears when, etc."

"How" arouses one's curiosity, as: "plane catches fire above clouds," "two men injured in freak collision," "church janitor is overcome by gas."

7. Which of the above is outstanding in your thought. This is the "lead' of your news story. The details may follow in the order of their importance.

8. Get books from the Public Library or buy a book on Journalism and read up on the subject. Note the styles used in your daily newspaper.

Health Day Meetings Slated

A special feature of Pasadena Health Days, sponsored by the health committee of the Chamber of Commerce, from May 1 to 12, will be a public meeting at the Civic Auditorium on May 2 at 7:45 p. m. Dr. E. Kost Shelton, outstanding endocrinologist, and Professor of Clinical Medicine, University of Southern California Medical School, will address the meeting. Because of the important function of endocrine glands in the balance of health, Dr. Shelton will bare the truths and fallacies regarding them. His talk will be illustrated with case history slides.

Pasadena Health Days will be observed by all local health agencies, schools and churches. A radio broadcast over station KPPC on Wednesday, May 8, 9:15 to 9:30 p. m., will depict an interesting episode in the drama of health. Everyday life is the greatest drama ever written. And, the health of a community and of its individual members plays a very significant role in this living drama. During Pasadena Health Days every person is urged to visit local health agencies to familiarize themselves with the many services and opportunities available for preventing disease, prolonging life and increasing physical and mental efficiency.

It's not too late—and, it pays! The Health Photographic Contest, conducted by the department as a part of its health educational program, will close on April 30. Through the courtesy of the Pasadena Milk Dealers Association cash prizes amounting to $100 will be offered. The contest is limited to amateur photographers who are residents of Pasadena. Entry applications and rules may be obtained from the Health Department, local photographic supply houses, or from your milkman.

WHAT IS A HEALTH PHOTOGRAPH?

Pictures should portray some quality, activity, event or experience having specific application to health in individual or community life. Excellent possibilities are offered in the daily life of babies, school children and adults in both work and play. Many things affect the health of an individual or community—the water and milk supplies, environmental sanitation, recreation, home environment, mental attitudes, nutrition, posture, dental hygiene, eyesight, facilities to protect the health of the mother and child, school health, public health nursing, preventive procedures such as immunization against diphtheria and vaccination against smallpox, tuberculin testing, dissemination of health information—and numerous other things have a direct bearing on health.

Judges will be: Dr. L. G. Hunnicutt, president of the Pasadena Branch of the Los Angeles County Medical Society; Mr. Harry H. Haworth, director of visual education, Pasadena City Schools; and Mr. R. Owen Shrader, past-president of the Los Angeles Camera club, past-secretary of the Pasadena Pack Rats, and a member of the Los Angeles Pictorialists.

THOUGHTS

Seated in the library my thoughts do stray.
What will I be doing a year from today?
Will I be seated within these walls,
Or will I be on death's roll call?
Will I be able to laugh and say
How much I've accomplished a year from today?

Elks' Annual Educational Week Will Begin Sunday

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—Beginning Sunday and continuing throughout the week, the Improved, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World celebrates its 15th Annual Educational Week in its 1200 lodges, temples and auxiliaries in 40 states of the Union, Africa, Central America and the islands of the seas.

The various Elk units will carry out a program which has for its object the increase of interest in education and aid of children who are unable to obtain education at the college level. The program provides for brief addresses in churches, parent-teachers' meetings, public assemblies, and benefit entertainments for the Elks' Scholarship fund.

The educational department was organized by the Elks in their grand lodge session in Richmond, Va., in 1925 and committed to scholarship aid. Since that time 108 students have, by using these scholarship grants, graduated from the leading colleges and universities in this and other countries. In addition, over 200 students have been partially aided.

In 1926, in Cleveland, Ohio, the Elks committed themselves to a civil liberties program and, as a method of emphasizing what the civil rights of the Negro were, adopted a nationwide Elks oratorical contest, using the Constitution as the subject. They provided $6,000 each year for the carrying on of the contest. Since the beginning of these contests over 25,000 high school students have participated in them and it is estimated that at least one half million persons have been enlightened of their rights under the Constitution by having attended these contests.

John L. Lewis Bids for Third Party Support

MONONGHALA, W. Va., April 11.—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America and leader of more than four million organized workers under the banner of the CIO, in a militant address delivered here last week to more than 20,000 Negro and white coal miners made a definite bid for the support of Negro organizations in an effort to launch a Third Party in the 1940 elections if both the Republican and Democratic parties fail to nominate "acceptable" candidates.

Commenting on what he termed the breakdown of vital social services during the past year, Lewis declared that labor, youth, the small farmer and the Negro people had a common need to unite their forces to insist that the federal government take effective means to solve the problem of unemployment and other pressing social problems.

The labor leader in a vigorous speech lashed out against increased appropriations for the Federal Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice. He said this increased appropriation was being used to develop an oppressive labor spy system under the leadership of G-man Edgar Hoover.

The noted Garner Chorus was selected this week as one of Pasadena's six outstanding choruses and will appear on the choral night program in the Civic Auditorium, May 27.

The other groups which will appear on the program are the Cauldron Singers, Tuesday Musicale Chorus, Laudisti Singers, Pasadena Women's Club Singers and the combined Lutheran Choirs.

'Bob' Shuler Hits Bias in Talk

Declaring that no man-made program for racial justice is possible as long as men leave the religion of Jesus out of their lives, Rev. Robert "Fighting Bob" Shuler" of the Trinity Methodist church urged his Pasadena audience last Sunday afternoon, at Scott Methodist church, to discard prejudice and racial injustice.

A mixed audience listened attentively as he fearlessly attacked racial injustice. "I fought for racial justice in the Old South," he shouted, "and I fought for it in Los Angeles. When I supported Attorney Jennings for judge my Georgia, Texas and Alabama friends opposed me." After lauding the ability of the Race from various angles, he added that "the difference between races is less than skin deep."

The precarious condition of the Jews in this country was cited as an example of the unregenerated hearts of mankind. He said, "One could almost scratch a match in this country and have a massacre of the Jews overnight."

"Good men are trying to solve these difficulties, but man-made contrivances will not solve economic or racial problems. We are trying to open the door, but we have lost the key."

In closing, he addressed his remarks particularly to the Methodists and called for an unction on the part of the ministers and members to return to the old time religion that leads folk to go out and bring men and women to Christ.

Rev. K. C. Downs, who officiated, was highly commended for his progressive and intelligent program at Scott Church.

FASHIONETTES by El Nora

The tall, slender woman is very much in style, but there are some cases when her figure is really too tall and thin and appears angular. Then she, too, must use strategy in disguising her bad points. Short jackets, wide collars and girdles, horizontal seaming, striped materials, these things add width and seem to lessen height. Scarfs and soft flowing materials should be used to drape the neckline. Full capes and flaring, swagger coats, three-quarter coats break the line from hip to ankle. Use wide sleeves, trimmed sleeves, wide cuffs, bracelets, ornaments. Horizontal contrasts in the skirt — tunics, peplums, flares at the hemline, all these make the figure appear shorter and wider.

Vegetable Laxative Has Important Points

Most people want a laxative to do three things: (1) act punctually, (2) act thoroughly, (3) act gently. Here's one that usually fills all three requirements when the easy directions are followed. It's an all vegetable product whose principal ingredient has medical recognition as an "intestinal tonic-laxative."

That's the ingredient which enables BLACK-DRAUGHT to help tone lazy bowel muscles. It is the main reason for the satisfying relief from constipation that generally follows next morning when BLACK-DRAUGHT is taken at bedtime. The millions of packages used are proof of its merit.

SERMON

Mark—Chapter 16, Verses 14-18

And afterward He was manifested unto the eleven themselves as they sat at meat; and He upbraided them with their unbelie fand harshness of heart, because they believed not them that had seen Him after He was risen. And He said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; but he that disbelieveth shall be condemned. And these sings shall accompany them that believe: in my name shall they cast out demons; they shall speak with new tongues; they shall take up serpents, and if the drink any deadly thing, it shall in no wise hurt them; they shall lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

The breakfast sponsored by the Young People was a success, despite the downpour of rain that came at the usual breakfast hour. The young people's leaders, Mr. Hart and Miss Huff, are using every endeavor to make the annual services an event of progress in the life of the youth of the church. So keep April 28 open to attend their exercises. Fine speakers, good singing are promised us. The Junior church will have charge of the services Sunday, April 14.

An appreciable audience braved the rain to attend the regular morning worship. The choir, under direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, rendered beautiful numbers. With Mrs. Pearl Booker at the console, the chimes of the organ brought a calm to every heart and prepared them for the very helpful and touching sermon by Rev. Carter. "An important question to young people," was the subject.

The BYPU is making progress under the fine leadership of Rev. Lloyd Colmore. This organization offers the youth of the city an opportunity to serve in various avenues of Christian endeavor. The hour of opening is 6 p. m. Come and participate.

Here's a Breakfast Treat From Hawaii

By BETTY BARCLAY

Tangy canned Hawaiian pineapple gems, inch squares of liver and bacon served on brochette atop a stack of golden brown griddle cakes will do a great deal to enliven breakfast appetites.

WHEN breakfast appetites aren't showing the proper interest take stock of your menus. Perhaps the same foods appear too frequently. If this is the case a little variety will solve the problem as quickly as new dishes appear at the table.

To bring variety into the fruit course you might try canned Hawaiian pineapple gems. These are spoon-size chunks of fruit cut from the juiciest part of sun-ripened pineapples, and served well-chilled and right from the can make a delicious morning eye-opener.

These little gems of flavor are delicious also served with breakfast meats. Try them, for example, en brochette with liver and bacon. To prepare, place alternate one-inch squares of bacon and calves liver and pineapple gems on skewers beginning and ending with bacon. Arrange skewers in slanting position in the broiling pan so bacon drippings will baste meat and pineapple. Cook under a preheated broiling unit for 12 to 15 minutes, turning once during broiling. Push the meat and fruit without altering the position onto toast strips or hot griddle cakes. Serve at once.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS
How to remove stains:

It is best to remove stains when fresh. Use cold water in removing stains made by foods containing proteins, (eggs, meat, milk, blood). Use hot water in removing stains made by fruits.

MILK OR CREAM

Use cold water only. After thoroughly using cold water, then wash with soap and warm water. If unashable material, after using cold water sponge with gasoline or benzal.

PAINT

Dip into acetone and wring out dry. Washing will be unnecessary and drying rapid. Turpentine or benzal also can be used but follow the application with a good washing in warm water and soap.

IT PAYS TO CACKLE!

Scientifically, chicken eggs are no better than duck eggs. But the average person won't buy them at any price. If chicken eggs were selling for a dollar a dozen, the average housewife wouldn't buy duck eggs at 10 cents per dozen.

Why?

The difference is due to advertising.

The duck, when she lays an egg, waddles off in silence and with her head hanging low.

The hen, with head lifted high, comes off the nest cackling. And the old rooster sticks out his chest and crows about it!

It pays to advertise. (See J. W. Porter, our Pasadena representative of The California Eagle, or telephone SYcamore 3-1665.)

Arizona Town Adopts Gay Mood

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 11—This town, the largest of the inland states in the far west, is experiencing one of the gayest out of festival season's in its history. Much of this is accountable to the large number of California and eastern visitors who find time to spend a few hours and hundreds of dollars.

California visitors are accounted for because of the large numbers flocking to Yuma which has become a veritable Gretna Green of the West, for those seeking to escape the provisions of the recently enacted marriage bans in California. There is no 30-day wait in Yuma, or anywhere else in Arizona.

Once in this state, the visitors came here to enjoy a more sportive fling. Colored citizens get their share of the business play. The Elks' club, located at 1007 Seventh avenue, is the center of night life here. The place is operated by Arthur Arbo who formerly owned a business in Los Angeles.

Watson Released from Jail

DETROIT, April 11—Everett I. Watson, alleged numbers baron, was released from jail after serving 8 days of a 60-day sentence imposed upon him by the one-man grand jury investigating graft and gambling in Wayne county.

Attorneys for Watson are arguing Watson's appeal from the contempt of court sentence, levied because Watson would not answer a question put to him by the jurist. The attorneys argue that Watson was within his rights in refusing to talk. They said he had already been arraigned on a grand jury warrant and that the court could not grant him immunity.

Actor - Agent Ben Carter Goes Free

Three Boys Told Juvenile Officers of Sex Orgies

Charges involving endangering of the morals of a trio of juvenile boys were dismissed Tuesday afternoon by Superior court Judge J. Turney Fox assigned to the juvenile division of that court, to hear charges against Ben Carter, actor-agent.

Attorneys Lloyd C. Griffith and Thomas L. Griffith defended the case against the screen actor. Carter was arrested last April 8, on a warrant after three boys told juvenile officers a tale of asserted sex orgies, engaged in by themselves and the actor in his West Temple district home.

When brought into court, however, the youths, Ledger Kapolani, 15; Lloyd Pickens, 14, and Joe Glascoe, 15, all residents in the neighborhood of North Bonnie Brae street, told the court that they had lied to the arresting officers. After listening to the boys recount their own addiction to perverted habits, Judge Fox, on motion of the defense attorneys, dismissed the charges against Carter, and ordered his $1500 bond, posted Mar. 4, returned.

The three youths were ordered detained at Juvenile Hall, pending their trial on making false statements to a police officer.

Free Woman in Slaying of Car-washer

Waitress Says Man Sought to Force His Attentions on Her

Lemon Sidney, 33-year old car-washer, was shot to death early last Thursday morning, and Newton street officers arrested Dorothy Davis, 31-year old waitress of 1122 E. 43rd street, in whose home the shooting took place, holding her on suspicion of murder.

A coroner's jury, at the inquest this week, absolved the waitress of blame in the slaying, returning a verdict of justifiable homicide on grounds of self-defense.

According to police, the slaying culminated a struggle between the man and woman when he sought to force his attentions upon her. Officers investigating the gun-play found a small radio and vase had been smashed and a door on the floor.

The woman said Sidney had cut her with a pocket knife and after he threatened to kill her, she got a .22 calibre revolver and shot over his head.

Sidney left, but came back a second time, and assertedly said, "Now, I know I am going to kill you." He received a bullet in the chest, staggered out of the house and fell on the front lawn where he was pronounced dead by ambulance attendants.

Acquitted in Ice - Pick Slaying

Defense Argues Act Committed in Self Defense

Accused of murder in the ice-pick slaying last Feb. 13 of Andrew Dixon, Katherine Irving, comely common-law wife of the man, walked out of Department 45 of the Superior Court Monday a free woman.

Judge Clarence L. Kincaid acquitted her of the charge after hearing testimony offered by defense counsel Walter L. Gordon, Jr. Through her attorney, Miss Irving admitted the fatal stabbing but argued it was in self-defense.

Testimony was introduced by the defense that on the night of the slaying, Dixon, in a fit of drunken rage, attempted to slash Miss Irving with a knife, threatening to "carve my initials" on her after first engaging other boarders in the house.

It was disclosed during questioning of the witness that Dixon, a railroad employe, had a "bad reputation" and on another occasion did threathen and shoot at his common-law wife.

Charging that the man met his death because of malicious and designing motives, the prosecution presented a vigorous argument in an attempt to convict the woman.

William Duse and Arthur Houston testified in behalf of the defense.

Fay Allen Heard at Hearings Here

Mrs. Fay Allen, member of the City Board of Education, testified before the Fact Finding committee of the California Assembly, during the hearings held here April 10-12.

Mrs. Allen told the committee that home environment in which "sordid unhealthy circumstances were encountered, had a detrimental and deterring influence upon school children." Others testified to the need of remedial measures to alleviate deplorable living conditions existing in some sections of the state.

TECHNIQUES IN the dissemination of propaganda since The Year of Our Lord 1914 have changed to a great extent, but the underlying purpose remains the same.

Already the United States is half in the war; the object of current propaganda campaigns is to inspire in us sufficient love of democracy to go whole hog. No matter what the evasions of our chief executive and congressmen, the U. S. has been reduced since September to the position of supply house for the Allied cause. Cash and carry stipulations are thin disguises for outright Franco-British bias. Anyway, the measure is almost completely foiled by the fact that CREDITS may be extended by private American firms to private foreign firms. If that word "CREDITS" doesn't run a cold chill up and down your spine, your 1914-1918 history has been sorely neglected.

Perhaps the most effective U. S.-Allied propagandist is the President—Franklin Delano Roosevelt. Since the first fateful days of the war, his statements have been wholly —if delicately—pro-Allied. At the time of the Russian invasion of Finland, he shed copious tears in behalf of this courageous little people, extended to them the CREDIT of the U. S. treasury. Such a move, you will recall, was conspicuous by its absence during the rape of Ethiopia, the British blessed (or double-crossed) invasion of Czechoslovakia, and the Spanish civil war. In this last case, the President was instrumental in placing an embargo on shipments to that beleaguered nation—a move which many competent authorities indicate was the death-blow to the Loyalist cause.

Today, however, we find that our national leader is able not only to unbend in the matter of an arms embargo, but also personally to sponsor a nondescript cash and carry plan which, as pointed out, is only a sham to legalize active British support. However, Mr. Roosevelt's most devastating effect is wrought upon the nation's public opinion. His frequent statements in behalf of "decent government" and its preservation in modern civilization" are distinctly suspicious. As anybody knows, the British consider "decent government" an exclusive Anglo-Saxon invention and are at present nobly deluding their populace to the effect that "civilization itself" is being preserved in the current war.

There is no doubt that Adolf Hitler has been very mean to minority groups in his own nation — Jews, Catholics, and those who prefer to do their own thinking. Such a procedure is obviously in violation of the tenets of democracy. It is a fine indication that America resents these intolerant practices.

But the money-changers of Britain's great banking set dominate India and Africa with equal ruthlessness. They have cheated, bribed, and murdered their way into possession of the two countries. Only the threat of organized resistance from these quarters has given rise to any indicated leniency in British colonial policy. However, the State Department and the President of the United States have been singularly uninformative concerning these issues, whereas their collective clamor concerning German and Russian skullduggery

Half of the estate will go to the son and approximately half to Miss Pickens, who had been married to the deceased man but three months before his death. The son's share includes an annuity insurance for $10,000, payable at $50.00 per month; government bonds amounting to $7000, a Pullman company insurance policy, and two smaller policies.

Business League, U. S. C. of C. Heads Confer

WASHINGTON, April 18. (ANP)—Officers of the National Negro Business League and officials of the United States Chamber of Commerce held a conference here last Friday at the chamber's national headquarters, which many believe will be epochal in the history of Negro business. The meeting which lasted all afternoon, was designed to acquaint the U. S. Chamber leaders with some of the problems facing Negro business and to pave the way for Negro business men and women to receive some of the benefits of the vast array of information and service which the chamber has available.

Delos L. James, agricultural expert of the chamber and Dr. J. E. Walker of Memphis, president of the National Negro Business league, took turns in presiding. Dr. Walker, after a preliminary statement by Secretary A. L. Holsey, presented C. C. Spaulding who described the banking business as conducted by the 12 Negro banks now existent in the country; M. S. Stuart of Universal Life who gave a portrayal of the insurance business as conducted by Negroes; F. D. Patterson of Tuskegee, who developed the unemployment problem and its relation to living and purchasing power; Claude A. Barnett who described the function of the Negro newspaper and pointed out the serviceableness of these mediums in effecting greater distribution through advertising and J. A. Jackson of the Standard Oil company who presented an address on the integration of Negroes into white business organizations.

Following the discussion of these points, members of the chamber asked questions indicating a keen interest in the problems faced by Negroes in business and in the fields of employment.

One of the promises of the chamber was that a member of that body qualified to represent the body would be on hand at the next convention of the Negro Business league in Detroit next August. This marks the first time that such recognition has been obtained and bodes well for the closer cooperation of the two bodies which have much in common.

STRANGE PAIR OF MIDWIVES FOR BABY

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—A 7 and a quarter pound baby boy, born to 24-year old Mrs. Bonnie Brown, had a strange pair of midwives attending his birth. In the absence of a proper midwife or doctor, two policemen, one the father of five, and the other, the father of 7, had delivered the child and bathed it in olive oil by the time ambulance internes answered the call.

Suggests DAR Drop Race Ban

WASHINGTON, April 18—A telegram was sent Mrs. Henry M. Roberts, Jr., president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, by Charles H. Houston, chairman of the Marian Anderson Citizens' committee, as the DAR opened its convention this week here.

Houston suggested that the DAR "can make a fine contribution toward cementing the bond between black and white citizens by removing the ban on Negro artists appearing in Constitution Hall." The DAR will particularly consider "problems of National Defense and protection of the home front."

The workers had been striking for a 25% wage increase.

Roosevelt Asks Transfer of H. U., Freedmen's

WASHINGTON, April 18. (ANP)—Freedmen's hospital and Howard university come in for a bit of publicity in the latest message of the President to Congress on his plans for reorganization.

Roosevelt in his message suggested in what is known as Reorganization Plan No. IV, that in order to reduce expenditures, to increase efficiency, to consolidate agencies according to major purposes and reduce the number of agencies by consolidating those having similar functions and by abolishing such as may not be necessary and to eliminate overlapping and duplication of effort "that Freedmen's hospital in the department of interior and its functions be transferred to the FSA and be administered under the direction and supervision of the federal security administrator."

Second, "that Howard university be similarly transferred. The annual report required to be furnished to the secretary of the interior by the president and directors of the university, shall be furnished to the federal security administration. The office of education shall continue to make its inspections of and reports on the affairs of Howard university in accordance with the provisions of existing law."

Rev. H. Mansfield Collins Leaves for Detroit Confab

The Rev. H. Mansfield Collins, pastor of "Eighth and Towne" AME church and the endorsed candidate of California for the bishopric of the AME Church, is holding his last service before the General Conference, which meets in Detroit next Sunday. At the eleven o'clock hour, he will deliver his closing message, at which time the choirs, under the direction of Prof. George Garner and Mrs. Jessie Grayson, will render special music for the occasion. At this service, the members who have joined during the pastorate of the divine, will be the honored guests and special space will be given them. More than 800 members have been added to the church since his coming more than three years ago and it is expected that a capacity congregation will be present at that hour.

DR. H. MANSFIELD COLLINS

At 7:30 o'clock, Rev. E. W. Rakestraw and the members of Wesley Methodist church will worship with "Eighth and Towne" in a mammoth closing service. Special music will be rendered by the Wesley choir under the direction of Prof. Norton E. Dennis. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. Rakestraw. "All roads lead to Eighth and Towne." Rev. J. W. Price of Ward Chapel will preach Thursday night and Bishop Washington of Bethel Church of Christ on Friday night. This will close a week of interesting services before Rev. Collins takes his departure for the Detroit conference. Rev. A. W. Ross of Pleasant Hill Baptist church rendered splendid services on Wednesday night.

Rev. Collins has been endorsed by the annual conference, and ranks as one of the leading candidates for the bishopric. Some time ago, the California Eagle wrote under the caption, "California Wants A Bishop," thus arousing the interest of the Far West in the candidacy of this prelate. At least four bishops will be elected and it now appears that the Reverend will be one of that number.

BOMB HOME, IN WHITE AREA, OF WASHINGTON SCHOOL TEACHER

Committee Sought to Buy Home on Ground Negroes Not Wanted in Neighborhood

WASHINGTON, April 18. (ANP)—Bombing with dynamite, unknown anarchists created havoc in Harvard street Saturday night, when windows of adjacent apartments were blown out and the roar of the heavy charge of explosive was heard four miles from the scene of the bombing.

A citizen's convenant committee (which by mutual agreement refuses to sell property in certain neighborhoods to Negroes) had sought to buy the house on the ground that whites did not want Negroes in the neighborhood. Mrs. Holland had agreed to sell and all but six of the 51 property owners in the neighborhood had agreed or signed the new covenant, contributing, it is reported, to the amount necessary to buy back the house. Nine thousand dollars had been raised for this purpose and some $2,000 more was necessary to complete the deal.

Glenbie D. Young, chairman of the committee said: "There was no feeling involved. It was purely an economic matter. White owners stood to lose an estimated $118.000. Many of them were elderly and pulling up stakes now would be difficult.

"Mrs. Holland and her daughter were good neighbors and highly respected. We deplore what happened last night."

Living next door to the Hollands was Herman Fleck, an attache of the German embassy. Neighbors were quick to discount any international machinations, however, speaking highly of Fleck and his family.

At the time of the explosion, Mrs. Holland's mother, Mrs. Mary Miles, another woman and two children as well as Mrs. Holland's daughter were in the building. All lights were on, and the house was quiet.

Mrs. Holland herself had been to church and was returning home. Just as she started up the steps, the terrific charge went off. She became hysterical and had to have medical attention. Considerable damage was done to the house itself as well as to neighboring homes.

N. Y. WOMEN BACK ANTI-LYNCH BILL

Liberia Sends Cane to FDR

WASHINGTON, April 18. (ANP)—The president of Liberia presented a cane to President F. D. Roosevelt last week, Lester Walton, U. S. Minister to Liberia, who came to Washington to make a report to Secretary of State Hull, brought the cane with him and conveyed the expressions of esteem with which President Barclay of the African republic sent with the gift.

President Roosevelt was ill with a cold when Mr. Walton arrived and the cane was conveyed to him later.

Denies Barring of Wright Novel

NEW YORK April 18—The report that the Brooklyn Public library had not stocked Richard Wright's sensational novel "Native Son" allegedly because the NAACP, had registered a protest against the book was denied here this week.

Miss Miller's reply was in answer to an inquiry from the national office of the NAACP which is seeking to run down the rumor that it had protested against Mr. Wright's best seller. The NAACP is actively boosting the novel its office announced.

NEW YORK, April 18, (CNA)—Race hatred and intolerance were sharply condemned at the New York Yearly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, which held sessinons this week, with an attendance of 700 members from New York, New Jersey, Connecticut and Pennsylvania.

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) Apr. 18—Charles H. Houston and Sidney R. Redmond, attorneys for Miss Lucile Bluford in her suit to secure damages for being refused entrance to the school of journalism of the University of Missouri, filed this week an amended complaint in the U. S. district court.

Hearings Held on Ramspeck Measure By Senate Committee

WASHINGTON, April 18. (ANP)—Hearing before the civil service committee of the Senate on behalf of the Ramspeck bill, which has already been passed by the House of Representatives, are beginning to light some of the same injustices presented the supreme court group hearing when an investigation of the civil service commission practises were under way.

Chief among the things asked for in the matter of protecting Negroes who would qualify under the provisions of the bill are the establishment of an appeal board in each department, one member of which would be colored, the elimination of the picture business, established in 1914 by the commission itself and the opening of the non-competitive examination to all now employed in various departments of the government not now included in the civil service.

This does not take into consideration the workers on the WPA, but ineludes some 150,000 persons engaged in work in various alphabetical set-ups of the government.

Such a bill if passed would bring the civil service workers in the United States to the hitherto undreamed of otal of nearly a million and a half workers.

Latest reports are that Senators Meade of New York and Hatch of New Mexico are in favor of eliminating the photo rule now in force.

AMERICA'S VOTELESS MILLIONS"--WHAT'S TO BE DONE? SCOTT ASKS

Southern Democracy Backbone of New Dealism, But 9,000,000 Mistreated

By EMMETT J. SCOTT

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—This observer recently called attention to the fact that the Democratic South, the backbone of New Dealism, persists in its traditional mistreatment of nearly 9,000,000 Colored men, women and children of the South, withholding from them the most elementary rights of democracy, visiting upon them indignities incomparable only to the brutal tactics of Europe's totalitarian dictators.

Enumerated among these fundamental rights as American citizens were disfranchisement, jim-crowism, denial of civil liberties, and those numberless techniques employed to keep them intimidated, while cherished liberties are trampled underfoot and their moral morale crushed.

Now comes the April issue of Harper's Magazine, with an article by Helen Burlin, "America's Voteless Millions," discussing the same subject. So important is the article that it was reprinted in the Congressional Record of April 8th.

Miss Burlin calls attention to the fact that in our country, despite the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, millions of citizens are deprived of their right to vote. Eight millions live in Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Many of them are Negroes but the majority are not.

WHO TO VOTE

In these states, during the Presidential election of 1936, she says, only 2,679,473 out, of an adult population of 11,606,046 cast their ballots. A bare quarter of the population voted to elect the Chief Executive of the nation.

"Each citizen in the Southern section has to buy a privilege which elsewhere is taken for granted—that of exercising his constitutional right to vote. The State sells the right by levying the Poll Tax. Those who register and pay may vote. Those who refuse, don't."

Miss Burlin tells the whole story of disfranchisement and the accompanying manifestations of outrage and oppression. The Poll Tax, she says, is reminiscent of the head tax of medieval England. It was resurrected, not during the turbulent reconstruction days as many think, but by white supremacy conventions in the late 1890's and 1900's. Ostensibly to disfranchise the Negro, their real purpose, she says was to break the back of the Populists. In the latter movement, poor farmers, White and Negro, had found their voice and were threatening the political hold of the Democratic machine in various Southern States.

An illustration of how the Poll Tax works is told in the case of the average farm family in Mississippi of three persons of voting age with an annual income of $100. "The right to vote", Miss Burlin writes, "would cost that family three times $2.00 or $6.00—three percent of its income. How many households even in fortunate circumstances could afford the investment of these proportions for the sake of exercising the privilege of citizenship? In Georgia and Georgia, for example, the Poll Tax is cumulative. If a citizen hasn't registered for several years, or has lost his certificates, the cost of voting mounts into a tidy sum.

One member inquired: "What member of this House would pay the same percentage of his income for the privilege of voting as expected of the Mississippi farmer? Since Senators and Congressmen receive annual salaries of $10,000 each this would be $600.

Miss Burlin continues: "It cost Arthur Grover Means of Birmingham, a Negro, $36 to vote ($1.50 for every year of his age past his twenty-first birthday), and his determination to pay the price was so unusual that he got his picture in the papers.

Sometimes counties levy an additional Poll Tax. Mississippi requires two years' cumulative Poll Tax, 'satisfactory evidence of payment of (other) taxes'.

In Arkansas, without a Poll Tax receipt, one is not only barred from voting but from receiving any license, permit, or wages for public funds.

The Poll Tax becomes a racket in certain localities, notably in Texas, with political machines picking up quantities of blank Poll Tax receipts and passing them out to complaisant or venal officials (see Survey Graphic, February, 1940)."

South Ranks High in Public Housing, Report

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Public housing is a field of social progress in which the South ranks high, Dr. Robert C. Weaver, Special Assistant to the Administrator, United States Housing Authority, declared in a recent address at the ground-breaking exercises for the Chavis Heights project in Raleigh, North Carolina.

The project which will rehouse 200 low income Negro families, is one of the two low-rent housing projects which the Raleigh Housing Authority is developing with the financial assistance of the United States Housing Authority at an approximate cost of $1,000,000 each.

"There are 67 communities in the Southern and Bordee states which have initiated programs to to rehouse low income Negro families," Dr. Weaver asserted.

"These communities include small towns as well as large cities. This is a program of social welfare which the South has accepted no less eagerly than other sections of the country. Nor has there been any general disposition to overlook the urgent housing needs of colored families."

Wounded WPA Worker May Live

ATLANTA, April 18—A 57-year old WPA worker, Alex Stafford, is given an even chance for life at a local hospital after he was wounded and gassed in a gun battle with police officers. Apparently going beserk because he faced eviction from his home, Stafford barricaded himself in his home and held off 15 policemen for several hours. An innocent bystander, Mrs. Mattie Matthews, was shot between the eyes by one of the flying bullets as she stood half a block away.

Negro Votes Aid Dewey's Primary Wins

Nebraska, Illinois, Wisconsin Voters Back GOP Nominee

NEW YORK, Apr. 18.—Sweeping primary victories by Thomas E. Dewey, Republican candidate for Presidential nomination, in Nebraska, Illinois and Wisconsin were aided substantially by the Negro voters of those areas. An analysis of the vote in Illinois and Nebraska last week and of that in Wisconsin two weeks ago leads to this conclusion.

Wisconsin has a small Negro population, about 6,500, but a large number of the voters joined the Dewey landslide in that state and aided in the defeat of Senator Arthur Vandenberg in the primary three weeks ago.

In Nebraska the Dewey forces were aided by C. C. Galloway, editor of the Omaha Guide, State Senator John Adams and many others. Their excellent showing was the outgrowth of pre-primary work in that area planned during the recent visit of Dewey and also Mrs. Eunice Hunton Carter, one of his aides in the New York District Attorney's office.

BIG NAMES FOR HIM

In Illinois a distinguished list of Negro leaders helped swell the tide of votes for Dewey in last week's primaries. Dewey had the united support of Negro organizations of Chicago's great Southside area. All the regular ward leaders including former Congressman Oscar DePries of the third ward and former State Senator William E. King of the first ward were for Dewey. Contests for the state committee in the second and third wards made no difference in Dewey support as both sides were for him.

Jake Tippen, a Negro delegate from Illinois to the National Republican Convention in Philadelphia, is a Dewey man.

In Chicago proper, when Mr. Dewey appeared at tht station, he was greeted by thousands and, it was noted, many hundreds of Negroes were included in the throng.

GWTW Opens to Hostile Harlem

NEW YORK, April 11—Despite the fact that Hollywood broke all precedent in giving the Academy Award for the most outstanding supporting actress of the year to buxom Hattie McDaniels, when "Gone With the Wind," featuring Miss McDaniel opened in Harlem, a picket line from the Motion Picture Projectionist Association, an affiliate of the Harlem Labor Union, was formed in front of the theater.

Harlem elite, however, passed the lines, which asked for Colored Movie Operators at $80 to $120 per week. Most of these jobs, according to Mavis Costello, chairman of the Picketing Committee, are now held by white men.

A boycott-storm appears to be gathering about the long controversial New Orleans Municipal Auditorium (above) upon the occasion of the planned appearance there May 6 of Miss Marion Anderson, world famous singer.

Bitterly resenting the fact that they have been summarily relegated to the balcony by the charge de affairs, Gar Moore of the local Orpheum (Mort H. Singer) theatre management, to hear a singer of their own race, Negroes have urged through organizations marshalled under the leadership of the NAACP that they be given the privilege of ground floor accomodations if they are expected to attend. Voicing its stand on the matter the NAACP states,

"This action must in no way be interpreted as an attack on Miss Anderson. To the contrary, we feel Miss Anderson is being given an enviable opportunity to follow in the laudable path of precedent established by Roland Hayes some years ago in this auditorium, when he refused to appear under similar discriminatory conditions; and by Henry Armstrong, who insisted upon the color bar being set aside in the American Legion Auditorium in Los Angeles before he himself would appear as a privileged personage."

Local Council of NNC Plans Fight Against Klan Menace

Combining action on local issues with its campaign to send delegates from Los Angeles to the Third National Negro Congress meeting in Washington, D. C., April 26-28, the Los Angeles Council of the Congress at last week's meeting, pledged an uncompromising fight against the Ku Klux Klan menace in this city and vicinity.

Citing the parade of Klansmen in full regalia through downtown Los Angeles streets, Mar. 29, as an act of intimidation especially inimical to Negro citizens, the local Congress group approved the appointment of a six-man committee to press for action from police and city officials to prevent any recurrence of such actions. Assigned to investigate all factors of the incident were Council delegates: Augustus F. Hawkins, Rev. T. F. Jones, Rev. Hamilton Boswell, Mrs. Leona McGinty and Wm. F. Johnson, Robt. Robinson, executive secretary of the NNC, is chairman of the committee.

Also approved at the NNC last week, was a recommendation to the Public Works Commission endorsing the proposed pay-raise for the city's refuse collectors.

Stimulated by national office of wide-scale activities of Congress Councils in several eastern, southern and middle-western cities, aimed at sending large delegations to the Third National Negro Congress, the Los Angeles Council is increasing its efforts to send a comparable delegation from the West's largest Negro population center—Los Angeles.

Chief attention this week is centered on the Cocktail Dance the Council is sponsoring this Saturday, April 13, from 8 to 12 p. m., at Camille's Den, 848 E. Adams blvd. Dancing, a professional floor-show, door-prizes, and other interesting entertainment features planned, indicate that attendants at the affair not only will help in sending delegates to the Washington meeting but can have a grand time as well.

Council meetings will be held again Fridays, April 12 and 19 at 8 p. m., 1029 E. Vernon avenue. Representatives from community organizations, as well as individual citizens, are invited to attend. Reports on the progress of all activities and committees will be heard at these meetings.

Predicts South to Make Great Economic Gains

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—A new outlook on the population trend is supplied by General Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Soebuck & Co., in the recently published volume, "The Outlook In Business". The General says: "if the South continues to attract industry, to hold its young people from migrating northward, to diversify its agriculture, it will make the greatest gains of any section in seconomic or political power. The census of 1940 will probably show that the rate of growth for Southern cities is now far more rapid than for most Northern and Mid-western cities."

"Today 14 Southern and border states, with approximately 30 per cent of the total population of the counetry are contributing abou 50 percent of the national population growth. Contrary to popular impressions, the Southern white is increasing at a much more rapid rate than the Southern Negro."

Dewey Aide Hits New Deal

Says Negro Suffers from Government-Fostered Jim Crow

BALTIMORE, Md., April 18.—Francis E. Rivers, aide to New York District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, candidate for the Republican nomination for President, spoke at the Armonry here Thursday night before 7,000 gathered to hear a program given by the "Wings Over Jordan" choir.

In a brief but pointed speech Rivers charged that the Democratic New Deal was "creating a caste status for the Negro by making him a ward of the government."

During an interview after the program Rivers asserted that the Negro was being forced out of American industrial life by the New Deal. He said they wtre placed on relief because there were no jobs and then kept on relief and unabsorbed into private industry because unions, with National Labor Relations Board protection, refused Negroes as members.

MORE SEGREGATION

"Today", Rivers added, "The Negro suffers more from segregation because of his race than at any time since emancipation. In fact he suffers today from a new form of segregation—government-fostered segregation. Yet he is doing less about it than at any time in his history. He can't do anything about it, either because of the New Deal. As long as the New Deal remains in power, he will be unable to do anything about it.

"The New Deal has created a public opinion of such a nature that it is no longer news if the Negro is segregated or crushed down."

New Home Is Show Place of Tract

Home Built By All-Negro Crew Under John H. Session

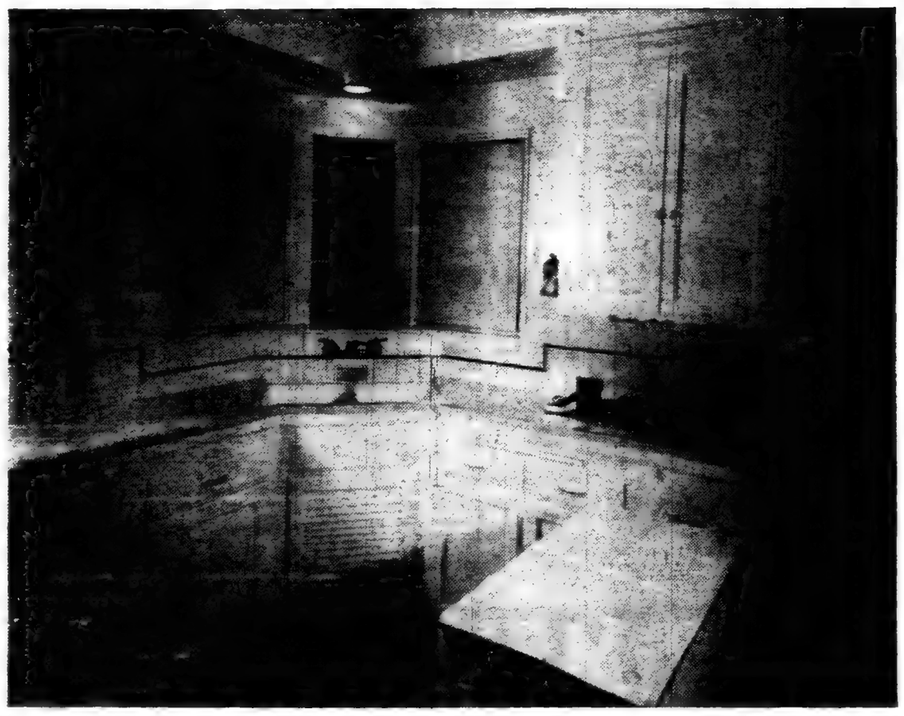
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thornton, 857 E. 116th Street, are the proud owners of the Blodgett Tract's finest new establishment, which was opened officially last week.

The beautiful residence, low and modern, is the work of an all-Negro crew under well known contractor John H. Session. The structure passed four sets of private and governmental inspections with flying colors--a rarity in the construction world.

More than this, reports owner Thornton, at no point during the building was there any complaint made by visiting Bank, City and FHA observers. At every inspection, the home was given an unqualified "100%" by inspectors.

Mr. Thornton, veteran railroad man and active in local labor organiations for many years was gleeful this week in pointing out the perfection of his new home--and the fact that it is the result of ALL NEGRO LABOR. Even the efficient lawn sprinkling system was installed by a colored operator.

Chief figure in the construction, of course, was General Contractor and Builder John Session. Under him worked V. M. Morrow as electrician; plumber, E. A. Loupe; plasterer, E. W. Eggleston; hardwood floors, W. Gross; and painter Arthur Provost--all "local talent".



Morrow, son-in-law of Rev. T. L. Griffith of Second Baptist church, supervised in detail the installation of the many last-minute electrical appliances in the home. Equally complicated--and fraught with innovations--was the work of plumber Loupe. Workers in the field have expressed high admiration for the plastering job performed by Eggleston, who was greaty aided by the expert brush of painter Provost, an expert craftsman. Gross' hardwood floors are the "piece de resistence."

A graduate of Tuskegee Institute, Session, the contractor taught in the Industrial Arts department of that institution for six years. He later transferred to Baldwin, La., to instruct in the Industrial branch of the University of New Orleans.

During the War, he was an outstanding figure in the planning of Army training camps, holding a responsible position in this connection for three years.

Some of the finest buildings in the South are the work of John Session. The magnificent five story Supreme Circle building in Abany, Ga., is one of his prime creations, and the Kress building at Daeross, Ga., is another of Session masterpieces. In building these famed structures, Session used all colored craftsmen.

Coming to Los Angeles in 1922, he became foreman in the De Luxe Builders Company, then nationally known as "the bungalow Kings of California."

GOES INTO BUSINESS

In 1928, Session decided to launch into the business world for himself. In the face of depression years, his firm has grown annually, and constructed most of the notable local landmarks. He helped to build Second Baptist Church, 28th Street branch YMCA, Blodgett Building, Dunbar Hotel St. Philips church, and many others.

Among outstanding recent efforts are the palatial Pasadena homes of Mrs. Mozelle Moore and Mrs. A. McNeal. In 1938, Session built Mt. Zion Baptist church at 50th and Hooper avenue.

It is doubtful, however, that any Session patron in all the years is more pleased with his work than Mr. Fred Thornton of 857 E. 116th street.

A former trustee, Session is a member of Second Baptist church.

Golden West Bridge Ass'n Notes

BY ELLIS L. VEIL

The Paramount Bridge club of San Diego came and conquered the mighty Golden West. Their task was made easy when we loaned them such good players as J. D. Dunn, Gene Robinson, Curtis G. Holmes and Clyde Maddox. We regret that all of their members were not present to enjoy the wonderful day planned for them by the Activities Committee of the GWBA. The perfect meal, planned and prepared by Mrs. Louise Roan, assisted by Mmes. Holmes, Marshall and Veil, would have done credit to the most highly trained culinary artist. We are grateful to all these ladies, but particularly to Mrs. Roan for the use of her home, and many other favors. The San Diego team was composed of Wooden and Holloman, Robinson and Dunn, Holmes, Maddox and Shelton, Johnson and White. While Dr. Wallace and A. C. Morgan, John Crane and Mmes. B. Reeves, W. Sloan, C. Manual, Louis, Field, L. Roan, E. Gordan, represented the GWBA. After 25 boards were played, the Paramount club had a plus of 4100 points.

Prize winners of the Contract Bridge club's first charity tournament were Mmes. Agnes Beal and Mae Denton, first prize; Mr. and Mrs. John Hilbourne, second prize; Mrs. Willie Mae Beatty and Joe Henry, third prize. Winners in the Auction section were Mr. McDowell, first prize, Mr. Tibbs, second.

The big news of the bridge world is the elimination of the favored "four aces" from the Vanderbilt Cup Bridge tournament in the second qualifying round. These players have won their tournament, oldest of its kind in contract bridge, four times. They are Oswald Jacoby, Howard Schenken, Sam Fry, Jr., and Theodore A. Lightner.

Two selected piano numbers were rendered by Mrs. Naida McCullough Banks in diaphanian blue chiffon. Her fluid technique was particularly impressive.

Dett's "Juba Dance," as interpreted by Mrs. Cerissa Starr McGruder in African costume was exquisitely unique. She also presented a lovely ballet dance which portrayed all the etheral beauty of graceful body.

With poise and warm humanness, Miss Violet Aldridge sang the sprightly "Maids of Cadiz," and a love song. Miss Aldridge wore a stunning diagonal stripped gown of red and white. She was accompanied by Miss Juanita Terry.

The concluding numbers, typical in variety and interest, were beautifully done with grace and deftness by Miss Helen Dundee. Miss Dundee's petitness was enhanced by a blue satin gown.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Doctrine of Atonement" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ Scientist. The Golden Text is from Matthew: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister and to give his life a ransom for many."

A Bible citation includes these verses from Psalms: "O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering." These verses about Jesus from Mark are also presented: "And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him and saying unto him, If thou wilt thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed."

One of the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Jesus taught the way of Life by demonstration, that we may understand how this divine Principle heals the sick, casts out error and triumphs over death. Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could any man whose origin was less spiritual. By his obedience to God, he demonstrated more spiritually than all others the Principle of being."

Gospel Prayer Band Services

We enjoyed wonderful services in the old fashioned prayer meeting this week. The manifestation of the power of God, in beautiful testimonies and demonstration of healing of afflicted bodies and souls, the spiritual inspiration of the reality of walking in the light and living in the spirit, has caused joy in trials and peace that passeth all understanding, that peace that Christ giveth.

Lessons for the week were taken from Acts 2: 1-18; Eph. 6: 10-24; 1 Cor. 13; Psalms 1:6; Psalms 37:1; John 5; St. Luke 12. Offering for the sick, $2.10; meeting held i ntwo shut-in homes. Total attendance, 98, one candidate for baptism.

German Student Refuses to Join Society Because of Bias

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Apr. 18. (ANP)—Because of racial restrictions which bar Negroes from membership, Alpha Zeta, national honorary fraterity, lost a potentionally outstanding member when Martin L. Cohnstaedt, German refugee student in the College of agriculture at Rutgers and son of the late Dr. Wilhelm Cohnstaedt, one of the editors of the Frankfurter Zeitung before Nazi rule in Germany, refused an invitation to affiliate under those conditions.

Cohnstaedt's stand, which was asserted in a letter of declination to Cook chapter on the campus here, was taken last fall, according to reports but was not generally known until this week. The letter read in part:

"In view of the discrimination of Alpha Zeta against our colored fellow-country men, I, after many days of deep searching and most careful examination, feel unable to accept membership."

Alpha Zeta has 43 chapter in American universities, and the national constitution restricts membership to white students, according to Dr. Willard Thompson, chairman of the faculty advisory committee of Cook chapter here.

Birmingham Library Won't Place 'Native Son' on Shelves

BIRMINGHAM, April. 18. (ANP)—Letters of all descriptions are flowing into the Birmingham Post and the Birmingham Age-Herald offices, white dailies, regarding the situation prevalent in the Birmingham public libraries in respect to Richard Wright's novel "Native Son."

The letters, addressed to the editors tell their own story.

One, from Miss Clara Hall, states: "When I asked for the book I was informed by the librarian in the fiction room that it contained questionable material. As proof she showed me a folder issued by a Massachusetts publishing house which said that "Native Son" was unsuitable for conservative libraries."

"The library board has not yet banned 'Native Son'. As the situation stands now, the librarian in charge of fiction has decided not to recommend the book to the board. If enough people take a stand on this question, we may save our library from an unintelligent, unthinking action. We can do that, or reconcile ourselves to having the best book of the year banned regularly."

From a letter signed "Eddie Burke" and appearing in the Birmingham Post, issue of April 2, comes the following excerpts: "Since I had seen on statement of the library's policy on this matter, I visited Miss Chapman, the head librarian. This is the information she gave me:

"Native Son" has not been banned, but owing to lack of funds, only 12 novels can be purchased by the library each month. A library committee chooses the novels to be bought on the basis of popularity, and "Native Son" was not chosen. She further stated that she would accept donations of "Native Son." Miss Chapman added that "Grapes of Wrath" also was not banned, but to this date the library has not purchased a single copy. The only copies of this best seller on the shelves are donations from private individuals.

"If the 12 books of the month are chosen on the basis of popularity, then 'Native Son', the current best seller, should be on the top of the list. Not only has this Book of the Month club selecion been acclaimed in the leading newspapers and periodicals of the country and already passed thru several editions, but it is in constant demand in all the commercial lending libraries of Birmingham. What is the peculiar touchstone of popularity which our library committee uses?"

Gold Store on Washington Stirs Curiosity

There is considerable speculation among residents of the community, as to the purpose of the streamlined building which is nearing completion on Washington boulevard, near Central avenue, adjoining the big Gold Furniture Company store. And so as to clear up the "mystery of Washington boulevard", Morris Gold, for whom the new building is being constructed, has issued the following explanation:

"Although our furniture business has enjoyed constant growth, due to the confidence and patronage of folk who live in this community, the new addition, adjoining our Washington Boulevard building, will not be devoted to home furnishings, but rather to a complete showing of the smartest clothing and accessories for men, women and children. It is our answer to the hundreds of requests by customers who enjoy trading with us in the selection of things to add beauty and comfort to their homes.

"We ewill institute a novel policy with the opening of the new Clothing building. Only the best known nationally advertised brands will e featured and offered at the lowest prices t obe found anywhere in America on three purchasing plans. Customers may pay cash for their purchases, or they maay use the modern new 90-day Budget plan recently adoptedd by our leading department stores and speciality shoups, or they may use our new Long-term charge account plan. However, no matter which plan is used the same low cash prices will prevail. . . . there will be No extra charge for the convenience f deferred payments.

Springtide of Spiritual Joy

IN AN exquisite passage in the Song of Solomon, the "beloved" sings (2:10-12): "Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away. For, lo, the winter is past, the rain is over and gone; the flowers appear on the earth; the time of the singing of birds is come." However variously this passage may have been interpreted, we may perhaps be permitted to see in it, for us, a hint of the call of divine Love to love in the human heart to awake from the dream of life in matter, to see the ever-appearing freshness and beauty of true being. Among the seasons, each of them bringing its wealth of beauty and variety, spring is thought of by many, especially by those who are acquainted with the rigors of winter, as the season eloquently illustrative of the awakening of new hopes, aspiration, courage, and inspiration.

Mary Baker Eddy, who was a lover of nature in its various forms, in a beautiful article, "Voices of Spring," in "Miscellaneous Writings" has written (p. 329), "Spring is my sweetheart," using a metaphor which points to the ever-awakening of love, of gentleness, tenderness, sympathy; and she adds that its "voices are sad or glad, even as the heart may be; restoring in memory the sweet rhythm of unforgotten harmonies, or touching tenderly its tearful tones." Thus does love mingle with love in all the sympathetic interests of the human experience. How the ever-recurring expression of love, in families and among friends, sweetens human lives, brightening the heart's harmonious meditations! Are they not easily likened to the return of springtime, after the long chill of winter? And even in those climes where summer abides through most of the year, the loveliness of the verdure only more continuously reminds one that "flowers appear on the earth; and the time of the singing of birds is come."

So, in our daily experiences, even though at times there may seem to be the chilling clouds of depression, the voice of Love is ever calling to spiritual sense, "Rise up, my love, my fair one, and come away," and in obeying the call we shall "come away" from the dream of life and intelligence in matter, away from the beliefs of mortal discords, and see, through enlightened spiritual vision that "flowers appear on the earth," that in every experience we may rejoice in the beauty and the harmony of the real and eternal. There is no dearth of beauty, freshness, and goodness in the reality of spiritual being, no lack or loss, no chilling discords, no absence of Love and its loveliness.

If, however, in the dream of material experience, there seems to be some reason for sadness, then indeed "the time of the singing of birds" is come; then should we lift our hearts in songs of gratitude for the ever-present harmony of real being, of life in infinite divine Love. . . .

How swiftly "the long winter of our discontent" melts into the springtide of joy and gladness, when we obediently respond to the call of Love, "Rise up, my love, my fair one," for love, reflecting Love, God, is indeed fair and beautiful, peace-bringing and satisfying! Now, what is one to do about the difficulties, the wrongs, the sorrows, which seem ever to haunt the footsteps of the human family? In the article mentioned above, Mrs. Eddy refers to these things and to the lessons in spiritual overcoming to be gleaned from them, and she asks (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 331): "When downtrodden like the grass, did it make them humble, loving, obedient, full of good odor, and cause them to wait patiently on God for man's rich heritage,—'dominion over all the earth'? Thus abiding in Truth," she assures us, "the warmth and sunlight of prayer and praise and understanding will ripen the fruits of Spirit, and goodness will have its springtide of freedom and greatness." . . .

PERSISTING NEED

We tuned in on a broadcast the other night and heard a discussion of Negro business and employment opportunities. Taking part were a group of young people.

Concensus seemed to be that Negro business afforded them little opportunity for gainful employment. As a result they were looking to civil service jobs or those with various State agencies, alphabet and otherwise.

We sensed in this a need of an awakening on the part of parents of these and many, many other young people like them — young people whose basic desire in life is to have an opportunity to LIVE a FULL life.

It appeared to us that the parents hold the key to the situation. If they set up businesses and patronized those businesses (plus those already established) it would not be long before young people like these, qualified for the work, would be absorbed.

Too, it seemed that these young people would be a larger credit to their community because of their work in private industry. This, after all, would appear to be the larger purpose of civilization.

Why SHOULDN'T there be stores and businesses, conducted by Negroes, in this city supplying the sundry needs of the people?

We realized that the answer to that would be the answer to the ills of these young people who, because of a lack of business opportunities, are turning to government jobs.

HAS RIGHT IDEA

Harvey Brooks is among several song writers feeling mighty good this week.

All because of one Eddie Anderson, Jack Benny's "Rochester".

The scream of the Benny program has just recorded four songs for the Columbia Record company. In doing so he gave Negro song writers a break, three of the numbers recorded being written by Negroes.

Titles of the songs: "If Money Grew on Trees" by Leon Rene; "Waitin' for Jane" by Jo Trent; and "Let's Scuffle" by Brooks.

From Benny's new picture, "Buck Benny Rides Again", the song "My! My!", by the lone white writer, was recorded. Anderson teams with Theresa Harris on the vocals in the film.

Negro song-writers rightfully ask: "Wouldn't it be great if we had more artists who would give them a break as has "Rochester"?

Brooks' number has already been published by Paramount's Famous Music Co.

The above may be the reason Anderson is the hit of the Benny program. It certainly shows he has the right idea.

GABBY BITS:

Cops, Looking for Convict, Find Still

PHILADELPHIA, April 18—A convict, who escaped from guards while attending the funeral of his mother, unwittingly led police to a still where illegal whiskey was found. Officers got the owner of the still when they stumbled on his house, in search of the convict, Hally P. Johns. But Johns still remains at large.

Serving one to five years for larceny, Johnson was at liberty to attend the funeral of his mother.

Community Service Makes Angelus Policy Popular

Continued increase in the number of requests for the service of the Angelus Funeral Home from families in all walks of life is attributed to a number of significant factors in the policy of the Angelus, Manager John L. Hill pointed out in an interview this week.

"From the very beginning of the Angelus, we have aimed to be the servants of the community," said Hill, "not only in the matter of providing the best, and at the same time the most economical in memorials, but also in any other way we can. Our new building was erected to enlarge that service, and to have an institution to which all of us could point with pride."

Distinctive, complete, "but not expensive" is the keynote of the unsurpassed facilities of the Angelus Funeral Home. A trained staff of experts in their respective fields, with the most modern equipment that equals and surpasses in many instances any similar establishment on the Pacific Coast, places the Angelus in a class by itself.

Besides, any movement for civic and educational improvement in the community receives the endorsement and support of the Angelus; this includes contributions to scholarships for deserving young people, and various welfare organizations. A weekly broadcast every Sunday morning over KFOX has been sponsored continuously for over three years by the Angelus to bring cheer and encouragement to the sick and shut-in.

Edward Boyd Songs Sooth Music Lovers

Tuesday evening of last week at the Assistance League Playhouse, Edward Boyd, bass-baritone, sang a splendid program to a vastly appreciative audience.

Mr. Boyds' selection of numbers was well arranged and exhibited his versatility of interpretation as well as the range of his fine voice. His German and Italian numbers were impressive, whether grave or dramatic, and delivered with much feeling. The lighter numbers were delightful in their variety and "Mother Hubbard," a beguiling novelty.

Most of the spirituals were the works of Hall Johnson, and upon completion of those programmed, the audience demanded encore after encore.

As always, the young singers' appearance was an optical delight, and his calm unruffled. Mr. Ingolf Dahl, pianist and former conductor of the Municipal Opera House in Switzerland was the sympathetic and thoroughly capable accompanist of the evening. His rendition of Bach's Toccata in D Major called for an encore of a Chopin Mazurka.

Music lovers never fail to enjoy the vocal offerings of Edward Boyd.

L. A. Railway Combats Traffic Delays

A freight train rolling slowly along Alameda Street may disrupt a street car schedule in the Wilshire district and a fire near Exposition Park may cause a delay in service in Boyle Heights.

Surprising, perhaps, but nonetheless true Los Angeles Railway Operating Department officials say. Schedules are established after careful study of traffic conditions and passenger needs and are so closely coordinated for maximum efficiency that unusual blocking of key streets might cause delay.

To combat this possibility, the Operating Department maintains a staff of traffic men, supervisors and car loaders to "take up the slack." These men, chosen for their ability to unsnarl tie-ups are on constant duty. Due to them, according to officials, late schedules are very infrequent.

Certain traffic difficulties can be foreseen. These include special bargain sales in business districts, sports events and other gatherings of a great number of people. The Operating Department keeps track of these affairs and augments its schedules to conform with the anticipated need both in timing and equipment.

CONTRACTOR SUES 'SWEEPS WINNERS

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Henry H. Jefferson Negro contractor, is suing Mr and Mrs. Benjamin Mason, Irish Sweepstakes winner, for failure to award him the contract for building the low-cost housing project, in which the Masons are putting the Sweeps money. Jeffersons said the Masons had promised him the contract, then gave it to another.

NBC Praises Allen's Singers

On April 4, Gilbert Allen and his choir, the Gilbert Allen Singers were invited by Janning Pience, educational director for NBC Studios, Hollywood, to broadcast a half-hour program, a Coast to Coast, Blue network show, sponsored by the National Musical Educators Conference. In the opening announcement, the announcer said that the National Broadcasting Company and the National Music Educators of America regarded the Gilbert Allen Singers as one of the finest choirs in America.

On April 1, the Singers gave a concert at the Biltmore hotel for the National Music Educators Conference meeting.

Continue Coca Cola Boycott in S. C. Town

ROCK HILL, S. C., Apr. 18. (ANP)—Two months have passed and the estimated 55 Negro business establishments in this city are still boycotting the local Coca Cola bottling company. Their boycott began because the Coca Cola company here displaced colored labor with white.

It is understood that the plant here has been using colored help on their trucks and in the plant for a number of years but just recently it was found that white customers objected to Negro workmen delivering drinks in their business places, so the Coca Cola company gave as its reason for the displacement, the use of men who can be used both as drivers and salesmen.

Divine Broke Up Home; Takes Life

NEW YORK, April 18—The influence of Father Divine on his wife and daughter, was given as the reason for the suicide of Floyd Scheafner 43-year old WPA laborer. Scheafner's body was found five days after he had run a gas hose from the house jet to his mouth in his Harlem flat. Beside his body were two notes, one from his wife in which she said she had given up her domestic life and was "content and happy" to live in Father Divine's kingdom. The other note was from Scheafner.

Lynch Bill Broadcast Planned

Washington, D. C., April 18—A nationwide broadcast urging passage of the federal anti-lynching bill will be made Monday, April 29, by Senators Robert F. Wagner of New York, Mathew M. Neely of Virginia, and Arthur Capper of Kansas.

The broadcast has been arranged through the National Broadcasting Company over its Blue network from 10:30 to 11 p. m., eastern daylight saving time.

The three senators, who are staunch supporters of the bill, will insist that it be taken up before Congress adjourns and that it be given a chance to be voted on its merits. They will denounce in advance any attempt at a filibuster. It is their contention that the filibuster is undemocratic because it permits a very small minority of the Senate to block the will of the majority, not only of the Senate, but of the American pubic. It is expected that they will advocate the imposition of cloture (limitation of debate) in the event a filibuster should develop.

In connection with the radio broadcast Walter White, NAACP secretary issued a statement urging that listeners write or telegraph to Senator Alben W. Barkley, majority leader, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., asking him to set a definite date for the taking up of the anti-lynching bill.

FORM 'HABIT OF HAPPINESS', ELKS' DAUGHTER RULER URGES AT MEET

Address Features 23rd Anniversary Day

Program Held at Hamilton Methodist

Highlighted by the inspirational address of Mrs. Agnes Beal, daughter ruler of Hiawatha Temple No. 91, the 23rd Anniversary Day program of the Daughter Elks was held last Sunday at Hamilton Methodist church. In the impressive service, Hiawatha, a Los Angeles Temple, was joined by Hope Temple No. 523, of Santa Monica.

"Highways to Happiness" was the subject of Daughter Ruler Beal's address. She pointed out the necessity of forming a "habit of happiness," just as other habits are formed, by practice and concentration.

Acting as mistress of ceremonies, Mrs Edna Elgin presented an interesting program which included an exhibition drill by Golden West Jr. Herd No 10 and Hiawatha Drum and Bugle corps; a reading by Mary Bowdin, Poinsettia Juvenile class No. 181; a piano selection by Alice Logan of the Live Wire temple; remarks by Exalted Ruler Eugene Sorral of Golden West Lodge No. 86.

Rev. S. M. Beane, pastor of Hamilton and active figure in fraternal circles, preached the sermon. A presentation was made him by Henry L. Bukey; to the choir, by Esmilla Estell Gonzales; to the trustees by Leroy Brooks. Music was rendered by the Hamilton choir. Prayer was led by Mrs. Etta Fisher. Mrs. Geraldine Johnson, deputy of Hope Temple No. 523, introduceed the mistress of etremonies.

In her remarks, Mrs. Elgin, m. c., lauded the founders of Hiawatha Temple. The three charter members who are living, were introduced. They are: Mrs. Eliza Warner, Mrs. Alice Lester and Mrs. Inez White. Officers of the two temples are:

Hiawatha Temple No. 91: Dtrs. Agnes Beal, daughter ruler; May Fowkles, vice daughter ruler; Bertha Washington, ass't. daughter ruler; Etta L. Altha Polk, daughter ruler; Lagulia Shaw, financial secretary; Geraldine Johnson, district deputy.

The text of Dtr. Ruler Beal's address follows:

HIGHWAYS TO HAPPINESS

Happiness is very much a matter of habit. As we practice on the piano to learn to play efficiently, so must we practice the thinking of bright thoughts in order to learn to be happy. Whenever a misfortune comes to us, or a disappointment, or a tragedy to cast a shadow upon our lives, we are prone to dwell too much on the gloomy thoughts which such things arouse in our minds. No trouble is ever as bad as it seems. It becomes tremendous and unbearable because it is exaggerated by thinking. Our imaginations become magnifying glasses that enlarge trifles and make them appear to be monstrous things. To gain tranquility, to gain place, to gain success and happiness, you have to form the habit of thinking tranquil, peaceful, successful and happy thoughts. There is no doubting it, one of the finest and most constructive occupations in the world is that of thinking. Just take a sweet, joyful thought sometimes and dwell upon it and watch it grow into variations that are colorful and beautiful. There must be a theme before there can be a song written. But after the theme is established, that song can be played in a hundred different ways.

Recently, while I was in a downtown theatre, the organist used "Dixie" as the basis for about 10 minutes of entertainment. Sometimes the music was martial, sometimes sad, sometimes it was religious in its rhythm, then at times it had a light and frivolous swing. Humor ran through some of the playing, yet beneath it all, I could recognize that familiar theme, "Dixie". We are all organists in the drama of life. We can take just the tiniest good thought and with the magnifying glass of the mind, have hours and hours of happiness, dwelling upon it and rising upon it to the heights of nobility and inspirational ecstasy.

It is only a matter of habit and in order to form a habit, we must practice a thing until it has become second nature; to do it constantly until in fact, it has become a part of our personality and character.

Queer how so many people will dwell upon the bad conditions in life until all their days are blighted by unhappiness. And so few are wise enough to magnify even the tiniest ray of sunshine until their days are made bright with success and happiness. No one can ever be completely lost. Into the lives of all, fall a few sunbeams. And even though there is but one feeble beam, it can be used to build a light that cast darkness out of all the hours of life. Why cling to sorrow? As long as there is life, there is reason for joy, and even though that reason be small, it can be magnified, just as reasons for sorrow are. The joy will quite overbalance the misery. If the people would just give this tho't a bit of consideration, there could be much more happiness in the world today. It's only a matter of selecting a correct method to cling to. Just of a simple process of eliminating all that is not conducive to mental well being, replacing such thoughts with those which bring happiness. The stars shine over the heads of all yours all well as mine. The sunsets are not mine alone. They also belong to you. This world is full of sunshine for those that will lift up their heads and look. It is well to remember that if you form the habit of happy thinking, then surely all the highways of your life will be highways of happiness.

Evelyn Spiller to Sing in Musical Probe of SRA

State, County and Municipal Workers of America today announced the addition of Miss Evelyn Spiller, blues singer, to the cast of their forthcoming musical investigation of SRA, "What a Relief." Miss Spiller, prominent local singer, will sing two numbers: "I Can't Give You Any ERO's" (ERO's are emergency relief orders for clients vitally in need of food, clothing, housing or medical care) and "Fit To Be Tied."

"We are indeed fortunate in securing the talent of Miss Spiller," stated the revue director. "Her singing will enhance an already musical and entertaining performance."

SCMWA announces that it intends to bring out in its investigation the facts about S.R.A. "so scrupulously avoided by the current reactionary-stacked investigating committees."

"The revue will show the tie-up between the Associated Farmers' hatred of the SRA and their desire to pay less than subsistence wages to agricultural labor, inefficiency in the offices of high-salaried political appointees of the SRA, the abandoning of the self-help cooperative program and the elaborate hierarchy which has been set up by SRA Administrator Walter Chambers to avoid meeting with SCMWA and representatives of relief-client organizations while rank and file employes are laid off en masse throughout the State and relief-clients are faced with eviction, malnutrition and complete lack of medical care," publicity released for the show said.

The musical investigation will be held Saturday and Sunday nights at 8:15 p. m. at the Beaux Arts Theatre, 8th and Beacon.

Stage-Screen-Radio

The first World Premiere in the history of New York's Harlem, staged in typical Hollywood extravagant style is planned by Paramount for "Buck Benny Rides Again", the new Jack Benny starring film in which EDDIE (ROCHESTER) ANDERSON (above) plays an important featured role. "Hollywood Goes to Harlem" is the slogan adopted by Paramount which intends to focus the eyes and ears of the world on Harlem for the unveiling of the film at Loew's Victoria Theatre on Tuesday evening, April 23. A special 2-hour NBC coast-to-coast broadcast is also planned.

'Mr. Washington Goes to Town' Very, Very Good

BY LAWRENCE F. LAMAR

At last Hollywood seems to have arrived at the business of producing all-sepia flickers, bearing some degree of screen merit. The writer comes to this conclusion after viewing the screening of one of the latest productions, at a press preview at the Lincoln Theatre Thursday night of "Mr. Washington Goes to Town."

The film, "Mr. Washington Goes to Town," is very, very very, very good. That should equal four stars in anybody's country. The screen story is by Walter Weems, taken from the original story by the same author. Weems, it will be remembered, was the author of "Hearts in Dixie," feature length picture produced some years ago by the Fox Film company, with such notables as Stepin Fetchit, Clarence Muse, Zack Williams and Rex Ingram.

Jed Buell, in bringing Weems' story to the screen, apparently has spared no expense in harnessing a creditable brace of actors. The excellent comics, F. E. Miller (he was with the late Lyles) and Mantan (Moreland), turn in a most hilarious and uproarous evening of entertainment.

DREAM TROUBLE

Add to thisc fact, that the film is well edited, in sound and action, the sets well lighted and the photography tops, and there you have a filmisical that is quite up to snuff. Most of the action takes place in a hotel. The plot revolves around a dream troubled man (Mantan) whose journeying journeyings while dreaming, along his pal (Miller), takes him on wild comical flights thruout the place. As such, Mantan is cast as Schenectady, a bellhop, and Miller as Wallingford, the clerk.

A lawyer, played by Charlie Hawkins, tells the comics that an uncle of Schenectady's has bequeathed him title to the hotel. A mortgage is all that stands in the way of taking it over. The mortgage is held by Brutus, played by Maceo B. Sheffield, who also wants to gain possession of the hotel. Into the setting move other characters, including a magician (Johnny Taylor), a gorilla (Clarence Morehouse), a Mexican knife thrower (Monte Hawley), two headless men, short (DeForrest Covan) and tall (John Lester Johnson).

Others in the cast of the Jed Buell production made under the label of Dixie National Pictures, Inc., include Arthur Ray, Margurete Whitten, Zoretta Steptoe, Florence O'Brien, Vernon McCalla, Edward Boyd, Clarence Hargrave, Waler Knos, Geraldine Whitfield, Sammy Warren, Nathan Curry, Slicum Garrison and Henry Hastings. Maceo Sheffield is also credited as an associate producer and Harvey Brooks with directing the music.

Evelyn Burwell in Operetta

Evelyn Pope Burwell, stage and screen actress-singer, has been assigned the role of Rose aL France, a music student in an Italian city, in the forthcoming operetta, "Milan In May," to have its opening at the Trouper's Theatre in Hollywood, April 22. Miss Burwell is the only Negro in the cast.

The talented actress will sing two numbers, one especially written for her. Miss Burwell came to the coast several years ago at the head of Eva Jesse's chorus, which she directed for the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture "Hallelujah." She has also assisted in the direction of Hall Johnson's famed choral group.

Leg Broken in Film Fight Scene

Acting became reality on sound stage No. 1 at the Sunset Studio of Million Dollar Productions Monday night of last week during the filming of Kenny Washington's first starring vehicle "Gridiron Graft." Participants in a free-for-all, fight sequence forgot to "pull" their punches. As a result, Joe Fluellan, 30, of 1917 S. Central avenue, is confined to the hospital with a broken ankle, and numerous cuts and bruises. Others of the half dozen actors had to be treated for scratched legs, and hands, swollen eyes and other damages.

Hampton Plays for Students

Lionel Hampton, popular member of the Benny Goodman band, was a surprise guest at Los Angeles City College last Thursday, taking part in the all-colored revue presented to the students.

Assisted by the King Cole Swing Trio, Hampton performed on the vibraharp, the drums and the piano.

Master of ceremonies was Eddie Lynn. Other artists were: the George Brown orchestra, the Bilbrew Twins, duet, Janis Quon, blues singer.

DUKE ELLINGTON TO PLAY AT ORPHEUM THEATRE WEDNESDAY

Ivie Anderson to Head All-Star Stage Show at Downtown Movie House

Duke Ellington, whose playing at the famous Cotton Club in New York won him the title of "Harlem's Aristocrat of Jazz", will be the stage attraction at the Orpheum Theater for one week only starting April 24.

Made popular by radio, Duke and his musicians have created a sensation in theaters from coast to coast as well as in Europe. They have been featured in a Ziegfield show, in many motion pictures and of course on phonograph records.

Duke and his boys have an instinctive feeling for jazz rhythmn and broken tempos, and they have the reputation of doing the most inconceivable things to the most trivial of melodies.

Ellingon's unique arrangements have created a definite new style in dance melody, and his men are masters of the intricacies of hot jazz and syncopations. His particular brand of music is loved by almost everyone and during his engagement at the Orpheum, Duke promises some brand new arrangements never played before. An all star stage presentation headed by Ivie Anderson, will be seen in conjunction with Duke Ellington and his famous orchestra.

Hall Johnson's choir is nationally known and has been acclaimed as one of the foremost musical organizations in this country. The ensemble consists of perfect singers imbued with the tender and wild ectasy of the Negro traditional music.

Hall Johnson's name and fame as conductor and composer is nationwide .As a conductor, he has been called a veritable mesmerizer, his weird thin fingers beckoning his singers on one minute, and pressing them back in another. Call Girl, 20, Movie 'Find'

Even though her bit in Million Dollar Production's new football picture, starring Kenny Washington was small, critics who watched her work, were impressed with the talent revealed by Joan Douglas. She ran second to Jeni LeGon in the recently completed contest for leading lady to the noted grid star.

Twenty years of age, with pretty brown complexion, a shapely figure, and expressive eyes and features, Miss Douglas has also had dramatic training at Oklahoma City High school, Langston University and in "Little Theatre" movements. She is being considered for the daughter of Louise Beavers in Million Dollar Production's next feature, now being written by Jos. O'Donnel.

Golden State Agents Seek to Underwrite 'Household Disaster' in A. & H. Campaign

Representatives of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance company with hundreds of other agents will enter the national campaign to increase personal protection Monday, April 22, the beginning of national Accident and Health Week which lasts through April 27.

Everywhere, prospects and men of the street are asking the meaning of the "68" buttons and teaser ads which are a part of the campaign; and representatives are ready with statistics: "68 persons in the United States are laid up every minute by sickness and accident—51 by sickness and 17 by accident".

Sickness and accidents as breeders of "household disaster" is the description given by the United States Public Health Service in its Interdepartmental Committee's findings. Many of the persons who are victims of accidents are without insurance. It is to lessen the calamity in homes in times of unexpected disability that Golden State Mutual participates in the sixth annual observance of the Accident and Health Week sponsored by the National Accident and Health Association.

Statistics released by the American Medical Association show that nearly half the cases in accredited hospitals are not able to pay their bills, it was pointed out by company repreesentatives and managers. Attention is also called to the fact that people living on limited incomes are those most in need of insurance and those of higher income levels are most obligated to insure themselves and dependents in order to maintain their living standards.

More than a score of Golden State Mutual agents won honors in last year's campaign, and those, with others, are concentrating on breaking their own and established records in bringing more protection to more people. According to available statistics, Golden State Mutual is the only Negro company that participates annually in the campaign; furthermore, it is the only Negro company licensed to sell Accident and Health insurance in California and Illinois.

Yard Goods a Fifth Street Store Specialty

Each of us can do some one thing better than almost everybody else. We all have some special talent, no matter how small . . . and if we're smart, we've developed that talent.

That goes for business, too. Take Fifth Street store, for instance. There's a lot of competition in the department store business, but there's at least one service offered by Fifth Street, in which the other stores cannot begin to compete.

Fifth Street is the place to buy Yard Goods!

Frankly, we don't know how they do it. But Fifth Street always manages to keep ahead of the other stores in quality and quantity of selection in Yard Goods . . . in models . . . patterns . . . in REASONABLE PRICES . . . and the last mentioned might apply to all Fifth Street service. It's Reasonably Priced.

What about your back yard? If your backyard is neglected, a desert kept in the background of your home, call in a West Pico salesman and let him offer you expert advice on how to make your backyard a play spot! . . . better than the average play spot, because it's private . . . for you and yours alone!

Salesmen for the Central avenue store of the West Pico Furniture Co. can show you how to do it. Give them a trial!

What Goes on at Camp Minnewawa

BY W. A. PAYNE, II

There are four definite departments involved in the CCC life; the War Department, the Technical Service (Forestry), the Selecting Agencies and the Educational Department. In this, the first of this series, let us consider the Technical Service and what it offers the enrollees.

Primarily, the Civilian Conservation Corps was, and is established, "To Build Men To Build Forests." When we think of the CCC we usually think of fire suppression, but fire suppression is only a small part of camp life. In order to put out a fire one must first be able to get to the burning section with safety. Therefore, let us start with road construction.

Part of the winter months are spent in building what are known in the CCC as truck trails.

Truck trails are, in actuality, unpaved roads. There are many in mountains and forests, built by CCC enrollees and maintained by our respective counties. The work on these roads, by the boys is identical to the work done by any road construction contractor.

STAKE ROUTE

After right of ways have been secured and approved by the government and property owner, the enrolles are taught to survey and stake the best route. After which comes the actual cutting and grading the proposed road. Naturally working in mountainous areas construction crews run into rocks and boulders. These are drilled, blasted and shoved over the side. This necessitates the training of jack hammer operators for drilling powder men to handle the dynamite and cat operators to handle the heavy equipment. This equipment costs thousands of dollars. After the rocks, etc., are taken off the road must be graded and sloped. The sloping is done by hand. That is, the sides of the mountains are sloped at such an angle that only an act of God can cause it to slide down onto the road bed. The entire work of road construction is done by enrollees, supervised by trained and capable foremen.

In the Forestry office, enrollees are trained to take care of records and other clerical work, and too, they are taught drafting and mechanical drawing. All roads, truck trails or projects on which CCC enrollees are used must be drafted and filed for reference. Naturally, this is very exacting as well as technical; but because of the care used in selecting the Forestry personnel, it is possible for the enrollees to learn and carry on this type of work.

In the case of the Negro youth, the CCC has opened a new field or vocation to the Negro. Forestry Service.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS WPSC UNIT HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Frederick Douglass unit of the WPSC, held its regular meeting, with the president, Echo Stanton Robinson, presiding. The meeting opened with the reading of the council minutes and the usual round table discussion.

Mrs. Riley gave a very interesting summary of the Republican luncheon held Mar. 29 at the Wilshire Bowl, after which Councilman Carl C. Rasmussen gave an address on Housing in the 7th District and threw a bit of light on questions concerning the housing project.

The Youth Inner Circle raffled a barrel of groceries, won by Mrs. Springer. Plans are being made by the Youth Inner Circle for their Spring Promenade, "Dream of Love," to be held June 9.

Summer Keeps Benton's Busy

Summer is our dish!

That's what the boys on the motorcycles down at Benton's Drug store say. They like summer because you like Benton's in the summer, and your calls to AD. 7177 keep them whizzing through the street, day and night.

Benton's gives employment to more young Negroes than any other independent drug business on the Avenue. That's at least one good reason why you should patronize them!

Expert Lauds Ford Safety Features

Approval of the big hydraulic brakes on all 1940 Ford cars as a major safety factor is voiced by Barney Oldfield, internationally famous one-time king of American racing drivers, now a leading exponent of traffic safety measures. Oldfield points to the large brake drums on a new Ford convertible club coupe in the picture above. This model, as well as all other 1940 Fords, has 12-inch brake drums, largest used on any car in the low-price field.

GWTW Leaves Fashion Note

NEW ORLEANS, April 11—The motion picture, "Gone With the Wind," left Rampart street, this city's main artery of Negro life, with a new style in sartorial splendor. Modeled after the suits worn by Clark Gable as Rhett Butler in the film, Rampart street "shieks" are wearing suits which they have called after the famous film.

In light colors for the most part, the coats are 36 inches long, striking the wearer less than six inches above the knee. At the knee the pants are 27 inches in diameter and at the cuff, 18.

• LIBRARY BOOK NOTES

Vernon Branch Public Library
4504 S. Central Avenue

The Vernon Branch library continues to receive books of general interest each week. Among those recently on display, we feel sure you will enjoy "Since Yesterday" by Frederick Allen. All those who chuckled or were horrified over the story of the fabulous 1920's in "Only Yesterday" will have an opportunity to react in a similar manner to this tale of the "threadbare thirties." How many readers remember the strange things which have gone on during those ten years? How many remember "bathtub gin" and the crime wave, miniature golf and free wheeling, the Lindbergh kidnap case and the blue eagle? Perhaps we all remember them, but only as things that happened long long ago. Yet it was only yesterday that dust sank in a black pall over our prairies, that "Tobacco Road" began its run, that the Dionne quintuplets were born. Although this book may induce considerable nostalgia, it also has the power to provoke plenty of laughs, and if you men want something to hold over your wives' heads just turn to the pictures of what the well-dressed young woman was wearing in 1930.

ON CHINA

One of the most delightful of recent travel books is Graham Peck's "Through China's Wall". Mr. Peck is an amiable ambler who wanders at leisure through some of the cities and a great deal of the back country of China, making sketches which have a flavor all their own, and collecting anecdotes which compare favorably with those of the finest ranconteurs of history. Mr. Peck's easy wanderings will greatly enrich travel literature and we are delighted to be able to present him to you.

For the person who likes to relax with a thriller, Elspeth Huxley's "African Poison Murders" is another exciting mystery featuring Vachell, the hard-headed Chief of the C. I. D. who has figured in the author's earlier African stories. In this one, evil and sinister forces of a pathological nature are at work, and though none is upset when the leader of the local Nazi Bund is killed, the death of a more popular member of the community causes quite a stir. Aside from the dangerous things which happen to him, Vachell falls in love, introducing a new note. This author's books are specially recommended because of the authenticity of the African background.

American Exodus" by Dorothea Lange, tells the dramatic story of the 20th Century migration of farmers driven by the forces of man and nature to seek in the West, land that is no longer free.

Your Smile

BY LEROY LAWS

Your smile is a smile to me,
And not a thing skin deep.
No matter where you may be
The memories one will keep.

A smile that gives treasures
That are wonderful to hold,
It brings more in pleasures
Than pockets full o'gold.

You are the same Betty
I knew in my school days,
Your same smile isn't petty
It hasn't changed its ways.

Your smile will make sad days
Bright and full of life.
Keep smiling and you'll amaze
It will make pleasure out of strife. . . .

Williams Addresses Tenn. A. & I. Faculty and Students

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) April 11—Paul R. Williams, noted architect of Los Angeles, as week-end guest of President and Mrs. W. J. Hale, Texas A & I college, in an address to the faculty and students on April 5, brought a practical message on community, property and home betterment as it relates to the Negro individually and collectively.

"The grandest feeling I have in visiting any city is when Negro sections are not pointed out by the usual signs attributed to them," was the statement made by Williams in declaring that more attention should be given to improvement of property, thru simple means of cleaning and planning.

Williams' outstanding achievement in the field of achitecture includes plans and designs for many of the most outstanding personages in California. As a consultant for the Housing Commission, he is en route to Washington, D. C., where he will engage in a series of conferences.

A reception, to which faculty, senior students and Nashville friends were invited, was given in honor of Williams in "Goodwill Manor," the residence of President and Mrs. Hale, on Friday evening.

Accompanying the eminent architect was James E. LuValle, once one of the greatest quarter milers, having won the 440 at the Olympic meet in Berlin in 1936.

Singer Triumphs in Chi Debut

CHICAGO, April 11. (ANP)—With a voice described by Chicago critics as "misty and soft one minute and as brilliant as sunlight the next," Dorothy Maynor, 29-year old soprano, made a successful debut here Sunday afternoon. Singing a varied program of arias from Handel, Mozart, Weber, Bizet, and Charpentier, Miss Maynor charmed her audience with an extremely musical voice of dynamic range as well as with the modesty of her demeanor.

Miss Maynor, who first attracted attention when Serge Koussevitzy, conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, auditioned her and pronounced here a "native Flagstad," appeared at Orchestra hall, with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, under the direction of Frederick Stock, noted conductor.

CALEXICO CHURCH IS SCENE OF REVIVAL

CALEXICO, (By Pearl Herron)—Evangeline L. Casson and the gospel singer, Liska J. Moss, are running a revival in Calexico at the AME Church. Started last Thursday night, a very inspiring message, "A Cry for Life," was presented Friday night .On Saturday night the church gave an entertainment in the two leaders' honor. Sunday morning Evangeilst Casson was heard in a sermon from the subject, "Have You Got a Scar," and in the afternoon in a discourse on Negro musicians, "The Musical World". She preached again in the evening and Mrs. Moss sang at all three services. Presiding Elder of the sister church of this city, and his congregation, were all present.

Friends of little Miss Louise Thomas regret her departure from the city. She left Sunday afternoon for San Antonio, Tex., where she will live with her sister. She was accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law.

Do You Know Your Lemon Garnish?

By BETTY BARCLAY

Do you make the most of lemon to bring out flavor in other foods? A plate of lemon quarters may very well take its place on the table along with the salt and pepper shaker, for in any meal there is always some food the flavor of which can be enhanced by lemon. It is well, therefore, to see that the family shopping list always provides an ample supply of this fruit.

Lemon quarters or sixths are suggested because they are most practical for juice. With a sharp knife, cut a lemon lengthwise in four or six pieces. These lemon pieces may be squeezed without getting juice on the fingers. They are decorative additions to the foods they accompany, as are lemon slices, plain or cut in fancy shapes. To heighten decorative effect, the lemon may itself be garnished with chopped mint, pimiento strips and parsley.

The lemon garnishes pictured are easily copied with the use of a sharp knife or scissors. They are used to decorate and provide flavor for an appetizing plate of asparagus, summer squash, beets, corn and sardines.

Here are some other suggestions for food combinations that may very well include lemon garnishes.

Lemon with Tea: The custom of serving lemon with tea has grown and many guests now prefer lemon with this beverage, so the thoughtful hostess will always include a plate of lemon slices and quarters. Cloves may be inserted in the lemon for a decorative touch. Iced tea, in particular, calls for generous additions of lemon.

Lemon with Other Fruits: The juice of half a lemon adds a tang to the morning glass of orange juice. Quarters of lemon cut lengthwise give keener flavor as accompaniments for such fruit cocktails as tomato, pineapple and prune juice. Lemon does something, too, for stewed prunes, apricots, peaches, pears and apple, both dried and fresh, and there's nothing like lemon juice to bring out the full flavor of melon or provide just the right dressing for avocado.

Lemon with Fish: Lemon's affinity for fish and shell fish is well known. Oysters or clams on the half shell; seafood cocktails of all kinds; baked, broiled or fried fish gain by lemon juice, which may be provided in decorative lemon wedges or quarters. Canned salmon, sardines or tuna should be garnished with greens and a generous supply of lemon quarters. Again — and this is a trick worth knowing — sprinkle a bit of lemon juice on canned salmon or tuna before creaming or scalloping.

Lemon with Vegetables: Whether you eat spinach for duty or pleasure, lemon juice makes the eating more enjoyable. Other greens and many vegetables are improved by lemon juice. Here's a chance to do a bit of experimenting for yourself. See what lemon juice does for each. You'll make many pleasant discoveries.

Lemon Garnish for Soups: Novel but good is the idea of a lemon garnish for soups. Float a slice of lemon on each bowl, the next time you serve bouillon or consommé. Decorative and good, too, on bean or lentil soup and such cream soups as tomato, asparagus, spinach or green pea. Lemon is especially good with iced or jellied consommé.

Lemon with the Breakfast Waffle: From England comes this surprisingly good but novel lemon use. Sprinkle waffles or pancakes with sugar and follow with a generous squeeze of lemon juice. You'll never believe how good this is until you try it.

Schedules + Operating

THEIR JOB seems easy—"to take you there and bring you back"—but to do this for each one of our million daily customers, our operating department needs thousands of eyes and hands.

Continually changing traffic trends means that new schedules must be drafted so that service will be "on tap" where and when needed.

From division superintendents, supervisors, and traffic checkers in all parts of the city come hourly reports on car and coach service, to be dissected and analyzed by the office of the Manager of Operations.

And from the information thus assembled, dispatchers, leaders, and other specialists in the operating game are able to maintain schedules by which passengers are borne across this far-reaching city of ours on steel and rubber, by electricity and gasoline, safely, quickly, comfortably and inexpensively.

BEAUTY AND ROMANCE
SPONSORED BY LARIEUSE BEAUTY FOUNDATION

The Larieuse Beauty Foundation was established by the Godefroy Manufacturing Company to study methods of preserving women's natural beauty, and to make the results of this research available to the public.

Ever since the first breath of spring has been in the air, I have been receiving letters asking how to have a clear smooth skin for spring and summer. What few of you seem to realize is that a beautiful skin starts from within. You must get yourselves in good physical condition if you hope to glow with youth and beauty and springtime freshness.

Get More Sleep and Exercise

The first step in getting ready for spring and summer is to work out a balanced routine of sleep, exercise and diet. If you have been burning the candle at both ends, you are probably paying for it now with dull, lusterless eyes and sallow skin. Remember that eight hours' sleep every night is more effective than any beauty treatment. And if you have difficulty getting to sleep early, the solution is right at hand. You probably need more outdoor exercise that will leave you pleasantly relaxed and healthfully tired at the end of the day. A brisk walk, say to and from work, or, if you are a lady of leisure, the early part of these sunny afternoons, is one of the best forms of exercise for all around reconditioning. Don't feel, however, that you can give up your special indoor exercises. Select the ones that do you the most good according to your individual requirements and stick to them.

Eat Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

And watch your diet. Throughout the winter you have doubtless been eating more than your quota of heavy starch foods. Now that spring is here, there is an abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables on the market. Why not try eating a spring salad for lunch instead of sandwiches or meat and potatoes? You'll find it just as sustaining and a great deal better for your health. And be sure you have a substantial helping of green vegetables for dinner, and a few less potatoes and bread. And drink lots of water—at least eight glasses daily. Plenty of water will help purify your entire system.

Select Make-Up With Care

After you have taken care of these fundamental rules, start on your skin. As I have told you so often before, it is important that you cleanse your face at least twice a day, either with soap and warm water, or a good cream, depending on the texture of your skin. A good skin tonic which has an astringent effect is a great help in toning up the skin after cleansing. If your skin is inclined to be dry, a rich night cream is a boon in helping smooth and soothe and in discouraging tiny lines and wrinkles.

In selecting your make-up for spring, choose shades that will not only blend well with your natural coloring but also with your new spring wardrobe. Never buy cosmetics by the hit-or-miss method. Weigh them all carefully and don't buy until you are satisfied that the shades you select blend perfectly with your individual skin tones. It may take a little longer but it is really fun and is well worth the time.

I hope this answers the questions of those of you who have been wondering but haven't got around to writing me personally. Follow these simple suggestions, and here's to an exciting spring and a glamorous summer.

What are your beauty problems? Write Marie Downing, Larieuse Beauty Foundation, Room 521—319 North Fourth St., St. Louis, Mo., and she will be glad to answer them. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

That New Orleans Trio

For the past several months three boxers—all from New Orleans—have been showing their wares at the Olympic auditorium and, all in all, have satisfied the cash customers no end.

We refer to Richard Polite, Jimmy Brooks and Johnny Jackson.

Polite is probably the best known, having shown more often. Wee Jackson is the current sensation of the three. His one-round kayo of Miller Fonseca a few weeks back was a classic. Fonseca, ring-wise and tough veteran that he is, was scheduled to prove quite a test for the southern boy.

A few more fights under the belt of Brooks may elevate him to the level of his home-town mates—Jackson and Polite.

Weekend Showcase

Next Tuesday night at the Olympic, matchmaker Jimmy Murray's card features a London-born Negro heavyweight, Tommy "Strike Me Pink" Martin. He meets the hard-hitting, although fragile-chinned, Bob Nestell.

The handsome Englishman not only speaks the REAL English but on occasions sports a monocle. It is claimed that he has never been knocked off his pins, let alone put to sleep by a punch that ricocheted off his chin.

Just how true those claims are may be determined to some extent next week because Nestell carries gloved dynamite in his right mitt and is capable of "striking me pink". In his last appearance at the downtown swatatorium, he bounced "Blimp" Williams on the canvas so often it was believed that something had rubber in it—and it wasn't the canvas.

Shorts in Sports:

They are raving in the East about a Boston university sophomore, Charlie "Chuck" Thomas of Dayton, Ohio. Thomas apparently compares with UCLA's Jackie Robinson as an extraordinary athlete. "Staked" by the citizens of Dayton so that he might attend Boston U., Thomas captained the basketball team, starred in football, and batted .348 on the baseball team. All of this was in his freshman year.

As a sophomore, Thomas has won letters in basketball as a guard, football as a halfback and is now seeking a letter in baseball as a shortstop, the same position held down by Robinson for the Bruins.

Weighing but 150 pounds, Thomas, in the opinion of experts, will be the fastest thing in eastern football next season. He is a star ball carrier and pass receiver but excels as a passer.

Emil Von Elling, New York University track coach, said in New York recently that he was more than sure Negro athletes would have dominated the Olympic Games picture had the Games been held in Finland as scheduled.

Pooh-poohing claims that Negro athletes have something in their blood corpuscles that makes them superior to other runners, Von Elling said:

"Take this summer for instance. If 57 assorted varieties of miracles should enable Finland to hold the Olympics, bet your last dime that our Negroes would monopolize the track picture even more than in 1936.

"There's Mozell Ellerbe, Herb Thompson, Pitt's Bill Carter, Penn State's Norwood Ewell, and five or six other Negroes who can hammer the daylights out of our current dash field. (We wouldn't discount the efforts of Stanford's captain Clyde Jeffrey. —J.C.F.) Ewell, double winner in the IC4A's, can broadjump, too.

"Tuft's Ed Dugger can give Allan Tolmich a real rub in the hurdles. Herbert (that's Jimmy, of NYU) here just notched up a double record at Dartmouth with his 47.9 and 48.4 in the 400 meters and 440 yards, respectively.

"John Woodruff, 1936 Olympic 800-meters champ, would be a cinch bet to repeat at Helsinki. His 1:47 flat in that heat at Dartmouth and his 1:47.7 for the 880 yards is terrific. And John Borican has knocked down the indoor three-quarter mile mark to 3:10.2.

"I don't think chemistry has anything to do with it. Those boys realize that they're given an absolutely even break in track. Where can they get that in any other sport? Fighting, perhaps, but a Negro has to be awfully good to get any break in that game.

"Another thing. Legs make a track man. Your Negro athlete uses shoe-leather to get places. The white youngster thinks it's beneath him to walk. Why a car means almost as much to him as his right arm. In track, at least, many of our white runners are getting soft."

Crouch Regains Prestige; K. O.'s Ybarra in Six Heats

Definitely regaining his lost prestige, Georgie Crouch, outstanding lightweight contender, scored a sixth round technical knockout Tuesday night at the Olympic auditorium over Joe Ybarra, Oakland Mexican.

Crouch landed a long right cross following a clinch that sent Ybarra to the canvas. Up at the count of 9, Ybarra ran into a hail of leather and referee Reggie Gilmore stopped it.

The end came in 1:62 of the sixth heat.

Ybarra, a few weeks ago, went 10 bristling stanzas with knockout artist Jackie Wilson, and ruled a slight favorite in his bout with Crouch.

In the six-round preliminary, Carlos Miranda easily decisioned Bobby Espinosa. Four-round results: Dub Bowem nodded Eddie Rivers; Tony Navorro and Clyde Alexander fought each other to a standstill; Nat Corum outpointed Nash Diaz, and in the curtain raiser, Carmen Georgino decisioned Morrie Renee.

DEFENSIVE BIDDING
The Informative Double

The Philosophy of the Cards upon which the Winslow System is founded recognizes no superior or inferior suits; this ranking is arbitrary. The Natural value of the cards gives to the Ace of Clubs the same force as it gives to the Ace of Spades.

From California: "To us the other systems seem absolutely stupid after learning to bid "Winslow Way".

When Second or Fourth Hand holds 4 Naturals their call is "Double". This conveys to partner the information that if the opponent had not opened I would have opened". There are consequently but 4 Naturals left for distribution in the other two hands, and the competitive bidding is sharp.

Naturals in Second hand-4.

Martin Tops Local Ring Card

English Heavy to Box Bob Nestell Tuesday at Olympic

A real freak of the ring makes his debut at Olympic next Tuesday night when Tommy "Strike Me Pink" Martin, London-born Negro heavyweight, faces slugging Bob Nestell in the ten round main event.

Martin has an accent thicker than "Lord Haw-Haw," wears a monocle on state occasions, and convulses the boys at Nat Rosner's Main Street Gym with his dialect.

Martin is under the management of Johnny Rodgers and Tommy Farmer. The latter is chief aide to Eddie Meade, manager of Henry Armstrong.

The heavyweight, from across the Atlantic yearns to fight Junior Munsell, whom he calls that "red Indian"—and Martin has been promised the match if he disposes of Nestell Tuesday night.

Though Nestell has been knocked out rather frequently in local rings, he is still the hardest hitting right hand socker in the game. Martin, however, has never been knocked out—or even knocked off his feet. If he can stand up against one of Nestell's whistling right crosses, he can be tabbed for future reference.

Martin is sparring daily at the Main Street Club, starting at 1:30 p. m.

On the card Tuesday night, Johnny Jackson meets Bobby Padgo in the six-round semi-windup.

NEWS VIEWS

By HARRY MORGAN

I see where the Treasury Department has started a "Know your Money" campaign. In recent years many people have been complaining that they haven't been able to keep their money long enough to recognize it--let alone know it. However, the Treasury Campaign is against "phony" money. This money is like a bad egg—it looks good until you try to break it. Lecturers are going around schools and clubs to tell all about the difference between counterfeit and real money. Now that people are learning what real money is, all they want to know is "How to get it?"

An Iowa driving instructor says husbands don't make good driving teachers for their own wives. Wives have been saying the same thing for years.

When you buy whiskey, gin or other liquors come to Harry Morgan and let me show you how to get your money's worth. You won't be mislead by trick cut-rate "bargains"--you'll know what you're buying. I pride myself on thorough knowledge of the liquor business and try to give my customers more for their money. The House of Morgan, 2729 Central Ave.

Watch Politics!

rite HEAD .....

The theory of WPA and other federal work projects was at first bitterly assailed by those whom American public sentiment has learned to label "reactionary forces".

It is useles to suppose that the Republican party was not included, if not particularly indicated, in this category. Ever since the first ill-considered squawks of Republican "reactionary forces" in 1933, the party has been under a cloud,--a cloud which only now is beginning to fade.

Today, Republicans who deny the common sense of giving unemployed persons work at government expense are few and far between. It is a fact that the rank and file of the party never seriously objected. However, skillful publicity experts of the administration have been careful to preserve the notion that Republicans are black enemies of the unemployed generally, and the WPA, in particular.

But it is gratifying to note that thinking voters no longer depend exclusively upon the contentions of neighborhood Farleys. They are beginning to perceive that the Republican platform is not the hated thing F. D. R. would paint it. Substantially, fundamentally, it embodies the same broad ideas of social and economic reform of which the New Deal once boasted.

If then, the fundamental doctrines of both parties are not opposed, why, you ask, change administrations? It is a good question; and, fortunately, the answer is simple. The present administration has sabotaged its own high sounding principles. The entire New Deal idea has bogged down in a swamp of petty politics that spreads its vicious tentacles from the Capital of the United States to every hamlet in the nation.

If these are drastic statements, they herald drastic conditions. It is a fact that WPA administration is rotten to the core. In our own community, workers on several projects stand in fear of their daily bread because of the influence of petty politicians with pull". Others have found unneeded employment through proper manipulation of the same individuals. These things are known to be true. If you doubt them, ask a neighbor who works in some branch of the WPA.

Minor street demagogues who have lived on political pay-offs for years have been rewarded for nondescript services to the administration by positions of responsibility in the WPA set-up. Tragic effect of all this is that WPA administration, needful always of the most expert and highly specialized workers, is manned by a clique of untrained ward-heelers.

Fear of losing that precious job has sealed the mouths of thousands in Los Angeles alone who might make stirring revelations of inner WPA maneuvering. If ever any U. S. government agency was so honeycombed with spying politics, it has not been recorded by any historian.

The present administration has installed itself securely in all important berths of project control—positions that should legitimately be open to all American citizens. The public cannot allow further consolidation of such a venomous political machine. Many citizens do not realize how dangerously close WPA administration parallels actual fascistic systems now in practice in Italy.

At no time in the past 50 years has there been so vital a necessity for the very survival of democratic processes.

There is no need in pretending that Republicans are cherubic individuals on the verge of sprouting wings.

But once the current vicious Relief and WPA machines are ousted, the American public will never allow a repetition of the situation. A change of administration is the only broom that can sweep out the cobwebs of corruption that have polluted every corner of our government in the last seven years.

Portions of the 1940 Republican platform that should be of interest to Negro voters in particular are those sections which denounce Negro disenfranchisement in the South. It is certainly true that the Republicans were in power for over forty years previously without making effective efforts at remedying this evil. However, during that period, they had never been threatened with a mass revolt of black voters. The stampede to the democratic standard in 1932 by colored citizens taught the Republican party the most important political lesson of the decade. Promises to Negroes can no longer be forgotten and pigeonholed.

On every issue of striking importance to the Negro, New Deal politicians have compromised. The most flaring example of this legislative double-cross to the millions of black democratic voters was the differential battle over the Wages and Hours Bill. Southern senators--democrats all--argued long and loud over the fact that Mr. Wagner's measure allowed the South no lower standards. It was pointed out that the cost of living South of the Mason-Dixon line is so much lower than that above it that a blanket standard would be unfair to southern employers. The fact that this standard itself is several notches below ordinary decency wasn't stressed. In effect, then, this was the argument. In truth, southern senators simply wished to have the right to establish "differential boards" for the purpose of discriminating against Negroes. What happened? They got them, and Negroes in the South have not yet felt a benefit from this loudly touted "liberal" legislation.

Dewey's Coming

Thomas E. Dewey, crusading New York D. A. fresh from presidential victories in Middle Western primaries, will appear in Los Angeles April 20th at Hollywood Bowl.

Under the auspices of the California Republican Assembly, Dewey is scheduled to make a dramatic plea to California voters.

Traffic cops are already worried over the tremendous snarl expected on the Evening of the Twentieth.

BIG LITTLE BUSINESS

The small businessman—a very deceptive name!—is out in earnest to capture his rightful share of attention on the national scene.

He has stood patiently by while government has given its millions and billions for agriculture, for a rejuvenated merchant marine, for railroads, air transport, and housing. If America's small businesses are organizing to make themselves heard and this week forming a permanent council to speak for them in Washington, D. C., it is only because the nation's small businesses are really a big business. They want attention befitting their importance.

The National Advisory Council of Independent Small Business asserts, in fact, that 98 per cent of all business enterprises are small businesses. Be that as it may, government reports declare that 78 per cent of all retail sales in the country are rung up on the cash registers of the independent merchant, and in a nation that offers at least $25 billion yearly in available retail trade, that's no mean sum.

THE POCKETBOOK of KNOWLEDGE

OTHER PAPERS SAY

"Free Advertising"

From The Gary (Ind.) American

Honestly conducted newspapers rely upon the sale of space in their advertising columns for revenue with which to keep their enterprises in operation, and to earn any profit there might be in the business. In return for the money so collected, they disseminate news and information to the general public.

News is information concerning something of general interest to the public, from which no person or enterprise is expected to profit from a financial standpoint by its publication. Any other type of publicity is advertising and nothing less. It is evident, however many people are not able to distinguish between news and advertising, or they are of the chiseler type who are always trying to get something for nothing.

Every week we get reams of matter labeled "news" which is nothing but advertising, and frankly so, in the text. The persons who mail this matter to us seem to think that it ought to be published free of charge because of the "tremendous news value" to our readers. None of them so much as think of buying space to advertise the product which their articles tend to boost.

During recent weeks, perhaps the worst offenders in this regard have been candidates who aspire for every office from president down. So far, we have yet to read any of their "news articles" which present anything that could be of any possible interest to our readers unless it could be of interest to them to see how utterly selfish the candidates are. Nearly always they send along pictures to be published.

Locally, nearly all the clubs and individuals who give entertainments from which they expect to derive a profit, bring in their "news" of the coming event, and become insulted if they are told it must be paid for. Some times we have stretched a point and mentioned the affair, and then when one of our representatives attempted to enter, in order to really get news, his press pass would not be recognized, and the doorkeeper haughtily demanded the price of admission.

For the information of persons and organizations who do not understand, we are using this space to tell them that publicity regarding any event to which admission is to be charged, of from which financial profit is to be derived, must be paid for, as advertising. If not, then there is no alternative except to consign it to the wastebasket.

THE WORLD THIS WEEK

NATURE ON A SPREE

Nature's violently tempestuous moods of recent days have been more than a match for man, who is no amateur himself at raising Cain and wreaking havoc. Within a fortnight, Mother Nature has raised a gigantic hurricane on the sun which, shooting off great streams of electrons, paralyzed radio, telephone and cable communication some 93 million miles away on the solid speck of mud whirling in space which we call Earth. Not content with thus showing man's helplessness in the face of her superior forces, Nature has thrown in a few floods, ranging from Northern California to the Susquehanna River valley. As if these spectacular caprices were not enough, we now hear from Admiral Byrd that the South Magnetic Pole has succumbed to wanderlust and has been moving in a westerly direction since he discovered it in 1929. Man proposes, but there's no doubt as to who disposes!

PERFECT RECORD

While science was last week offering a new and better remedy for pneumonia, California was announcing its virtual triumph over a once dangerous disease. During 1939, for the first time in nearly a century, not a single death from malaria was reported. That perfect record is a mute but eloquent monument to a half century of progress in medical science.

ANIMALS

BY GENEVIEVE W. MASON

A dog who had been given away managed to walk 300 miles back to his home. Another dog barked so persistently one night, that he aroused 12 people who had barely time to save themselves from the smoke and flames of a burning house.

A cat awakens his master every morning at the exact moment to dress, eat his breakfast, and go to work.

A horse, hitched to a wagon, drew it carefully from the woods to the door of the owner's house, not the barn, when the owner as lying dead in the wagon.

Newspapers carry such items all the time, also items telling of neglect of animals, cruelty and carelessness—neglect that allows horses and cows, valuable in a hundred ways, to starve—cruelty that permits loyal, capable and unselfish dogs to be stolen and sold for experiments, which so often are unnecessary, so rarely conducted properly, and almost never final in their results, careless smokers, who know they have no right to smoke in a barn, are responsible for fires which each year destroy priceless race horses and cattle.

Colored people have the care of more animals in this country than anyone else. Beside that, they own many animals themselves. Dumb brothers in the animal world must look to them for the intelligent handling and kind treatment which makes a dependent life bearable.

This is Kindness To Animals Week. Give your horse or cow, ox or hog, chickens, cats, or birds, and especially your dog, a little more care, a little more brushing or bathing, and by all means, a little more petting than usual.

In that way, you will remind yourself that there are 51 more weeks to follow in which to repeat the habit.

LETTERS

Dear Editor:

In a letter, published in the EAGLE, Jan. 11, 1940, the writer dwelt upon the neglect, during the Christmas season, of the colored war veterans, confined in Veterans' hospital at that time. Since then I have received repercussions from one relative and many other persons whom I consider personal friends, to the effect that the letter should not have been sent. The latest today!

I wish to make it clear that in writing that letter, I was not making a personal complaint. I was simply stating my observation. But since the numerous protests have the "personal touch," I see necessity for stating that during the Christmas season, there were 107 colored veterans (actual count) confined in the hospital. This does not include the domiciliary facility up in Home."

Every man of them received presents, ranging from razor blades to bed jackets, and Christmas cheer, ranging from hearty handshakes to fervent prayers. But they came from organizations of the other group, the white organizations.

In Los Angeles, there are Negro organizations of every kind, description and class, and I repeat that not one of them was represented here during the Christmas season. Many of them are masquerading under the banner of Religion, Service or Charity. I am wondering what attention they paid to the sick, sorrowful and depressed shut-ins in other hospitals and institutions.

If their attitude toward them was as it was toward the poor "Vet," then they have brought the name of Him who started this Christmas idea into high reproach, and have made a mockery of His teachings.

No, my friend, the letter was not a personal one; nor did it have a personal design. And too, I am wondering if said organizations were at fault, or was it the "committee" who handled the Christmas "fund."

I am respectfully yours,
Vernon W. Reynolds, A. M.
U. S. Vets hospital, Sawtelle.

Dear Editor:

I am very sorry I could not personally thank you for the kindness shown in publishing, "Youth Asks America a Question" for me. It was indeed a pleasure, knowing that it was published in the EAGLE, one of the newspapers high respected by myself. Please accept my thanks.

Sincerely,

You can be proud of the fact that you played a part in making this historic membership effort a success.

Please accept my sincere thanks for your cooperation in an effort that means so much for our race and true democracy.

I feel sure that you will join with me in the hope that the success achieved in the Citizen's Honor Roll for Democracy Campaign will mark the beginning of a new era of progress for Los Angeles Branch of NAACP.

Yours sincerely,

"NEW DEAL" THE COST

Dear Editor:

In addition to other ills chargeable against it, the "New Deal" cost may be impressed upon him who thinks and cares by the following:

1. Increased national debt—heavily burdening this and coming generations: $25,000,000,000.

This sum would pay for—

a. $5.00 a day for a year to every resident of California over one day old; and

b. Build 500,000 homes for Californians, costing $5,000 each;

c. Provide food for a year for 1,000,000 California families. . . .

Well! that might be termed "the abundant life" for all California!

And there's left sufficient money to do this: each and all—

a. Build five $40.000 per mile super-highways from ocean to ocean;

b. Build 8 like super-highways —Canada to Gulf and to Mexican border;

c. Widen, deepen and make Panama Canal a sea-level canal; (Internationalize it)

d. Construct Nicagagua Canal (If above be done, why this?);

e. Fortify both canals (why?);

f. Build 5000 submarines;

g. Coast Defense, munitions of war, "crumbs to the 47 "Lazarus" states, "forgotten" when we were looking after California—and no mean sum "to throw at the birds."

That's what the "New Deal's" creator (who never earned a dollar "in the sweat of his face," nor—from experience, knows aught of the poor man's life and problems) cost us and unborn generations. And they—the unborn, will look back and pass judgment upon him—and the asinine, cowardly and forsworn Congresses that "aided and abetted" this astounding inbecility.

And, amazing; There are persons—past cradle age—who clamor to be "drafted" to "complete his work" Complete destruction of the TEMPLE (Political Liberty) our "Fathers" built—its cement, their blood!

Fascists, Communists, Anarchists—all the "undesirables," all feeding at the "trough"—these are the clamorers. None out of their mental swaddling clothes who think and care is amongst them. Of 100 per cent Americans, is there ONE?

Are there enough of these to SAVE US?

A bit more:

That sum ($25.000.000,000) in dollar bills, if placed end to end and ten abreast, would reach to the moon.

It would cover the District of Columbia (more than sixty-sq. miles(solidly; and enough left over to:

a. Give to its more than half million residents $10.000 homes;

b. Feed, clothe and warm them all for ten years ;

c. Give to each of them—infant, child, youth, adult, $2.00 a day "spending money" for ten years; and

d. Put a $20 gold coin in the hands of every person in Los Angeles.

And yet there are persons who would have that destroyer "complete" his work! If I did not know that GOD never helps them who can help themselves; that only by using our "horse sense" can we, do we, answer our own prayer, I might pray:

GOD DELIVER US

has resounded 'round the world.

During the three years of propaganda leading up to the U. S. entrance into the last international battle of commerce, most striking figures were those of the legion of English lecturers and "authorities" who visited our balmy shores with heroic tales of our duty to civilization. At the beginning of the last war, America considered Europe and its affairs completely alien, distant and unimportant to this nation. There was, in truth, a wave of horror at such a catastrophe befalling human beings, but there was no hint in the national consciousness that the disaster might have significant effects in the U. S. A. So the job of English propagandists was to descend from the outside upon a mass of indifferent, innocent, self-centered people with no suspicion that they were urgently needed on battlefields three to six thousand miles across land and sea.

The job of transformation was admirably performed. From the great Carnegie and Town Halls in New York City to the village meetings thruout the country, U. S. citizens were presented with a stunning and unprecedented procession of titled "interpreters of foreign affairs". The baby nation, wide-eyed and impressed, could not withstand such an avalanche of seductive wiles from its mother country. Propaganda in its crudest variations was applied to America—laid on with a trowel, if you please, from foreign offices in Paris and London.

When, A. M. (After Munich), it finally appeared to the English that they must once more defend their ill-gotten gains before an ambitious German nation, it was believed that the U. S. could be won again through the external manipulation of propaganda. The notion was eminently inaccurate. For twenty years, the U. S. had been girding itself for such a development. Never in modern history has there been a generation so thoroughly schooled in the detection and debunking of war propaganda.

Sensing that something special indeed was necessary to inspire proper U. S. enthusiasm for the cause of the Union Jack, British propaganda plotters trotted out the Royal Family, no less, and sent them bouncing merrily over the North American continent, attended by an army of official spokesmen. To no avail. Despite Her Royal Majesty's momentous decision to take tea with a Chicago housewife, thereby landing this good lady on the front page of most American daily papers, national sentiment remained sternly pro-neutral.

After this, various, fleeting, direct attempts at propagandizing the American people were undertaken only to foster a wall of resentment and opposition. Thus, finally, British public relations experts discovered that it was really best to keep quiet.

And into the gap charged Franklin Delano Roosevelt. What grandiose schemes of international reconstruction he may harbor we can only guess, but it is clear that his every action since the war has been sympathetic toward U. S. implication in the contest. It is a new kind of propaganda that wings its way from the very center of our own government. Billions for the army—to what end, Mr. Roosevelt? Speeches in favor of "the civilized way"—to what end, Mr. Roosevelt? Propaganda has changed its tune, no longer accompanied by a brass band, but spued forth to the subtle strains of "civilization", "tolerance" and "democracy". It is not the wolf at the door of whom we must beware, but the rat in our bread box.

The LAUNDRY MAN

By Caldwell Jones

Real Estate Agent Puts Hospital Over—Albert W. Dent, Negro real estate agent and insurance salesman of New Orleans, La., has proven himself a Class A executive. Back in 1931, Edgar Bloom Stern, son-in-law of Julius Rosenwald with the aid of a group of white and Negro doctors, built the Flint Goodridge Hospital for Negroes in New Orleans at a cost of $500,000.00. It is modern, sun-flooded, well equipped, and offers facilities for handling 30,000 patients per year.

Stern picked Albert Dent to put this hospital over. He did it with a bang. When he was appointed superintendent, the hospital had neither patients nor a staff. Dent set out immediately to create both. First, he got a staff together with the aid of some friendly white doctors; next he set out to overcome the traditional aversion of Southern-bred Negroes to hospitals, which they regard as "The I ast Mile."

In his drive to get patients he organized venereal disease lectures, started mother's clubs, ran lawn parties, sent nurses into poverty stricken homes. To compete with "Grannies" who delivered 20 per cent of all Negro babies, he offered confinement and hospital care for $10.00. The Negro public finally rose to the bait and took hold.

Today Flint Goodridge hospital is one of the most successfully operated hospitals in the United States, and boasts the cheapest, most complete hospital insurance plan in this country—one cent a day. So smoothly does its operation function, that several Northern hospitals have sought and secured the services of Dent to supervise their reorganization plans.

Slum Clearance Battle On—The other day an Assembly Committee got first-hand knowledge of slum conditions in our Angel City, through a specially planned tour. Scarcely believing their own eyes, they saw dismal 3 and 4 room hovels with outside privies rented for $15.00 per month. Some of these shacks housed as many as 12 persons. In contrast they were shown some of the modern sanitary apartments in Wynverwood, and another government-sponsored project, and were informed that similar 3-room apartments could be built with Government aid and rented for $10.50.

The Apartment House Owner's Association is waging a bitter fight against the proposed State housing bill which will make such projects possible, also the Slum Clearance committee of the California Real Estate Association.

Naturally they would, for its passage would sound the deathknell of the Hold-Up rents which Dillinger rent-hogs now demand and get. We hope that the Assembly committee will some day find time to visit our Eastside. We could point out to them a number of "lean-to's" over here that should be condemned, but instead, are renting for much more than $15.00.

"Black Eagle" of Harlem Still Grounded—It must be tough to have been born with the soaring instinct of a mighty eagle, yet forced to putter around on the ground like a Dominick hen. This seems to be the plight of Colonel Hubert Fauntleroy Julian, the Black Eagle, who has never soared successfully as yet. His latest fiasco according to report was his recent arrival at Bergen, Norway by ship—accompanied however by his airplane and a mechanic. He announced that he had come to fight for Finland. Upon learning that the war had been concluded 24 days before his steamer arrived, he said that he would stick around, and renew his offer in case Finland was again attacked. Mebbe King Haakon of Norway will give him a job chasing German Messerschmitts.

POST NEWS

The California Eagle is one of but two Negro newspapers in the nation that hold membership in the American Press Half Century Club as is recognized by newspaper authorities as one of the best edited weeklies in the nation.

The two wise men who founded the Women's Breakfast club have every assurance that they planned wisely when they organized the ladies.

Though some of the women who helped to make the club famous have parted ways with the present administration, it is said that last Sunday's breakfast meeting demonstrated that new blood is flowing through the veins of this organization.

Even though no newspaper headline announced his coming, none other tha Gov. Culbert L. Olson was honor guest at the YMCA Sunday. Other new faces were those of Attv. Hugh E. Macbeth and brother, Gobert, Attv. "Bert" McDonald and Walter Lawson took bows.

LOVE LIFE

It's not very difficult to fall in love and get married. It is exceedingly simple to fall by the wayside and secure a divorce. But it's not always so easy to stay in love and remain married. It can be done, however, and is still being done every day. Connubial bliss is not played up in the public's eyes like scandal and divorce. You only hear and read of the trouble of marriage and the way that they end.

Here are a few suggestions that have been tried and tested as being a way to stay happily married. Love and trust one another. Even though it may not seem a good idea at times, don't keep each other guessing. Each one should be sympathetic and consoling when the trials of the day are especially trying. The wife is the mainstay of a home and it is up to her to keep their married life from becoming monotonous. The husband must also do his share, by being more demonstrative in his affections toward his wife and in the general welfare.

Let Prof. Herman's Astrological foresight and knowledge of this phase of life help you gain success and happiness in your life-time partnership.

M. P. B.—I have been looking for work for the last few weeks and I am becoming very discouraged. Do you think I will ever be successful?

Ans.: According to your Zodiacal sign you are destined to find employment within the next 3 weeks. You have certain qualities that shoud make it much easier for you to find work than lots of other men, so make the most of your abilities and you will be greatly surprised at the results.

M. M. H.—What shall I do to make my friend care more for me?

Ans.: I. B. J. appears to be very interested in you and your signs are favorable. There is nothing you need to do to make him like you; simply be sweet and congenial and let him know that you think him a very fine person.

D. R. E.—What became of my eye glasses?

Ans.: It comes to me that you left your glasses at a friend's home a few weeks ago. But they failed to tell you because they were not sure that the glasses were yours. I vision your getting them within a few days.

H. K.—Where did my friend go after leaving Grand Rapids, Michigan?

Ans.: It appears to me that your friend has been to several different states and is now living in the State of New York.

G. A. J.—Will B. J. and I be good friends again?

Ans.: You and B. J. have entirely different natures and dispositions hence your never being able to get along. However, now that some of your misunderstandings have been cleared up, you will be able to remain as good friends, but nothing more.

Lazy Insides Answer All-Vegetable Call

You ought to know this easy way to get relief when you're lazy intestinally and it has you headachy, bilious, with sour stomach, no energy.

A spicy, aromatic, all-vegetable product taken by simple directions at bedtime, usually allows time for a good night's rest; acts gently, thoroughly next morning. BLACK-DRAUGHT'S satisfying effectiveness is due to a splendid combination of vegetable ingredients, chief of them being an "intestinal tonic-laxative", which helps tone lazy bowel muscles.

Next time, try all-vegetable, time-tested BLACK-DRAUGHT. It's economical, too. 25 to 40 doses: 25c.

FASHIONAIL by El Mora

Here is an ideal girl . . . a little fairer than the average, slim yet delightfully rounded. She is a lucky girl, for she may wear nearly all types of clothing, but there are special styles that are most outstanding on her. Princess type dresses, excellently fitted, show off ideal curves. High waist dresses are youthful and becoming. Closely fitted suits with simple tailored lines, loose and swagger coats, sport things, bathing suits, slacks, play clothes . . . what freedom of choice for the girl who has nothing to hide. Her clothes may be of any colors becoming to her, as long as they are harmonious together. Her shoes should be suited to the occasion, sport, business or evening. She wears the current novelty jewelry, and indulges in rare perfume and very sheer hose for a sophisticated touch.

Pasadena Reviews Activities of Days Long Ago

EDITORIALS
Seen Through the Eye of The Eagle

WRITER TAKES ISSUE WITH EDITOR; CALL JAN. 7 MEETING SUCCESS

(Editor's Note: Ordinarily we do not publish letters to the editor in "The Seen Through the Eye of the Eagle" column, but since this presents another side to the issue raised last week, we are publishing it in full.)

Friend Editor:

When is a meeting a failure and when is it a success?

Reference was made in last week's editorial to the meeting of Jan. 7, the "Emancipation Proclamation Celebration" held at Scott Methodist church.

Well, friends, all who were present (despite a driving rain) will long remember the oratorical brilliance, the profundity of wisdom, the very electrically-charged atmosphere of that occasion. The question, "What the Negro of Pasadena Expects," (or some such topic) was analyzed, synthesized, broken down and built up, until at last, rafters resounding with the applause of "all present," we went home. Call that a flop?

Actually, we felt that the meeting was eminently successful. And why? Just this: after three months of inactivity on the part of all those contributing gems of oratory as well as the rest of us) there is one who says: "But what have we done?"

No, editor, we take issue with you. Our meeting, because of the seed of restlessness it planted in your heart—and perhaps in others— was a success!

Now, to one accustomed to "getting flops done," our contention seem a bit odd, perhaps, but being a resident of our local "— different, Indurate (had to look that one up). Indolent, rustic society," we see in your restlessness a reflection of an urge for activity in our own hearts which has driven us to seek expression in everything—from Christianity to Marxian Socialism—to no avail.

To whom are we to turn? Shall we turn to our leaders? Or, is our salvation not so much a matter of group development as it is of individual expression?

At first blush, the question raised as to the source of activity in Negro advancement locally, i.e., "in the leaders of in the masses," seems as fruitless as that pointless query concerning "whether or not the egg or the chicken came first, "but in reality there may be a solution to our problem if we are but imbued with sufficient sincerity of purpose, clarity of vision and "utsgay."

In the face of such machinery as now, we see it and as long as maintained, the present writer is reminded of the story of the exodus of the Hebrews from a "Hitlerian" Egypt; especially are we mindful of that passage (Exodus, 17:3-1) "and the people thirsted there for water (being in the desert) and the people murmured against Moses and said, wherefore is this that thou hast brought us up out of Egypt, to kill us and our children and our cattle with thirst?. . . and Moses cried out unto the Lord . . . and the Lord said unto Moses . . . Behold, I will stand before thee there upon the rock . . . and thou shalt smite the rock, and there shall come water out of it that the people may drink. And Moses did so!"

Look to the masses? Ach! To Leaders! Ach! Our salvation, politically and socially, lies in our willingness to follow leadership greater than anyone or any combination of "you's and me's!" Thus armed, we too may "strike our rock" and drink of cooling waters. Know! Then act! "Factis non verbis."

The masses always have thirsted. It has been intelligent, conscientious, careful, courageous, wisdom in the few which has inspired the many. Don't berate the masses, commiserate with them. "Without vision, a people perish." That our old men have ceased to dream and our young men to see visions, is not a shortcoming of the masses!

No, friend, our meeting was not a "flop". As long as a three-months interval cannot completely eradicate an impression, that impression has not failed. It's the "arrows that we find imbedded in oaks," the song lies in human hearts."

May we, as possible leaders, sing unceasingly of liberty, equality and fraternity. Some say, even among rustic bumpkins an echo shall thunder from the hearts of the masses.

Sincerely,
W. L. M.

THE NEGRO AND THE NEXT WAR

If this present war in Europe continues to spread, it will soon have the United States in it. And that will mean that the Negroes will again be in the thick of the fight, trying to "make the world safe for democracy."

Negroes had no exclusion practiced aaginst them under the World War Draft Law, although they had been excluded from having equal opportunities in lines of work and social justice. At the time of the draft, they

• TURNING BACK THE PAGES OF PASADENA'S PAST

FRIENDSHIP BAPTIST CHURCH

During the years 1891 and 1892, several members of the Wheat Street Baptist church of Atlanta, Georgia came to Pasadena. Finding no Baptist church in this city, they asked Rev. Chester H. Anderson, who was pastor of the Second Baptist church of Los Angeles, to organize a church in Pasadena.

In 1893, Rev. Anderson came over and met with a few Baptists in a little frame building on Kansas street, now known as Green street. Those meeting at this time were Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Scott, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Rena Reynolds, Mrs. Alice Griffin, Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Fowler and the Misses Henrietta and Annie Fowler. Rev. Fowler was chosen to act as pastor.

Previous to Rev. Grimm who built a nice little church on South Vernon were Rev. Yancy, Rev. Young, Rev. Kelley, Rev. Bushell and Rev. Evans.

After the church had been pastored by Rev. Johnson, Rev. Riddle, and Rev. Tillman, the congregation had grown so that they had to build another church. The trustees bought a lot on the corner of Dayton and Delacy. A new church costing more than $100,000 dollars was built here. Beautiful Friendship Baptist church was built under the pastorate and direction of Rev. W. D. Carter. They have a large and flourishing congregation.

Rev. Carter is now serving his 14th year. He is loved by all, regardless of denomination or race. He pastors one of our finest churches. It has many beautiful rooms, a fine pipe organ, rich furnishings and attractive stained glass windows. In the front of the chorch is a beautiful window which is a memorial to Mr. Rubin Scott.

Friendship has produced some strong men and women such as: Capt. Wm. Reynolts, the great song leader; Mr. Wm. Solomon, Bible teacher; Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Smith, Young People's leaders; Mrs. Booker, the organist; Rev. Ford, Professor and Mrs. W. A. Payne; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mills, Mrs. Hicks, the singer; Mr. and Mrs. Burton and others whom we would be glad to mention if we had the space.

We have enjoyed many fine get-together meetings in this great church of some six or seven hundred members. A person always feels at home when he goes to Friendship.

What a Patient Should Know

BY ELIZABETH WAKNIZ

Shall we unwillingly surrender to Disease and Death? The Dictionary defines Medicine as the science of the treatment and alleviation of Disease, a specific for the cure of Disease. Therefore, is it not evident that somewhere someone has a specific to overcome Disease?

The hand of man has conquered the land, the sea and the sky and developed many intelligent feats in the wild animals? Can we also conquer the invisible germ that inflicts our bodies?

Inventions for pleasure and use have brought untold happiness to humanity; bt there is a cloud and a peril that confronts us, for in many homes a loved one is ill and longs to live.

For thousands of years, botanists have traversed and searched the world over for specimens of growing plants and have exercised great care in the gathering, the curing and placing in Herberiums the specimens that retained their most natural color.

There scientists met to ascertain their medicinal value. Herbalist-scientists classed the specimens as poisonous and non-poisonous and formulated recipes, which were used on patients ill of many diseases; after observing their effect on the various diseases, they discarded all plants that contained poison as dangerous and kept all recipes that did not contain poison that had won a victory over disease.

The animals possess an instinct when they are ill and are free; they will wend their way to some plant and partake thereof. There is a wonder working power in the herbs of the field.
